Introduction

OMRI's Mission is to support the growth and trust of the global organic community through expert, independent and transparent verification of input materials, and through education and technical assistance.

The Organic Materials Review Institute (OMRI) is an international nonprofit organization founded in 1997 to support the organic community. OMRI is accredited by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) to review input products for organic use under International

The OMRI Listed® seal is the organization's registered trademark.

Organization for Standardization (ISO) 17065. Suppliers of products intended for use in organic agricultural production or food processing and handling may submit applications to OMRI for review.

OMRI uses the USDA National Organic Program (NOP) regulations (7 CFR part 205) and the Canada Organic Regime (COR) standards (CAN/CGSB-32.311 and CAN/CGSB-32.310) to verify the compliance of products intended for organic production and processing. OMRI also maintains standards specifically for the consideration of inputs for organic use under the organic regulations.

OMRI safeguards public trust in the organic industry through a transparent and consistent decision-making process. Also, OMRI is committed to providing a service that is accurate and professional, in a manner that is efficient and well run. OMRI offers an array of information services for the organic community. These include subscriptions for organic professionals, with current information about standards, materials, and technical issues related to material review. OMRI also provides instructive training to industry groups, contract research work for organic stakeholders, and expert technical assistance with materials decisions for certifiers.

About the OMRI Products List®

This directory includes all products that OMRI has determined are allowed for use in organic production or processing and handling under USDA National Organic Program regulations. Only those products that have passed OMRI's rigorous review are included in the OMRI Products List and can display the OMRI Listed® seal and/or approved wording. This printed OMRI Products List is current as of December 2, 2019. OMRI regularly removes and adds products. For an updated list of allowed products, visit the online product search or OMRI Products List PDF download at OMRI.org.

Because participation in the OMRI Review Program is voluntary, a product's absence from the OMRI Products List does not imply its failure to comply with the relevant organic standards.

The OMRI Generic Materials List® contains information about substances in general, while the OMRI Products List contains formulated branded products. Users should be aware that material entries from the OMRI Generic Materials List are used as categories for products in the OMRI Products List. However, formulated products may contain additional ingredients.

For users following the Canada Organic Regime standards, OMRI offers the OMRI Canada Products List®, available for free download from OMRI.org.

How products are reviewed

As a nonprofit organization, OMRI offers an independent, third-party review of products that balances the need for confidentiality in reviewing proprietary formulations with the necessity to ensure that products comply with the standards. OMRI reviews applications from input suppliers for products to be used in crop and livestock production and processing.

To assess compliance with the applicable standards, product applications must contain all required information regarding product ingredients, formulations, and manufacturing processes. OMRI operates under a rigorous confidentiality policy to guard against disclosure of proprietary product information to unauthorized individuals. OMRI staff reviews the application and makes a recommendation to the appropriate OMRI Review Panel to make the final product decision. All products are reviewed according to OMRI's published policies and standards. Products evaluated and found not compliant for use in organic production are designated Prohibited and are not included in the OMRI Products List. OMRI regularly provides subscribing certifiers with a list of prohibited products. Organic certifiers may contact OMRI for more information about the benefits of subscribing.

How to use the OMRI Products List

The OMRI Products List is divided into three sections that sort product listings by category, company name and product name. Each of these sections is subdivided into Crops, Livestock and Processing. In the Categories section, products are listed on the basis of their principal or active purpose or ingredient (e.g., Manure or Pyrethrum, or Dust Suppressants), and are grouped according to use, such as “Fertilizers and Soil Amendments” or “Pest, Weed, and Disease Controls.”

Product use restrictions

Some products included in the OMRI Products List are allowed with restrictions. OMRI developed the use restrictions to tell users about important qualifications for applying the product in a certified organic system. All use restrictions are based on the USDA National Organic Program regulations. In the case where a product has a use restriction, the restriction is given in the Categories section. Further regulatory information specific to the class and category can be found in the OMRI Generic Materials List or in the OMRI website search.

Additional qualifications concerning the use of some products included in the OMRI Products List are found in footnotes at the bottom of each even-numbered page.

Guide to footnote symbols

OMRI uses footnote symbols to communicate important information about individual products in the OMRI Products List. The following list explains the meaning of each footnote, and users can also refer to the legends in the bottom left-hand corner of each page.

◆ This product is allowed with restrictions. See the Categories section for use restrictions.

The Categories section includes the applicable restriction(s) for each product.

■ This liquid fertilizer has been inspected and approved for use in NOP organic production by OMRI.

The USDA National Organic Program requires that all liquid fertilizers with a nutrient value or label claim above 3% meet special requirements for use in organic production. These requirements include annual inspections, and OMRI conducts the required inspections for all products that fall into this >3% group. This footnote confirms that OMRI has taken the appropriate verification steps.

Caution Statements

The USDA organic regulations stipulate that producers shall take steps to prevent the contamination of crops, soil and water. OMRI uses caution statements to communicate levels of heavy metals and pathogenic organisms in order to provide users with the appropriate information to address potential contamination of crops, soil and water.

- 1 The arsenic level of this product exceeds 10 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 2 The arsenic level of this product exceeds 20 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 3 The lead level of this product exceeds 10 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 4 The lead level of this product exceeds 90 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 5 The lead level of this product exceeds 180 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 6 The cadmium level of this product exceeds 20 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.
- 7 The cadmium level of this product exceeds 40 ppm. Application to certified organic farms must not contribute to contamination of crops, soil, or water.

How current is the OMRI Products List?

OMRI regularly adds and removes products from the OMRI Products List. An OMRI subscription helps users stay up to date concerning changes. Subscribers receive the OMRI Products List and quarterly supplements, the Materials Review newsletter with in-depth coverage of topics related to materials, and the current OMRI Generic Materials List. Regular updates to the OMRI Products List are made to the online version at OMRI.org. Users may periodically check the online version of the OMRI Products List to ensure that they have the most up-to-date information regarding OMRI Listed products. No password or login is needed to access this free service on the website.

Compliant use of OMRI Listed products

USDA accredited certifying agents may choose to accept OMRI listing as proof of compliance in accordance with organizational policies. The final decision on the acceptability of a product for a specific use and operation is the responsibility of the accredited certifying agent. Certified organic operators should always check with their accredited certifying agent before using a new product in an organic operation.

OMRI does not provide any guarantee or warranty, expressed or implied, for any products included on the OMRI Products List. It is the user's responsibility to properly use a product according to applicable federal and state laws and regulations.

OMRI listing assures the suitability of a product for certified organic production, handling or processing under the following conditions:

- The product must be included in the operator's certifier-approved Organic System Plan.
- Products must be used according to the use restriction described in the Categories section.
- Both the product and manufacturer names on the label must match the information printed in the OMRI Products List.
- Users must apply the product according to the instructions or purpose on the label that corresponds with the OMRI Listed class and category.

Also, users of OMRI Listed products should follow these practices:

- Guard against the possibility of environmental contamination and negative ecological impacts.
- Handle products with care for the safety of the workers involved. Contact the manufacturer about a product's efficacy, health and environmental effects.
- Contact appropriate governing officials to determine which laws and regulations apply to specific products.
