Crucial decision on Supersewer near

By Dennis Coffman and Margaret Neubacher staff writer

A showdown between Canton Township and "Son of Supersewer" is shaping up for the next board meeting, according to Finance Director Mike Gorman.

Gorman has been involved in legal activity on behalf of the township in the proposed construction of "Son of Supersewer," the wastewater control system for 17 western Wayne County communities.

Gorman expects the township to take action on the sewer project when the township board meets Tuesday, Aug. 14.

The board delayed a motion to join the project — officially called the North Huron Valley-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System — at its July meeting. Trustees wanted to know more about the financial obligations Canton would assume if they joined the project.

There is some question that once the proposed $110 million sewer is completed, Canton would have to pay more for additional construction to bring the project up to new environmental requirements.

C. Gerald Hemming, township attorney, was unable to get an answer to that question when he met last week with officials of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The township also wants to know if the proposed Detroit wastewater treatment plant could handle additional sewage generated by future growth in the 17 western Wayne communities.

THE ISSUE is further complicated by a lawsuit filed jointly by Canton and Plymouth Townships, seeking reimbursement for funds they've invested in the planning of the sewer.

The showdown shaping up for the next meeting is a result of an Aug. 15 deadline set by the DNR. The 17 communities must decide then whether they will join Supersewer.

Those who do will qualify for partial federal funding (up to 75 percent). Yet even with the federal funds, the project will cost Canton nearly $9 million, said Gorman. "Maybe more if additional construction is necessary," he added.

'The board has to make the decision. It will probably be one of the hardest they've ever had to make.'

— Mike Gorman
Canton finance director

Township water bills would double immediately yet Canton would not benefit from the project until 1988 or 1989, says Gorman.

Without DNR funding — which communities will lose if they don't commit by Aug. 15 — communities would have to assume 55 percent of the construction cost. The DNR's federal dollars would be distributed elsewhere, Gorman said.

The township argued in Wayne County Circuit Court in Detroit last week that the DNR should not be allowed to allocate federal funds to other projects. Their request for an injunction to stop the action was refused by Circuit Judge Sharon Finch.

THE DECISION WHETHER to join Supersewer is not an easy one, according to Gorman.

"The DNR has said if Canton doesn't join Supersewer and has no other ideas on disposal, it will put a sewer ban on Canton capping future growth," Gorman said.

"The board has to make the decision. It will probably be one of the hardest they've ever had to make," Gorman said.

Son of Supersewer would provide an additional 28.10 cubic feet per second (cfs) capacity for Canton Township and an additional 13.23 cfs for Plymouth Township.

Existing capacities are 9.6 for Plymouth Township and 14.37 for Canton Township.

When completed, the system would provide Plymouth Township with a total community capacity, including wet weather capacity, of 25.55 cfs, and Canton Township with a total community capacity of 60 cfs.

The system will expand capacity of all the 17 communities involved, from 324.50 cfs to 627.87 cfs.

The additional capacity is expected to meet Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) requirements to the year 2020.

Without federal funding, each Plymouth Township household would have to contribute $207.70 to the project, $156.30 with 55 percent federal funding, and $143 with 75 percent federal funding.

Participants in the proposed sewer system are Plymouth and Canton Townships, Commerce Township, Wixom, Novi, Northville, Northville Township, the City of Plymouth, Van Buren Township, Livonia, Wayne, Westland, Redford Township, Inkster, Garden City, Dearborn Heights and Romulus.

Special sewer meeting set

Supervisor James Poole will hold a special meeting tonight to brief township officials about "Son of Supersewer."

The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Trustees, planning commissioners, and members of the zoning board of appeals have been asked to attend. They'll be paid regular meeting fees.

Poole is expected to show a short film and give a brief address regarding the controversial proposed sewer project.

The meeting is expected to last about 45 minutes.

Canton must decide whether to join the sewer project by Wednesday, Aug. 15. Trustees are expected to decide the issue at their Aug. 14 board meeting.

Vote totals given

The Observer Newspapers will be conducting its annual Election Hotline service for its readers tomorrow night.

The news staffs of Canton and Plymouth will be on hand to report the winners as soon as that information is known. The hotline will be open from 9 to 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Election results are expected for Canton and Plymouth township races, and for the 35th District Court.

Because of the large number of races, there will be insufficient time to supply vote totals or specific information about precincts, but winners or leaders will be announced as soon as that information is available.

For local election results, call 459-2700. Complete details on Tuesday's primary election will be reported in Thursday's Canton Observer.

Cops nab escapee

Canton Police apprehended an escapee from Jackson Prison walking along Michigan Avenue last week.

Virgil Williams, 42, who'd been serving a 25-50 year sentence for assault with intent to murder, was picked up by Cpl. James Hanna.

Williams was first spotted walking along Michigan by a citizen who called police to say the man was either very sick or intoxicated.

