Feds will fund $200,000 for golf course

A $200,000 federal grant to be applied toward purchase of the Fellows Creek Golf Club by Canton Township has been approved by the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, according to Jeanne Powers, assistant grants director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The majority of township trustees said last July that they would support an estimated $1 million purchase of the 18-hole course at 2936 S. Lotz if the federal recreation grant received approval.

Mrs. Powers said Canton's grant request was one of 50 state projects approved Dec. 9 in Washington in a consolidated application submitted by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Michigan was allocated $102 million in fiscal year 1977-78 under the Land and Water Conservation Fund, which supports public outdoor recreation projects.

CANTON SUPERVISOR Harold Stein said township board members will be asked Tuesday if they want to purchase the property from Whitney Ballantine, principal shareholder in the Fellows Creek Golf Club, Inc. The $200,000 grant will be revoked if trustees decide not to buy the golf course.

Stein spent most of the morning Friday in Livonia, a city which owns two municipal golf courses. He said he was in the city hall reviewing Livonia's building authority procedures and checking financial statements which, he said, "proves that a golf course is economically feasible and a good purchase for Canton Township."

The supervisor also noted that the City of Farmington voted unanimously Monday to bid $1.1 million for the nine-hole San Marino Golf Course as a means of increasing municipal revenue and providing recreation to residents.

Robert Wiar, an accountant with Canton's consultant firm, Seidman and Seidman, told trustees last June that Canton Township can expect "a net cash income of $85,000 to $105,000 annually from the ownership of the Fellows Creek Golf Club."

AN INDEPENDENT management firm would run the course, according to township officials, not township recreation employees. No specific company or individual has been mentioned yet as a potential manager.

And, officials say, it is not known if the management company will receive a percentage of the course's annual income or a fixed fee.

Accountant Wiar said that in preliminary negotiations with management firms, he found that Canton can expect to receive a minimum rental fee of $100,000 or 50 per cent of the total green fees and equipment rental, whichever is greater.

Using this guarantee formula, Wiar said Canton would have taken in $128,000 in revenue in 1976, which was a bad year for the Fellows Creek club. After paying off the projected bond payment, using Wiar's formula, Canton would have made an approximate $42,500 that year.

Wiar believes the golf course's recent financial slump can be traced to "an inability to maintain an adequate pricing structure." In other words, they didn't charge enough.

Truancy ruling is unclear here

By GLENN BUNTING

Last week's Wayne County Circuit Court ruling declaring Michigan's "school truancy" law unconstitutional will have marginal effects on the handling of truancy cases at Plymouth Salem and Canton high schools.

Circuit Court Judge Joseph A. Moyrhan Jr. ruled that since no law exists on Michigan books requiring children 6-16 years of age to attend school, it is illegal to prosecute them in juvenile court for not doing so.

State law under the juvenile code only reads that parents must send their children to school, not that they must attend.

Shirley Waters, attendance officer for both local high schools, said she has used the truancy law in the past. Under the new ruling, Ms. Waters will no longer be able to take problem students to juvenile court on truancy violations.

"It's too early to tell what kind of effect the ruling will have. The court has not specified how cases will be handled. We're waiting for some direction," Ms. Waters said.

Y. GLADYS BARSAMIAN, presiding Wayne County Juvenile Judge, expects the truancy ruling to have substantial impact on students. "When kids read they no longer have to go to school, I think we have a potentially serious problem on our hands."

Judge Barsamian, who lives in Plymouth, said the county will do everything it can to help correct the situation. "We're going to sit down and analyze the situation and come up with a well thought out, responsible decision."

"The easy way out would be for the state legislature to pass a bill making it illegal for children not to attend school."

One of the alternatives Judge Barsamian said the court will consider is accepting petitions under the incorrigibility statute.

According to the juvenile code, it is a violation for minors to disobey "reasonable and lawful" commands by their parents. Such cases can be brought before the juvenile court for incorrigibility.

"The legislature says a parent must send a child to school. We think this action constitutes a lawful and reasonable request on the parent's part," Judge Barsamian said.

Incorrigibility cases, however, will not be as inclusive as the truancy code. A number of students will be missed in court because of loopholes, Judge Barsamian said.

JUDGE BARSAMIAN said the student who stands to be affected most by the ruling is the borderline case.

"I'm worried about the kids who do not present serious problems—the ones who are going through adolescent difficulties and keep going to school because they have to. These kids generally stick through it and go on to bigger and better things."

"With this ruling, there's no guarantee they'll keep going to school."

Since the ruling, Ms. Waters says she finds herself emphasizing the parental aspect in court cases more and more at the CEP.

"Most students are not aware their parents can take them to court. But they are testing the waters to see what this latest development will bring, get 'em another," Ms. Waters laughed.

Wade, Trim planning firm fee doubled after long wait

Planning and engineering services provided by Wade, Trim and Associates to Canton Township will almost double in 1978 but officials say the price is still a fair one.

The monthly retainer fee paid to the firm from 1972 through 1977 has been $650 per month; it is being hiked to $1,150 by decision of the Canton board of trustees.

"It has been seven years since their monthly retainer rate has been changed," Gorman states.

Wade, Trim and Associates Chief Planner Mike Manore explained Friday that since Canton is one of the firm's best customers, and the company makes much of its money from developers who pay for site plan approval and grading fees, the fee charged to the township was left unchanged "for too long."

"But we couldn't keep up at those rates, that's why we went to the township board and asked them to change the fee," Manore explained.

Flu-like strain bugs populace

By CRAIG PIECHURA

Sitting at the typewriter, it looked like there was a story right under my nose—runny nose that it is.

In the past 10 days, eight of the 10 people in this newspaper office were struck down by a flu-like virus known as "para-influenza." The question on my parched lips was, was this office a microcosm of Wayne County?

It seemed like everywhere one went to do an interview, the interviewee was out sick. Were we all part of a national trend of influenza?

An attempt was made to call Don Swalley, Canton dog catcher, to check on a possible feature story. I soon found out Mr. Swalley was home, sicker than a dog. Anxious to interview the police chief about an armed robbery, I was informed that Canton's police chief, Walter MacGregor, was bedridden with a temperature of 102 degrees.

My curiosity was piqued. "Hmm," I rasped.

A good place to find out if an epidemic is rampant is the schools. A call went out to Mrs. Shirley Cunningham, nurse at Plymouth Canton High School. No dice. Mrs. Cunningham wasn't in because she was sick with "the flu," according to Marilyn Stemberger, secretary for the principal.

MS. STEMBERGER said four teachers went home early on Thursday complaining of chills, sniffles, congestion in the lungs and a headache. But, in a check with nurses and staff at Plymouth-Canton Schools, it was reported that there is "no noticeable increase" in absenteeism throughout the district. One case of hard measles, though, was reported at Isbister Elementary.

Even though victims were running a temperature, had a sore throat, chest cough, a persistent runny nose and told everyone they had "the flu," they did not, according to Dr. Jane Polkowski, Wayne County epidemiologist.

"We are encountering many unidentified viruses of one kind or another," Dr. Polkowski said. "I can't tell you just what everyone has, because there are several flu-like viruses going around. To identify one, a doctor would have to diagnose it with a blood test and throat culture. . . . There are a number of viruses causing similar symptoms."

A number of employees at Wayne County General Hospital began complaining of "the flu" last week, said Dr. Polkowski, so she took throat cultures and found no examples of influenza, but rather found "para-influenza" and illnesses that fall in "the adenoviruses group."

Part of the problem with keeping tabs on disease, said the doctor, "is everything's the flu."

"People have a cough and an upper respiratory ailment, then the automatically say they've got the flu."

Their stomach is upset so they have the stomach flu. It's just not that simple."

Influenza, or "the flu," is an ailment that falls in the category of viruses that change their characteristics rapidly which makes it difficult to combat and is much more contagious than the less talked about viruses.

Dr. William Taylor, a Plymouth physician, collaborates Mrs. Polkowski's belief that people in Wayne County are suffering from a "flu-like virus," but not influenza.

"Here, we've seen quite a bit of that early this week," Dr. Taylor said. "It's not a cold. With a cold, most people don't come to the doctor. This is more illness and discomfort. Of course, some hypochondriacs just come in to say hello. But people, generally, are complaining of a headache, loss of appetite; some we're seeing are experiencing gastro-intestinal symptoms, others have the cough, sore throat and a runny nose and eyes."

The doctor said penicillin is not an effective treatment for "para-influenza." Each symptom must be treated with a different prescription.

So, the last word on the subject is get plenty of rest, drink juice, take aspirin for aches and fever and don't stifle a sneeze, lest you blow your mind.

Holiday deadlines for Observer told

Different newsdeadlines were announced this week for Observer editions due to be published on Tuesdays, Dec. 27 and Jan. 3.

To allow the Plymouth and Canton newsteams to spend the holiday at home with family and friends, the Monday edition will appear on Tuesdays Dec. 27 and Jan. 3. News items for both editions are due by noon the Thursday before, Dec. 22 or Dec. 29.

The mid-week editions will be published on Thursdays, as usual, on Dec.

22 and 29. News items for Dec. 22 are due by noon Tuesday, Dec. 20, and for Dec. 29 by noon Dec. 27.

The Observer office at 461 S. Main, Plymouth, will be closed on the Mondays after Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

Anyone with questions regarding news deadlines are encouraged to call 459-2700 and ask for Emory Daniels, Plymouth editor, Craig Piechura, Canton editor, Elinor Graham, Life section editor, or Dennis O'Connor, sports editor.

S'CRAFT TAX REQUEST

Schoolcraft College will try again Feb. 27 for a property tax increase—one mill for five years. The tax request won't include a plan to finance a 2,000-seat fine arts auditorium which Schoolcraft opinion polls shows doesn't have wide support from the community. For story on the tax request see Page 2A.

S'craft to seek millage without fine arts center

By TIM RICHARD

Schoolcraft College will try again Feb. 27 for a property tax rate increase, but this time there will be some changes:

- It will ask one mill for five years (1978-82) instead of an indefinite term.
- The dream of a 2,000-seat fine arts auditorium will almost surely have to be sacrificed, a poll shows, if public support is to be won.

ALTHOUGH millages have been rejected in regular June elections of 1976 and '77, trustees think they have an improved chance by tailoring their offering to what their poll shows the community wants.

They were pleasantly startled to learn 67 per cent agree or strongly agree it's a "strong academic school" while only 14 per cent disagree.

The poll also shows 85-5 per cent agreement that Schoolcraft is "community oriented." Community education and vocational-technical programs account most for the two-year college's reputation.

"But the fine arts auditorium is a dead duck," said first-year Trustee Harry Greenleaf, who had emerged as the eight-member board's warmest supporter of the program.

"THE PRELIMINARY conclusions," said President C. Nelson Grote, "are that we learned we have a very good image, very favorable.

"We are perceived to be community based and sensitive to the community's needs. That comes through loud and strong.

"We are perceived as having quality programs. We have a very strong base of support, but they (voters) are cost-conscious," he said. The poll was designed and guided by Lamsing political pollster Al Mann.

Volunteers telephoned 329 randomly selected households the week of Nov. 28 in an attempt to learn what people needed in the way of programs and services and what their attitudes were toward the college.

Each questionnaire was designed to take 13½ minutes to complete, but pollsters were surprised that respondents talked for 20 minutes, indicating a high level of interest in the college. Only one person in 25 terminated the answers before the survey was completed, another good sign.

TRUSTEES WERE unanimous in deciding to hold a special election to seek the millage increase.

"I don't like the idea of having to re-sell it in five years," said Trustee Mark McQuesten, who was nevertheless pleased that a special election would be held during a time when 8,000 students would be on campus.

"It'll be easier to sell," said Secretary Nancie Blatt. "The possibility of a renewal will be easier if we do a good job. I'm not terribly uncomfortable with it."

"We haven't won the other kind, Mark," said Trustee Rosina Raymond, who first proposed a limited term millage. "We've been going for the exercise, and we don't need any more exercise."

Pointing to the survey, Greenleaf said, "We haven't been getting across the message we need."

Trustees and Kenneth Lindner, vice president for finance, agreed the general message would be "Protect your investment," a reference to the major maintenance and equipment replacement that the new money would be used for.

If approved, one mill ($1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) will yield $2 million the first year when spread across the five K-12 member districts—Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth-Canton.

He referred to the fact that Schoolcraft's millage proposals have always shared the ballot with local K-12 proposals.

"I hope any other district considering a millage would give us the same consideration that we have given them," said Kadish, recalling that Schoolcraft held back on asking for millage in past years so that K-12 districts would have a better chance.

If the millage loses, said Lindner, Schoolcraft will face these prospects:

"No equipment replacement. No major maintenance. Reduce our operations by $450,000, which will mean a reduction in staff across the board—administrators, faculty, secretaries, maintenance."

Again pointing to the poll, McQuesten said, "We haven't told the public what they need. They've told us what they need. They'll have to pay for it."

Robert E. Gwizdala, student senate member, suggested in a letter the board reduce tuition by $1.50 a credit hour for district residents if the millage passes. The only board comment that was Gwizdala was writing on his own and not representing the student senate.

"PART OF the reason we've lost," said board Chairman Paul Kadish, "is that we haven't had the opportunity to face the voters by our-

Mothers of the world unite; share information

Having a baby definitely calls for some major changes in lifestyle. But outside of a few "how-to-do-it" books or articles, parents have to pretty much go by the seat of their pants in figuring out what those changes are.

But Mary Schuman and Joyce Cunningham are out to remedy that situation. They have it in mind to form a group for mothers and their children—a mothers and infants growth group, if you will.

Both women work at Plymouth Family Service. Their idea is to provide a forum for women who have recently become mothers to talk to each other, share information, and give each other the confidence to handle their new role.

The group they envision is not a therapy session for those with serious problems. Instead they want it to be a support system and a place to meet new people who are in similar circumstances.

