Research Director To Aid Engelman

The current survey of Jewish education facilities in Providence—one of the first major community-wide planning projects undertaken locally in recent years—was implemented this week with appointment of a research director and the setting up of a representative advisory committee.

Dr. Uriah Z. Engelman, educational authority, who is conducting the audit under the guidance of the American Association for Jewish Education, has been active during the past week visiting various local schools for Jewish education and observing their programs in action.

It was upon his recommendation to the General Jewish Committee of Providence, sponsors of the survey, that a broad advisory or "planning" group was named and the appointment of Harold Edelston announced as research assistant to Dr. Engelman.

Mr. Edelston, director of research for the Council of Community Services here in Providence and a graduate of the Boston University School of Social Work, is well acquainted with local welfare and educational resources. He is considered a specialist in the field of community research.

Edelston's immediate assignment will be the unearthing and compiling of vital data for discussion by the various sub-committees that make up the overall

GJC Drive Enters "Mopping Up" Stage

With pledges and gifts totaling $860,000, the 1949 General Jewish Committee fund-raising drive, in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal and 54 other beneficiary agencies, this week entered its final "mopping up" stages.

Campaign leaders were hopeful that the $900,000 level would be reached before the end of the month and the drive's close.

The $860,000 figure represented donations or pledges of 8562 members of the greater Providence community who have responded to the GJC's plea for immediate financial assistance to refugee-swollen Israel and the nearly three score other organizations on a local, national and international level who share in the proceeds of the Providence campaign.

Still unpledged were approximately 800 other donors to previous GJC drives. In cases where solicitors as yet have not contacted members of this group, it was requested that pledges be phoned directly to GJC headquarters at 203 Strand Building, Providence.

Special "mopping up" squads of volunteer workers were active this week in covering as many of

Beth-Israel to Present Boy Violinist

Charles Castleman, eight year old boy violinist, will appear at Temple Beth Israel, on Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock, in a violin concert recital. This recital is under the auspices of The Assembly of Jewish Learning of the temple, in another of its community presentations.

Charles Castleman began the study of the violin at the age of four years on a three-quarter size violin. At the present time he is on a three-quarter size violin.

In July 1949, Charles was the youngest person ever to appear with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. At that time he played as soloist at their Esplanade Concert under the baton of Arthur Fiedler.

Charles is a high honor pupil in the fifth grade at Thayer Academy in South Braintree, Mass.

At this concert recital, he is accompanied at the piano by his teacher, Mme. Gladys Posselt Ondick.

This concert recital is open without charge to the public. A portion of it will be broadcast directly from the pulpit of the temple at 8:30 o'clock over WEAN.

Home Issues Annual Chanukah Appeal

Chanukah Week has been set aside in recent years for the Annual Membership Appeal of the Jewish Home for the Aged.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee, Mr. Jacob I. Felder, president of the Jewish Home for the Aged, reappointed Harry Blacher as chairman of the Membership Committee and Dr. Ilie Berger as co-chairman.

While the committee will not go out on a short, all-out drive, it will, however, approach those families in Providence who are not as yet members of the Home.

"There is no better way to spend part of your Chanukah 'gelt' than by supporting the aged of this community," Mr. Felder explained.

The Jewish Home for the Aged is not affiliated with the Community Chest or any other fund-raising agency. It must depend, for its support and for its operation, chiefly on membership income and donations.

The Chairman pointed out that there will be a meeting next week to plan the details of the membership appeal, which he hopes will

At present, the Survey Committee's membership includes all Providence rabbis, principals of the various religious schools and at least one member of the education board of each school.

Its base will be considerably broadened in the immediate future with the naming of numerous additional educational and lay leaders in the Providence community.

Based on a "self study" plan proposed by Dr. Engelman, the Survey Committee members will be asked to serve on one of the four sub-committees charged with (Continued on Page 9)

To Initiate New Members Dec. 19

Mrs. Thomas Goldberg, membership chairman of Roger Williams Auxiliary, B'nai B'rith, announced last week that a meeting and initiation of new members will take place December 19 at the Churchill House. Guest speaker will be Mrs. William Rabkin, first vice president of the Women's District Grand Lodge 1, and District membership chairman.

Taking part in the initiation ceremonies are Miss Gertrude Tarnapol, president; Mrs. Goldberg, Mrs. David Litchman, Mrs. George Reizen and Mrs. Irwin Cort.

Mrs. Elliot Goldman will light the Chanukah candles and a reception will follow the meeting with Mrs. Sidney Granoff as chairman of hostesses.

The other members of the Membership Committee are the following: Irving I. Fain, George Gerber, Bernard Goodman, Nat C. Cohen, Alter Boyman, James Goldman and Samuel Kaplan.

Center Five Meets New Bedford YMHA

The Jewish Community Center basketball season gets underway tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock with the Center varsity taking on the New Bedford YMHA at the Center gym. Dancing will follow.

Abe Lobel, athletic director of the Center, has announced the signing of three new coaches for the season—Lowell Leonard for the varsity; Howie Cohen for the alumni, and Jerry Chernick for the "midget" teams. Harry Platt, former scoring star for Brown, has been helping with instruction in fundamentals.

Promising varsity candidates include Paul Coleman, Joe Rubin, Joe Gelardi and Stanley Lobel. Coleman, 15 years old and 6'4" is one of the best Center prospects in years.

Among the Alumni candidates are Jack Pearl, Harry Coppel, Eddie McMahon, George and Greg Karambelas.

All games are scheduled for Saturday night. The alumni will play its entire schedule at home. The Center also plans to present a new girls' team soon which will take on all competition in R. I.

