Year-round class may be coming to 4 schools

By GLENN BUNTING

The Plymouth Board of Education held another discussion workshop Tuesday night, to air suggestions about a three-year growth projection of 3,400 students in the Plymouth Community School District.

The board appears ready to officially propose a $30 million bond issue that would provide for five new elementaries and two middle schools, at its Feb. 28 meeting, according to Raymond K. Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business

The $30 million figure, which would give the school district the distinction of seeking the highest bond issue in the state, represents an approximate increase of 1.26 mills.

The additional mills would mean an extra $25.20 annually for a homeowner with an assessed property value of $40,000; and an increase of $37.80 for a $60,000 piece of property.

THE PROPOSED 1977 bond issue would add roughly 5,700 seats to the present capacity, which would handle the estimated five-year growth of 5,400 students, according to the board's preliminary projections.

Because no new buildings could be completed or opened for at least two years even if voters approved the bond issue, the board must implement interim measures to meet pressing needs, Hoedel said.

Some alternatives suggested were to place Eriksson, Field, Hulsing, Pioneer and Bird elementary schools on a 45-15 program, intensify busing efforts, and add six self-contained portables to Eriksson, Field and Hulsing. All these actions were proposed for either July 1977 or '78.

Other options discussed included implementing a 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. school day at the high school level, shifting ninth graders to middle schools and converting Central Middle School to an alternate high school.

Board president Joe Gray raised objections to transferring Central. "I hate to see Central go to a high school," he said. "With its present facilities. Central serves as an excellent middle school. I'd rather see East go Marcia Borowski agreed. "The purpose of an alternate high school is to offer the student body smallness and closeness." she said. "Central's too big-the kids would feel lost and face-

Lakepoint subdivision fear that if Central is converted, it will become Lakepoint High School, one board member reported.

Supt. John M. Hoben confirmed it would never happen, saying "there's no way Central would become an area high school. If anything, it would be an annex."

Ms. Borowski added: "We shouldn't commit ourselves to converting Central. Instead, let's keep East open as an option and remain flexible on Hoben reiterated how costly it would be to the district if the bond issue fails the first time out. "With conservative estimates placing increased builling costs at six per cent annually, it's imperative that the bond issue passes in April," he said.

Hoben warned.

If the proposed five-year plan was not accepted, the board would have the option of selling the bond issue in two series, Hoben said.

In addition to convincing voters to support the record bond issue, the board faces possible rejection from the state's municipal finance commission, which may feel a proposed fiveyear bond would be too lengthy,

'Forget study-just try turnin'

A little plain, old, country-boy talk helped Plymouth and Canton Townships avoid a bureaucratic state highway department delay in some new traffic lights at off-ramps of I-275.

Plymouth Township had requested Wane County Commissioner Royce Smith to speak to the highway department about having traffic control signals put up on Ann Arbor Road at the new I-275 exit ramps. Canton Township wanted the lights at the exit ramps on Michigan Avenue.

Smith said he talked to Jerald McCarthy, the deputy director of highways, and was told the highway department would study the traffic patterns to see if signals were necessary. However, Smith was unwilling to accept that answer.

"I just talked to McCarthy like one country-boy to the other," Smith stated. "I told him, 'You don't need to study any traffic patterns. All you have to do is get off I-275 at either of those two roads and try to make a left-hand turn."

According to Smith, McCarthy took his advice and experienced some difficulty in making the turn.

"The next thing I heard from were in operation.

McCarthy," laughed Smith, "was that there was a definite need for lights on both roads, and they would be put up within 90 days.'

Smith said that if the highway department would have gone through the process of studying the traffic patterns, there was no telling how long it would have been before the lights

The elder Gray is hoping his son will quit his job at Ford and take over the shop full-time. "He could modernize the place and start from scratch, the shop owner said of his son. "Nowadays, you have to go to a training school and learn all that new jazz, but I'd like to see him take over the

Stein doubts sincerity

Is politics in growth fight?

By CRAIG PIECHURA

It was almost a year ago that the Canton Township Planning Commission adopted a new master land use

Today, the elected officials who supported that plan are gone, and so presumably is the plan iself.

But the taint of politics concerning growth and land use continues.

Unlike the hot and heavy words that followed November's election, talk of recalling supervisor Harold Stein is muffled these days, although backers of former supervisor Robert Greenstein, and Peter Bundarin, the Republican candidate for supervisor in November admit they are "keeping a close eye" on the new supervisor.

That eye is focused directly at growth control.

Although Stein, under the pressure of a newly formed citizen's group agreed to set up a subcommittee to study growth control options, it was done with reservations.

The supervisor suspects the citizen's group demanding a curb on residential building is a thinly-disguised recall committee.

 Not so, say the co-chairpersons of the group, Sue Koch and Stan Bucher. But Stein remains unmoved by their protestations.

The day after Stein held a press conference to respond to the "Citizen for Growth Control" petition drive press conference demands, he referred to his press conference as "real" and the citizen's group as "phony."

Koch and Bucher, say "the biggest obstacle" confronting the citizen's group is convincing people that it is not politically affiliated.

"I hear that Stein is already calling

"First he tried to talk me out of continuing this committee of ours, saying that since he formed the township growth committee we didn't need ours. But we don't intend to let our committee die.