"One of the reasons we thought a group like this would be good in the (Continued on page 4A)

Daniels Den

By EMORY DANIELS

I don't know when one of the Plymouth-Canton community's most successful institutions started. It has been supervised and administered over the years by a number of people whose names aren't exactly household words.

The institution has touched hundreds of organizations representing thousands of members who make appeals to the community to have their cars washed, buy Christmas bazaar, sale articles, bring their bundles of paper to a designated location, or register for an upcoming cultural or recreational event.

The institution touches nearly everyone in Plymouth-Canton and is growing in stature.

THE INSTITUTION is "Brevities," printed in every edition of the Plymouth and Canton Observer newspapers.

For example, a recent Brevities column listed 10 events scheduled within the next few days following publication of that Observer edition.

There was a holiday fair sponsored by members of an apartment project in Canton, announcement of free parking for Christmas shoppers in the City of Plymouth, a program on alcohol and safe driving at the CEP, free children's movies at the Cultural Center, an acrylic painting class, the nutrition program for the elderly at Tonquish Creek Manor, a prayer breakfast, a meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Association for the Academically Talented, the Salem Holiday Ball, and a folk dance club meeting in Bird Elementary.

Without looking at the Brevities items on my desk, I can tell what season of the year it is just by looking at the new publicity announcements.

Garage sales generally are held in spring. Christmas bazaars are in November or early December. The parks and recreation department and athletic associations are looking for the new Mark Fydriches for their baseball teams in late spring.

The high schools usually have their synchronized swim shows and all-school musicals in April or May.

Though most Brevities announcements are geared to a specific event and date, the institution also satisfies many groups who want a "timeless" but, to them, important appeal for members, donations of furniture, or whatever their needs are.

For instance, the Plymouth Community Chorus periodically issues an appeal for new musicians. Private cooperative nurseries use Brevities for announcements of openings in their programs for preschool children.

The only disappointment I have in writing Brevities twice a week is that I never know how successful the published events are.

Minister anticipates peace in Rhodesia

By W.W. EDGAR

While conditions in Rhodesia, one of the world's most troubled spots at the moment, are terrible, peace is expected to come to the African country by the middle of next year.

This is the opinion expressed by Rev. Douglas Routledge, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church on Joy Road following his visit there as a guest of the Evangelistic Alliance Mission and had the opportunity to see first hand the troubles that beset the country and disturbed world peace.

"I had three things in mind when I accepted invitation," Rev. Routledge said in the quiet of his office where he was mentally reviewing his experiences. "I went as a minister of the conference, then as a minister to the black churches and finally, I wanted to observe first-hand the trouble that is taking place."

Routledge admitted that he thought he was prepared for the visit by what he had read in the newspapers, but when he arrived on the scene he found it a most difficult scene to analyze.

"There are four different groups of blacks over there," he explained, "each fighting for control of the government and in many cases they are divided into two groups—the freedom fighters and the terrorists."

"While it is most difficult to determine the final result, it is my opinion that things will be settled for a black majority when elections are held in the late spring of 1978."

It also is his opinion that the U.S. government has not been as active as it should have been and the blank demand for a black majority at this time made things that much more difficult.

Turning from the governmental problems, Routledge confided that some of the scenes he observed were almost beyond belief. Most of the trouble is being caused by the explosion of road mines and it is a common sight to see women and children maimed by the blasts.

During his stay, Routledge visited one of the hospitals and most of the 100 beds were occupied by the African people.

"That's where the missionaries are doing some of their best work in administering aid and helping to provide education."

He also recalled visiting one of the universities that is operating on a government grant and found that 60 per cent of the students were black.

He also said that there are many bible schools in the area and most of them have black principals. But with the help of the missionaries things are looking brighter.

At no time was he frightened while walking the streets and he claimed he has seen more firearms at the Amsterdam and New York airports than he saw at Salisbury, which was his take-off point.

One of the biggest surprises he got was the large herds of cattle being raised in the African country. "It was very tender and tasty meat and the surprise of it was the fact that it was selling for 70 cents a pound."

Routledge also was pleasantly surprised by the larger cities where everything is modern and progressive. That's what gives him cause to feel that the peace will come with the spring elections and that the "moderates" will gain the votes for a black majority.

For Routledge this is his second term in the Calvary Baptists Church that now is in the throes of a building program.

Graduating from the London (Ontario) Bible School and the Seminary, he served during 1959-1960 and 1961 at Calvary. He returned in 1971, is married and has four children.

And while he is wrapped up in the building program, the sight of the excavations and piles of ground behind the church are constant reminders of the mined roads he saw in Rhodesia.

And each day as he sits in his study, he confided, he hopes his prophecy of peace by midyear in 1978 will come true.

Mining replies to article

Editor: The article you ran Oct. 31 headlined "Lax Mining Laws Ruining State Land" was misleading at best and irresponsible journalism at worst.

Throughout the piece, the writer refers to an article written by John C. Dernbach, a third-year law student from Eau Claire, Wis., which claims that Michigan's Mine Reclamation Act, governing the revitalization of land used in mining operations, is the "poorest such act in the nation."

(Editor's note: The article came from the University of Michigan news service; the Dernbach piece was judged "the best student contribution" to the Journal of Law Review for the last school year.)

We take issue with the above conclusion. The act and regulations were formulated by a knowledgeable agency of the state. It is fully aware of the problems of reclamation and has addressed them adequately. There is no magic in the word "permit" with which the author appears to be obsessed.

Furthermore, the iron mining industry is a responsible industry. It has been here for more than 100 years and hopefully will continue for another hundred years. Its track record is well known. Dernbach is conjuring up ghosts and goblins that do not exist.

Dernbach's article and your story give the impression that mining companies are doing nothing about land reclamation because of "lax laws." This is totally incorrect. In fact, all mining companies operating in Michigan's upper peninsula have had active reclamation programs for several years.

One successful project has been the revegetation of an 80-acre site owned by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in Marquette County. After a joint, six-year effort with Michigan Technological University the Humboldt tailings basin is now supporting alfalfa and other vegetation, including young trees. The area is a favorite feeding and breeding spot for numerous birds and animals, as determined by MTU.

I would like to take issue with Dernbach's statement that the industry has been "made privy to certain privileges" because of its importance to the UP's economy. He doesn't say what the privileges are. I doubt he realizes the tremendous capital outlays necessary in this industry. For each employee, iron mining companies in Michigan have to invest approximately $500,000 in equipment and facilities.

The caption (with the photograph) identifies a pipe discharging iron tailings at a mine near Ishpeming, but fails to note the location. The reader undoubtedly has the impression the tailings are being dumped into pristine lakes and streams. In truth, they are being discharged into a tailings basin constructed for that purpose which will be revegetated.

Plymouth community is because there are so many young families here," Ms. Schuman explained. "People move in and move out, and they may not have anyone they can talk to about the changes that parenthood demands."

ONE OF THE KEY changes is lack of mobility, according to Ms. Schumann. Once the child is born, women who were free to come and go suddenly find themselves tied down.

And along with this loss of freedom often comes a sense of isolation. Women who can't get around the way they used to begin to think they are losing touch with the outside world.

"Many women may think that they are going through this alone, and the group we want to form would let them know that they're not."

In addition, she said, no matter how much the new mother has read, nothing really prepares her for the experience of caring for a child. The first few months are especially demanding of the new mother's time and energy.

Also there are the new roles for the man and the woman. Besides being husband and wife, they are also mother and father. In fact, she believes that having a child is like deciding to get married—only it's a bigger decision to make.

But, she hastens to add, becoming a parent is not a problem in itself. It's just that it has the potential to cause problems and raise questions.

"Childbirth is a tremendously exciting thing. But it is a period of transition," she said. "There are a lot of classes and organizations to help husbands and wives through pregnancy. But after the baby is born—nothing.

"We want to be a means of providing some comfort and direction through this transitional time. We do have some goals for the group. But we also want the women who become involved to set some of their own goals."

The group is scheduled to have its first meeting Jan. 11 from 10:30 a.m. to noon. It will run for eight weeks and will cost $2 per meeting. Any new mother who lives or works in Plymouth or Plymouth Township is eligible to join. For additional information, contact Ms. Schuman at 453-0890.

Puppies for presents

Frustrated with Christmas shopping because you can't seem to find the correct size or are unsure of the right color? How about buying someone a living gift of boundless energy, soft fur and wet noses? Interested? Well, the Michigan Human Society's Kindness Center, 37255 Marquette, Westland, has just what you're looking for. But, before you buy a youngster a puppy or kitten, make sure the child is old enough to give it the proper care and handling any pet deserves. Adopted animals come complete with bright red ribbons. And the best part of these gifts is that batteries are not required. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Canton board discusses golf club buy Tuesday

Revenue would also come in from the sale of liquor on the premises, but the license would be held by the management company, not the municipality. The liquor license remains with the lease if the management company leaves.

IF THE GOLF course purchase is approved by trustees, Canton will sell

$1 million worth of 20-year bonds at a projected interest rate of 5 3/4 per cent interest. Wiar says the annual cost of covering the bonds will be $85,425.

A building authority established by the township would buy the course and finance the bond sale. Stein said it is likely that Canton could pay off the bonds in 15 years—and when the bonds are retired the title to the course reverts to the township. A building authority provides the township with the right to levy ad valorem taxes to meet annual bond payments but the accountant believes this action would be unnecessary due to the minimum rental guarantee of $100,000 each year.

However, says Wiar, it will insure the "salability" of the bonds by pledging the full faith and credit of Canton behind them.

Omission regretted

A news story in the Dec. 15 Observer on the Anchor Inn did not include important information from one party in an ensuing lawsuit which would have made the news story more complete.

The news account was about the liquor license of the Anchor Inn being revoked, and about a lawsuit filed by Jack E. Cook against John Wilson.

The news account did not give Wilson's reaction to the lawsuit. Efforts made to contact Wilson were unsuccessful because the Wilson phone number could not be found in the telephone directory or cross index directory. The news story should have, however, included a statement from Wilson. The Observer regrets that omission and any personal embarrassment caused by it. Wilson has been offered the opportunity to make an official response and is seeking legal advice on whether to accept that offer.

additional charge to use at their discretion so that the township will be able to stay in touch with developers and other persons interested in Canton Township.

"They have no plans on ever turning down persons interested in (developing) in the township," Gorman continued. "I have their logs from January 1, 1977 through November 1977 and the log showed where they have absorbed $6,000 in costs where they have spent time for Canton Township and not billed us."

Pearl has hobby: rebuilding buildings

Pearl Kathowsky has a most interesting hobby. She delights in remodeling old buildings and making them an integral part of the neighborhood, something she has done for the past several years in Old Village.

Owner of the Plymouth Gallery on Wilcox, where she used her vivid imagination to "doll up" an old residence and turn it into a most attractive place, she now is proudest of her work in changing the image of the old freight house which she leased as a modern gift shop.

"No one will ever know the effort that went into that job," she said. "I searched for months to find the right type of tongue-in-groove lumber to cover a large hole in the floor in the rear of the building.

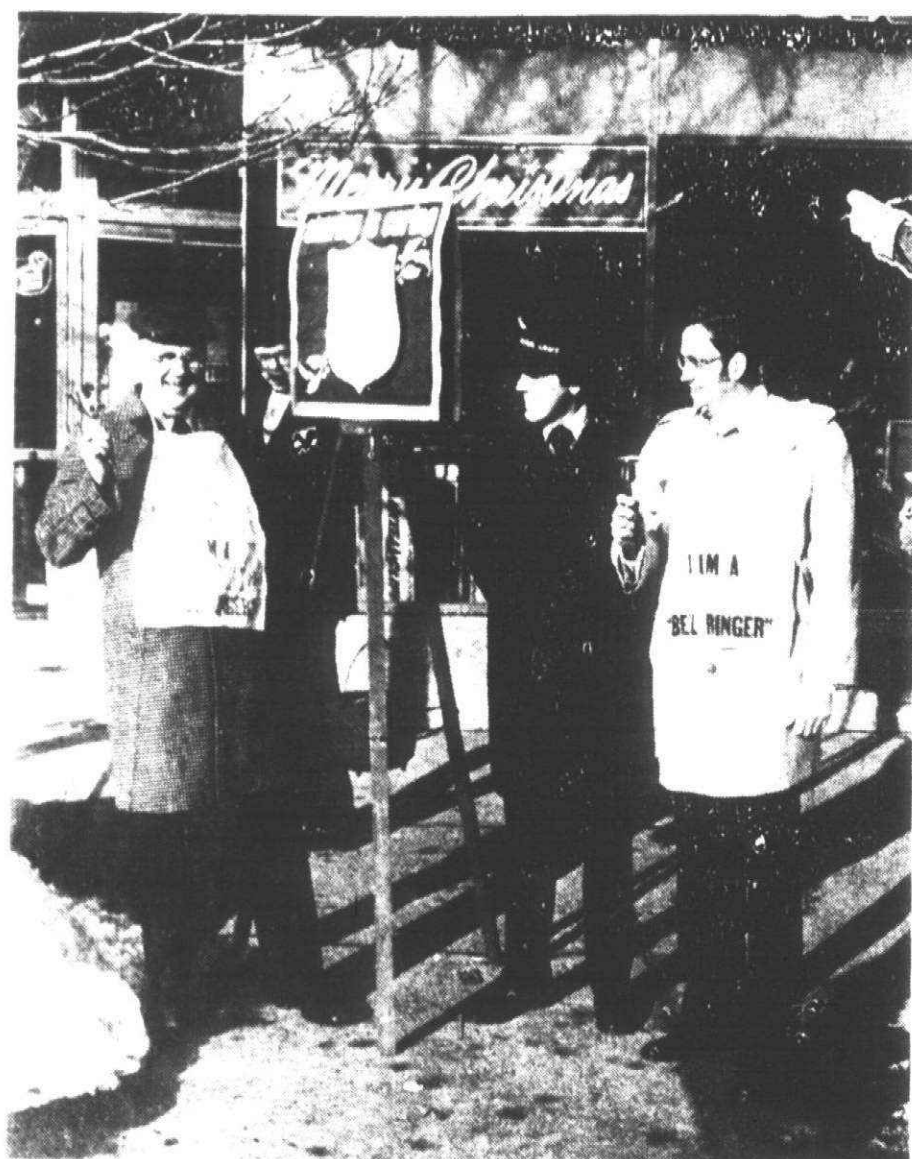

"And I worked hard and long until I got the right to build the ramp and the other touches that have removed an eye sore from the area."

