KILLEN, A.A. Of Armington and Killen. Noted in city Directory of 1880, as at 276 Fifth St. (residence). In 1881, same address. He is now with C.H. Wood: House, Show-Card, and also Fresco Painter, at 365 Curtis, corner 15th St.

KILLEN & SWITZER. advertizement from 1882; place, 353 Arapahoe St. - 1882 Directory advertizing.

KILLEN, ANDREW. Said to be artist of paintings representing pioneer life, executed for the new Court House of 1880, but secured for the Historical collection by historian Jerome Smiley, during his administration, Jun 9, 1918 - POST. Two shown reproduced. (Killen name not in Directory 1879.)

KILLEN, ANDREW A. Now of Parker & Killen. Residence, 322 9th St. W. Denver, p. 657 - 1882 Denver DIRECTORY. (Gives firm of Killen & Switzer, may be other of name?)

In same year, Annie B. Killen is a grantee, Eugene Fisk, grantor, lot: no. 10, and S. half lot 9, block 15, in Elmwood addition, p. 252, liber 163 - Land Records Arapahoe Co. The lots probably faced Fox St. near the Elmwood School Building. (Elmwood Addition is bounded by Santa Fe, Cherokee, W. 6th and W. 8th Aves.)

Annie B. Killen is grantee, from A.C. Fisk, of Warrantee deed to her lots noted above, p. 179, liber 168 - Land Records.

Residence (1883) is no. 348 So. 12th (Fox) in block 15 as above description states. (In this year Parker & Killen have a shop at 354 Curtis St.) - 1883 DIRECTORY.

Denver's new Theatre, The Academy of Music, which will open in April, has been leased to Parker & Killen. Is located in the new Hughes Block, Holladay and 16th, with entrance on 16th, and Edbrooke is planning the gallery. A.A. Killen has active charge of finishing it, and being an old Theatre man, will manage it. He has ordered 1200 opera chairs, and has sent to Boston for scenic and fresco artists who are to arrive soon. The curtain will be painted here. Corner S. Sixteenth and Holladay, main entrance on 16th St. Mr. Killen will open with splendid troupe of artists, etc. Long article, p. 8, column 5, Feb 19, 1883 - RMN.

Lease of The Denver Academy of Music, by Parker & Killen, from P.T. Hughes: location S.W. corner 16th & Holladay Sreets., pp. 118-121, liber 202 - Land Records Arapahoe Co.

Long description of terms, rents (very high, increasing annually). Lease to 1899: $3,440 rent for first year, $4,882 for the 5th year in advance 1st each month. To be used for refined entertainments only. Very interesting account, Feb 9, 1883, Denver.

advertizement of opening with "Young Mrs. Winthrop," p. 1, Mar 24, 1883 - RMN. Continued at intervals up to date of event, Apr 23, following.

It opens, to fashionable crowd, ceremonies accompanied by poem entitled "The Birth of Shakespeare" by Mr. J.B. Dorman, editor of The Interocean, and other speakers, p. 8, Apr 24, 1883 - RMN.

The "Beautiful Little Gem of a Theatre" is described as being decorated and fitted by Parker & Killen. Very fine 2 column description, p. 3, Apr 22, 1883 - RMN. (Edbrooke & Co. architects.)

"The Vokes Family" is play advertized, p. 8, May 3, 1883; and the famous conductor, Damrosch, comes later. advertizement p. 7, May 3, and opening later, May 28. Financial troubles seem to arrive later, for in Jul 2, 1883 issue of paper, a cheaper class of entertainment is announced and Mr. Killen is succeeded by N.C. Forrester, as manager. (Note: probably location was too unfavorable for success.)

Killen's name not in 1884 directory of Denver, and Parker & Killen becomes Parker & Collenburg.

Mrs. Annie B. Killen, name in directory Denver 1885, clerk.

Her property probably sacrificed to the theatre enterprize. See Liber 184, pp. 250-251 - Land Records Arapahoe Co. Name of Mary A. Andrews appears with her name in record. Claire M. and Edgar D. Parker mentioned.