Part of the reason behind suspicion that the growth control group is politically-manipulated, is that Koch was a campaign worker for Bundarin. Bucher was an avid Greenstein supporter. Their prior affiliations have caused some people to suspect that the two unsuccessful candidates have formed a coalition to unseat Stein.

Bundarin said he is aware that people suspect him of pulling strings behind the scene and he denies it.

"This committee (growth control) will never have anything to do with recall," Bundarin said Thursday. "Because of those suspicions (Jim) Donahue, (Thom) Carman, and myself will not attend the public meeting at the high school. "Let's just say we're keeping our eyes and ears wide open," Donahue said. "I'm not pleased with some of the stunts he's pulled with the police chief, but I can't see in either issue where he's done something that would call for a recall.

"But I'd be lying to myself if I didn't say that if Stein does to something that a majority of us feel is illegal he'd better be prepared to stand charges. He's being watched."

Bundarin said that he thinks Stein is smart enough to avoid any direct confrontation with his political opposition.

"Right now the ball's on his side of the field," Bundarin said. "The facts have been laid out on the rate of growth and the impending $30 million bond issue to pay for the schools we're going to have to build. If Mr. Stein doesn't heed the interests of the people then he'll let people know that he doesn't pay attention to what they

With federal funds

Expanded sewer, water planned

Trustees tomorrow night will consider recommendations to expand water and sewer facilities using funds from the federal 1977 Community Development program.

The board will be asked to approve recommendations from Supervisor Thomas Notebaert and Clerk Helen Richardson at Tuesday's regular meeting which begins 8 p.m. in the township hall at Lilley and Ann Arbor

At the Dec. 21 meeting, the board approved an expenditure of approximately $88,000 for sanitary sewer crossings on Ann Arbor Road. Notebaert and Mrs. Richardson are going to ask the trustees to approve using the township's share of the fed-

The Plymouth Township Board of eral block grant to pay for those sewer improvements.

Under the stipulations of the grant, application for funds can only be made under certain categories. They are: urban renewal and neighborhood development; model cities; water and sewer facilities; neighborhood facilities; public facilities loans; open space; and rehabilitation loans.

"I think we stand the best chance of getting the money if we apply under sewer and water," said Mrs. Richardson. "Some of the categories don't apply to us. And of the ones that do, our sewer and water needs are the most pressing. She added that the township's share of the federal funds would be about $80,000.

In 1975 the township received money to improve the recreation site on Ann Arbor Trail for the improvement of neighborhood parks. Under the 1976 community development program, the township applied for funds for storm sewers on Haggerty and Ann Arbor Roads Mrs. Richardson said she has verbal approval for $66,000 for those improvements.

ALSO DURING Tuesday's meeting, the board will hear a report on the status of the Evans Products land split request. The issue had been tabled at the meeting of Oct. 26 to allow the board time to study certain problems with the sewer facilities on the property along Eckles Road.

At that meeting the attorney for Evans had wanted the township to accept dedication of the sewer, so Evans could sell a portion of the land. However, the trustees were reluctant to take on the sewer because it was 40 years old and in need of repair. They did not want to commit the township to heavy repair and maintenance expenses.

The question of the land split has all the elements of a prolonged struggle because Evans has to have the sewers accepted by the township before the land can be sold.

TRUSTEE RICHARD GORNICK is expected to give a verbal progress report on his committee's study of the charter township question. Since Supervisor Thomas Notebaert took office, he has made no secret of his desire to see Plymouth Township move toward becoming a charter township. And he appointed Gornick to chair a committee formed to look into the advantages and disadvantages of charter townships. The committee's final report is due in February.

Local clergy can't justify death order

By PATRICK TOUHEY (Second in a series)

In an opinion survey of law enforcement officials published in the last issue, a majority of those questioned favored a state constitutional ammendment to provide for the death penalty.

Although a few expressed doubts about the wisdom of granting the state the right to take a life, in the end, the moral question was placed in a practical, legal framework of how best to deal with certain types of crime and criminals.

But the question is only partially a legal one. It is also a moral question.

WHEN THE Observer asked local clergy members whether they would be in favor of capital punishment, the overwhelming response was the exact opposite of that of the legal profes-

"I would not be in favor of the death sentence," said Rev. Sam Stout of the First United Methodist Church. "The taking of a human life, under any circumstances, is an awesome responsibility, and it can never be completely justified, not even in war.'

Stout said a society that resorts to executing those people who violate its laws, is only expressing failure to find better alternatives.

"There seems to be a need on the part of the society in general to dramatize a justice it doesn't have. There is a need to select a few here and a few there and punish them," he remarked

"I think we have to find better ways and more humane ways to deal with people who don't fit into society."

FR. ROBERT KELLER of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, also felt society had to take more responsibility for the individual failings of its members.

"Capital punishment is not necessarily the 'only answer," he commented. "We should ask ourselves how we are helping to assimilate people into society in a productive manner." He said the death penalty did not serve the purpose of true jus-

"In the Christian tradition, I would say it is not the kind of justice we are seeking. Execution is treating the symptom rather than the cause. I am not in favor of it, nor will I ever be "

The Rev. Philip McGee, of the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, felt capital punishment violated the nature of the human spirit.

"I realize people have very real fears," he said, "but I also realize fear can cause over-reaction. There is always the hope that a person can and will change. Fro us to take judgment into our own hands-even judges-and say whether a man should live or die is a frightening thing. I do not think it is wise to set ourselves up as the judges of the worth of a human life.