GOP to choose senator

By Tim Richard staff writer

Republican voters in Wayne County must decide a stiff primary for a U.S. Senate nomination. Democrats must ponder whether to keep the Wayne County drain commissioner and all face two countywide ballot proposals in Tuesday's statewide primary.

But at the district and local levels, a lot of contests are going on.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday.

VOTERS WILL have a direct voice in two major governmental decisions.

Proposal A is a five-year renewal of a one-mill property tax for county operations. First passed in 1964 and renewed three times since then, the levy is worth $19 million in Wayne County's $191-million general fund operating budget. County Executive William Lucas and the county commission are agreed on seeking its renewal.

Proposal B would abolish the Road Commission and bring it directly under general county government. Backed by both Lucas and the commission, the charter amendment would not affect state gasoline and weight tax revenues, which would continue to be earmarked for road purposes.

Wayne steals parks expert from Oakland

By Tim Richard staff writer

Wayne County revealed it has big plans for its dormant park system by hiring R. Eric Reickel away from the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission. Reickel, 49, of West Bloomfield resigned effective Aug. 10 and will start work the following Monday as superintendent of parks in Wayne County, which wants to quadruple its park budget.

"We recruited him," said William Oakley, managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission, overseer of the six county parks. "I read his resume and talked to a lot of people. Then I called him one day and asked him, 'What'll it take to get you here?' It wasn't some time convincing him."

Reickel has a national reputation as one of the top professionals in community recreation. Only last week he received an award from the National Association of State Outdoors Liaison Officers.

REICKEL'S DECISION made Oakland officials nervous because they have a property 25-mill tax renewal question on the Aug. 7 ballot.

"While we regret his decision to leave Oakland County," said Lewis E. Wint, chairman of Oakland's Parks and Recreation Commission, "we recognize Eric's desire for the new challenges before him in Wayne County."

Reickel earned a bachelor of science in community recreation from Michigan State University. His first major jobs were as assistant superintendent of recreation in Wyandotte and director of parks and recreation in Trenton, both downriver Wayne County suburbs.

From there he went to Bucks County, Pa., as executive director of parks and recreation. Oakland County hired him in 1972 to manage its expanding parks system.

Under Reickel's management, Oakland's system grew from six parks on 2,000 acres to nine parks with 3,700 acres.

Reickel left his marks by improving facilities, organizing activities, promoting public use of the parks and raising fee revenues to supplement tax funds.

HUNTER'S SAFETY PROGRAM for kids, ages 12-16, will be jointly sponsored again this year by the Canton Police and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Hunters under the age of 16 must complete the program to qualify for a state hunting license.

Canton police will conduct the safety program in two sessions at Township Hall. The first begins with a program slated for 6-9 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 25; the second 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 26, and the third 4-7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 27.

The second session will be held on consecutive Sundays, Sept. 9 and 16, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The program is free. To register call the police station at 397-3000.

CHOW DOWN at the Chamber Corn Fest Sunday, Aug. 19, at Griffin Park from noon to 6 p.m. Sweet corn, coney islands, chips, soft drinks and cold beer will be served while the Detroit Express Soccer Team challenges the Chamber Champions in a five-inning softball game. Games for all ages are planned between each inning of the ballgame.

A shuttle will run between Griffin Park and the Historical Society building where the society's ice cream social and arts and crafts activities will be held the same day. For further information call the chamber at 453-4040.

GARBAGE PICK-UP south of Ford Road and west of Canton Center Road will be changed from Wednesday to Thursday beginning Thursday, according to Canton's DPW.

BIG BAND SOUNDS will be heard at the New Towne Plaza Shopping Center on Ford Road at Shelton, Monday, Aug. 13 at Canton's last outdoor concert of the season. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Parks and Rec Department, music by the "Tommy Baldwin Band" will be featured 9-10-30 p.m. Families and individuals are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and enjoy melodies under the stars.

PETER DIMITROFF of Canton will be attending Isiah Thomas' summer basketball camp as a member of the Detroit Edison Safety All-Stars Team this week. Dimitroff was one of 20 selected area athletes selected to the team. His essay on electrical safety and his basketball coach's recommendation won him a place on the team, which will work out at Oakland University in Rochester.

MICHIGAN DAIRY COWS produced 449 million pounds of milk in June down 5 percent from a year earlier, according to Michigan's agricultural reporting service. Lower grain feeding rates have led to this reduced milk output per cow says the state's department of agriculture.

KUDOS to Dennis O'Connell of Canton for his election to the board of directors of the Alumni Association of Lawrence Institute of Technology. O'Connell, a 1970 graduate of LIT, is a senior attorney for Michigan Consolidated Gas. LIT has more than 12,000 alumni.

HOTSHOTS Canton Parks and Recreation Department's 8th Annual Pepsi-Cola NBA Hotshot program drew rave reviews as five local youths qualified to represent Canton Township in the upcoming regional finals.