Masada Oneg Shabbat Tonight

Isadore Friedman will conduct services at the Providence Chapter of Masada's Oneg Shabbat tonight at the home of Marian Malenbaum, 205 Morris Avenue. The program is under the direction of Miss Elayne Borside and Miss Norma Rosen.

Members of the chapter taking part in the forthcoming Chanukah sketch are the Misses Adele Gilden, Tobie Kaufman, Helene Korb, Beatrice Sock, Marian Malenbaum and Helen Sternbach, and Mr. Freidman, Arthur Finkelstein, Eli Schussman and Solomon Schussman. Miss Rosen is directing the play.

Loan Association

Besides her husband she leaves three sons, Edward I., Daniel and Matthew Robinson, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, all of this city.

EDWARD KERTZMAN

Funeral services for Edward Kertzman of 46 Glendale Avenue, who died Sunday after a brief illness, took place Monday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home with Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen officiating. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Russia, Mr. Kertzman came to this country 40 years ago and had lived in Providence for 35 years. He was the proprietor of Emco Uniform Co. and belonged to the Jewish National Workers Alliance, Touro Fraternal Association, Temple Emanuel and Hebrew Free Loan Association. He leaves his widow, Belle (Gorman) Kertzman, three brothers in Palestine and a sister in Roumania.

On Keeping Your Nose Clean

If Mrs. Sylvia Goldstein, the Lynn, Mass., war widow whose 11-year-old son was beaten up recently because he was a Jew, heeded the opinion of a large segment of American Jewry, she would have kept her mouth shut about the whole incident.

There are people who think the best way to deal with anti-Semitism is to ignore it. "Keep your nose clean," they counsel—but flinch when someone mentions noses.

Now, of course, there's more than one way to skin an anti-Semite, and in certain cases the silent treatment is the best. Your permanently indignant "Victimian," as S. Andhil Fineberg calls those who suffer from prejudice, can often cause more trouble than he cures. But the silent treatment is a method, a program, a treatment, not a permanent policy of doing nothing. There are those who would be silent when they should shout from the rooftops, who would shrink into a corner when they should come out fighting, who would ignore—and even excuse—reality instead of dealing with it by practical, intelligent measures.

They completely misunderstand the nature of anti-Semitism, and, in fact, are themselves victims of it. They believe Jews cause anti-Semitism—other Jews, of course, not themselves. "If only Jews would conduct themselves well," they'll say, "there'd be no anti-Semitism."

Chaim Weizmann once made the perfect retort to this kind of reasoning: "If a man has a piece of something in his eye, he doesn't want to know whether it's a piece of mud or a piece of gold. He just wants to get it out!"

There are almost as many theories of the causes of anti-Semitism as there are anti-Semites. But no reputable social scientist believes that Jews, except indirectly and as a reaction to anti-Semitism itself, by their actions cause anti-Semitism.

Eleven year old Lawrence Goldstein didn't cause anti-Semitism. He was a victim of it. And his mother, by refusing to cower (or threaten or bluster or call names), but by publicly demanding to know why, struck a blow for the ideals for which her husband and Lawrence's father gave his life.

Jewish Educational Study Under Way

The following assignments:

1) Census of children presently receiving religious education. 2) Programs and objectives of local Jewish education schools. 3) Financing and personnel of local facilities. 4) Community responsibility and public relations regarding Jewish education.

The "self study" plan—which is based upon tested survey techniques aided by overall local committee participation—has been especially effective in communities comparable to Providence where similar audits have been held, said Dr. Engelman this week.

General recognition of the survey's need for its objectives were evidenced at the meeting of the newly appointed Survey Committee held earlier this week.

Other than the successful "S. O. S." drive staged last year and the annual GJC fund-raising campaigns, committee members expressed opinion that the audit represents one of the first major areas where broad community-wide planning is supplemented with the best available facts and expert advice.

Joseph W. Ress, chairman of a special planning committee named by the GJC to study the local Jewish education situation, which in turn arranged for the assistance of the AAJE in surveying the local picture—this week stressed the importance of community co-operation in assisting Dr. Engelman and Mr. Edelston in their work.

"The General Jewish Committee," said Mr. Ress, "has amply demonstrated by its campaigns what can be achieved through the cooperative efforts of all in the community. This points to other areas of general community interest where the GJC can render lasting service through thoughtful and effective community planning."

"The purpose of the audit now underway is to obtain factual data on the number of children who are receiving some form of Jewish education and those who receive none whatsoever; the adequacy of educational programs that are in existence; and appraisal of methods of strengthening and promoting the entire matter of Jewish education for the children of our community," he pointed out.

The persons who attended the organizational meeting of the Community Survey Committee held at General Jewish Committee headquarters last week are the following: Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen, Rabbi William G. Braude, Rabbi James I. Gordon, Rabbi Morris Schussheim, Rabbi Morris Silk, Aaron Klein, William Melzer, Bernard Segal, Max Berman, Alter Boyman, Paul Chernov, Joseph W. Ress, Max Winograd, Max Brodsky, Morris Kritzman, Irwin Silverman, Archie Smith, Nathan Temkin, Harold Edelston, and Joseph Galkin.

"One Man's Opinion"

One Bright November Day

By BERNARD SEGAL

Save your Evening Bulletin of November 30, 1949.

Save if from the fate that usually befalls the daily newspaper on the day after yesterday. Put it away in your files, or hide it somewhere in the bottom drawer for future reference, sometime in 1952.