The Rev. Jeff Goldsmith, pastor of Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton, was in the process of doing research for a sermon he was planning to give on capital punishment when contacted and said that although he hadn't worked his position out as thoroughly as he wanted to, his gut reaction was one of strong opposition. "There is no way around it," he stated, "when we execute a person we are committing murder. It's brutal and repulsive to me.

He said he was aware that providing for the protection of society was important, but felt there were better ways than the death penalty for providing it.

"How can we kill a person outright?" he asked. "We are talking about someone created by God, just like we all are. The thought of it disturbs and saddens me greatly.

The one dissenting view was present ed by Rev. Leonard Koeninger of St Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church He spoke to the issue of capital punishment from the official church position and as an individual.

We believe capital punishment is not morally wrong. God has given the state the right to impose the sentence of death. It is a duty and a responsibility of the government.

Patterson hits parole abuse

Brooks Patterson has a lot to say about the state parole laws, and none of it is good. He claims that by releasing dangerous criminals prematurely, the parole system is working against the best interest of the people.

Patterson made his remarks in an after-dinner speech at the annual Plymouth Jaycees Distinguished Service Awards banquet. He told those present that the parole system was a fail-

"We are being raped, robbed, and and over again." he said. "The parole system is an abysmal failure.

His main complaint was criminals who had been convicted of violent crimes were being released from prison by the parole board to rape, rob; and kill again.

To substantiate his claim, he cited 16 pages of documented cases of crimes committed by criminals who the parole laws, which allow prisoners

Oakland County Prosecutor L. had been paroled before they had served their minimum sentence.

> PATTERSON TOLD the audience that his interest in parole abuse started when he was working on a case involving a murdered policeman.

> 'As the circumstances surrounding the killing unfolded, Patterson said, it was discovered that the murderers were parolees. One of them had been sentenced to 15 to 25 years for murder and was released after serving only seven and one-half years.

"If those men had been made to murdered by the same people over serve just their minimum sentence, that police officer would still be alive today." he said.

According to Patterson he started keeping a record of all violent crimes that were committed by convicted criminals who were out on parole. He said there have been 11 in Oakland County alone since 1973.

The fault, Patterson alleges, lies in to accumulate "good time"—a certain number of days taken off their sentence for each month they serve.

To document this, Patterson produced statistics which showed that a man sentenced to 20 to 35 years in jail could, by receiving maximum good time, only serve 10 years—or 50 per cent less than the minimum number of years. A man sentenced to 30 to 45 years could be released after 13, 63 per cent less time than the minimum stipulation.

"The system defeats itself," he Patterson's solution is to change the parole laws so people convicted of violent crimes-rape, murder, and armed robbery— are required to serve their full minimum sentence. He said in 1973 he introduced just such a bill into the state legislature. But it has yet to be reported out of "The bill I introduced four years ago has died in committe twice." he said. "The legislature has refused to act. And I don't think it is too much stated, "The longer the sentence, the to ask. Just make the violent criminal higher the per cent of reduction." serve his minimum sentency.

Two female felons flee DeHoCo Friday

Two inmates of the Women's Division of the Detroit House of Corrections (DEHOCO) leaped over a fence to freedom Friday. One of the escapees was serving a life sentence for two first degree murders.

According to Martha Wheeler, director of the prison, Constance Hanes. 37. of Flint, a white female, and Sharon Halferty, 35, of Quincy, also white, left their cottages to visit the residence store on the prison grounds. They reportedly jumped over a fence and hopped into a dark green van driven by an unidentified white male.

"It appears they had made prior arrangements to be met," stated Ms Wheeler, "but I don't know how or when." She added this was the fourth escape for Ms. Hanes and the second for Ms. Halferty.

Ms. Wheeler said Ms. Hanes first came to the prison in 1969 to serve three life sentences and one 50-60 year sentence. She was convicted of two first degree murders, assualt with intent to murder, and armed robbery.

Her fellow escapee, according to Ms. Wheeler, had been in prison "off and on" since 1967. She was serving her sentence for receiving stolen property, attempted breaking and entering and attempted checj passing.

The Michigan State Police were notified of the escape, but late Friday, the women were still at large

Using an explanation similiar to the reason given for the water increase. the director of the department of public works, George Bingham, said there are two reasons for the rate hike in wastewater disposal.

Bingham told the people at the hearing a "cost-plus factor" is needed in the sewer budget to eliminate the deficit to pay for operating expenses. Once the "revolving fund" is established in the next two years, Bingham said rates may be lowered or stabilized. He said it is hoped the department will have enough money on hand, with the revolving fund, to pay a quarter's worth of bills at one time.

The rate increase will be $159.48 per million gallons used; up from the present $140.96 per million gallons of wastewater disposal

Measured in "per thousand cubic feet." the new rate is $1.193-raised from the current rate of $1.0545 per thousand cubic feet.

Canton's deputy treasurer Mike Gorman was at the public hearing Tuesday to tell the board of public, works that Canton officials aren't convinced the hike is necessary.

Gorman said many neighboring communities also oppose the hike.

"If they could show us a similiar community that needed a 15 per cent overcharge to meet its water needs, then we might not have such a problem with it," Gorman said. "But they made their objections known, "I felt like we were banging our heads against a brick wall." The only effect their protest might have, Gorman said, was that the county can't say they were unaware of dissent in the communities serviced by sewers."