One of the biggest satisfactions she gets for her work is to see these revamped buildings doing well. This is especially true of the old freight house where the gift shop is proving very popular during the Christmas shopping season.

Not satisfied with resurrecting the old freight house, she now has her eye on several other projects that will help to make Old Village unique in the western suburbs.

After spending the winter in Florida she plans to return in spring to take up where she left off.

"I want to build up both of the other corners," she said. That will include a building in the rear of the freight house and another enterprise on the opposite corner."

Local musicians appearing at mall

The Westland Shopping Center will be filled with music from the Plymouth area on both Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week.

On Tuesday the Plymouth Youth Symphony will fill the mall with Christmas spirit starting at 7 p.m.

Robert G. Burr will conduct the symphony to such numbers as "A Christmas Festival" by Leroy Anderson and "Russian Chorale and Overture" based on Tchaikowsky's Op. 39, No. 34 and Russian Folk Tunes arranged for orchestra by Merle Isaac.

The Plymouth Community Band will take the stage outside of the Kresge's in the center of the mall beginning at 7:15 p.m. The Youth Symphony also will play outside of Kresge's.

Also under the direction of Burr, the band will play selections including "Sleigh Ride" and the band arrangement of "A Christmas Festival" both by Anderson. "Selections from Fiddler on the Roof" and a number of marches also will be featured as many people get their last minute shopping done.

Both of these organizations encourage any new players to join or any old players as the case may be in the Community Band. The Youth Symphony rehearses on Tuesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the band room at Plymouth Salem High School. The Community Band rehearses from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays at the band room in Phase III at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park. Phase III is located in between the two high schools.

Bobsledding memories

By W. W. EDGAR

It may seem strange to link bobsledding with the vocational training we have in our public schools and colleges today, but every time The Stroller sees a youngster gliding down one of our hills these days the memory of one of the oddest chapters in the school system down in the foothills of the mountains in Pennsylvania comes to mind.

One of these occasions came to pass this week when he saw the pictures of the youngsters sliding down "Beer Hill" in Hines Park. It was during one of these bobsledding sessions back home that The Stroller and his pals got the idea of building a bobsled that would be the envy of all who saw it.

THE IDEA WAS born when the young lads across the river came over to our side one evening with a bobsled that caught the eye of all the bobsledders. It was a rather long, sleek sled that held eight riders and the "invaders" made the most of the attention paid them by "stealing" our young girl friends or at least capturing their attention.

When we saw that happening we knew it was time for some grave action. We talked about it at school the next morning and the teacher, who happened to be listening, knew that our hearts were set on building a bigger and better bobsled than the one from across the river.

"Tell you what I'll do," he said, "I'll help you in your plan to get even. We have an empty room in the basement of the school. I'll buy the lumber if you fellows will build the bobsled right here."

You can imagine how quickly that offer was accepted. So, we sat down together and figured out what kind of lumber we needed and how much. And we asked the teacher, a fellow named Dick Sheckler, to contact the town blacksmith to donate the steel runners for us. That, too, was an easy assignment. So, the big project was on.

Hill gets 2d term

Chester Hill has been reappointed to a second term on the Plymouth Township Board of Canvassers.

The township board of trustees approved Clerk Helen Richardson's recommendation to reappoint Hill by a unanimous vote.

Hill was appointed to the board in 1973. His new term expires in Dec. 1981. It is the board of canvassers' responsibility to certify the results of all township elections.

On the day the lumber was delivered we had it placed in that old empty room. And the next day The Stroller and his group came to school carrying hammers and saws.

Sitting with the teacher at the noon recess we designed the type of bobsled we wanted. That done, he gave us the last hour of the afternoon session to start building our revenge sled.

"We'll just call it a manual training class," he said, "and that way you can get credit for it."

NO ONE EVER had heard of manual training in the high school. But when the critics saw the sled we built, it was decided by the townfolk that manual training should become a permanent part of the school program.

The "revenge" sled was 16 feet long (that was the length of the planks the teacher bought for us (and it was just right to seat about a dozen riders comfortably. And it had three sets of runners.

It was something to behold when it was finished. As we looked over our handiwork, the teacher made a suggestion.

"If you want to show up those fellows across the river," he said, "why don't you use a steering wheel instead of having the "driver" lying on his stomach steering it by pulling ropes. And it would give you an extra seat."

What an idea! It delayed the finished product for a day, but one or two of the fathers came in the evening and supervised the construction of the steering wheel.

How proud we were the next night when we reached the steepest hill in town with our home-made sled. The lads from across the river just looked on in astonishment as we attracted the girls and went for the maiden trip down the hill.

The sled ran smooth as silk and the driver got a kick out of steering it with a wheel. Nothing like that had ever been seen in our town and we were hailed by all hands when we started walking back up the hill.

When word got around that the bobsled was built at school, there was an immediate reaction among the parents. They figured if the boys could build a bobsled as part of their education they could build other things, too.

Now our town was a typical small town. Money was not tossed about freely. For that reason the school board, as it was called then, couldn't purchase any machinery to work with metal. So we had to be content to work with wood.

Rocks outmuscle RU for key Sub-8 victory

When Plymouth Salem and Redford Union meet on the basketball court, one can expect a tough, close physical ball game.

None of the Suburban Eight League fans who visited the Panther gym and looked for this kind of battle Friday night were disappointed as Salem won the defensive struggle 57-43.

The key conference victory on the road for the Rocks raised their overall record to 4-0 and league mark to 2-0. Salem hosts its own Christmas tournament this Thursday and Friday nights.

For Redford Union, the setback stunted its records to 2-2 overall and 1-1 in conference play. The Panthers travel to Farmington tonight for holiday tourney action.

The Rocks outscored Redford Union 23-13 in the second quarter to break the game open. After a closely-fought first period, which saw Salem ahead by a 12-8 count, 10 points by Rock guard Mike Christie in the second stanza gave his squad a 35-21 halftime lead—an advantage the Salem defense never relinquished in the second half.

"They came ready to play," said a disappointed Redford Union coach Carl Andrews. "They did a very good job on defense and that was the key—they took a lot of things away from us."

One of the things Salem took away from the Panthers was a productive scoring night from center Mike Petsch, who was limited to a mere 11 points. Jim Grimwade paced RU's attack with 18 points.

Salem's Tom Ellinghausen equaled Grimwade's point-total with 18 to share scoring honors. Christie added 12 and John Broderick canned 11.

"We got that one done—I love it," said a smiling Salem coach Fred Thomann, who was pleased to win on the Panthers' home court. "This is one of the toughest gyms to play in—there's no doubt about it."

"We did a tremendous job defensively in the first half," Thomann said in echoing Andrews' comments. "And the good thing is we'll get better. This was only our fourth game."

The closest Redford Union came in the second half was within eight points late in the third quarter.

The Rocks featured a new look to their attack against the Panthers as junior guard Rich Hewlett made his first appearance of the season after breaking a collarbone during the football campaign.

Hewlett scored only two points but demonstrated some slick ball handling skills and recorded numerous assists.

Leist sets pin record

Salem grapplers grip Ford

Two days before Plymouth Salem's big Suburban Eight League wrestling match with Dearborn Edsel Ford, Rock coach Ron Krueger predicted his squad would lose only four of the 13 matches.

Although other skeptics didn't think the match would be such a rout, Krueger proved his prediction valid as the Rocks whipped the Thunderbirds 40-17 Thursday night—losing only four matches.

It marked the second-straight year the Rocks have beaten rival Edsel Ford, and only the third time in Plymouth wrestling history that Salem has been the victor over the T-Birds.

The victory not only was the ninth straight in dual meet action for the undefeated Rocks but also raised its league record to 2-0—both victories coming on the road against the two Dearborn schools.

Belleville and Trenton, both state-ranked, are the remaining opponents which will test the Rocks for the league title.

Rene Leist pinned Kelly Karmichael at 3:05 of the 126-pound match to raise his individual record to 13-0 for the year. The pin broke an all-time career mark for falls at Salem as Leist passed Les Hassen's old mark of 29.

In an effort to avoid Leist, Edsel Ford moved one of its best wrestlers, Matt Taylor, up one weight slot to 132 pounds. The move backfired, for the T-Birds, however, as Salem's Jim Ross pinned Taylor at 2:35.

After losing the 145 and 155-pound matches, the Rocks won the last four matches to close out the victory.

Jeff Brown (105) and Steve Ernst (119) both won early matches on decisions, while senior Roger Penix (138) scored an 11-4 major decision victory in his match.

Bruce Piper, wrestling at 178-pounds, escaped in the final minute to win a 5-4 decision. 191-pound Bob Doherty followed with a superior decision over Mark Smith, 14-2.

Heavyweight Bob Dasher and 165-pound Wally Brown both won matches by default.

The Rocks battle Walled Lake Western, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Pioneer in a triple dual tomorrow night (Tuesday) at Walled Lake Western.

Chargers' defense holds Canton's attack, 57-50

A rotating set of defenses carried Livonia Churchill Friday to a 57-50 Western Six League basketball victory over Plymouth Canton.

"I really think our defense made the difference," said Fred Price, coach of the Chargers. "We used a box and-one, a 3-2 zone, a 2-1-2 zone and a man-to-man. The changing was successful."

"I can't say enough about the hustle on defense tonight," Price continued. "This was a big one for us. Just about everyone picked them to win the league championship."

"I told the kids before the game that if we held them to 25 points or less in at the half, we could beat them."

"We alternated (Mike) Talovich and (Dave) Krick on (Butch) King and they did a fantastic job. King scored 33 points his last time out and we held him to eight. It was just a fantastic team effort."

Craig Hanton led Churchill in the scoring department with 18 points, while Ray Progar contributed 15. Ralph Jarrot, who Price said "played one of his best games, overall," added nine.

Kurt Herbert led the Chiefs with 18 points.

Sochacki, Dillon, Heaton honored

Three Plymouth girl cagers were recently honored with first-team all-league berths while one girl was named third-team and another received honorable mention.

Plymouth Canton, winners of its first-ever Western Six League title, landed two girls on the first-team all-conference selections.

Senior co-captain Kathy Sochacki and junior center Kelly Heaton represented the Chiefs with first-team positions.

Junior Evie Pasek, a forward for Canton, placed a spot on the third-team, while junior spark plug guard Kathie Peck was honorable mention.

Plymouth Salem, second-place finishers in the Suburban Eight League, found only one of its players on the coveted first team.

Senior co-captain Kathy Dillon, a three-year varsity starter, repeated as the Rocks' lone league representative.

Canton, coached by Mike McCauley, finished the year with a 20-1 mark. Salem, directed by Debbie Hatcher, closed the season at 16-7.

"A man has the right to know what goes into the Scotch he drinks."

—Sir James Buchanan

"At The House of Buchanan, we still believe and blend as my grandfather did."

"It is a family tradition."

"A matter of family pride."

"Pride in the excellence of the blend which bears my grandfather's name and mine, Buchanan's 12."

Sir James Buchanan (Lord Woodlavington) 1784-1848 Founder of The House of Buchanan

"That is why, unlike any premium blended Scotch whisky ever sold in America, we take pride in naming the principal single malts which, among other exceptional whiskies, go into our blend."

"If you know fine Scotch, you will recognize them all."

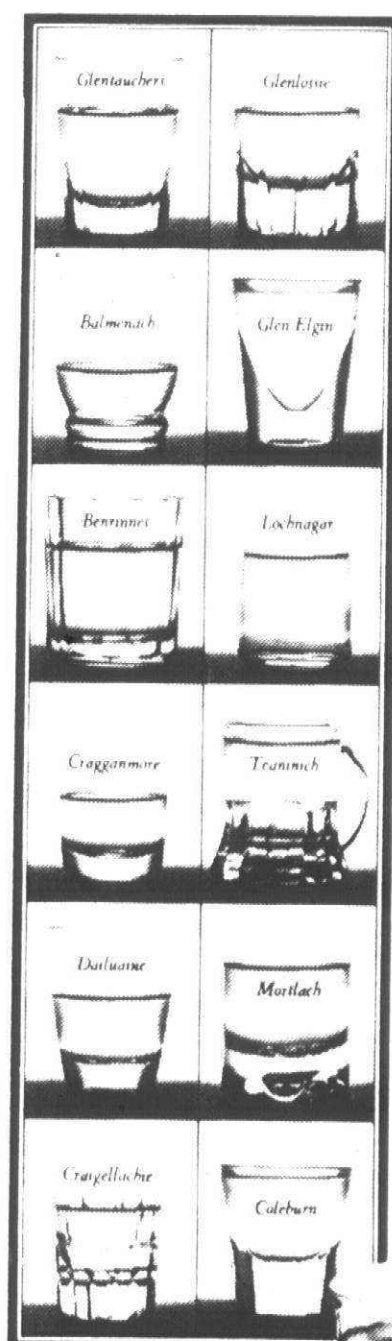

"And fully appreciate why the whiskies selected combine to set Buchanan's 12 apart."

"The selection is choice."

"Limited to 12 'Ideals'."

"Each the product of an old, established and well respected distillery."

"Each and every one, from Balmenach through Teaninich, is a Highland whisky."

"Together they combine to make Buchanan's 12 the 12-year-old blended Scotch with a heart of Highland whiskies."

"For no other single malts but Highlands are used in Buchanan's 12."

"If you choose to sample it, you will find it as it was when it began."

"Subtle."

"Light."

"But with tempered mellowness in both body and bouquet."