This advice is given not because it is the heaviest and the largest issue in the history of the newspaper. Nor because the making of it consumed 93 tons of paper, and if the pages were to be spread out end to end, in single sheets, they would form a paper carpet from here way across to Spokane, Washington. Great and marvelous as this feat of American journalism may be, it alone is not the reason for my urging you to save the paper.

The real reason is the content of a story and a picture on the 53rd page of the 88-page Evening Bulletin. It is a story of a Lithuanian priest who recently came to this country under the Displaced Persons Act of Congress, to teach German Civilization at Providence College. And the picture is of this young priest with his sponsor, also on the faculty of the College, who worked tirelessly for two years to bring about this happy reunion of teacher and former student.

Now, the younger priest, who is described by the reporter as a "fiery intellectual", predicts a third war very soon. In fact he names the probable year and the reason for the choice of that year. The fateful year is to be the election year of 1952, when Americans will be busy with Presidential speeches, and the Russians will consider it an opportune time to stage a surprise attack. It is to be a brief war, the priest believes, being waged primarily with "rockets, airplanes, and maybe gas".

But hold on, Brave Little World. All is not as bad as this. After this war, if you are still on your axis, poor little planet, you will be rewarded by an era of peace and culture forever after.

The fiery priest from Lithuania is very sorry, but war is the only solution to our troubles with the devil of our days, Communism.

Now, predictions of a coming war are not news. But the conviction that it is inevitable, that it is in fact desirable as the only cure to the maladies of this world, coming from a man of God, is news indeed.

Stop building that edifice in New York, you dreamers of the United Nations! To your homes, all you delegates in Lake Success, to dig shelters against rockets, and bombs, and gas!

Cease all your efforts for an understanding between nations, and for peaceful solutions of difficulties among peoples, all you chasers after wind, in London, Washington, and Paris!

Better speed the day for that only solution, the war that will bring peace and culture.

"Don't Fear Germany"

And then the professor of German Civilization (and we hope that the era of Dachau and Buchenwald, when German Civilization reached its greatest heights, is included in the course), the priest from Lithuania, offers some good advice to the U. S.

Jail all the Communists.

tee is in process of formation and is to be enlarged. The names of additional members of the committee will be announced in future editions of the Jewish Herald.

Be kind to the Fascists.

And fear nothing of Germany. The Germans, he believes, will never again threaten the peace of Europe. This assurance is given in spite of the fact that within the young lifetime of the priest Germany has not only threatened, but has destroyed the peace of the world twice.

So much for the U. S., Europe, and the world at large.

Then the professor of German Civilization has something to say about us, the people of "Hebraic persuasion"—in other words, the Jews.

The Jews, he is again sorry to say, tend to ally themselves with the Communists. The professor is greatly disturbed because of it.

O, White robe, symbol of innocence, purity, truth, and, yes, love!

Where did we hear this before? Judaism an ally of Communism, an inseparable pair. We are sorry to say it, of course, but it is a fact, you know.

Strange Playmates

It matters little that Communists have as much use for Jewish religious teachings and institutions as they have for Christianity. It matters not that Synagogues have been turned into clubs, halls, armories, and even into horse stables in Communist countries. (The priest ought to know this from his experience in his native Lithuania.)

Nor does it matter that in present day Germany, Austria, Poland—yes, and Lithuania, there are no Jews to ally themselves with Communists. And what if the very lie of a Judeo-Communist alliance is an invention of the Nazis? It is still being repeated by fiery intellectuals, professors of German Civilization, as a fact.

The capital city of the professor's native Lithuania, Kaunas, had a Jewish population of some 40,000 before the outbreak of the last war. All but 3,000 survived the murder, and the torture, and the epidemics of the Ghetto of Kaunas. Were they all commissars, judges, and police officers of the Communist regime in your native land, Rev. Thomas Ziuraitis?

O, white robe of purity, love, innocence, and truth!

Another Story

I do hope, though, that the New American had noticed a story and another picture elsewhere in the paper of November 30, 1949. The story was of an American of the "Hebraic persuasion", the Jew Bernard Baruch, who is giving all his millions to New York University for the advancement of the art and science of Physical Medicine and of the Rehabilitation of the crippled and disabled. This Jew, and a friend of his, a Mr. Horowitz, are allying themselves with other Americans who would bring healing and usefulness to the victims of the last war.

The priest could not have missed the story, since it was printed right underneath his picture and side by side with his own interview.

Was it pure chance, or was it the Finger of God?

Then there was a picture somewhere in the same paper of a group of local merchants who have worked together in a civic project called Providence Day. Did the priest from Lithuania recognize the Hebraic names and faces alongside the names and faces of men of Irish, Italian, German, and Armenian derivation?

Silverman Presents $100,000 to UJA Head

Hadassah Make Plans for Shoppers' Guide

Final plans for the 1950 Hadassah Shoppers' Guide were presented by Mrs. Simon Gordon, chairman, at a dessert-luncheon held Tuesday afternoon at the Hazard Avenue home of Mrs. Samuel Ganzer.

Mrs. Gordon, who is being assisted by Mrs. Samuel Schneider as co-chairman, announced that Hadassah, in gratitude for its advertisers' help in supporting Hadassah's vital health services to the entire population of Israel—Jewish and Arab—is offering each of this year's advertisers one chance on a television set for each five dollars' worth of advertising space. The winning chance will be drawn at the 1950 Donors' Function which will be held at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet in the late spring.

Mrs. Gordon also announced that each Shoppers' Guide worker who brings in $50 worth of advertising will be made a 1950 Donor, while $75 will make her a solicitor and booster, $100 will make her a Patroness, and $150 will be credited to her as a Sponsor.