In the boys' 9- to 12-year-old group, Tracy Ewald repeated as champion with an impressive score of 73 points. The contest involves shooting baskets from five "hot spots" marked on the basketball court. Each contestant is allowed 60 seconds to accumulate as high a score as possible.

The girls' 9-12 age group winner was Brenda Carey with 58 points. The boys' 13-15 age group once again witnessed an outstanding performance by returning champion MJ Ewald with a record-setting score of 80 points. Jo Anna Wiklund took top honors in the girls' 13-15 age group with 59 points. In the boys' 16-18 age group, Tom Westemeier finished first with a score of 45 points. All five winners were eligible to represent Canton in this fall's regional finals.

The Canton Connection

Taking the grind out of grocery shopping

Despite a severe lack of rain in Canton, local farmers have plenty of melons, corn, tomatoes and other fresh produce for sale twice weekly at the outdoor Farmers' Market.

Organized by the Canton Growers' Association, market stalls will be open for business in K mart's parking lot at Sheldon and Ford Roads from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays and 4-8 p.m. Wednesdays.

Most growers who participate in the outdoor market farm between 10 and 30 acres, according to the Mary Hawk association president.

"Each spring the association gets together for a farmer's market dinner," said Hawk. "We elect new officers, discuss stall prices and advertising plans for the coming year."

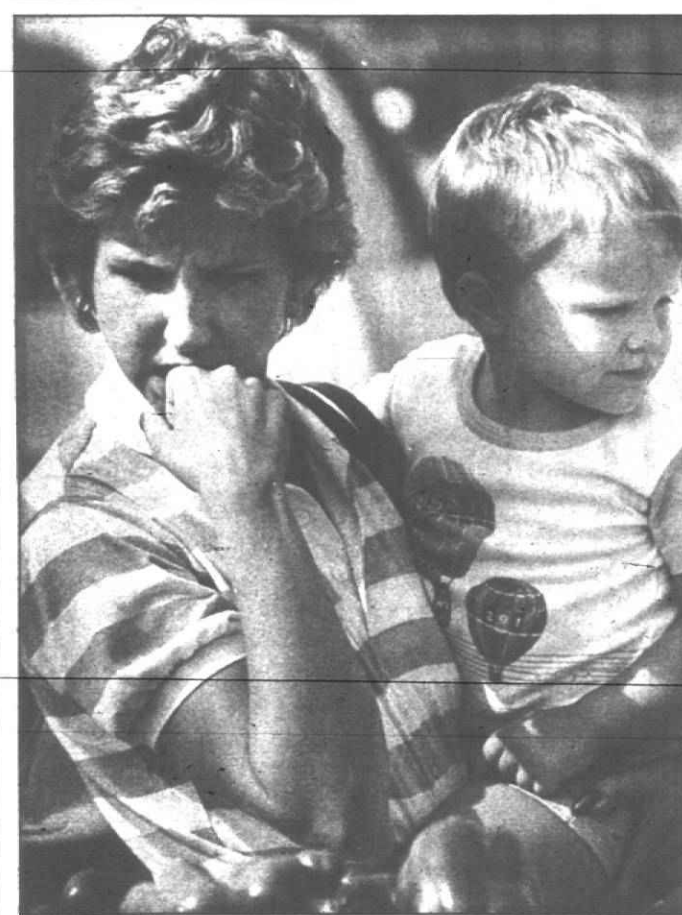

Last year the market did so well the association lowered stall prices for this season, she added. Farmers pay $20-25 for a stall. Monies collected pay for advertising and signs.

The market will continue through the fall, unless the drought gets worse, Hawk said.

"Farmers are really hurting right now. We haven't had rain here on Ridge Road in two months. We need a good inch or two right now," Hawk said.

How township races shape up

The victor will square off with Republican Gerald Brown, who also is unopposed in the primary.

In the 37th District state representatives' race, Canton Democrat James Kosteva is running against Pat Cullin of Belleville and John Sheridan of Romulus. On the Republican ticket, Georgia Gramlich of Belleville is doing battle with Theodore Jacques of Romulus. November's winner will succeed State Rep. Edward Mahalik, D-Nailbiting will be at a minimum for the eight men running for Canton trustee, and for clerk candidates. The four Democratic and four Republican trustee hopefuls all will run again in November, as voters will be asked to select four. The Democratic hopefuls are James Bridenthal, Paul Denaki, Frank McMurray and Edwin Rasmussen Jr. Republicans include incumbents Loren Bennett, Stephen Larson and Robert Padgett and newcomer John Prenzky.

Both Canton Clerk John Flodin, Democrat, and Linda Chubran, Republican candidate for clerk, are unopposed in the primary.

The 36th District state representative's contest won't heat up until after the primary. Both incumbent Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, and Democrat Lucian Cayce drew byes.

Police hit impasse in arson, shooting

Canton police are stymied in their investigation of an arson-shooting incident involving Inkster police detective Gregory May of Canton.