"In your country, it is dearly priced."

"And in very limited supply."

"Because we neither can, nor will, mass-produce the Scotch that bears my grandfather's name."

"And mine."

Canton swimmers dunk WLW, 114-54

By ANDY MELIN

In only its second meet at the Canton athletic facility, the Plymouth Canton boys' swim team blew Western Six League rival Walled Lake Western out of the water 114-54 Thursday night.

"It was a pretty good meet for us," stated Chief coach Bill Faunce. "We were a bit sluggish coming off an emotional Ypsilanti meet earlier this week.

"Our young swimmers really came through for us," said Faunce. "We finished high in every event." "It was the weakest Walled Lake Western team I've seen," he said.

Canton didn't finish last in an event the entire night, which was a first for the Chiefs.

The victory increased the Chief dual meet record to 2-0.

The trio of Paul Petersen, Dave Tanner and Bob Cline were once again outstanding in the contest, as they each won two events.

Petersen set two Chief pool records in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard breaststroke, recording times of :23.2 and 1:02.8, respectively. Cline set a pool record in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:01.7, and also placed first in the 200-yard freestyle finishing in 1:56.1.

Tanner won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:16.9, and also the 100-yard butterfly in 1:00.2.

The 200-yard medley relay was won, in a pool record time, by Jeff Seipple, Mike Gaab, Petersen and Dave Smith in 1:53.2.

Steve Wood finished second to Cline in the 200-yard freestyle.

Keith Greenleaf took third in the 200-yard individual medley, and second place in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Gaab won the 100-yard freestyle in :55.5, and Doug Hetu finished third.

Smith recorded a 5:48.8 time in the 500-yard freestyle—good enough for first place. Tom Haarala placed third. Smith also finished third in the 50-yard freestyle.

Seipple came in second to Cline in the 100-yard backstroke.

Steve Gray was victorious in the diving competition recording 132.80 points. John Gray, no relation to Steve, came in third.

Canton's 400-yard freestyle relay team of Wood, Gaab, Cline and Tanner set a pool record with a time of 3:31.0.

Sochacki named basketball MVP

Plymouth Canton's Kathy Sochacki was selected by her teammates as the Most Valuable Player on the girls basketball team this fall.

The award was presented Thursday night at the squads' season-ending banquet held at the Plymouth Elks Club.

Sochacki, a senior co-captain this season, was best remembered for her two clutch performances at the free throw line against Waterford Mott. She sank two pressure-packed charity tosses in the closing seconds of each game to spark the Chiefs to their first-ever Western Six League crown.

Also receiving awards were senior co-captain Sue Rekuic and junior Kelly Heaton.

Rekuic was voted by the players as the Chiefs' Best Defensive Player. Canton held its opponents to an average of only 26 points per game this season in breezing to a perfect 19-0 regular season record.

Heaton, the Chiefs' top scorer and rebounder this year, was selected as the squads' Most Improved Player. The 5-9 junior played the pivot for Canton.

Heaton was selected with junior forward Evie Pasek as Canton's co-captains next season.

The Chiefs finished the year with a 20-1 record, losing in the district finals to Public School League champion Detroit Mumford.

Rocks sunk again

By ANDY MELIN

Losing its second dual meet in three outings, the Plymouth Salem boys' swimming team was edged by West Bloomfield 89-83 last Thursday night at the Bloomfield pool.

"We had a few problems during the meet," commented Salem coach Chuck Olson. "We lost a few close races early, and just couldn't get back on track. "Their coach really planned well."

Tri-captain Tom Rubadue and Craig Finley were double-winners for the Rocks.

Rubadue took both the 100-yard freestyle and the 200-yard freestyle in 1:54.0 and 5:17.8, respectively.

Finley, younger brother of former Salem star Ron, placed first in both the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard backstroke. His times were 2:10.0 and 1:00.5, respectively.

The Rock 200-yard medley relay team of Brian Lazarus, Bob Simone, tri-captain Rob Kuebler and Barry Lee placed third in 1:52.7.

Jeff Stella finished third in the 200-yard individual medley, recording a time of 2:17.1.

Tri-captain Mike Etienne took second place honors in both the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard freestyle. He swam the 50-free in :24.1 and the 100-free in :53.3.

Lee finished right behind Etienne in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of :24.6.

Jeff Harris placed third in the 100-yard freestyle, swimming the distance in :54.8.

Kuebler won the 100-yard butterfly in :57.7. Kurt Albert came in third.

Simone and Stella finished second and third in the 100-yard breaststroke, respectively. Simone's time was 1:08.3, and Stella's was 1:10.0.

The last event of the evening, the 400-yard freestyle relay, was won by the Rocks in 3:39.4. The winning foursome consisted of Craig Hoffman, Etienne, Rubadue and Harris.

Salem also took second place in that event, with Charlie Spurlock, Kuebler, Finley and Rod Henry recording a time of 3:43.1.

WSDP-FM to air home cage games

Plymouth's student-operated radio station WSDP-FM, 88.1 on the dial, will broadcast all the Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem boys basketball home games this season.

Sports Director Andy Melin and colleague John Sonnega will handle the live broadcasts of the Salem games, while Greg Haimes and John Spelich will air the Canton contests.

This week, Haimes and Spelich will be at courtside for the Canton-Bentley battle starting at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Haimes will handle the play-by-play and Spelich will offer color commentary.

On Thursday and Friday nights, Melin and Sonnega will broadcast the Salem Christmas tournament games. Thursday's first-round battle against Livonia Churchill starts at 8:30 p.m.

Melin will handle play-by-play duties while Sonnega will offer commentary on all the live action.

Thurston murders East

Redford Thurston raised its overall wrestling dual record to 8-0 with a 65-5 trouncing of Garden City East last week in a Northwest Suburban League meet.

Of the Eagles' 11 individual victories, six came on pins, two on decisions and three by East voids.

John Morris, 126 pounds, recorded the only win for the Panthers. Bryan Gibbs, from East, and Matt Barbour, from Thurston, wrestled to a 1-1 tie in the heavyweight class.

"I know that Dean Shipman (new East coach) is trying to get that program on its feet and my boys were wrestling up a weight we would beat them that big."

Chiefs' lineup has holes

Canton matmen bow to Western

The Plymouth Canton wrestling team lost its last four matches in dropping its opening Western Six League match to Walled Lake Western in dual meet action Thursday night at Canton.

It was a sad way to open the Chiefs home season in the new Canton athletic facility as Canton saw its record drop to 4-1 this year.

The Chiefs were ahead 24-23 after

Kyle Heaton's major decision victory over Dwane Hardy, 12-4, in the 155-pound match.

Four straight losses, three by decisions, from Dennis Howell, Paul Mooney, George Hamblin and Chuck Walker gave the conference match to the Warriors, however.

The middle of the Chiefs line up, considered by many the strength of the team, was severely hurt in this match as 132-pound Jeff Rey suffered an unexpected defeat, while 138-pound Terry Clifton failed to make weight and 145-pound Scott Collins was out with a throat infection.

The Chiefs received some unexpected help from their lighter weights in winning a total of four matches on the evening.

"We had a good meet but we should have won," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "We just had a couple holes in the line up."

"The kids did a good job but didn't come through."

Only seven grapplers of the 13-man starting line up were seniors since key wrestlers were missing.

Tommy Harrel and Andy Kitti lost the opening lightweight matches before Steve Penar (112), Dave Durkin (119) and Craig Lee (126) won the next three matches.

All three of these Canton victories were by pins.

After Rey's loss, Mike Kitti replaced Clifton and was pinned. Dave March replaced Collins and tied Willie Lubby, 2-2.

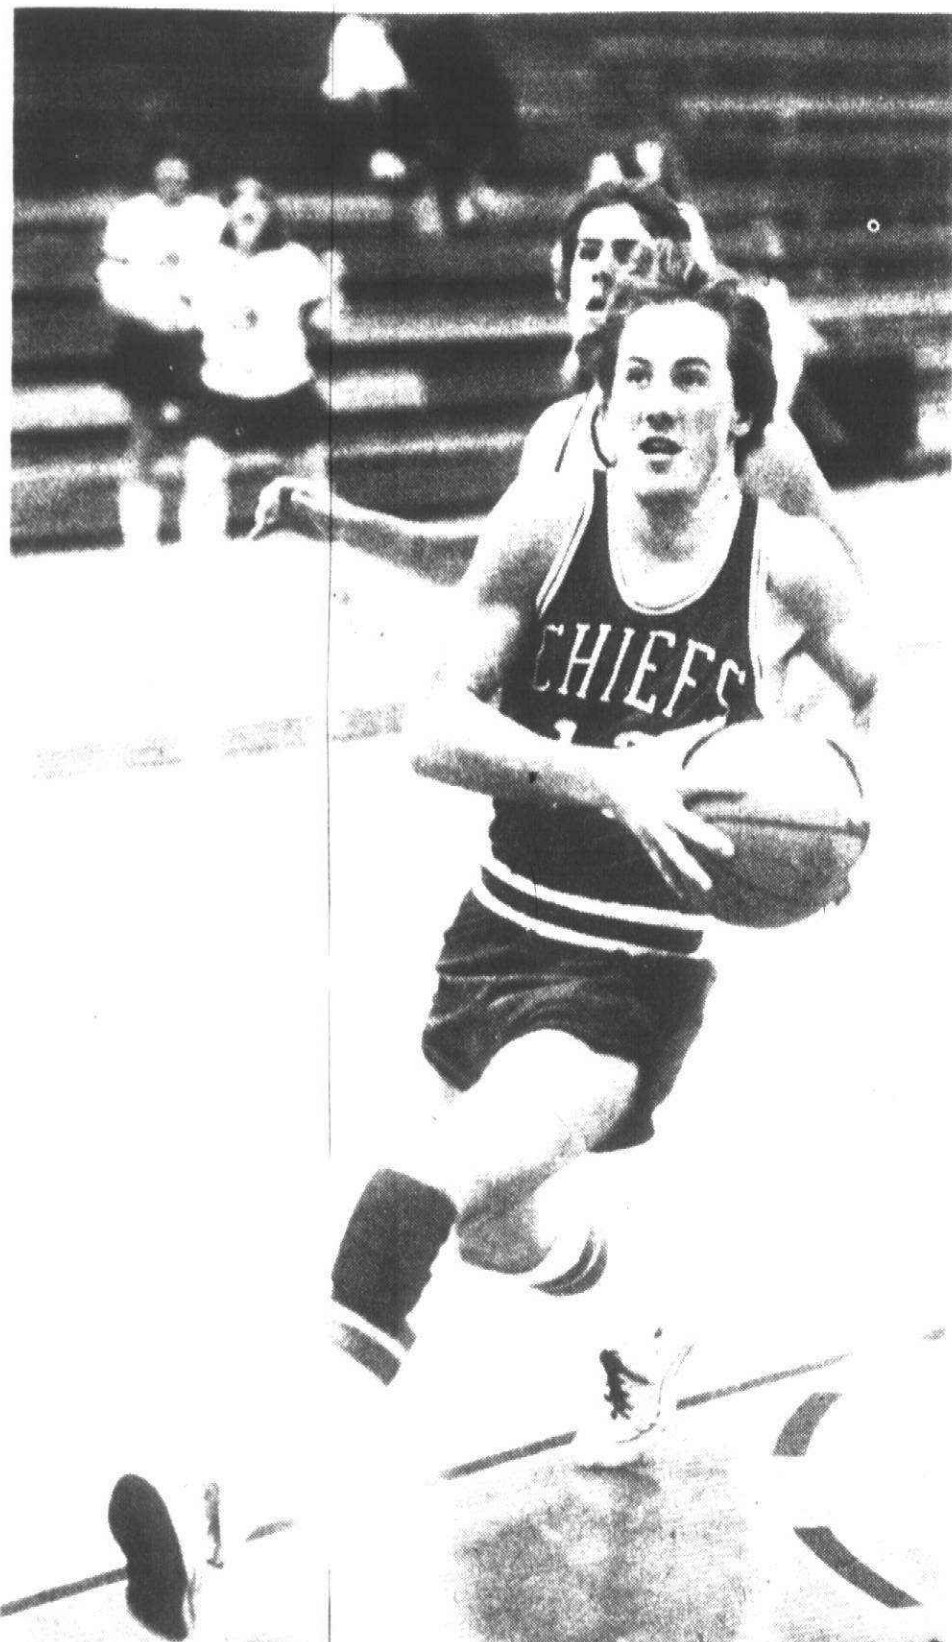

Canton travels to West Bloomfield tomorrow night (Tuesday) for a quad meet beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Goebel raises $$ for blind

Goebel Bowlers donated their time to raise $1,159 at a recent exhibition held at the Super Bowl in Canton Township.

This exhibition, the fourth of a series, took place to raise money for the Leader Dogs of the Blind school in Rochester.

The exhibition at Canton raised the total earnings this year to $4,619.

Craig Hanton led Churchill in the scoring department with 18 points, while Ray Progar contributed 15. Ralph Jarrot, who Price said "played one of his best games, overall," added nine.

Kurt Herbert led the Chiefs with 18 points.

East, West, Clarenceville suffer defeats Borgess, Bentley trip cage opponents

Ron Gutkowski, the youthful Redford Bishop Borgess basketball coach and a Detroit Catholic Central graduate, termed the Spartans' 62-60 win over CC Friday "the most satisfying" of his career.

"The kids played very well. All played good defense and on offense, we had a good balanced scoring attack," raved Gutkowski.

"It (victory) was basically two things. We used a combination defense—a diamond plus one—and it was effective," said the excited Borgess coach. "And, we had a balanced scoring attack."

The Spartans led virtually all the way. In the late stages, Pat Kelly converted a pair of free throws and Mark Taylor made a sweeping left-handed layup to give Borgess a secure lead.

The Decoster twins combined for 34 points and 26 rebounds. Dan reaped 19 points, Dave had 15. Taylor, making his first start, tossed in 10 points and grabbed nine rebounds.