The large group of workers present at the meeting heard Mrs. Lewis Goldberg of Brookline, Mass., a past president of the New England Region of Hadassah and chairman of the Boston Shoppers' Guide for 1949, urge that every business establishment be contacted to advertise in "what has become the annual guide to every Hadassah member for every type of shopping need."

Mrs. Goldberg suggested that each worker emphasize that this year's book, each page of which will be twice as large as formerly, will be a handy adjunct to the telephone directory, and, with its inclusion of a Jewish Recipe Book, Jewish Calendar, and other special-interest items, will remain a year-round advertising source to all contributors.

A report-meeting for the 1950 Shoppers' Guide will be held on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 20, at the home of Mrs. Gordon, 144 Dexterdale Road.

Mrs. Ganzer was assisted by Mrs. Bernice Axelrod, Mrs. Shirley Sandler and Miss Sybil Ganzer as hostesses for the afternoon.

WAR VETS TO MEET
 A meeting of the Jewish War Veterans, State Department of Rhode Island, will be held Monday at Lindy's Diner, Reservoir and Park Avenues. Dinner at 7 o'clock will precede the business meeting, scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

Daughterhood Bowling
 By RUTH TANENBAUM
 I should have kept quiet about last week's perfect attendance. This week there were a few absentees and the competition wasn't as keen.
 The only team that was really jumping was the Strip-Teasers. Captain Doris Graubart paced the team while the rest kept the sheet dirty with spares and strikes galore. The Captain, now known as "Champ", put the rest of us to shame, bowling a total of 319 with a high average of 106. Although El Bida rolled 110 for high for the evening, her Pin-Downs lost all four points to the Strip-Teasers. The Pin-Ups and Bloomer Girls split even. Last week's high singles were El Bida 119, Helene Preblud 115 and Millie Koritz 110.

SYD COHEN:

A New Era--I Hope

On Sunday morning at 9:30 the new executive committee of the Jewish Softball League will meet—and I have high hopes that in the future we will be able to look back and say that on Sunday, December 11, 1949, a new era in Jewish sports came into being.

At first glance it may seem that this is merely a new committee that will take up where the old one left off—that the business of the Softball League will flourish better in 1950—its third year—even as the past season was an improvement over the first. But that is not the idea—not mine, anyway, and since I have accepted a post on the new committee, I will be able to present my ideas in committee councils at well as in public print.

Second Anniversary Column

It so happens that this column was born in the Herald that appeared in the second week of December, 1947. The feature of that column was the promise of an attempt to create an active interest in local sports. In that column, for the first time, was mentioned the softball league that so far has received more space than any other one subject.

So, it seems appropriate and significant that this particular column be written for the issue of the second week of December, 1949—the second anniversary of its existence. For from now on, the emphasis in this space will cease to be the softball league itself (did I hear someone yell "hooray"?) and will center itself on the creation of the all-inclusive Jewish athletic or sports association that I have mentioned more than once in the recent past.

Last year the emphasis was on the creation of a golf tournament, already accomplished, and other sundry local sports events, so the anniversary columns seem to be following a pattern. My gosh, if this continues we'll have to keep thinking of more and more leagues to form and athletic contests to sponsor—it could get to be a vicious cycle with an insatiable appetite. Maybe I should better celebrate the anniversary by proposing nothing more serious than a toast and taking the week off. Now there's an excellent idea . . .

Back, however, to the business at hand. The regime of Frank Licht—attorney, senator and softball commissioner—comes officially into existence on Sunday, and while it may be a dirty trick to play on my fellow committee members, I cannot resist the urge to pray publicly that the committee will not be content merely to conduct the affairs of the softball league, but that it will have the ambition, the foresight and the energy to branch out into other fields.

The operation of the softball league can be a very simple affair. It does not require a whole year of planning and activity. The league is established and should require only a few months, at the most, of intensive work. If it is handled competently, there will be lots of time to devote to other projects, such as, and particularly, the broader sports, association mentioned above—and this is my suggestion to the next executive committee on the eve of its first convening.

Time to Spread Out

Frankly, that is my prime purpose in accepting the invitation to serve on the body. I feel that on the conduct and permanent organization of the softball league policy-makers will depend, to a large extent, the future of local organized sports in this area. And by this area, I don't mean just Providence.

Pawtucket has a large—steadily growing—Jewish population. Cranston is mushrooming into an active and permanent Jewish community. Woonsocket, Newport, Warwick, Fall River—even New Bedford—all have the numbers requisite to making themselves partners in and contributors to the organization that I can see in the immediate future.

The committee that meets Sunday should consider this.

Softball in 1950 may reasonably be expected to attract new teams—quite possibly, teams from other communities such as those mentioned. The league might have to be cut into divisions, with world series style playoffs determining the champions at the end of the season. Or, these outlying communities might prefer to play baseball, and/or touch football. Our one central committee, with representatives, of course, from all areas, could and should be the agency that would bring them all together and make the creation

Thanks to the Temple Emanuel Bowling League spares who offered to fill Morris Filler's berth after I stated in this column that Morris was an ex-Temple leaguer. I was wrong—Morris is still very much in the league. In fact, he plays so hard Monday nights that he's tired on Tuesday and could only manage a high three of 314.

Jerry Fish was finally made a regular member of Ben Woolf's Braves. To show his appreciation, Jerry bowled a strike on strike in the last box of the game.