"The investigation is grinding down. There is not much more we can do with it right now," said acting Lt. Alex Wilson.

May, 35, was entering his home from the attached garage at 4 a.m. Sunday, July 8, when he suffered a minor gunshot wound.

May drove himself to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment. While en route, an arson fire completely destroyed his three-bedroom home on Willard between Sheldon and Lilley Roads, just north of Cherry Hill Road.

"We may never obtain enough evidence to issue a warrant, but we will continue to investigate," said Wilson.

No family members were home at the time of the incident, and no fire-related injuries were reported.

Firefighters saw flames shooting out from the windows and roof upon their arrival at 4:30 p.m. The bi-level house sustained up to $90,000 damage and was rendered a total loss.

Later investigation by Canton firefighters and the Michigan State police crime lab confirmed the fire was an arson.

A five-gallon gasoline can was found in the living room. Gasoline was poured

Madonna slates registration

Final registration for the fall term at Madonna College, Livonia, is on Monday, Aug. 20 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Administration Building. Prior to this date, students may register weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The term begins Sept. 4.

The registrar's office, as well as other student services offices will be open until 7 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays during the fall term to accommodate those students who are employed.

Madonna College has the lowest tuition of the independent, liberal arts colleges in Michigan. It awards associate's, bachelor's and master's degrees. Classes meet daily until 10 p.m.

For information, call 591-5052. Madonna College is at 1-96 and Levan, Livonia.

Probation course at SC

Schoolcraft College in conjunction with Livonia District Court of Livonia is offering a course in counseling techniques for volunteer probation officers in Livonia and the surrounding districts.

Classes will be held in the 16th District Court Building 6:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesdays for eight weeks beginning Aug. 21. Tuition and fees will be $31.75 for in-district students and $42.50 for out-of-district students.

This course is being initiated by Continuing Education as a pilot for a proposed program which, when completed, will generate a certificate from Schoolcraft College.

Mail-in registration is scheduled through Aug. 14. For further information, call 591-6400, Ext. 410 or 425-3380.

FOOT HEALTH TODAY

DR. JAMES SOHELBERG PODIATRIST

LEANING WHEN YOU WALK

QUESTION: What makes a person lean when he walks?

ANSWER: Some people lean or move awkwardly because their feet don't give them the foundation they need. They're out of balance. They have structural defects that may cause problems not only in their feet but in other parts of their bodies as well. A defect in the structure of your right foot, for example, may cause problems with your right knee by putting excessive stress on it. By trying to minimize the stress on your right knee and foot, you may be increasing the weight-bearing load on your left side, causing problems there. But that's not where the problem usually ends. It can travel up your body, causing lower back pain or problems with your hip or knee. Your body needs a firm foundation — in your feet.

In the interest of better foot health from the office of:

Police hit impasse in arson, shooting in the kitchen, downstairs hallway and living room, according to reports.

MAY WAS released from Wayne County General shortly after the incident. He is expected to return to work shortly, according to Inkster Inspector Charles Pilch.

"We feel it's definitely not job-related," said Pilch after the incident.

"Nothing is inconceivable — we do have people making idle threats against a guy who catches a guy drunk driving or something. But as far as we know, there's no reason for anyone to be harboring animosities against May."

May, married, is twice divorced and has custody of his four school-age children. One of May's ex-wives was interviewed by Canton police but not as a suspect, said Wilson.

The two youngest children were with their mother, and the older two were baby-sitting when their father was shot, he added.

May's former wife and a daughter didn't learn what had happened until they pulled up to the house about 9 a.m. Sunday, according to Lt. Bill Grady, one of Canton's 15 firefighters.

May — a Canton resident for eight or nine years — had been off the previous Friday and Saturday and was scheduled to report for work at 9 a.m. that Sunday, said Pilch.

Registrations taken at St. Mary's

Lite says managers, coaches could lighten up

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

In the world of sport, that stretches around the globe and from pole to pole, who are the greatest obstacles to good sportsmanship?

Would you believe it is the coaches and managers of the various teams and individuals? At least that's the charge made following a survey done by the Miller Lite Brewing Co. of sports officials at their annual national convention in Las Vegas.

In the survey more than 60 percent of the officials believe the demeanor of the coaches is a major impediment to good sportsmanship. And 50 percent of those interviewed are personally disturbed by the behavior of coaches and other bench personnel.

The result of the survey is not hard to believe when one recalls that Woody Hayes, the legendary coach at Ohio State, was released a few years ago because he slapped the face of an opposing player in a bowl game.

And when one pictures Billy Martin fighting and kicking dirt at the umpires no matter which team he managed, the survey seems to have obtained a true answer.

W.W. Edgar

Anyone who has watched the Tigers easily can recall Sparky Anderson racing from the dugout to chastise an umpire for what he believed was a bad decision.