Borgess also triumphed in the JV preliminary, 57-45.

GC EAST—ANNAPOLIS
Playing catch-up basketball throughout the game, the Garden City East Panthers were unable to top Dearborn Heights Annapolis Friday and fell in a non-league basketball match-up, 58-56.

The Panthers took the lead in the game with 3:12 left in the final period of play. However, Annapolis went out in front to stay a minute late and East was unable to put the tying basket through the hoop.

Annapolis went out in front 20-10 at the end of the first quarter and East was forced to play pressure catch-up basketball. "Their shooting in the first quarter was excellent," said East coach Billy Joe Young.

The Panthers put on the defensive pressure in the second and third quarters in an attempt to find the right combination to catch the Cougars. The full court press and various defensive formations worked to some degree, but Annapolis held on to its lead and went on to win.

"Their rebounding and free-throw shooting was much better than ours. Other than that, I think we out-played them," said Young. "It was the best game we played so far this year. It was a heartbreaker to lose."

Mike Kossick pumped in 20 points to lead the Panthers in the losing effort. Jim Dziekan, with 16 and Tim Taylor with 12 added to East's offensive game.
The East junior varsity also fell, 53-48.

BENTLEY—DEARBORN
Defense turned out to be the difference Friday when Livonia Bentley knocked off Dearborn in a Suburban Eight League basketball contest, 44-40.
"The kids played a very fine game. It was a defensive battle all along—a very deliberate game on their part," said Bentley coach Jim Komula after his team took its fifth victory without defeat this season.

Eric Thorderson turned in the best effort for the Bulldogs, scoring 13 points, while Greg Slusser added 10 and Tim Evans put in nine.
Though down at the end of the first quarter, 10-6, the Bulldogs came back and went out in front at halftime, 18-16. Bentley also held the two-point advantage at the end of the third period, 32-30.

In the final quarter, the Bulldogs tallied 12 points, while Dearborn collected 10. "It was an extremely deliberate game. We had excellent floor play and rebounding," Komula said.
The Bentley JV also won, 63-41.

GC WEST—SOUTHGATE
Garden City West demonstrated basketball improvement Friday, but not quite enough to again break into the winning column. Southgate toppled the Tigers in a Tri-River League game, 71-64.

West got off to a slow start, counting only eight points during the opening quarter, but all but matched its host the rest of the way.

"We executed much better tonight than we have all year, but we're still executing with hesitancy," said West coach Chris Babler. "Our shooting hasn't been as good as I felt it should be. Where we got beat tonight was at the free-throw line."

The Tigers, which have been sinking foul shots at less than a 50 per cent clip this season, made only 12 of 25 against Southgate.

Babler said he was encouraged by his team's balanced scoring attack. Doug Boston tallied 18 points, Pat Dybas and Mark Cramton, 12 each, and Gerald Tatro, 10.

"Dybas did a good job on the boards and Cramton came through and had one of his better nights," said Babler.

The loss was the fourth in a row for the Tigers, which sport a 1-4 record going into tonight's game at Southgate Schafer.

The Spartans measured Clarenceville in a non-league basketball test, 81-70.

Cherry Hill started out with a full-court zone press defensive alignment, then shifted to a tight man-to-man if the Trojans successfully moved the ball downcourt. "It was just total harassment," described Clarenceville coach Bob Wolf.

While the defensive strategy generally worked, Cherry Hill eventually found itself in foul trouble. Two Spartans fouled out and the winners tallied 29 personals.

Clarenceville, however, did not take advantage from the line as well as it might have, making 28 of 45 attempts.

Bill Peterson and Jim McPhail each netted 24 points for the Trojans and Tim McCamant reaped nine, the latter all from the free-throw line.

"Peterson (also with 14 rebounds) did a good job and McPhail played an excellent ballgame," said Wolf.

Spartans nip Falcons in OT

In spite of earning only 11 of 23 chances from the free-throw line, Livonia Stevenson out-pointed Farmington, 6-4, during an overtime period Friday to collect a 55-53 Inter-Lakes League basketball victory.

With three seconds left and sank a 20-foot jump shot at the buzzer during overtime to provide the winning points.

Rick McKibben had tied the game for host Farmington on a corner shot with only seven seconds remaining in regulation time. The Spartans then missed a couple of opportunities from the charity stripe that could have meant victory without the extra period.

"We were sluggish, but they hung in there," said Stevenson coach George VanWagoner. "The keys were Dave Hall, a sophomore who had 12 points and 15 rebounds, and Jack Lang, who had nine points and 12 rebounds."

Spala and Jeff Hall each totalled 11 points for the winners.

The win upped the Spartans' overall and conference records to 5-1 and 2-0, respectively.

Stevenson's JV also defeated Farmington, but by a much larger margin, 63-43.

IN THE POCKET

By W.W. EDGAR

The Classic League at Wonderland Lanes, long known as one of the strongest circuits in the western suburbs, is now setting a pace that could make it one of the strongest in the country.

This scoring strength was evidenced last Tuesday night when, for the third successive week, four members of the loop broke the 700 barrier.

This time, the sharpshooters were Fred Ringrose with 740 that came because of a middle game of 278, Bill Walker who had a 734 with steady games of 232, 246 and 256, John Wodarski, who posted a 707 and was tied at that figure by Dean Shiffman, who had a middle 266.

Setting the pace was a tonic for Ringrose, who had been in a slump for the first half of the season.

While the individuals were scattering the pins all over the place, Jim Shelps Ryder Rangers team fashioned a new high of 3235 for the season. This came on games of 1044, 1100 and 1091.

The high scoring wasn't confined to the adults. In the YBA junior league, Frank Zazata, a 15-year-old, fashioned a 628 and Jim Kowalksi, 16-years-old, opened with a 242 for a 643.

MARGE KROPACEK, the Plymouth housewife, had an unusual time of it last week. On Monday afternoon, she paced the women's section of the Bowling Proprietors Traveling league at Garden Lanes with a 580 series.

On Wednesday evening in the Ladies Major at Crown Lanes she missed a Dutch 200 for the second time in the past month.

Her failure came in the final frame, when she needed a strike but missed the head pin.

The top scorers in the proprietors league among the men were Bob Jawor with 693, and Harry Topalian with a 680.

THE LADIES MAJOR, one of the area's top loops, had a big night at Crown Lanes on Wednesday.

When the final pin had fallen, Jan Pavelli was high with a 724 that set a new mark for the league this season. At that figure, she was 20 pins better than Mary Mohaci's 704 that had been high for weeks.

Mary, incidentally, missed breaking the 700 barrier again, by a single pin when she posted a 699 for third place for the night. Gerry Ritter and Kay Cappola were deadlocked at 268 for high game.

TWO NEW MEMBERS were admitted to the Split Conversion Club at Mayflower Lanes during the week. Nancy Clack was admitted because she topped the 4-10 and Bea Manus joined her when she spilled the 6-7-10.

Lucy Lynch is at the top of the honor roll with a 610 series and Carol Gold has a 266 for high game.

DAN RATHWELL, an 11-year-old lad had the spectators on edge in the Youth League at Merri-Bowl when he put together games of 148, 215, and 125 for a 488. He has an average of 118.

MAUREEN WILEY gave her mates in the Great Scott league at Woodland Lanes something to think about. Although she carries a 144 average she came through with a 236 game. In the Morning Stars circuit, Arlette Wright, with a 137 average, took top honors with a 214 in 549 and Donna Wilson was right behind. With her 127 average, she rolled a 235 in 545.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE to take up bowling for the fun and exercise it offers, Cloverlanes is offering you an opportunity. It is a learn to bowl course, with lessons given by a top flight pro, and will reach a peak when the new bowlers are grouped in four women teams to bowl in a league. The school will open for women on Jan. 17.

Toni Miga, the Cloverlanes manager, promises a lot of fun and excitement for those who join the classes.

THE LADIES have a problem at Westland Bowl. For some reason they can bowl high games, but have trouble reaching double-century counts in their series.

Marilyn Bourgoine finally broke the jinx this week when she hit a 245 and wound up with a 612. But Monica Dlugos found it different. She produced a 245 game and had to be satisfied with a 549. Toni Smith took third with a consistent series of 190, 192 and 194 for a 576.

FOUR GIRLS—Barb Krivitz, Sharron Fletcher, Dottie May and Donna McQuaid—are setting quite a pace in the Coffee and Toasters League at Plaza Lanes.

Bowling as the Mel's Golden Razor team, they have compiled a 602 team average and this week linked games of 681, 726 and 617 for a 2024 series.

RUSTPROOFING. EITHER YOU HAVE IT OR YOU DON'T

Car makers don't build the rustproof car and no car dealer can deliver the real rustproofing you get with the exclusive Ziebart process.

Don't be misled by some sweeping references to "anti-corrosion methods" used in building some 1977 cars. Real rustproofing must be done after the car is built. And it must cover every critical area inside and under the car. That's the proven Ziebart method. There are no shortcuts. That's why your Ziebart Dealer uses nine different patented spray tools to reach rust-prone areas. That's why he uses a rustproofing sealant that actually penetrates welded seams where rust can start. Your Ziebart Dealer can deliver a rustproofed 1977 car because that's his business—and he knows it. Call him.

Special urban aid bill approved

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI

Suburban state legislators, among others, decried last week's state house approval of more than $8 million for the City of Detroit through a special urban aid program. The bill was approved, 58-47 after it had been defeated a week earlier.

The program calls for the distribution of $12 million next year and each year thereafter to the 16 cities which levy municipal income taxes.

Of the 12 legislators representing communities in the Observer & Eccentric readership area, 10 voted against the proposal: Reps. Thomas Brown

(D-Westland), William Keith (D-Garden City), Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia), Robert Law (R-Livonia), Wilbur Brotherton (R-Farmington), James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham), Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), Richard Fessler (R-Union Lake), Ruth McNamee (R-Birmingham) and Sal Rocca (D-Sterling Heights).

Rep. John Bennett (D-Redford) did not vote.

ONLY Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti), who also represents most of Plymouth, voted for the controversial aid bill.

Opponents of the bill called it a "giveaway." Smith called it "equity." Brown was more harsh in his criticism—he called the bill a "rip-off."

He said Detroit was getting a "double dip" of state funds under the special aid program. "They already get two times more per capita than any other city gets from revenue sharing," he said.

"DETROIT just thinks it deserves, without any explanations, a double-dip anytime they can muster 56 votes in the house and 20 votes in the senate," Brown said.

He said in 1971 the house agreed that funds would be distributed back to communities on the basis of the revenue sharing formula.

"They should address the matter by changing the revenue sharing formula or amending the revenue sharing act. Only then would we be trying to reach tax equity based on tax effort," Brown said.

THE BILL'S SPONSORS, including Rep. George Montgomery and William Ryan, both Detroit Democrats, had put together a surprising coalition of Detroit and farm interests.

Rep. Martin Buth (R-Rockford), a dairy farmer in Kent County, said Montgomery and Ryan had aided farm and rural interests in the past.

"We just can't have a one-way street here all the time," he said.

Smith voted on the same basis. He said he had received support from Gov. William Milliken on proposals to funnel state aid to areas where state facilities were located. The special urban aid program also had Milliken's blessing, but not overwhelming support in the house.

SMITH, in whose district many state facilities are located, said, "It's a game of compromise. You do something for me if I can do something for you."

Other area representatives were predictably hostile to the bill.

"It's just another giveaway to the city of Detroit without any justification," Brotherton said.

He continued, "Maybe they (the bill's sponsors) have a valid argument, but they used no facts or figures. They just bulldozed it through."

Forbes, Democratic floor leader, said, "It's important to keep Detroit going. If it goes down, everyone else will go down around it."

"But I think we're going too far to find ways to give Detroit money

BROWNIE HOLIDAY PARTY

Dec. 20—Brownie Troop 208 of Allen Elementary School will have a Christmas Party of 19 emotionally handicapped guests from Our Lady of Providence School in Northville from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in Allen School. Instead of having a Christmas party themselves, the Brownies decided to share their holiday spirit with others. They will provide a pair of mittens for each of their guests, with the mittens being decoratively wrapped and distributed by Santa Claus. The Brownies will be assisted by its sister troop, Junior Troop 216 of the Allen cluster. Christmas cookies and punch will be served to all of the guests. Brownie leaders are Mrs. Pat Graney and Mrs. Sue Eix.

GUILD HOLIDAY MEETING

Dec. 20—The Plymouth Theatre Guild will hold its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth Community Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. After the business meeting, there will be a Christmas party.

ERIKSSON SING-A-LONG

Dec. 21—Eriksson Elementary School, Haggerty Road south of Ford Road in Canton, will sponsor a sing-along beginning at 7:30 p.m. All are invited.

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING

Jan. 12—There will be two cross country skiing clinics sponsored by Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department in January. The first will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 12 and the second from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 26. Fee is $5 per person, payable in advance at Plymouth Recreation Dept.

ACRYLIC PAINTING CLASS

Jan. 33—A beginning acrylic painting class will begin on Monday, Jan. 30, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. No background in art or painting is required. Learn to paint and create your own pictures each meeting. For more information contact Plymouth Recreation Dept. at 455-6620.

Twp. to create 13th precinct

Population is growing so quickly in Plymouth Township that officials say they will have to create a new voting precinct in the near future.

According to Clerk Helen Richardson, the major growth area is in what is now precinct six, bordered by Sheldon, Ann Arbor and McClumpha roads and Anri Arbor Trail.

The latest figures indicate there are about 1,405 registered voters in the precinct, with more new housing development planned for next year.

Under current law, a precinct can have no more than 1,400 voters.

The new precinct—number 13—will be comprised of Trailwood 2 and 3 and Quail Hollow subdivisions. Voters in the new precinct will cast their ballots at the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, 46250 W. Ann Arbor Road.