Two new spares welcomed into the league, Dr. Jack Dreyfuss and Moe Kessler. The league still has three more openings for anyone else who's interested. We meet at the Legion Bowladrome on Park Avenue Tuesday nights.

and operation of these new events possible and profitable. Why, we could, with such a set-up, select an all-star team in each sport and challenge the finest in Boston and Bridgeport and Bangor to annual New England championship series.

Whoops, it's getting foggy up here. Better come down from the clouds and talk about one thing at a time.

The golf committee will be meeting soon to outline plans for the second annual Jewish Open in 1950. With proper handling this organization, too, could attract entrants from other cities and areas than Providence and its metropolitan area. Possibly the two groups should maintain a liaison to insure that championship matches of one do not conflict with playoff games of the other, so that the sports fans and spectators might not miss out on any part of it.

This gets better as it goes along; there seems to be no limit to the possibilities. But that is enough for one sitting. Coincidence brought out the annual major proposal on the eve of the softball executive committee's first meeting. I hope the committee is big enough to eye the possibilities and carry the program through.

Fineman-Trinkel Bowling

By JERRY FREIBERG

The twelfth week of bowling saw Hal Cohen's consistent crew maintain their five point lead in first place by knocking off Stu Steingold's sluggers 3 to 1.

Gene Silverman paced his club to a 3 to 1 win over Les Friedman's outfit, while Goldberg's gang bounced back into the win column with a 3 to 1 victory over Sam Feldman's five.

Silverman, who leads the league with an average of 108, really had a night for himself, first tying the high single mark of 141, then breaking it with 145, and finally setting a new high three record of 367. Not quite reaching Gene's record were Hal Levin 137, Don Cohen 120, Irv "Papa" Rosen 126, Harry Cohen 129 and Jud Robinson 121. Harry Cohen 328, Rosen 322, Levin 313 and Don Cohen 311 tried hard for those three scores.

Hats off to Joe Fishbein who has finally pushed his average into the 80's.

Beth-Israel Bowling
By SAUL HODOSH
It becomes increasingly evident that there are subversive elements at work even amongst the bowling adherents. Before proceeding I feel it must be understood that we have not merged with Beth El despite the propaganda of bowling headlines.

Brandeis seems to be really "hopped up" and next week we're checking Jerry Dressler and his team for a saliva test and if that doesn't work Wyner will have to bowl no hands, either that, or take Leo Frye's average.
Barney (foul line king) Coken hit high single with 140 but had some close followers in J. Epstein 130, Aron 125, H. Shapiro 133, Nelson 128 and Wyner 137. High three was racked up by Wyner (he says it was a bad night) as he nicked the pins for 370. Other good scores were B. Cohen 328, J. Agar 326, J. Epstein 331, H. Shapiro 332 and H. Nelson 342.

A. E. Pi Bowling
Burt Himelfarb's hustling pacesetters increased their league lead to five points as they whitewashed Don Cohen 4 to 0. Jerry Freiberg moved into third place by defeating the Beans Feinsteins, 3 to 1.
Burt's and Jerry's teams collide next week and the latter club is looking forward to pinning the leaders for the second straight time. In shutting out the Feinstein crew, the Himelfarbs set a new high team three of 1524.
Weegi Feldman was the top individual performer of the evening with a single of 139 and a three of 327. Art Flink was next in line with 323, followed by Ray Gertz with 317, Irv Berman with 314, Howie LaPidus with 309, and George Pollette with 306.

Other good singles were turned in by Pollette with 122, Himelfarb 120, Perry Deitch 116, Gertz 114, Smiley Geller 113, Berman 111, and Feinstein 110.

Beth-El Bowling
By JOE GUTERBALL
Leo Kopit's Keen Keblers moved into first place in the Temple Beth-El Brotherhood Bowling League last week.

Kopit's team slipped by Archie Finkelstein's Fearless Five, which dropped four points to Max Margolis' Mighty Men, at the Casino Alleys on Pine Street.
Frankie Mellion helped Kopit's team with a 144 string. Leo's boys took four points from the Five Fighting Feldmans.
The team race is close at the top. But at the other end of the line, Walter Strauss' Stellar Cellular Dwellers are still holding the league on their shoulders. Walter's team, however, made an impressive showing last week by taking three out of four points, and Captain Walter contributed a three string score of 335 to help the cause.

Norman Surdat, one of the spares, rolled 344 for three strings. Mellion's bowling wasn't good enough to dislodge Murray Trinkle from the top spot in individual averages.

It's the Herald for fine printing.

Junior Services at Cong. Beth-David

Beginning Saturday December 10, Junior Congregational Services in the North End, sponsored by the Providence Hebrew Day School will be held at Congregation Beth David on Oakland Avenue at 10 o'clock. This change is in line with the policy of monthly rotation between the synagogues of that area.

These services are under the direction of Mr. Joseph Adler, member of the faculty of the Hebrew Day School.

Emanuel Bowling

By JOE PRIMACK

The first place Tigers lost three points while the once terrific Browns lost four points. The Dodgers in third place lost three points, and from the night's doings we may see a few changes in league standings.

Lots of high scores with Charlie Blackman taking high three with 373, followed by Billy Dwares 363, Sam Chase 363, Jack Platkin 358, Henry Markoff 353, "Lefty" Goralnik 348, "Babe" Chase 348, Morris Kramer 341, Miles Goldberg 333, Lou Miller 327 and Leo Miller 327.

The team high three record was broken by Sam Chase's Athletics with 1653. The "Old Men" are tied for fourth place only six games out.

Mal Paynor still holds top average with 115 while "Izzy" Chase leads the high three with 389. Mike Miller and Sherman Price are tied for the season's high single of 159.