Hedging by Stein evident in articles

Subject: Police Chief-Supervisor Harold Stein?

According to your recent front page article entitled "Police Suggest a Pay Cut," you indicate that Mr. (Harold) Stein said at the meeting of 12-28-76. that he is the chief of police. Also, when questioned at length at the 1-10-77 township board meeting I attended as to this statement, he didn't really deny it, but implied that since he is supervisor he is chief law enforcement officer of the township and that these two jobs go hand-in-hand.

He didn't seem to feel that way when Robert Greenstein held these two positions, so there seems to be two sets of rules.

Under the charter township act, the township board has the ultimate authority in determining who should be police chief (Crier: 10-27-76). Mr. Stein has never been appointed to this position by the board of trustees to my knowledge. Former supervisor Robert Greenstein, and founder of the Canton Police Department, was named to the position of police chief by a unanimous vote of the board (Canton Observer: 5-25-75).

Mr. Stein hasn't the experience. training, educational background or legal right to issue police chief direc-

Prior to the November 2, 1976 election:

Mr. Stein stated (Observer 9-2-76) that if he won the supervisor's spot he would not assume the role of police chief and supervisor.

Stein's position paper says, "If we are to have quality police protection. I want want well-qualified professional people, as well as a police chief." (Detroit News 7-23-76).

Many Stein supporters sent letters to all the local papers objecting to Greenstein's supervisor-police chief position. The local papers objected in editorials, etc., to same.

Attorney Noel Culbert and Carrie Young, objected so strongly to the supervisor-police chief roles that they wrote to Attorney General Frank Kelley for an action to remove Greenstein from the office of supervisor

Trusteee Lynne Goldsmith made the motion to fire Mr. Greenstein from office of police chief with the statement: "I would consider the office of chief of police to be one held by a man with experience. In order to get politics out of the police department, I feel that the most political person in the township should not be chief." (Eagle 11-25-76).

A police study was formed to study the police department and advise the board on any changes or improvements that might be made. Results will not be ready for several months.

Mr. Stein said (Observer 12-9-76) that he would not include members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department on the police study group. At board meeting (1-10-77) Stein said there would be a Wayne County officer assigned to this group.

Mr. Stein said the reserve unit would continue functioning "as is" until the police study is completed. He also said Mr. Carl Silvers, who had been coordinator of the reserves unit. would direct its operation until the study was completed (Detroit News

SINCE HE MADE those statements. Mr. Stein has:

Fired Greenstein from police chief position. Promoted Carl Silvers to interim police chief on 11-24-76. Gives directives (police chief?) to the police department. Cut road patrols from four to two; cutting the number of officers in half (Eagle 12-9-76). Has under consideration a one-car patrol (Observer 1-10-77). Demoted interim Police Chief Carl Silvers to commander on 1-10-77.

My conclusion from the above events would be that Mr. Stein is slowly terminating the Canton Police Department, even before the board-appointed police study group presents

A three-year-old plan to build a the original construction plans motel and restaurant complex at the corner of Ford and Lotz may be revitalized, if the developers can assure township officials of their good intentions and overcome ill will generated by the developers' failure to use a liquor license previously granted to

Canton board members last meeting unanimously agreed to table a request from Wilbert M. Tucker and Ronald J. Makino of Tucker Realty Co. for site plant approval of a proposed $600,000 restaurant and lounge.

The developers say they plan to construct a 101-unit motel, after the 54,000-square-foot restaurant and lounge are completed.

Township officials agreed to reconsider the developers' site plan request, after they determine the status of a liquor license granted to Tucker in April 1974, when the township had only two liquor licenses to grant.

Board members had granted the license, provided the entire motel and restaurant complex be constructed at one time. But Tucker never constructed the complex. The liquor license was never used, and site plans approved for the original complex expired. A representative of Tucker Realty Co., who knew little about the fate of showed board members different plans for the motel and resturant complex than those approved by a previous board some years ago.

Although township officials appeared pleased with the proposed site plans, several board members noted Tucker's plans to construct the complex some years ago-plans which never materialized.

Although the township now has about nine liquor licenses to grant, it had only two when officials granted a license to Tucker. The number of liquor licenses available to a municipality is based on its population.

"The reaction after (granting the license) was that we had been had," recalled Trustee Brian Schwall, who noted the developers' current plans to construct the restaurant, lounge and motel in two phases

The Stroller:

Snow—
good 'n bad

"The damn snow—what a mess it makes. Just take a look at it along the curbs of the city streets. It is nothing but an eyesore and I'll be glad when we can get rid of it."

"Look at that snow. Isn't it beautiful as it streches out across the vacant land and sparkles in the morning sunlight."

"This heavy snow is just what we need. It is the best thing for our plants, roses and the like. It is a cover that keeps them warm and we'll let the real benefit of it next spring and summer.

"I'll take the cold any time. Just get rid of the snow and slush and the slippery sidewalks."

These are just a few of the remarks The Stroller has heard in recent days and they offer real proof that winter is the most controversial of the four seasons.

Sure, one hears complaints about the spring rains, and at times the floods that raise havoc. And there are times when folks shake their heards in distress with the hot sun in the summer months.

In the fall when Mother Nature turns autumn leaves to gold and paints the scenery in a fashion the greatest artists and painters couldn't duplicate, you might hear a few complaints.