'Good-bye Girl' follows formula

If you generally like Neil Simon comedies ("The Sunshine Boys," "The Out-of-Towners," "Murder by Death"), odds are you'll like "The Goodbye Girl" (PG). Written by Simon for his wife Marsha Mason, who plays the kiss-off kid of the title, it's a situation comedy with a patter of laughs and one-liners from start to finish. In other words, entertaining.

On the other hand, if "Simon Says" isn't always your kind of game, you might want to know something about the players and the conditions before making a decision.

First of all, note that one of the three principal characters in "The Goodbye Girl" is a precocious kid, Lucy McFadden played by Quinn Cummings. Lucy is a smartmouth who gets laughs by causally using adult words (like the youngsters in "Bad News Bears") and acting blasé about grown-up activities. You know how funny precocious kids are!

Next, consider the novelty of the situation: Elliot Garfield (Richard Dreyfuss), a struggling actor who plays the guitar and chants mantras, is forced by specially contrived circumstances to share a small apartment with a 33-year-old dodo and her daughter.

MARSHA MASON is the dodo (Paula McFadden), a divorced hooper with a sagging but eager body dominated by teenage glands. You can just imagine the hilarity that results from their domestic arrangements.

MARSHA MASON

Then there's the shtick of the "play-within-the-play." Elliot has come to New York from Chicago to play the lead in an off-off-off Broadway production of Shakespeare's "Richard III."

The high-voiced director (Paul Benedict) wants the King played as a queen.

Elliot rails against such an interpretation, but finally consents. Richard III emerges as a lame-footed, hunch-backed fag. There are plenty of howls in this episode, if you like cheap jokes.

Dreyfuss gives an ebullient and energetic performance. Somehow he comes through the film, not only unscathed, but smelling like a rose.

None of this, apparently, is a laughing matter to Ms. Mason, since Paula, who appears as a likable quick-witted character at the beginning of the film, quickly turns dull and dour and remains so. Paula is a past-her-prime groupie still waiting for Prince Charming, a "pushover," as she describes herself.

SHE'S ALREADY been pushed twice. Her actor-husband simply walked out leaving her with their daughter Lucy. Her actor-lover, with whom she and Lucy lived, not only walked out but sublet the apartment to an actor friend, Elliot. Thus the circumstances are set up for Elliot's movie-in.

Of course, the more Paula insists that actors are vermin and she will never look at one again, the more certain we are of the result of this strange cohabitation. When Elliot gets skunk drunk after "Richard III" bombs, it's equally obvious who will be ministering to him with sex and sympathy.

Paula the pushover: Paula the dodo. What a stereotypical image of women, and men too. With one exception, the hero, the prevailing philosophy is "all men are rotten." I wonder what generation of moviegoers Simon is writing for?

Put it all together and you've got "The Goodbye Girl," an overly predictable, crassly commercial, formalized shinanola of a movie. Still, if you like Neil Simon, go enjoy.

Glimpses

NEW RELEASES

- ALLEGRO NON TROPPO (PG). Take-off on Disney's "Fantasia" by Italian animator Bruno Bozzetto.
- ANOTHER MAN, ANOTHER CHANCE (PG). Claude Lelouch successfully remakes his own romantic film "A Man and a Woman" as an American western.
- CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND (PG). Stephen Spielberg's megabuck epic about contact with extraterrestrial beings. Special effects make this another treat for sci-fi fans.
- BOBBY DEERFIELD (PG). Not enough scenery for a travelogue, not enough plot for a dramatic film; just a bore with Al Pacino and Marthe Keller.
- EQUUS (R). Intense, realistic film of prize-winning play with Richard Burton as the self-doubting psychiatrist treating a boy (Peter Firth) who has blinded six horses.
- FIRST LOVE (R). Curly, blond-haired William Katt searches for true, pure love on college campus where phys ed is most popular activity, but not for class credit.
- HEROES (PG). TV stars Henry Winkler and Sally Field hit the big screen in comedy about Vietnam vet trying to start a worm farm.
- JULIA (PG). Jane Fonda and Vanessa Redgrave excel in Lillian Hellman's deeply moving story of the warm, courageous friendship of two women.
- LOOKING FOR MR. GOODBAR (R). Judith Rossner's steamy best seller brought to the screen with stunning impact. Diane Keaton scores as woman who teaches children by day, picks up men by night.
- MR. KLEIN (PG). Alain Delon in subtle suspense story about a man mistaken for a Jew in France, 1942.
- OFF THE EDGE (PG). Documentary from Jeff Campbell of Birmingham about skiing and hang-gliding. Nominated for academy award for '76.
- OH, GOD (PG). Humorous look at the world as God (George Burns) carries on a dialogue with a supermarket employee (John Denver).
- SATURDAY NIGHT FEVER (R). John Travolta (of Kotter's Sweathogs) is the main man in film with plenty of disco action.
- SMOKEY AND THE BANDIT (PG). Burt Reynolds in action-comedy as the "bandit" who's trying to bootleg 400 cases of Coors beer from Texas.
- STAR WARS (PG). Stereo-comic sci-fi adventure about a rebellion of solar systems in a distant galaxy. Good time movie with laughs and special effects. Two robots steal the show.
- SHORT EYES (R). Compelling prison drama of racial and sexual tensions written by Miguel Pinero from his play.
- TELEFON (PG). Charles Bronson plays a Soviet agent in this thriller about good and bad Soviet spies.

Rest area on I-275 now open

Holiday travelers joining the thousands of motorists who drive I-275 in Wayne County will be able to use a new rest area off the northbound lane.

The safety rest stop, which opened last week, is the first to be constructed on the busy freeway that bypasses metropolitan Detroit on a north-south course through Monroe, Wayne and Oakland counties. Another rest area on southbound I-275 near Carleton is expected to be ready for use in January, said a spokesman for the Michigan Department of State Highways.

The northbound haven is located just west of Westland between the interchanges with US-12 (Michigan Avenue) and M-153 (Ford Road).

Monday, December 19, 1977

(P.C.R.W.G-7B) 3C

Built at a cost of $158,000, the heated, tiled building offers rest rooms, lavatories with tempered water, electric hand dryers and a drinking fountain. A travel information board is mounted on an outside wall.

The I-275 bicycle path adjacent to the northbound freeway passes through the rest area.

Landscaping of both I-275 rest areas will be done next year. Picnic tables and grills will be added in the spring.

Throw out the anchor

Self-propelled land vehicles are not unique to the 19th and 20th centuries. In 1600 a Dutch inventor mounted a two-masted ship on wheels and let the wind propel the loaded vessel.

According to the records, some 28 fear-stricken passengers hung on as the unusual craft whizzed by at 20 m.p.h.

Burglars break into safe and set business on fire

Burglars hit a Plymouth business last week, ransacking the building, ripping open a safe and spreading gasoline on the floor.

Frank Fernandez, president of the United Rent-All store on Ann Arbor Road, told police that when he got to work Thursday morning, he discovered that his business had been broken into sometime during the night.

In addition to $600 in damage done to the building, the thieves got away with about $300 in cash.

"I'm sure they were a little disappointed with the amount of money they got," said a puzzled Harry Gough, vice-president of the business. "We usually don't even keep that much cash on hand over night."

Gough said that he and Fernandez had "no idea" who was behind the robbery and vandalism. "I don't think it was an employee situation. Judging from the damage, there must have been at least four or five people involved."

Although police wouldn't speculate on how many people were involved in the break in, the investigating officer said the number of footprints left at the scene indicated there were at least two.

ACCORDING TO police reports, the thieves first climbed over a chain-link fence at the rear of the business and then broke a hole in the back door.

After gaining entrance to the building, police said, the crooks took a cutting torch from among the rental equipment and attempted to burn the hinges off a safe in the office.

However, they were apparently unable to get the flame hot enough to melt the metal, officers speculated, so they changed their tactics.

The would-be safe-crackers next took more tools that were on hand for rental, including a pick-ax, chisels and hammers and beat and pried the safe's door until it came off.

After grabbing the cash, the intruders then proceeded to rip through storage cabinets, desk drawers and files. Before leaving, they took a can of gasoline and poured it around the building according to police.

"I don't think whoever did it planned to burn us out," Gough commented. "I think they used the gas to wipe out footprints and fingerprints."

"They made a mess of the place, but it's not as bad as you might think. I suppose it could have been worse."

When they were finished, the burglars took one more thing—a cutting tool which they used to cut their way back out through the fence.

Police said they followed the sets of footprints in the snow until they disappeared on dry pavement.

Chief Timothy Ford declined to comment on whether there were any suspects in the burglary.

8 students at seminar

Seven students from Plymouth Salem High and one from Plymouth Canton High recently attended Psychology Day at Olivet College.

The students took part in seminars on psychology with volunteer programs and professional seminars in psychology, and psychology curriculum and admissions policies.

The eight from Plymouth-Canton at the workshop were Tisa King of Beaufort, Canton, Todd Bunzeluil of Willowcreek, Plymouth, Cindy Croci of Nantucket, Plymouth, Becky Howell of Bunkerhill, Canton, Mary Klaes of Harvard Lane, Canton, Donna O'Leary of Provincetown Lane, Plymouth, Carol Swanson of Oregon Trail, Plymouth, and Ellen Thomas of Shadywood, Plymouth.

been completed, money from interest earned on the bond funds or left over from building contingencies may be used for other projects.

At the public hearing, the school board will listen to suggestions for areas where these funds should be used.

Projects which have been proposed are replacement of the badly deteriorated roof at East Middle School, providing a parking area for bus drivers, and partial payment of air conditioning for year-round school buildings.

Bond issue's hearing topic

Expenditure of the remaining funds from the 1974 school bond issue is the topic of a public hearing tonight (Monday) beginning at 7:30 in Plymouth-Canton Board of Education office.

Because of interest earned on the funds and careful use of the building and site fund, some money remains for additional projects.

The 1974 bond issue was approved by voters to cover construction of three elementary schools, Plymouth Canton High music and physical education facilities, and 94 renovation projects.

As soon as all these projects have

SC renews memberships

Schoolcraft College has renewed membership and participation in three organizations. Trustees last week voted.

To renew membership in the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, a voluntary planning organization in the region's seven counties. Dues are about $220. Trustee Mark McQueenen was re-elected delegate to the SEMCOG General Assembly. Trustee Leonard Wozniak dropped out as alternate, and Trustee Gerald Cox was elected to succeed him.

To renew membership in the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges. Dues are $450, up $70 over the current year.

To send Secretary Nancie Blatt and Treasurer Harry Greenleaf to Washington for 2½ days in February for the national legislative seminar of the Association of Community College Trustees. Cost is estimated at $300 apiece. Mrs. Blatt is a member of the governing board and chairman of the nominating committee.

Canton holiday concert slated

The Plymouth Canton High School vocal music department will present its Christmas concert on Tuesday, Dec. 20, starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Salem auditorium. Admission is free to the public.

Entitled "Songs of Christmas," the concert program will include "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas," sung by the mixed chorus; "Jingle Bell Rock" by the Girls Glee Club; "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" by the Madrigals and other Christmas tunes.

The Canton and Salem choirs will sing together to perform "Do You Hear What I Hear?" "Some Children See Him," "Jazz Gloria" and "December Child." The choirs performed together at the middle schools earlier this month.

Betty Weideman directs the Canton choirs and Fred Nelson the Salem choir.

Here's help for Yule cooking, straight from the—er—experts

Housewives know that racing around purchasing gifts, cleaning house and making sure the Christmas tree doesn't poke a hole in the ceiling is only part of the holiday mystique.

It may be because all that wrapping and unwrapping of packages drains energy. But whatever it is, a lot of people have this crazy idea that a well-laden table is almost a civil right during the last week of December.

Drive you into a panic, does it? Stand by. The Observer is ready with a small bit of crisis intervention to quiet your fears and stuff your family. Below are recipes.

They arrive like snow on the Suburban Life desk every year. But this time we passed a few around to be tried out by staff members and their families.

Here they are, all in the time-honored tradition of damn the calories, full speed ahead.

FRUITCAKE

1 can (30 oz.) or two cans (16 oz.) pumpkin pie mix
2 eggs
2 pkgs (16.1 oz. each) quick nut bread mix
2 cups chopped walnuts or pecans
2 cups seedless raisins
2 cups candied cherries, coarsely chopped
1 cup candied pineapple, coarsely chopped

Light corn syrup is optional.

In a large bowl combine pumpkin pie mix, eggs and nut bread mix. Beat at medium speed until thoroughly mixed. Stir in nuts, raisins and candied fruits. Spoon part of batter into greased nine by five-inch loaf pan, filling two-thirds full.

Spoon remaining batter into greased muffin cups, filling three-fourths full. Bake at 350 degrees for 70 minutes for loaf, about 30 minutes for muffins, or until tops are browned and centers firm to the touch. Brush tops lightly with corn syrup if desired and garnish with candied cherries.

Reporter Sherry Kahan substituted two cups of mixed candied fruit and found it an adequate substitute for pineapple and cherries. "The candied stuff could be dispersed with altogether, if that's your druthers," she said. "Add a few more nuts and raisins."

She reported that the finished product differed slightly in taste from a traditional fruit cake. It has more pumpkin flavor, but is good, and very easy to make, a strong point with Mrs. Kahan.

STAINED GLASS CANDY

3 $\frac{3}{4}$  cups granulated white sugar
1 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups Karo light corn syrup
1 cup water
1 teaspoon Lorann flavoring oil
desired food coloring
powdered sugar
Sprinkle 18 by 24 inch strip of heavy duty aluminum foil with powdered sugar (about  $\frac{1}{4}$  box). Mix granulated sugar, corn syrup and water in large heavy saucepan. (Jan Woodring, wife of photographer Bob Woodring, preferred a cast aluminum dutch oven instead of a saucepan, and found she had to coat foil completely with powdered sugar to keep candy from sticking.) Stir over medium heat until sugar dissolves. Boil without stirring until temperature reaches 310 degrees, or until drops of syrup form hard and brittle threads in cold water.