AND WHEN Ralph Houk managed the Tigers he left a lasting memory by the manner in which he kicked dust up and over — many times just to get thrown out of the game on a hot day.

It is no strange sight to see Bo Schenbecker jump and holler from the Michigan bench during a major football game. And Bo has gone so far as racing out on the field, shaking his fist at the official.

Mind you, all this is in front of more than 100,000 people, not including the rival fans, in a major conference game.

According to the survey the coaches behavior is viewed as far more disturbing than athletes fighting among themselves or with officials.

A majority of those interviewed (54 percent) are convinced that athletes have an obligation to be moral role models for the community.

One of the most revealing responses in the survey deals with women athletes and their conduct during competition.

By a three to one margin they believe women generally display better sportsmanship than men.

Another strange finding was that 22 percent of those interviewed believe officials, after making a mistake, compensate by making an intentional offsetting judgment.

The Miller Lite folks arranged the survey to give the public a closer look at the world of sports.

Kassel our GOP choice

THE NEW U.S. House of Representatives will continue to face key issues in January.

But who will be in the House following the Nov. 6 elections? In part, it depends on who is nominated next Tuesday.

In the 15th Congressional District, which includes Canton Township, Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, is completing his 20th year in the House.

White has unopposed again in the Democratic primary, two Republicans are competing for the right to face him in the fall.

The better of the Republicans is Gies Kassel, a Westland man with a longtime real estate and insurance business in Wayne.

He has an excellent community background in church and school activities. He has a good feeling for public service and wants to return something to his nation.

Kassel senses the public wants a change in its congressional leadership although he makes it clear he still supports Republican President Ronald Reagan on most issues and policies.

Whether the district wants to replace a 20-year congressman is debatable.

While Kassel shows some weaknesses in his positions on important social issues, he stresses his disagreement with Reagan and is calling

Republicans to choose a senator

Levin, D-Southfield, faces a primary challenge. There are battles, however, among those who would oppose them on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Two Republicans locked in an almost savage primary for the chance to take on Sen. Levin are Jim Dunn, 41, maverick former congressman and East Lansing builder, and Jack Loumas, 47, Reagan-lining retired astronaut now officially residing in Ann Arbor.

Kassel feels that Congress is over-spending and supports adoption of a proposed constitutional amendment which would require a federal balanced budget.

The candidate supports more funds to fight adult literacy and wants high school students to pass a literacy test before graduating.

But the candidate is opposed to the Equal Rights Amendment, prohibiting sex discrimination, when polls show that a majority of Americans favor it. He quipped that ERA stands for "Elect Reagan Again."

KASSEL'S REPUBLICAN primary opponent is Gerald Carlson of Wayne. Carlson won an upset Republican nomination four years ago but lost by a more than 2-1 margin to Ford in the general election.

At that time, Carlson was blaming blacks for everything wrong with the American society and economy.

He has toned down his rhetoric since then, running as a Democrat against Ford in 1982, getting only 18 percent of the primary vote.

Canton Fire Dept. Capt. Art Winkel declined to identify the owner, a Plymouth woman, or the tenants.

Firefighters were called to the scene — a house with an attached garage in one of the township's older subdivisions — by neighbors at 2:52 a.m. They responded with five pieces of equipment and extinguished the blaze within 15 minutes, according to Winkel. No one was in the house at the time of the fire.

Smoke damage was evident throughout the house, which had been cleared of belongings. The garage roof will have to be replaced, said fire officials.

Firefighters, who left the scene at 4:50 a.m., said the blaze began in a pile of debris left in a corner of the garage.

"As far as we could see there was nothing that could have started a fire there," said Winkel.

Firefighters sent photographs and samples from the scene to the Michigan State Police crime lab for analysis.

Disagrees with judicial choice

Letters must be original copies and contain the signature and address of the sender. Limit letters to 300 words.

To the editor:
I have no quarrel with your endorsements had you said to your readers these are your personal selections and who you intend to vote for. What bothers me is how you ignore the best candidate available to the voters of the 35th District Court, Robert Greenstein.

Here is a candidate with prior judicial experience, prior police experience (certified police officer and former police chief), and a list as long as your arm of experience over a 23-year span of law practice.

Your second and third choices were obvious subterfuge to divert the public's attention from Greenstein's top qualifications. Yes, I said "top." He even exceeds John MacDonald in experience.

Your second choice, Bruce Patterson, has only been practicing law half the time of Greenstein and your third choice (Steve Foley) was 10 years old when Greenstein started practicing law.

Escapee captured

Cpl. Hanna responded to the call and found Williams still walking along the road. A computer check showed Williams to be an escapee.

"The computer showed Williams had escaped with two other inmates in a prison truck," said acting Lt. Alex Wilson. Wilson couldn't say when the trio escaped.

Hanna searched the area and found the prison pickup truck parked in front of the Donut Gallery on Michigan Avenue east of Lilley, according to Wilson.