HERE AND THERE you will hear complaints when the leaves start to fall and the squirrels gad about in search of nuts to fill their storehouses for the winter. But now, with the coming of the mechanical helper—the leaf blower—there no longer is ground for complaint at this most colorful season of the year.

That brings us back to winter and the howls that go up about the grime and slush on the sidewalks; the piles of dirty snow along the curbs and the danger it brings to motorists who oftimes have trouble starting their cars, or even in driving.

One of the strange things about winter—and the controvery is that there are bitter complaints on both sides. People damn the winter when there is no snow just as they did out in Colorado when the ski slopes were bare—even for the president's vacation.

They also damn conditions when there is snow. First, it is the trouble of snow removal from the sidewalks and driveways of our homes; then removal from the streets so that the motorists can go and come from their daily occupations.

Once the way is cleared and conditions would seem to be returned to normal, then comes the complaint of the eyesore of the dirty snow and slush.

Strangely, there is one day and night when the complaintants keep quiet and wish for snow. That's Christmas Eve, when every one is quiet and wish for a white Christmas.

YEARS AGO, when The Stroller arrived in Detroit, in the middle of winter, he had his first sight of snow in a metropolitan area and, like many others, he didn't like what he saw.

Then came a turning point. Being a "rookie" on the sports staff he was given the "Odd" assignments, among them covering the ski contests out at Rochester, Michigan.

He had never seen any one skiiing back in his hometown—not even in the foothills of the mountains. The chief activity was sledding down the hillsides

Ski contests? They were something else. So out he went to Rochester and the first sight of the skiers coming down the long slides and taking off into the air amazed him. It wasn't long until he looked forward to Sunday afternoons and the trip to the ski slides to watch the Hall boys, natives of Ishpeming, take their turn and vie for jumping honors.

And, despite the complaints, The Stroller enjoys the winter and longs for another sight of the Hall boys coming down the slide on a Sunday afternoon in Rochester. It was a sight to behold

Rock cagers destroy AP

By FRED DeLANO

Winless Allen Park was strictly no match for unbeaten Plymouth Salem Friday night as the Rocks hit on 58 per cent of their shots from the floor in rolling to an easy 64-42 Suburban Eight basketball triumph.

This road victory on the Jaguars floor brought Plymouth to an 11-0 mark for the season, whereas Allen Park is 0-11.

The game completed the first round of Sub 8 action and at the halfway point the Rocks have a two-game bulge over Livonia Bentley at 7-0 to second place Bentley's 5-2. Not in any of the last three title winning seasons has Salem enjoyed that much of a lead in turning the corner for home.

Although the win over hapless Allen. Park added no particular luster to the record, the Rocks now have a chance to impress the state's prep pollsters when they invade Dearborn Fordson for an important non-league test

Tuesday night The perennially powerful Tractors again are in the running for the Great Lakes Conference title, and on their own court will be particularly difficult to subdue.

TOM ELLINGHAUSEN and Chris DeBear led Salem's offensive barrage at Allen Park with 20 and 14 points respectively, but actually their shooting percentages were more important than the point totals. Ellinghausen canned eight of his 12 shots and DeBear pumped in seven out of 10 Ellinghausen also grabbed 11 rebounds as the Rocks dominated that department, 32-16. From the floor, Salem made good on 28 of 48 attempts for its impressive 58 per cent team mark, but there were two statistics which detracted from the Plymouth performance and which-if repeated at Fordson-could spell doom.

These included the fact that the Rocks were guilty of an atrocious 25 turnovers and could make good on only eight of 19 chances at the free throw line. Those are not the hallmarks of an unbeaten team that would like to think of itself as a contender for state honors.

THE PLYMOUTH starters found themselves frustrated in the first quarter by an Allen Park quintet which disdained to attack. The Jaguars didn't take their first shot at the bucket until there was only 3:13 left and it was another half-minute before Gene Vacca got their first two-pointer.

The result was a misleading 10-5 Salem edge after eight minutes, but in the second quarter the Rocks blitzed their way to 20 points with hard, intense basketball that foretold the romp it was to become.

From a 30-21 edge at halftime the Rocks stretched their margin to 45-31 for three periods and outscored the Jaguars, 19-11, in the final quarter.

"We went at it low-key and used all 13 men in trying out a variety of personnel combinations," said coach Fred Thomann, "Our starters didn't play more than five minutes of the third period and not more than four of the last one.

The preliminary game wasn't that easy, Salem's Jayvees won, 53-51, to run their record to 9-2.

Canton can't handle zone; Harrison breezes, 74-62

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Farmington Harrison's stingy 1-2-2 zone defense proved to be the deciding factor in its 74-62 victory over Plymouth Canton in a crucial Western Six League basketball contest played at the Centennial Park gym Friday

This contest was important for the Hawks because the road victory helped them keep pace with leagueleading Livonia Churchill which easily beat Walled Lake Western.

The Chargers hold a perfect 5-0 record after the first half of the league season while Harrison maintains the second spot at 4-1.

The loss to the Chiefs spelled equal importance to their chances for the Western Six title. This setback on Canton's home court not only cost the Plymouth squad a chance to tie for second place in the standings, but now it all but ends any hopes for a league

Canton holds a 5-7 overall record and a mediocre 2-3 mark in conference play. Harrison is 6-5 overall. THE CHIEFS started the game quickly wearing down the Hawks' man-to-man defense. Canton raced to a 17-12 lead after the first quarter and maintained that margin for the first four minutes of the second period. Harrison then switched to its 1-2-2 zone defense and riddled the Chiefs the rest of the way. The Hawks finally grabbed the lead for good with one minute left in the half and took a 28-27 advantage at intermission.