Nat Alterman, program chairman, is being assisted in arranging the affair by Leo Kauffman and John Sapinsley, president.

Phonograph Given To Vets Hospital

The Fineman-Trinkel Post 439, Jewish War Veterans, Auxiliary, has purchased a phonograph record-making machine for the patients at the Davis Park Veterans Hospital. Mrs. Stanley Smira, chairman of the committee in charge of this service, and Mesdames Perry Tratten, Harold Goldenberg, Arthur Rosen and Sherman Price, will supervise the making and mailing of the records for the veterans. Throughout this month the records will take the form of talking greeting cards for the families of the patients.

Olympic Bowling

By HOWARD COHEN

Guess making fewer teams in the league brought back all the old enthusiasm. Bowling improved tremendously and the old ribbing and by-play sure seems good for the rest of the season.

The H. Cohens stretched their lead from two to four points by taking a 4-0 win from the Leonards. Captain Cohen, prompted by cheers instead of jeers from new team-mate Moe Malatt, paced his team with 364 three.

I. Levine and Co. went into second place by taking four points from the well-chilled B. Cohens. Irv was big gun with a new high single of 145 and a nice 363 triple. Archie Greenberg and Julie Holland helped with 313 and 301. The losers made a good try with Ruby Pollack's 332 and B. Cohen's 307.

Joe Schwartz, with the newly-acquired Jim Hochman, took a 3-1 win from the Rodyns to knock them out of second place. Joe led his men with 337. Cousin Sam Hochman wasn't far behind with 315. Merle Rodyn and Abe Lobel with 325 and 324 helped salvage the one point.

Good single strings were bowled by Joe Schwartz 137, H. Cohen 136 and 125, Abe Lobel 125, Rodyn 117, I. Levine 145, B. Cohen 124, Leonard 118, "Startchy" Wal- 124, Pollock 120 and Jacobson 117.

Lazarus-Bosler

Miss Arlene F. Bosler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Bosler of Slater Avenue, and Leonard I. Lazarus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lazarus of Elmway, were married Sunday in the ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel. The 6 o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in candlelight satin, princess style with a cathedral train and trimmed with imported French lace. A Juliet cap of iridescent sequins held her fingertip veil and she carried a satin muff with clusters of white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Frank F. Darman, wore a cafe-au-lait gown of nylon tulle and a matching stole and carried a muff of autumn flowers.

Owen Kwasha was best man and ushers were Sumner Pomeranz, Erwin Summer, Perry Deitch, Oscar Braudy, Herbert Bander, Justin Abrams, Abraham Klibanoff and Harold Schwartz.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bosler chose a gown of sapphire blue nylon marquisette studded with rhinestones, while the groom's mother selected a navy blue gown of silk net with sequins and a matching stole.

The bride attended Bergen Junior College in Teaneck, N. J., and Mr. Lazarus was graduated from Rhode Island State College.

The couple are on a motor trip to California.

Visitors from Buffalo

Mr. and Mrs. Joel S. Isenberg of Buffalo visited Mrs. Isenberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rouslin of Wayland Avenue, over the Thanksgiving weekend.

300 Boy Scout Leaders at Banquet

More than 300 Boy Scout Leaders of the Providence Area attended the annual Scout Leader's Banquet last week at Nathaniel Greene Junior High School.

Morton I. Blender, field scout commissioner, as master of ceremonies, conducted the program which included the election of Joseph Jacobs as member-at-large to the Providence Area Committee of the Narragansett Council; the awarding of the scout leader's key to Saul Sadow of Troop 20, and the presentation of a cubmaster's certificate to Robert Rosenthal, of Pack 14 of Congregation Sons of Abraham.

Troop 14 of Sons of Abraham, under the leadership of Donald Aron, took care of arranging the hall, checking and performing service as ushers.

Wattmans Contribute To 75th Anniversary

A contribution of $75 by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wattman of 142 Cole Avenue in honor of the forthcoming 75th anniversary celebration of the Congregation Sons of Zion was announced this week by Frank Swartz, president. The gift was received by Swartz along with a letter signed by Mr. Wattman, which is quoted in part as follows:

"I was pleased to hear that your congregation is soon to celebrate its 75th anniversary.

"To mark this happy and momentous occasion, my wife and I are enclosing a contribution of $75.

"We hope that other Jews of Providence will take advantage of this opportunity to show tangible support of the praiseworthy aims of the Congregation Sons of Zion."

Beth-David Pushes Construction Plans

Arrangements to complete the entire downstairs and the auditorium of the new Beth-David Synagogue on Oakland Avenue were completed this week with the announcement that invitations for bids for the necessary construction are being sent out.

The decision to send out the bids and speed the completion of the synagogue was made at a special meeting of the congregation's Building Fund committee on November 28. The bid invitations are being sent by Henry Brill, president, and building chairman, and D. Thomas Russillo, architect.

The importance of the construction now planned by the Building Fund committee has been emphasized by leaders of the congregation, who desire to make the Beth-David Synagogue available to the public for such simchas and other social events as weddings, bar mitzvahs, Hebrew school classes, meetings, entertainments and other forms of public gatherings.

Since it is the public that will benefit by the completion of the Beth-David construction, the congregation has issued a strong appeal for the prompt payment of all pledges made during the recent High Holy Day services. The future of the building plans depends on the payment of these pledges, congregation officials bluntly stated, and the speed with which the building is completed depends largely on those funds made available by pledgees.

Among the major business conducted at the recent special meeting was the naming of a committee to plan and conduct the gala indoor carnival and raffle to be held from April 22 to April 30, 1950.