Remove from heat. Stir in flavoring oil and food coloring to desired color. Pour onto foil. Cool, break into pieces. Store in airtight container. Makes 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  pounds.

Oil can be found in most drug stores, said Mrs. Woodring. It takes about a half hour for the syrup to boil down, but recipe is not difficult. Watch that children don't get too close. It's very hot.

She added just a couple of drops of the food coloring of her choice, and peppermint flavoring oil to her "stained glass," but said many flavored oils are available.

VARSMORGASAR

7 slices thin white bread
1 can deviled ham (4 $\frac{1}{2}$  ounces)
2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
2 hard-cooked eggs
1 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons chopped dill
1 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons chopped parsley
1 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons chopped chives
Dash of freshly ground pepper
Trim crusts from bread. In a bowl, mix together deviled ham, butter, mustard, egg, dill, parsley, chives and pepper. Spread mixture generously on bread. (Secretary Rose Butler thinks crackers or rye crisp would be a better base than bread for these Swedish hors d'oeuvres.)

Just before serving, cut sandwiches into fourths. Garnish, if you wish, with a sprig of parsley or fresh dill. Makes 28 hors d'oeuvres.

CHOCOMINT HOLIDAY ROLL

This makes one 10-inch cake roll of eight to 10 servings. A cake roll and filling must be prepared. Cake roll:

6 eggs, separated
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon cream of tartar
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
1 cup powdered sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup all-purpose flour
powdered sugar

Lightly grease a 15 $\frac{1}{2}$  by 10 $\frac{1}{2}$  by one-inch jelly roll pan. Line bottom with waxed paper; grease again. In small bowl of mixer beat egg whites with cream of tartar and salt until stiff but not dry, or just until whites no longer slip when bowl is tilted. In large bowl of mixer beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored, about five minutes.

Gradually add powdered sugar and vanilla, beating until blended. Sprinkle flour over yolk mixture; add beaten whites. Gently fold until thoroughly blended. Turn into pan, spreading batter evenly. Bake in preheated 400-degree oven 10-12 minutes or until top of cake spring back when touched.

If necessary, loosen cake from sides of pan with spatula. Invert cake onto clean linen towel covered with waxed paper and sifted powdered sugar. Carefully pull waxed paper off bottom of cake. Trim off all edges. Roll up cake starting from short edge, rolling waxed paper in with cake. Wrap cake roll in towel and place seam-side down on wire rack until cool, about 30 minutes.

Note: If prepared in advance, cake may be frozen without filling. Wrap in aluminum foil or plastic wrap. To thaw let wrapped cake stand an hour at room temperature.

Filling:
1 cup whipping cream
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup powdered sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon vanilla
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup crushed peppermint candy
powdered sugar
chocolate curls or candy canes, optional

Combine whipping cream, powdered sugar and cocoa. Beat until stiff; fold in vanilla. To prepare cake roll, carefully unroll cake. Spread with chocolate whipped cream. Sprinkle with candy and reroll. Place on serving plate and chill. Just before serving, dust with powdered sugar and top with chocolate curls, if desired.

Livonia reporter Karen Kopeikin suggested that a pint of ice cream be used in the filling instead of whipping cream. While the recipe was titled "incredibly easy and elegant," she said it was elegant, but not that easy.

The staff didn't get to taste this one. Karen's dad, Livonia Ski Skule president Norbert Kopeikin, got to it first.

HOLIDAY BAKED ALASKA

This is an ideal holiday dessert for the busy baker who wants to add a special finish to a festive dinner. The layers of cake-like brownie strips and ice cream can be prepared quickly weeks in advance and frozen for later use. While dinner plates are cleared, the meringue can be spread, baked and served quickly.

Bakers should be cautious, however. Practice makes perfect in cutting and lifting the layers and spreading the ice cream. But take heart, the meringue covers most goofs, said Westland editor Sandra Armbruster. The recipe and Ms. Armbruster's tips follow:

1 pkg (15 $\frac{1}{2}$  oz) fudge brownie mix
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup water
2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup finely chopped nuts
1 pint strawberry ice cream, softened
1 pint butter pecan ice cream, softened

For each Alaska:

2 egg whites
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup sugar
Line a 15x10x1-inch jelly roll pan with one sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil and grease lightly. In mixing bowl, blend brownie mix, eggs and  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup water for  $\frac{1}{2}$  minute on medium speed.

"I only found one brownie brand in a 15 $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. box," said Ms. Armbruster. "But the larger boxes should still make good brownie bases for the ice cream, especially if you have a crowd that can't wait for the meringue." Add remaining water, beat one minute.

Fold in nuts and pour into prepared pan, spreading evenly. Bake in 350 degree oven 14-16 minutes (oven temperatures vary). Then cool in pan for 10 minutes and lift gently to rack to cool completely.

Cut lengthwise into three equal strips. (Loosen underside carefully before spreading ice cream, cautioned Ms. Armbruster.) Spread one strip with strawberry ice cream; place second brownie strip on top. Spread this with butter pecan ice cream (stir with spoon to get ice cream evenly soft, easing spreading). Stack third brownie strip on top. Cut in half lengthwise. Wrap each half in heavy duty aluminum foil and place in the coldest part of freezer.

To serve: Beat egg whites until frothy, gradually adding sugar. Beat until stiff peaks form. Place frozen Alaska on cookie sheet; fold down foil. Cover top and sides of cake with meringue, sealing well. Bake in 500 degree oven until lightly browned—three to five minutes. Serve immediately. The two Alaskas make five to six servings.

Freeway finished too early for puffs

I moved into my present quarters Sept. 15, and since then I've used the somewhat greasy, more than somewhat antiquated gas stove only once, and then to brew a monstrous pot of oxtail soup. I have also eaten some tomatoes that I kept in the refrigerator.

Other than that, everything I've eaten since September has been either restaurant food or some tidbit prepared by my mother, grandmother or other women with a maternal disposition and a quick hand around the kitchen.

I don't find this an especially bad way of life. There's plenty of room in the icebox for beer, and I'm no longer frequently assailed by the stench of something rotting away somewhere between the ice cubes and the olives stuffed with almonds.

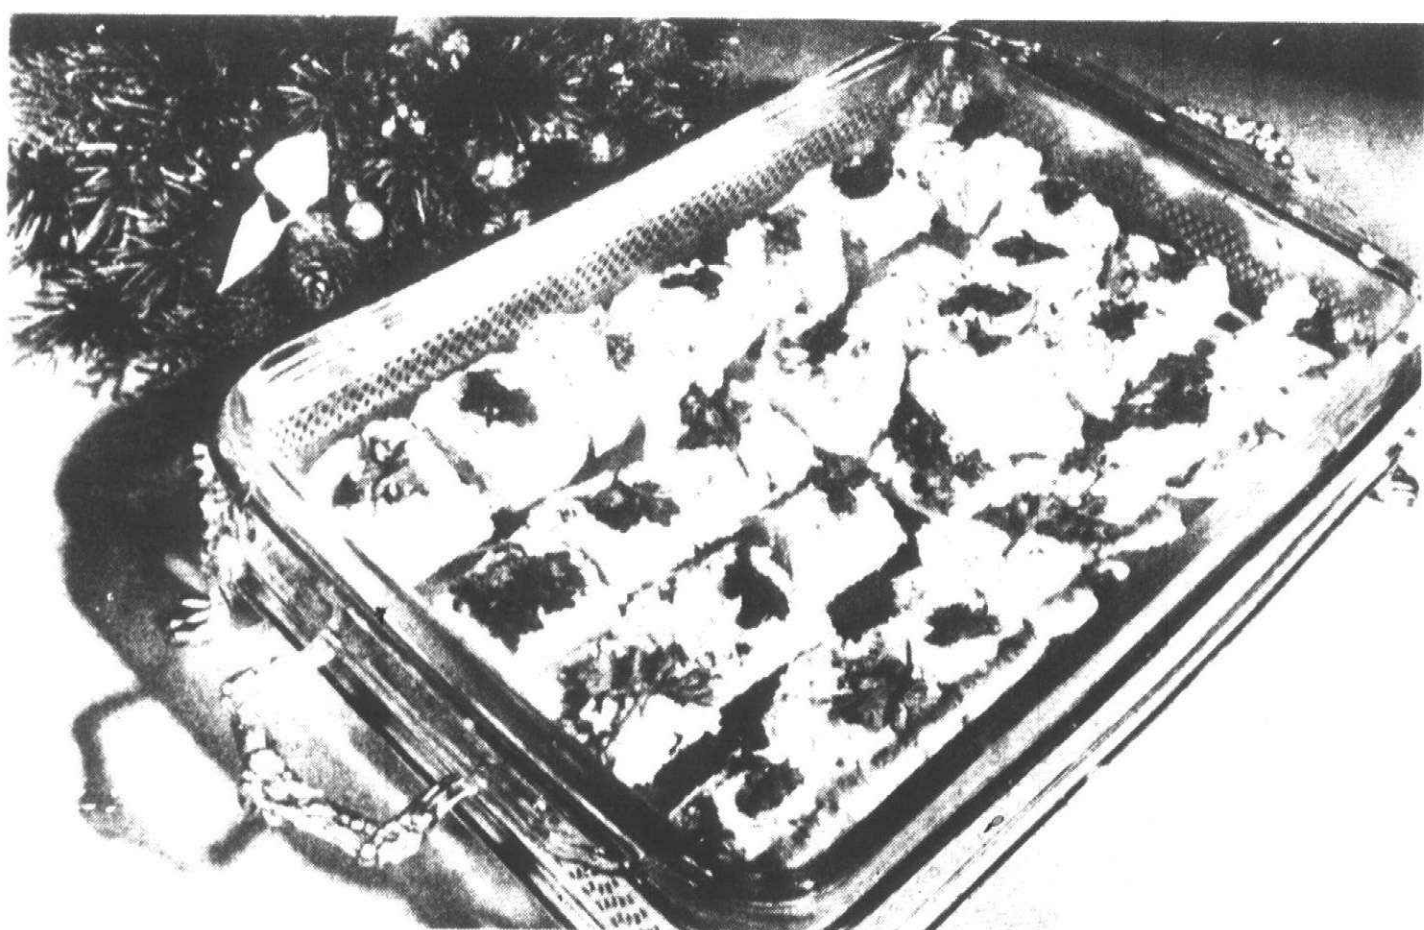

However, solely in the interests of journalism, I recently undertook the task of preparing something called Crab Egg Puffs, which is supposed to be a "savory treat." For all I know, it may be the greatest food since sliced bread.

The sad fact of the matter—and I believe I'll feel better once I make a clean breast of this—is that the puffs for my Crab Egg Puffs failed to puff.

I confess. In fact, if I'd stumbled on my technique at an earlier date, it wouldn't have taken years to build the Jeffries Freeway. All they would have had to do would be to dump a few truckloads of Crab Egg Puffs on a properly graded surface, and—shazam—instant roadway.

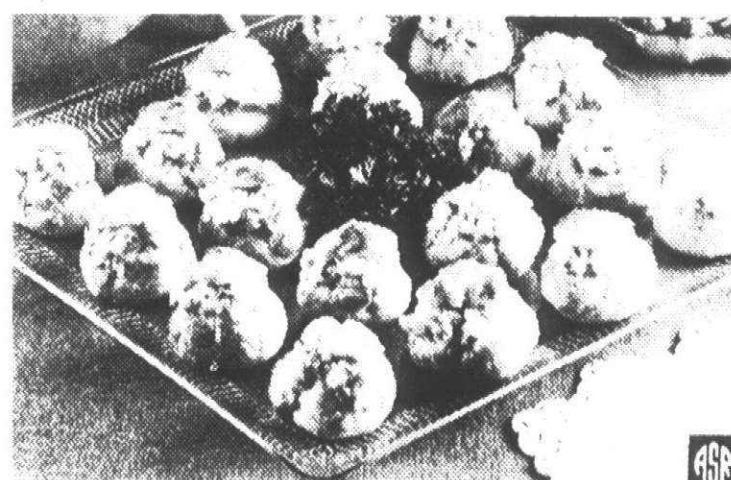

Anyway, the stuff for the puffs was mighty tasty. I spread it on a Ritz cracker and ate it with beer and a garnish of olives stuffed with almonds.

Counseling service finds ample work

By MARGARET MILLER

Counseling on personal problems is just as necessary, just as important and often more effective in affluent suburban areas as it is in the city's low-income districts.

That's the view reached by the staff of Catholic Social Services, in its second year in an office at Farmington Road and Six Mile in Livonia.

The agency maintains its branch here in addition to offering service from an office on Hamilton in Detroit and one in the downriver area because, said Kathy Hurst, supervisor in Livonia, there was plenty of evidence of the need for one.

"In the city, where there's great financial need and much unemployment, you need to offer service in crisis situations," she said.

"But professionally we realize that persons who are more affluent may still have serious problems, and these can be just as disruptive in later life if they are ignored."

IN THE TWELVE months that followed opening the Livonia branch, clients numbered 3,682, coming for counseling as individuals and in groups, Ms. Hurst said.

"The thing about people here is that they are very highly motivated," she added. "Many have been a pleasure to work with."

Ms. Hurst and the CSS staff, three full-time and three part-time caseworkers, have found that the education level in this area makes people more in tune with the idea of counseling.

"They are better able to recognize that they have problems, that help is available and that they can benefit from it," she explained. "They may not understand the process, but they are willing to learn."

She mentioned particularly a situation that shows up frequently—the case of a child whose behavior turns out to be an indication that there are underlying family or marital problems.

"In such cases, we've learned to meet resistance on the part of the parents," she added, "but we've noticed that those visiting this office are willing to work out the problem for the benefit of all."

The result of this difference in attitude is counseling that results in change.

"I find I have more success," said Ms. Hurst, "and it's not only my skill, but receptiveness on the part of those receiving counseling."

"You can really see people growing."