Harrison nearly doubled its total offensive output of the first half in the third quarter alone as the Hawks blew Canton off the court with a 27-14

The Hawks built its margin to as many as 20 points midway in the final quarter as the game was never in

"WE'VE HAD some trouble on the road and I knew we had to have this one. The kids knew it too," said Harrison coach Bob Sutter.

We were afraid to try a zone because we thought Canton had a good shooting team. But they hurt us on their drives to the basket when we were in the man-to-man.

"We had a hard time penetrating and couldn't use the baseline because they were so big." said Canton coach Casey Cavell. Harrison played the zone well—I can't take anything away from them. The only good thing about it was that we forced them to go to it.

"I can't blame our kids," the Canton mentor said. They worked their butts off trying to penetrate the zone but Harrison played a good defensive game. I didn't think they would be that powerful.

With each successive meet, Plymouth Canton's rise to prominence takes on a more distinctive shape. After disposing of Farmington Harrison 94-78 for the first time in Canton history, the Chiefs firmly established themselves as a force to be dealt with in the Western Six League.

The Canton win was its third in four matches against conference foes. Only one loss to Northville kept them from going undefeated in league com-

"The Harrison meet was a challenege that was presented to the team. they accepted it, and went on to win." said Canton Coach William Faunce.

"It was a commendable performance by the squad as we won seven of 11 events. Particularly outstanding was Kevin Harris' effort," added Faunce

'Harris seemingly is unable to swim in a meet where he doesn't demolish a school record. His last outing was a case in point. The senior captain won the 200-yard freestyle in 1:50.3, lowering his old standard by three seconds, and he tied his own school mark in the 100-yard freestyle at :50:1.

Sophomore Bob Cline emerged victorious in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:20.8

The turning point in the meet occured when Canton placed first and second in the 50-yard freestyle. The Chiefs grabbed a lead for good when Dave Tanner and Jamie Greenwood finished back-to-back

Scott Wales won the diving competition with a 208.80 mark. With that triumph, he clearly makes himself the favorite to win his forte in the league

Steve Wood, another consistent member of the squad, paid his dues to the cause by winning the 100-yard butterfly in :59.3.

Canton will start round two of its dual meets against Western Six conference rivals Thursday against Walled Lake Western. "At this point in the season we are getting closer to achieving the two goals we set for ourselves as a team this year. First, to improve on our 'dual meet record, and secondly, to raise our standing in the league I definitely think they are in reach of . the team before the year is over," commented Faunce.

Chargers hand Canton 5th loss

The Plymouth Canton wrestling team lost its third straight Western Six League dual meet Thursday night falling to Livonia Churchill 36-23 at the Chargers' gym. The Chiefs hold a 7-5 record overall and 1-3 in conference play. Canton battles Livonia Stevenson tomorrow night in a non-league match

It was a good match to watch." Canton coach Dan Chrenko said about the Churchill defeat. "We wrestled to an 18-17 scere until the 167-pound match.

The Chiefs lost three of those last four matches as sickness or injury plagued Canton's chances for a victory George Hamblin and Chuck Walker were out with injuries and Dennis Howell had the flu all week. 128-pound Jeff Rey was also out with a twisted ankle.

It was a case of Churchill beating us in our weak weights," Chrenko said. We wrestled three first-year kids in those late matches.

Despite the loss. Chrenko was pleased with his team's performance saving "it was the first time since Christmas that we wrestled well.'

Scott Collins at 147 and Craig Lee at 114 were the standouts for Canton. Lee pinned his opponent in a swift 1.03 while Collins demolished Tom Taylor 9-0. Taylor was a regional qualifier in a lighter weight class last sea-

The best match of the night featured the top two 107-pound wrestlers in the conference as Churchill's Bill Jack defeated Canton's captain Bill Heedum 5-2 in a close match.

Canton's junior varsity squad, directed by Dan Riggs, raised its season record to 6-1-1 with a hard-fought 35-24 victory over the Churchill JV in the preliminary match.

Trenton trips tankers

Parents' Night for the Plymouth with double victories in the 50 free-Salem swimmers turned out to be a sad affair as the Rocks lost their first Suburban Eight League meet of the season 95-77 to the Trenton Trojans

Thursday night at the Plymouth pool. This setback gives the Rocks a 1-1 record in the conference and 7-3 over-

"It was a pretty good meet," said Salem coach Byron Williams. "They (Trenton) were stronger than us and a very respectable team. I don't think they are as strong as (defending Sub-8 champion) Dearborn but they had a lot of depth.

'We didn't swim badly. Trenton was just tougher than us."

The Rocks took the majority of the first place finishes with six victories in the 11 events. Salem also followed with five second place finishes but Trenton's depth prevailed at the end.

SENIOR RON Finley performed in his usual great fashion, coming in style and 100 backstroke events.

The 50 free time of :22.8 beat Trenton's top swimmer, Pete Stanton, by one-half a second. Finley's time was good enough for state qualification. This means that the potential all-American has qualified for state competition in all but one individual event-the 100 breaststroke.

Finley's 100 backstroke time of :55.0 was his best time of the season and increased his hold on the state's best time in that event.