Employees and customers of the Donut Gallery were questioned about the possible appearance there of the other inmates, but no information was turned up, Wilson said.

WHO'S HOLDING DOWN HEALTH CARE COSTS? CHECK THE BOTTOM LINE.

No one does more to control costs than we do.

No one.

We ask prudent questions before we pay. Each of the more than 60 million claims we process each year is computer-checked for accuracy before it is approved for payment by a system capable of 1600 different edits.

We're the only carrier that has cost-saving agreements with doctors and hospitals.

And it pays off. With these and more than a dozen other cost containment programs, the savings are enormous. Last year alone we saved more than one billion dollars. Money we didn't have to collect from our group customers.

Can any of the more than 300 commercial insurance companies doing business in Michigan say the same?

When you want the most for your health care dollar, come to the people who understand your bottom line.

CAN YOU AFFORD LESS?

C'MON OVER--WE'LL BARBECUE

Just about everything tastes better when it's eaten outdoors—and it doesn't matter whether you have a spacious backyard, a pint-size patio or minuscule city balcony. For barbecue lovers everywhere, cooking is no chore when it's done on a grill or hibachi. And, they don't even object to making the do-ahead dishes to accompany the main barbecue. Dedicated diners-out tend to stick to the tried and true old faithfuls such as chicken, potato salad, fresh California Summer Fruits® and iced tea. But, they're not adverse to a change or two, here and there, in the familiar formula.

Take the menu pictured today, for instance. There's chicken on the grill, to be sure. But what doesn't show is the superbly seasoned marinade that has penetrated throughout the chicken. This mixture of pureed, tart-sweet, fresh plums, honey, garlic and ready-to-use teriyaki marinade and sauce, captures the taste of summer. Versatile and convenient, bottled teriyaki marinade and sauce is a blend of soy sauce, wine, sugar and a combination of herbs and spices. It works equally well by itself or as a recipe ingredient.

To the right of the grill is another picnic perennial, potato salad. Again, there's a difference. The mayonnaise-sour cream dressing boasts the addition of all-purpose, naturally brewed soy sauce. Not often thought of as an ingredient in salad dressing, soy sauce enhances the flavors of many different kinds of food. And for a special summer touch, slices of ripe, fresh peaches ring the salad instead of the usual wedges of tomato.

An innovation in good eating, "California Valley Toss" is a fruit-vegetable combination featuring fresh California nectarines and zucchini. And, the tangy vinaigrette dressing with its "perk" from brewed soy sauce is a perfect counterpoint to the sweetly tart sparkle of fresh California nectarines.

French bread hot off the grill that has been lightly spread with mayonnaise, onion, basil and brewed soy sauce is a delightfully different "go-along."

For dessert, there's an array of juicy, ripe, fresh California Summer Fruits®— peaches, plums, nectarines and Bartlett pears. All are at their flavorful best right now and ideal for picnic food eaten out of hand. Fresh Bartlett pears, with their sweet flavor, make a luscious filling for crumbly bar cookies, too.

The best barbecue beverage is always iced tea. Young and old alike will quaff it down before, during and after the meal. There are several ways to make this old favorite, but surely the simplest is the overnight method, below. Just to be sure, start with a good quality tea so you'll come up with a drink that is refreshing and thirst-quenching and, best of all, that tastes as good as it looks.

GRILLED PLUM-TERIYAKI CHICKEN

- 1/2 pound fresh California plums, coarsely chopped
- 3/4 cup Teriyaki Sauce
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 3 pounds frying chicken pieces

Puree plums in electric blender container until smooth. Add teriyaki sauce, honey and garlic powder; cover and process until blended. Place chicken pieces in large plastic bag; pour in plum marinade. Press air out of bag; tie top securely. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight, turning bag over occasionally. Remove chicken from marinade; reserve marinade. Place chicken on grill 5 inches from hot coals. Grill 40 minutes, or until chicken is cooked, turning pieces over frequently and basting occasionally with reserved marinade. Makes 6 servings.

SUMMERTIME POTATO SALAD

- 2 pounds long white or round red potatoes
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 1/3 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
- 2 tablespoons Soy Sauce
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 4 hard-cooked eggs, peeled and cut into eighths
- 1/2 cup minced onions
- Fresh California peach slices

Peel and cut potatoes in 3/4-inch cubes. Cook in salted, boiling water about 6 minutes or until tender, being careful not to overcook. Drain thoroughly; transfer to large bowl and chill. Meanwhile, combine mayonnaise, sour cream, parsley, soy sauce, horseradish and pepper. Pour dressing over potatoes with eggs and onions; toss gently to mix well. Refrigerate about 3 hours for flavors to blend or until salad is chilled. To serve, turn salad out into serving bowl; arrange peach slices around edge of salad. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CALIFORNIA VALLEY TOSS