The committee includes William Greenfield, chairman; Max Resnick, co-chairman; Harry Goldstein, treasurer, and Isadore Friedman, secretary. Mr. Brill will serve ex-officio.

Ten prizes, including cash, will be awarded at the raffle, the committee later announced.

Complete co-operation of all individual members as well as organizations within the congregation was asked by the president, who stated: "I am confident that we may count on the active and enthusiastic assistance of the Sisterhood, Ladies Auxiliary, Young Mothers Association and the Young Men's Club for the ultimate success of the carnival, which is necessary for the completion of the Synagogue."

The public's attention has been called to the Beth-David memorial items, to be dedicated as everlasting memorials to the departed as well as fine tributes to our living loved ones.

Available for this purpose, in addition to space in the Golden Book, are the following items: stained glass windows, doors, menorah, nechtumid, auditorium, class rooms, chapel, check rooms, kitchen, dressing and meeting rooms, vestry, balaama and several others.

Those interested in purchasing any of the above are invited to contact Henry Brill, GAspee 1-8581 for an appointment.

"All our efforts are being directed toward the completion of our new and modern synagogue," Brill stated, "and with the help of our members and other public-spirited members of our community, our efforts can only result in fulfillment of our dreams."

A E PI MEETING

Glen G. Coston, representing the World Affairs Council, spoke on "The Troubles of Post-War Europe" at a meeting of the Providence Alumni Club of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity at Wayland Manor last Wednesday. Following his talk, the film, "Seeds of Destiny" was shown.

Dr. Joseph Fishbein is chairman of the program committee.

"LATKE FRALICH"

A program of dancing, entertainment and refreshments is planned for the Gerald Clamon Post 369, Jewish War Veterans, Chanukah celebration, the "Latke Fralich" December 17 at Ahavath Shalom Synagogue.

Further information may be obtained from Charles Shechtman, commander of the group.

TEL AVIV — Eleven Catholic pilgrims who tried to cross the lines into Jerusalem's Old City at the Mandelbaum Gate with Israel visas were turned back into Israel territory by Arab Legion guards.

Sons of Zion to Celebrate 75th Anniversary

Celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Congregation Sons of Zion, the oldest orthodox synagogue in Providence, will be held during the coming year. Frank Swartz, president, announced at a regular meeting held Sunday morning in the vestry.

Disclosing that the entire Jewish community will be invited to participate in the anniversary observance, Swartz said that he will soon appoint a special committee to start planning for the historic event.

In another announcement he named the members who will comprise the board of directors for the coming year, in addition to other committees.

The board, headed by Hyman Schoenberg, chairman, includes Sherman Bergel, Syd Cohen, Norman Feinberg, Benjamin Fish, Max Fish, Jacob Frank, Eugene Gluck, Philip Goldberg, Thomas Goldberg, Max Gordon, Sydney Granoff, Abraham Greenberg, Meyer Greenberg, Joseph Halperin, Victor Hittner, Charles Holland, Benjamin Hyman, Harry Katz, Isadore Katz, Lazar Kaufman, Harry Lyon, Morris Markel, John Marks, Carl Michaelson, Isaac Moses, Benjamin Oelbaum, William Reich, Samuel Riddell, Benjamin Riffkin, Jacob Rotmer, George Samdperil, Nathan Samdperil, Hyman Schwartz, Leo Schwartz, Louis Schwartz, Morris Swartz, Jacob Stern, Abraham Sternbach, Lawrence Suvall, Nathan Suvall, Harry Tannenbaum, Jack White. Gaboyim include Morris Feinberg, who also is honorary president; Benjamin Zeidel, Benjamin

Levin-Kaze

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kaze of Worcester announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Eunice Kaze, to Leonard M. Levin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Levin of 11 Goddard Street, this city. Rabbi Carol Klein performed the ceremony Sunday at the Beacon House, Brookline.

The bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin and rose-point lace, styled with a sweet-heart neckline, and a fingertip veil of illusion caught by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with orchids and stephanotis.

Attending her were Mrs. Maurice Sklar, and Miss Miriam Kaze, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Stanley I. Bagdan, sister of the groom.

Stanley I. Bagdan of Elizabeth, N. J., brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Dr. Samuel Miller, Gerald Cherniack, Dr. Leonard Komras and Bernard Levin, all of Providence; Maurice Sklar of Newton, George Williams of Hartford, Ct., Irving Kaze of Jersey City and Paul Jackson of Worcester.

Mrs. Kaze chose a royal blue gown trimmed with silver and a yellow orchid corsage, while Mrs. Levin selected a gown of cocoa brown studded with rhinestones and a purple orchid.

Music was by Bernie King's Orchestra of Boston.

After a wedding trip to New York and Washington, the couple will reside at 85 Ninth Street.

Third row, Mrs. Norman Max, Abe Sinelnikoff, senior vice commander of the post who presented the flags; Mrs. Albert Max; Mrs. Harold Boren, president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Harold Pansy, chairman of the committee in charge, and James Jenkin, post commander. Mrs. Boren and her program aid invested the members of the troop and presented them with insignia pins. Mesdames Benjamin Jacobson, Leo Borenstein, Sydney August and Philip Dwares, of the troop committee, were presented pins by their daughters.

Rabbi Aaron Goldin gave the invocation. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Pansy, A. Max and N. Max.

Bowling Banter
By TEDI GREEN

Louise Boren's girls clung to their league-leading position by a slender margin and took three points from June Winn's fighting five. Elaine Aiken and Mimi Rodyn continue to be the sparks of the team, the former with a string of 101, followed by Mimi's 106 and total 280. Captain June paced her team with 267, and helped by Shirley Levin's 106, kept the group in third place.