Tom Rubadue was a surprise double winner for the Rocks with victories in the 100 and 200 freestyle races. Rubadue clocked at 1:54.0 in the 200 and :51.9 in the 100.

Rob Kuebler swam his best time of the year in the 100 butterfly, winning that race in :59.1.

The 400 freestyle relay ended the night with a Rock victory as Tim Ying, Craig Finley, Mike Etienne and Rubadue swam a solid 3:30.6.

It isn't generally known, but the high averages and the phenomenal scoring you see on TV when the touring pros are in action are not accomplished under the same conditions under which our area leagues bowl.

As a matter of fact, the pro bowlers carry their own maintenance men with them to condition the lanes before a meet. They do not observe the ABC rule that calls for the spreading of oil from gutter to gutter. And because of this, the scores you see rolled by the pros are not approved by the ABC governing body of bowl-

This thought comes to mind when one observes that the five finalists in a recent program all averaged better than 230 to reach TV competition.

The best averages posted in our metropolitan area do not go above 220. Just thought you'd like to know.

THIS IS ANOTHER great year for the veteran bowlers who still compete in the weekly leagues. For instance Mary Mohacsi, who was the bowling queen a decade ago, is now topping seasons, rolled a 673 in the Wonderland Classic. He was just a pin short of leading the circuit.

And this week Dick Preston, who

The pacemaking role was shared by George Bashara and Tom Hay, who

The team captained by Jerry Redtz contributed a 3120 on games of 1087. 1097 and 936, while the entire league averaged better than 193.

ONE OF THE REAL JOYS of a bowler comes when he or she can take a change from the home lanes and do well in another house.

Fasching party set for Feb. 5

The third annual fasching party sponsored by the German-American Club of Plymouth is scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 5 in the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street, Plymouth.

"Persons of all ethnic backgrounds are invited to enjoy the fun of the pre-Lenten celebration," said Gus Oesterle, president of the club. "There will be all-German wine, beer and food-sausage, pickles, potato salad, sauerkraut and rolls.

Music for dancing will be supplied by the "Melodias." According to club members Maria Mulzer and Helen Oesterle, the band can be heard every day on the German Hour on radio. It also played for the Vienna Ball in Cobo Hall, Detroit.

For Maria Mulzer of Canton Township, the fasching party and stories of fassnacht brought back memories of her childhood in the Black Forest area of Germany. She said the fasching celebration actually begins the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month. It is then that the prince and princess and their attendants are cho-

In the north it is called a festival. In the south-Bavaria and the Black Forest—it is fasching.

"It is a time for spoofing politicians," she said. "Television comedians, and people in the parades and at parties tell jokes and make fun of government officials. She said that in some places they put a person in clown costume in a casket and carry him out, marking the end of the festivities.

"The children have their own balls on the Sunday afternoon before the parade. I remember after the war," she reminisced. "They threw oranges to the children at the parade. We would collect whole bags full of things. They carried the pretzels on long sticks."

Some of the costumes are very expensive and are handed down in families. Mrs. Mulzer said her brother's costume is worth about $200.

"It has a wooden mask which distorts your voice when you speak. Some people rent costumes for the Most of those attending the local fasching party wear costumes but it is not necessary. "I still don't know if I can persuade Gus to go in costume," said Helen Oesterle.

More exposure to the world of art may be an alternative to what some per-of Geneva Presbyterian Church recently viewed the film, "TV-The Anonymous Teacher." The documentary focused on television violence and how is may affect children

Young children, say the researchers, have a difficult time separating fantasy from reality. A carlently attacked in one scene and reappears shortly after unharmed, may create a distorted mental picture of aggression in the child.

Representatives of Stanford, Harvard and State University of New York shared views on other areas of concern

The number of hours young people as well as adults spend watching television far outweighs time given to other recreational or educational activities.

The role of women in society often is portrayed negatively to young viewers. Also, the increase in violence seen on early evening programs and news broadcasts is an unhealthy trend. HOW CAN THESE trends be counteracted, short of destroying the TV set? The Rev. Jeff Goldsmith led the discussion and shared some positive aspects of programming. He said Channel 56 has shown discernment with productions of Sesame Street. The Electric Company and Mr. Rogers. In addition, presentations on the arts, music, culture, history and the sciences are regular features of the station. Millie and Frank Conway are members of Action for Children's Television. The organization's goal is improvement of the quality of programming on all networks. It recently won a battle to reduce the commercial time allotted to children's shows. But it still is far and above the commercial time on adult programs

Norm Nettle and Ralph Richardson believe in using TV as a family activity. Parents are aware of what shows their children are watching. If a particularly disturbing or controversial scene appears, it can be discussed and explained on the spot, before negative impressions are made.

Donna and Roy Rennolds watch their children's viewing carefully. If objectionable programs are aired, the set is turned off. There may be some grumbling. but the rules are consistent and therefore accepted Supporting the efforts of ACT also will give a greater voice in programming. The address is 46 Auston Street, Newtonville, Mass

LRTG meeting features 'Iceman'

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford is inviting the public to attend its next general membership meeting Friday, Jan 28. After an 8 p.m. business meeting, the Guild will present a portion of Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh," lasting approximately one hour Leonard Bradley of Detroit, is directing and playing the leading role of Hickey. This is a repeat dual performance for Bradley, who was responsible for the critically acclaimed three-hour production of "Iceman" at the Group Theatre. That presentation was the Midwestern premiere of this drama originally produced on Broad way in 1946.