- 1-1/2 pounds fresh California nectarines and/or fresh California peaches, sliced
- 2 medium-size zucchini (about 3/4 pound), thinly sliced
- 1 small red onion, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar, packed
- 1 tablespoon sesame seed, toasted
- 3 tablespoons Soy Sauce
- Lettuce cups

Combine nectarines, zucchini and onion in medium-size bowl; set aside. Measure oil, lemon juice, brown sugar, sesame seed and soy sauce into cruet or screw-top jar with lid. Stir or shake thoroughly until blended and sugar dissolves. Pour desired amount of dressing over fruit-vegetable mixture; toss to coat each piece well. Marinate 15 minutes, tossing occasionally. Serve on lettuce-lined plates with additional dressing as desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

TOASTED FRENCH BREAD

- 1 loaf French bread
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- 2 teaspoons Lite Soy Sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon basil, crumbled

Cut bread in half lengthwise; place on baking sheet, cut side up. Thoroughly blend together mayonnaise, onion powder, soy sauce and basil. Spread mixture evenly on cut sides of bread. Broil about 6 inches from heat 2 to 3 minutes, or until golden brown. To serve, cut halves crosswise into serving-size pieces. Makes about 8 servings.

BARTLETT BARS

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Pear Filling (below) | 1-3/4 cup flour |
| 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1/4 cup shortening | 1/2 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed | 1-1/2 cups quick cooking oats |
| | 1/4 cups finely chopped walnuts |

Prepare Pear Filling; cool. Cream butter with shortening and sugar in large mixing bowl until smooth. Mix in flour, salt, baking soda and oats. Measure 2 cups of crumb mixture and set aside for topping. Add walnuts to remaining crumb mixture and press evenly in bottom of greased 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Bake in 400°F oven 10 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from oven and cool 10 minutes; spread Pear Filling over evenly. Top with reserved crumb mixture, pressing lightly. Return to oven and bake 25 to 30 minutes longer, or until golden brown. While warm, cut into bars, about 2 x 2-1/2-inch bars. Makes about 20 bars.

Pear Filling: Mix 3 cups chopped fresh California Bartlett pears (2 or 3 pears), 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 cup water in a medium saucepan. Bring to boil over medium-high heat. Boil, stirring constantly, 10 minutes, or until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; cool.

ICED TEA—THE BARBECUE BEVERAGE

The Overnight Way (with cold water): Fill a quart jar or container with freshly drawn cold water. Add 8 to 10 teabags, removing the tags. Cover and refrigerate at least 6 hours or overnight. Remove bags, squeezing against side of container. Makes 1 quart. Recipe may be doubled.

The Instant Way (with instant tea or the iced tea mixes): Follow directions on jar or envelope. In general, use 2 rounded tablespoons of instant tea powder for each quart of cold water. Or 1/2 cup (or 2 small envelopes) of lemon-flavored ice tea mix to a quart of cold water.

The Traditional Way (with boiling water): Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and immediately add 1/3 cup loose tea or 15 teabags. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water. Keep at room temperature until ready to serve, then pour into ice-filled glasses.

Southfield cook's Italian beef recipe is a winner

You expect Mexican dishes to be popular in Texas and California cooking contests. You don't expect them to be quite so dominant in the Midwest. But in the 10th annual Michigan Beef Cook-Off, Mexican dishes led the way, followed by Italian and Greek. Of the 15 recipes that made the finals, five were Mexican, including two dishes cooked by Al Schwaner of Oak Park. Three finalists prepared Greek food. Three entries were Italian, including Ann Arbor's beef bragiola, which won an honorable mention.

While the Southfield cook's competitors were working over hot stoves in Michigan State University's human ecology building, Anita and her husband were majoring in vacation — in Hawaii.

The beef commission's Cattle Women were kind enough to bend the rules. Anita's niece, Karen Danto, was allowed to take her place and cook the beef rolls.

"I prepared the dish with her," Karen said following the judging. "I prepared it by myself before today."

Some of the five men and eight women contestants shared three common problems: inadequate seasoning, incorrect number of specified servings and not enough beef in fillings.

For example, the Italian beef torte, which looked like a pasta sponge cake, was supposed to serve six. It really served 16. It also contained more cheeses than beef.

AT FIRST, I thought the sombrero beef squares contained too much chili powder. Then I looked at the recipe. It didn't contain any. But the cubed chuck roast apparently spent too much time in the beef marinade.

The deviled beef bones were arranged most appetizingly: the individual short ribs standing on end, with erect chives in the center, topped with its own purple flower. Unfortunately, the beef was bread-crumbed too much. Less crumbs and a little sauce on the side would have immensely improved the taste.

The Athenian beef pick ups had too much phyllo dough surrounding too little ground round, but was a valiant try.

I didn't need any advice on what to eat the night before I participated in the judging. I enjoyed charbroiled swordfish and snails at the Village Market in East Lansing, thanks to Pat Scott, beef commission vice president.