Estelle Cohen takes over the high single title with the amazing score of 123. Her fine bowling plus Rita Levine with her high three for the night of 288 enabled Dot Leonard's gals to stick right behind the leaders. Esther Miller had 102, Esther Kaplan, 98, and Esther Blonder, 93.

Shirley Cohen and Harriette Zarchen had a 92 and 91, respectively.

Dr. H. J. Routtenberg
Emanuel Lecturer

For the concluding lecture in the series, "To Whom Does the Future Belong?" the Institute of Jewish Studies for Adults, of Temple Emanuel will present Dr. Max J. Routtenberg, executive vice president of the Rabbinical Assembly of America, on Wednesday evening. The series has attracted interest in the community and has dealt with the future of the Jewish religion as seen by advocates of the Reconstructionist, Orthodox and Reform points of view. Rabbi Routtenberg will speak on the subject "Why I Chose Conservative Judaism."

On December 21 the Institute will present its annual Chanukah Music Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. David Baum, who came to this country as refugees from Germany in 1939, are shown with the 218-year-old Torah, thought to be the oldest in Providence, that they will present Sunday evening to the Congregation Sons of Abraham. Mrs. Baum is pointing to the embroidered cloth, said to be three or four years older than the Torah itself, which is placed around the holy scroll. Photo by Fred Kelman

Presentation of Old Torah This Sunday

An age-old custom having to do with the making of cloth binders for every Hebrew Torah was revealed this week in connection with the 218-year-old Torah that will be presented to the Congregation Sons of Abraham Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. David Baum of 26 Harvard Avenue.

The custom was brought to light because of the embroidered cloth binding around the venerable scroll that is thought to be three or four years older than the Torah itself.

As explained by Rabbi Abraham Chill, when a male child was born to Jewish parents in the Germany of several hundred years ago, relatives immediately set to work embroidering his Hebrew name on a long, white cloth. The needling took a long time, usually being completed when the child was ready to enter Hebrew, or "cheder" classes, at which time the cloth was bound around a Torah in the synagogue.

In the case of the Torah that is shown here (left), so the story goes, one of Mr. Baum's ancestors celebrated the birth of a son by commissioning the writing of a new Torah, which, when completed in 1731, was bound with the cloth that was started when the child was born. The cloth, therefore, is thought to be three or four years older than the Torah.

Remaining in the Baum family these many generations, the Torah escaped the wrath of the Nazi regime only because it was kept at home instead of in a synagogue. The Baums sent it to a son in this country in 1936, three years before they made their escape in 1939. Previously, Mr. Baum spent two and a half years in a concentration camp near Berlin.

The age of the Torah, which is remarkably preserved and with lettering that is still perfect, was determined by Mr. Baum by means of the acrostic. It was written in the town of Wittelsburg, for use in the Baum Chapel, where the few Jewish families gathered to worship. Rabbi Chill, who will dedicate the scroll, has said that it may be used in the Synagogue for the reading of a portion of the week.

An interesting sidelight is that Mr. Baum will celebrate his 80th birthday tomorrow, one day before he presents the Torah to the Congregation.

The presentation services, scheduled to start at 6 o'clock Sunday, will be preceded by a motor cavalcade bringing the Torah to the synagogue. Rev. Moses Chill of Brooklyn, N. Y., father of Rabbi Chill, will chant the Maariv service, following which the presentation ceremony will take place. The Torah will be escorted to the Ark under a canopy accompanied by the officers of the congregation.

Addresses will be made by Gov. John O. Pastore, Mayor Dennis J. Roberts, Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen, representing the Rabbinical Association of Rhode Island; Rabbi Chill, and Samuel Mossberg, president of the congregation. The presidents of other congregations and their spiritual leaders will be given places of honor on the pulpit.

Following the services, there will be refreshments and dancing in the vestry. There is no admission charge and no solicitations will be made. The public is invited to attend.

I. Lazarus is chairman of the Torah Committee.

Genser-Friedman

Miss Helene Marcia Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward I. Friedman of 34 Preston Drive, Cranston, became the bride of James Martin Genser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Genser of 12 Goldsmith Street, this city, at an afternoon wedding Sunday in the Indian Room of the Narragansett Hotel. Rabbi Morris Schussheim performed the ceremony beneath a canopy of white crysanthemums. The aisle was decorated with white crysanthemums and pink Pinocchio roses.

Music for the ceremony and reception was by Al Rosen's orchestra, and George McFarlane sang "Because" and "Ich Lieb Dere".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of antique white chiffon velvet with a beaded portrait neckline and a sweeping train, and a headdress of tulle and chantilly lace. She carried a chiffon velvet muff with white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Michael Lundy, in a cerise taffeta gown and matching hat, was matron of honor. Her bouquet was of cerise roses and pastel flowers.

Wallace Genser, the groom's brother was best man and ushers were Muray Friedman, Maurice Greenberg, Howard Pollock and Alfred Goldberg.

Mrs. Friedman chose a jewel green chiffon gown, green velvet shoes and green metallic evening gloves, while the mother of the groom was outfitted in teal blue crepe and silver shoes. Each had an orchid corsage.

Guests from California, New Jersey, Massachusetts and New York attended.

The bride attended Rhode Island State College and the groom was graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

After a reception at the hotel, the couple left on a three weeks' wedding trip to Miami Beach. They will reside at 185 Bluff Avenue, Edgewood, upon their return.