The typical O'Neill story deals with people facing defeat. The setting is the "Last Chance Saloon" on Manhattan's lower west side in the 1920s. The patrons of the bar have one thing in common, they are clinging desper

Jazz buffs treated

Jazz musicians Bess Bonnier and Joe Laduka will perform Monday at 8 p.m. in the Sisson Room of Fair Lane Conference Center at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Ms. Donnier, a jazz pianist, has long been considered one of Detroit's best jazz musicians. She has performed at some of Detroit's leading entertainment spots, including Jack Brokensha's, the Vineyards, Top of the Pontch and Charlie's Crab.

Joe Laduka, on bass and guitar, is a native Detroiter who studied with Joe Fava. He formerly was with a group called Cordova and has performed at the Money Tree in downtown Detroit.

The evening of jazz is sponsored by U of M-Dearborn's cultural events committee and is open to the public without charge. Anne Parks, assistant professor of music history, is chairwoman of the committee's music series.

ately to pipedreams. Hickey, the salesman, strolls through the room, prodding the sleepers, seemingly little more than a do-gooder in celluloid collar, until he reveals his tragedy.

Members of the cast include Kevin McGee of Livonia: Barry Collins and William Unger of Detroit: Ron Kruman, Clawson: Betty Kenney, Birmingham: Paul Cook, Royal Oak, and Max Wolf of Berkley.

There is no admission charge for this program which will be presented in the Guild Playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, south of Five Mile, Redford.

Awareness theater at EMU

The Theatre Company of Ann Arbor will give a free performance on the campus of Eastern Michigan University at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 27 in the Roosevelt Auditorium.

The company, which focuses on women, will perform a potpourri of their own original material in repertory, including excerpts from their two recent productions of "Mad Madonnas" and "Bitch, You Crazy"

The Theatre Company of Ann Arbor has been described as a kaleidoscope. a statement about women today: theatre that recognizes the need to examine women in social, political and economic institutions. The company is known as being entertaining and funny while being serious and moving.

Its most recent production, "Bitch, You Crazy!" is a collection of experimental and improvisational pieces developed or adapted by the company. Some pieces were written by company members, while others are adaptations of works by contemporary writers, including Rita Mae Brown, Judy Grahn, and Alan Alda. In the show, as in its other productions, the company strives to portray the voices of women and their experiences in a social context broader than that normally seen in traditional theater.

Dinner Theatre again at old Botsford Inn

The Coach House of the cozy old Botsford Inn in Farmington Hills is the setting for the R G Production of "I Do! I Do!" which opens in dinner theater format Wednesday Over lunch in the dining room of the inn-dating back to 1836, director Edgar A. Guest III of Birmingham talked about the show produced by Michael Goodman.

"It's a comfortable show," he said. People recognize themselves or moments in their lives. That is the charm of this play.

Guest continued, "It's kind of a gentle play-very, very rich and full of humor. It's a difficult challenge for the actors, since there are only two of them, and they are on stage virtually all the time.'

The stars are Nancy Gurwin and Phil Marcus Esser. Guest has the highest praise for both Ms. Gurwin, who has appeared in several dinner theater production at the Botsford. and Esser, who starred in "Jacques Brel" and "Personals" at Mercy College dinner theater.

Guest describes Esser as "a very strong performer, which you have to be to work with Nancy. She has a tendency to want to take over on stage.

"I DO! I DO!" containing more than 20 musical and dance numbers is written by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmit, who wrote the longest-running play in the American theater. "The Fantasticks.

Mary Martin and Robert Preston starred in the original Broadway production of "I Do! I Do!

The musical in two acts takes a couple from the ages of 20 to 60 or 65, Guest explained. "It goes from their marriage day to the day they move out of the house after their children are grown up, retirement age.

Guest said Ms. Gurwin is only offstage to change clothes and Esser does his dressing on or offstage. "He's always taking his pants off."

One of the fascinating aspects of the show is that the characters literally age before your eyes, he said. How do the actors do this?

"ONE IS A TRICK of the actors" trade. They just think older. In the second act, the authors have written a very interesting theatrical trick. The show pauses and the actors step down to make-up tables and in front of the audience age.

There is no age make-up in the show until this time

The authors are saying." Isn't love wonderful?" Guest pointed out. "It's a show about love in its many manifestations.

A song in the first act says love is what makes it sort of fun, what makes all the hardships worthwhile.

The theme is: With enough love vou can survive almost any disaster. Similarities between "Fantasticks" and "I Do! I Do!" are that both are romantic shows. The audiences identi fy like crazy, Guest said.

'The authors understand the human heart, and that's what makes their shows successful," he said the unabashed enthusiasm each has for his car. An enthusiasm that, contrary to expectations, does not diminish as the years and miles roll by. What causes this rare relationship between man and machine is the caliber of the machine. Rather than a mere collection of gears, axles and random parts, a BMW is a finely tuned, evolutionary car. One so singularly enjoyable to drive that, in Germany, a land of legendary driving machines, BMW sells more high-performance cars than any other manufacturer. A surprising fact? Only to those who have never driven a BMW. If you are tired of owning conventional, boring transportation, call us and

we'll arrange a thorough test drive of a BMW THE ULTIMATE DRIVING MACHINE