GROUP COUNSELING plays a large role in the activities in the Catholic Social Services branch. There are several children's groups, as well as those for teens.

Work with the children and the teens may then bring about family group counseling.

Then there is a group for those who have been divorced, and two for those who need help in problems rooted in alcoholism.

"One particularly interesting group I've worked with," Ms. Hurst said, "is for young adults, ranging from 19 to 24 years."

"They're all working or in school and short on time, so they meet at 8 a.m. Saturdays. They talk about understanding themselves, getting to know who they are."

"None are married, and none seem to feel ready yet for the step. Yet they all see their friends getting married and they ask themselves and each other if they are falling behind."

"This group has both male and female members and represents a cross-section of society when it comes to economic status and profession. Yet in the matter of the hurt and pain they feel and what causes it, they're very similar."

THIS BRANCH of Catholic Social Services has functioned so successfully that after not much more than a year a need for expansion is seen.

"We've increased our hours," Ms. Hurst pointed out. "We were open at first from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week, but now we've lengthened our Tuesday and Wednesday hours from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and open most of Saturday."

"The prime time is late afternoon and Saturday."

Recently there has been a waiting list for persons who feel they want individual counseling. The current situation is leading the agency to consider some means of expanding available space.

Counseling at the CSS branch is open to all regardless of religious affiliation. Fees are based on ability to pay, and some are covered by Blue Cross insurance.

"We also have waived charges many times when a client is unable to pay, divorced women or widows, for example, or women whose husbands see no problem and refuse to pay," she added.

Jason will make Christmas special

By NANCY WALLS SMITH

Christmas is going to be quite different and very special at our house this year. My husband and I have revived Santa Claus from the mothballs of our youths and can once again experience the genuine joy of the season as it is reflected in the face of our 3-year-old, Jason.

Three years old is a marvelous age for wonders such as Santa Claus, Rudolph, the thrill of presents and the myriad Christmas lights. Each Christmas card that arrives in the mail is a special event for Jason. He tears the envelope to shreds as he anxiously opens it to find what the picture on the front of the card is like, and he listens with quiet intent as I read each verse to him.

It's been a long time since I've realized how much fun it is to receive these cards. By watching Jason's reaction to them, I find myself relishing them too and re-experiencing the enthusiasm which no doubt originated this lovely custom.

JASON IS FINALLY old enough to understand Christmas and yet young enough that he is untouched by the "commercialism," cynicism and doubts that plague us as we grow older.

When he sees Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer on television flying at the forefront of Santa's team, he rushes to the front window to look to see if Santa is actually flying over our house.

The other night, my husband, Dan, faked a telephone call to Santa for Jason's benefit. I don't know exactly what Jason was thinking, but you could tell by the look on his face that he was more than a little impressed that his daddy could actually talk to such an awesome personage as Mr. Claus himself.

He loves to hear about what will happen on Christmas morning, and, as with many pleasant things, the anticipation is as joyful as the actual doing. When I told him of how we'll be going to Aunt Marilyn's and Uncle Jack's the day before Christmas and how we will be taking lots of presents for them, he was very pleased with the story. He especially liked the part about how everyone would say, "Oh, thank you, Jason!" and give him a big hug and a kiss when they opened the presents he had brought. His face was bright and thoughtful for a while. Then he said, "I'm going to get you a present too, Mom!" I told him that was very sweet of him and it would make me very happy, and then asked what he was going to get me.

"I think you might like a car!" And, you know, I think I might. Knowing that cars are Jason's favorite thing in the world it seems a grand gesture that he would want to give me one too. He is learning the real fun of giving—to show love and be loved for it in return.

Yes, Christmas will be different at our house this year. Dan and I will have the privilege of experiencing it all through the eyes of our child. And, in turn we will be feeling more than a touch of our own childhood joys again.

Merry Christmas, mamas and daddies! You have the grandest gift of all—the little people—with all their joy and innocence. Truly, they are to be treasured.

Hoitash—Hill

Lauren Hill became the bride of Craig Hoitash in an evening ceremony Nov. 26 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Ohio. Dr. Roma King performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman of Marietta, Ohio. The bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hoitash of Leicester, Plymouth.

The bride wore a beautiful Victorian-styled ivory colored gown, trimmed with chantilly lace, a finger-tip length veil of the same color and lace. She carried a bouquet of dubonnet and light blue mums, red rose buds and pink carnations among baby's breath.

Anne Hill of Marietta, Ohio, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore ivory and dubonnet colored floor length attire and carried a similar bouquet of flowers.

David Hayes was best man and ushers were Fred Hoitash, brother of the groom, and Jeffery Sturges.

The couple will be living in Tamarack apartments in Canton.

Dear Santa...

from your house

By Ian Brickman 981-0237

Dear Santa,

All of the boys and girls in the Plymouth Canton community are eagerly awaiting your arrival and they have very definite ideas about the gifts in your sack.

A few of these children have asked me to pass along their wishes knowing that you are an avid reader of the Observer Newspaper. So, dear friend, please take heed of the followin' requests.

Baby dolls are still a favorite with the girls, but, like everything else in our society, they have become more specialized. Lori Douds and Jenny Oleksiak want an affectionate little baby who gives tender love and kisses while Laurie Roushkolb wants one that does "this and that."

A doll going "thaw-a-way" is the wish of Michele Satterley and Diane Wertz. Just in case their friend does slip away, Michelle has asked for a back up, the Mickey Mouse rollercoaster, and Diane would care for all her dollies' injuries with a nurse's kit.

A little lady named Tuesday who can get a sun tan by sitting near a window is the wish of Krista Douds. There are a lot more of us who would like to know that doll's tanning secret.

St. Nick, there are green monsters around that can be stretched into all sorts of unusual positions. If you happen to see these strange fellows, please send them to Marcus and Chad Zevalkink, Chris Knecht and Ryan Robertson.

You may not be surprised by this next request since it's another favorite choice at Christmas. Eric Niezgoda and Melissa Ballios would like a big bike, "the one that has just two wheels."

We know how hard it is to travel in your sleigh with a sack full of "meows" and squeeks, but Stephanie Lockhart really wants a live kitten, "not just an old pretend one." David and Christopher Koziol promise to take good care of the hamsters they want, especially if you bring a habit-rail house!

There are a lot of music enthusiasts in our community, Santa, but they need a little help. Rania Shamus would like a piano to practice on and Tony Tiano doesn't want a piano, but he could certainly bang the stuffings out of a drum set.

Some of us enjoy the music of others, so for pure listening pleasure, Mindy Koos wants a record player and Lisa Roushkolb a stereo.

Television has produced a number of Christmas ideas in the minds of our children. Eric Renberg hopes Batman and Robin will zoom his way in their Batmobile and Randy Knecht needs the duo's walkie talkie set.

John Roushkolb has his heart set on becoming part of the "big wheel" generation and Michael Koziol needs a bulldozer to start his career in land development. Missy Adams may someday be a hair stylist, but for now she would like to practice with a barbershop using special dough as hair.

Air travel could be part of Michael Shamus' future, especially if he receives an international airport. Christopher Cook and Randy Ott are also looking toward the future with beings from outer space like electro-man and the micronauts.

Karin Gasiewicz wishes to share fantasyland with Mickey Mouse and his magic kingdom. Little Rami Shamus is not sure just what he wants but we know he will be happy with your choice.

Santa, I have a wish for all of us during this special time of the year. May we remember the real meaning of Christmas.

A recent shopping trip was devoted to acquiring a creche. It was surprising to learn how many stores had opted not to carry the item, even more alarming was the fact that a number of people didn't understand what was wanted.

They also seemed vague when the words Nativity scene were used. Five stores later, someone pointed to a small basket in the back of the store where individual figures depicting the biblical story had been dumped.

The Christian symbols of Christmas and the Hebrew symbols of Hanukah signify peace, a new beginning and hope for the future. These ideals should not be "dumped," rather they should glow like a festival of lights.

Santa, add to the list hearts full of contentment and this will surely be a very Merry Christmas.

The perfect Christmas gift: tennis lessons

By MARGARET MILLER

The man who directs the tennis program at the Livonia Family Y suggests that a gift-wrapped series of tennis lessons and a package of court time might be just the Christmas present for a lot of women in these parts.

Dean Snyder bases his ideas on the ever-increasing interest in the lively net sport on the part of women who visit the Y.

"Tennis is becoming more and more a women's sport," said Snyder as he scanned long lists of women who have signed up for lessons.

"Our lesson program this year is the largest ever, and about 80 per cent of those enrolled are women." That 80 per cent figure also holds, Snyder added, when it comes to the women using the courts in the "non-prime" hours, between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.

He has some definite ideas as to reasons for the love match involving tennis and the ladies.

"It's a great sport for women," he pointed out. "It provides an escape, it's fun and good exercise, you meet people and you can dress up while you're playing."

Snyder even can profile the typical feminine tennis enthusiast.

"HER CHILDREN are in kindergarten or maybe a little older," he said, "and she's ready to take up a new interest. She also has a little free time for a change, and is interested in beginning active exercise again."

"Often, too, her husband urges her to take up the game—he wants her to have that kind of outside interest and be about to join him in the sport."

Tennis, according to Snyder, is a game people take up for three basic reasons, to get exercise, to gain skill, and for therapy.

"If a person playing tennis can meet any of those needs, that's success," he said.

There's a lot of therapeutic value in the kind of fast action that tennis requires and in the act of whamming a ball, he pointed out.

And the game also is a good one for socializing, but usually works out best for married couples if they don't try to play doubles as partners.

"Playing as competitors, they don't run into the problem of being critical of each other's play," he said.

SNYDER FIGURES tennis is going to continue its upgrade, at least for women, despite the popularity of other sports.

"There was some falling off about a year ago when racketball was at its peak," he explained, "but a lot of people who tried racketball have gone back to tennis because it involves a lot more strategy and doesn't depend so much on sheer strength and speed."

"And you can't dress up when you play racketball."

Platform tennis, he added, might give its older brother a run for popularity "except that the enclosed courts are so expensive—$15,000 to $20,000 to build one."

At the Family Y, said Snyder, the wintry weather has brought court use to about 90 per cent during its open hours. These run 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday.

The Y also hosts play for 13 leagues, which involve 220 players.

The number of persons signed up for lessons is pushing 200 now, and Snyder figures that number may double as more people decide to beat winter doldrums and exercise off holiday eating.

Ashes toast 40 years of marriage

One-hundred and forty friends and relatives got together to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ash's 40th wedding anniversary.

The reception and dinner, held at the Plymouth Cultural Center, was hosted by the couple's three children, Mrs. Judith McPherson Mrs. Eileen Pichel, and Gerald Ash.

The couple exchanged marriage vows in 1937. Two members of the original wedding party joined the couple for the anniversary celebration.

Ash has been employed at the Burroughs Corporation for the last 32 years. He is involved in a number of activities at St. Peter's Lutheran Church. The Ashes have lived in Plymouth since 1955.

Rest area on I-275 now open

Holiday travelers joining the thousands of motorists who drive I-275 in Wayne County will be able to use a new rest area off the northbound lane.

The safety rest stop, which opened last week, is the first to be constructed on the busy freeway that bypasses metropolitan Detroit on a north-south course through Monroe, Wayne and Oakland counties. Another rest area on southbound I-275 near Carleton is expected to be ready for use in January, said a spokesman for the Michigan Department of State Highways.

The northbound haven is located just west of Westland between the interchanges with US-12 (Michigan Avenue) and M-153 (Ford Road).

Built at a cost of $158,000, the heated, tiled building offers rest rooms, lavatories with tempered water, electric hand dryers and a drinking fountain. A travel information board is mounted on an outside wall.

Looking sporty

Front and rear fender flares, a front air dam, blacked-out door and quarter window frames and a special striping give American Motors' new Gremlin GT the appearance of a high-performance car. The Gremlin GT is one of three new passenger car models AMC will unveil early next year. The GT also features a four-speed floor-mounted transmission and rally instruments with tachometer as standard.

Replacement tires

Sooner or later, most motorists are faced with having to buy new tires to replace their worn-out ones. And yes, it seems those replacements, no matter what size or construction, "are terribly expensive."

For example, a brand-name steel belted radial tire ranges in price, depending on size, from about $45 to more than $135 each. Some are even priced around $200.

A bias-belted name-brand tire, again depending on the size and in some cases the number of plies, ranges from around $35 to as high as $95 or $100, excluding tax.

Bias ply tires range from as low as $18 to around $70 or $75. Some go as high as $130.

THE FACT OF THE MATTER is, the replacement tire on a cost-per-mile basis is one of the least expensive items you will ever have to buy for your car.

According to the latest report on automotive operating costs issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), replacement tires cost less than one-half cent per mile over the 10-year life of an automobile.

Of total operating costs, DOT says that depreciation, repairs and maintenance, gasoline, parking and insurance are the greatest expenses. Only oil and accessories, such as floor mats and seat covers, rank lower than tires on a cost-per-mile basis, according to the report.

The report points out that motorists seeking ways to reduce operating costs should use radial tires for lower gasoline consumption.

The report says even though radial tires cost about one-third more than bias-belted tires, motorists can expect at least 33 per cent better mileage.

THE DOT STUDY was based on operation of 1976 models of standard-size, compact and subcompact cars.

For a standard sedan, the cost-per-mile for replacement tires over the average 10-year, 100,000-mile life of a car is estimated at 0.45 cent of the total 17.88 cents cost that in addition to the five original equipment tires, the motorist will buy seven replacement radial tires, including three regular tires and four winter tires.

The subcompact car also is assumed to use radial tires and to need seven replacement radial tires, resulting in a 0.35 cent cost-per-mile of the total 12.64 cents cost for each of the 100,000 miles.

The DOT report studied compact cars with bias-belted tires, rather than radials. DOT predicts that the compact car owner will buy 11 replacement tires, including seven regular tires and four snow tires. Total cost-per-mile operating expenses will be 14.56 cents, with tires accounting for .39 cent per mile.