I also received an appropriate gift: a box of frozen strip steaks from the Country Store in Lansing. But that posed a problem.

I had to shuttle the box from freezer, thanks to the beef commission photographer — who was in the midst of moving — to the refrigerator at the motel where I was staying. However, the airline I flew didn't have an ice box to check the beef. Only one steak had partially thawed. My wife knew what to do — she cooked it her way and ate it. I was still full.

- 8 tbs. butter or margarine
- 2 cloves garlic, pressed
- 2 cups homemade type bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
- 1/2 cup fresh parsley, minced
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 4 oz. white melting cheese, such as Mozzarella or Monterey Jack or Fontina, coarsely grated

Prepare stuffing: In Dutch oven or large electric frying pan, melt butter or margarine. Sauté garlic. Toss in bread crumbs until all the garlic butter is absorbed and the crumbs become toasted. Remove from heat. Gently mix in Parmesan cheese, parsley, salt and pepper. Press stuffing into individual beef portions and divide Mozzarella cheese equally on top of stuffing. Roll each steak tightly and secure with toothpicks.

In garlic scented pan in which stuffing is absorbed, heat olive oil and then brown meat rolls along with mushrooms. Add wine, cover, and simmer 1-1 1/2 hours or until tender.

The wine sauce will then glaze the beef as it cooks and all of the flavors mingle. Remove picks and serve on a bed of buttered noodles. Garnish with chopped parsley and grated lemon rind if desired. Serves 6. Preparation time is one hour.

It can be made a day in advance and reheated, if desired. Also, when cold, it slices beautifully into cocktail size portions. At serving time, reheat gently in a 350 degree oven, or in a microwave oven.

MEXICAN MANICOTTI
1 lb. ground chuck
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1/4 tsp. instant minced garlic or 1 clove, crushed
10 oz. pkg. frozen chopped spinach, cooked and drained
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
8 corn tortillas, 7-inch
1 jar (15 1/2 oz.) spaghetti sauce
1 1/2 cups shredded Monterey Jack cheese

Preheat oven to 350°. In large skillet, combine beef, onion, and garlic. Stir together over medium heat until beef is brown. Stir in cooked spinach, grated cheese, salt and pepper. Spread 1/2 meat mixture across center of each tortilla. Fold on side of tortilla over filling and roll. Place seam side down in greased 9 x 13 inch baking dish. Spoon spaghetti sauce over rolls and sprinkle with Monterey Jack cheese. Bake 15-20 minutes or until cheese melts and sauce is bubbling. Serves 4.

- 1 cup chopped green or red sweet peppers
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 tbs. vegetable oil
- 1 tbs. chili powder
- 3 cloves minced garlic
- 1/4 cup beer or white wine
- 1/4 cup beef broth
- 1/4 tsp. ground cumin
- 1 tsp. lime juice
- 1/4 tsp. sugar, brown or white
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 tsp. dried cilantro or parsley substitute
- 1 tbs. flour
- 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack or Cojak cheese
- 16 flour or corn tortillas or 1 lb. cooked pasta

For tangier flavor, substitute 1/4 cup fresh jalapeno peppers, seeded and chopped and 1/2 cup green peppers. Sauté pepper, onion, and garlic in oil until slightly tender. Remove from pan. Sauté beef strips in same pan. (Add more oil if necessary.) Brown on all sides. Add beer, broth, chili powder, cumin, lime juice, cilantro, sugar, salt and pepper. Heat through. Sprinkle flour over mixture to thicken, stirring. Heat tortillas in non-stick fry pan or griddle. Spoon meat mixture into center of a tortilla. Sprinkle cheese on top. Roll up and serve. Serves 8. Preparation time is approximately one hour.

BEEFY-APPLE ROAST
1 3-4 lb. boneless chuck roast
2 cup unweetened apple juice
1/2 cup water
1 tbs. dry porcignon mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbs. brown sugar
Salt and pepper
1 medium onion sliced
2 1/2 bay leaves
1 cup water

Trim roast and rub garlic into meat. Flour both sides. Heat oil in heavy casserole or Dutch oven. Add the meat. Add tomato sauce, which should cover the roast completely. Add onions, 1/4 cup of the wine and the rest of the ingredients. Lightly stir to mix spices. Cover and bake about 2 hours at 325 to 350 degrees. Again stir the sauce slightly, add the remaining 1/2 cup wine. Adjust seasonings if needed and continue baking until meat is "nice" and tender. Cooking time usually 2 1/2-3 hours in all.

Remove meat to a platter and slice. Ladle the remaining sauce over mostaccioli or your favorite pasta and sprinkle with grated Parmesan.

THE DAYS OF barn-raising, threshings and silo fillings have been replaced by a new type of neighbor assistance in a new type of community. Instead of getting together to share the work load, groups are formed to share mind load.

Quilting bees, church meetings, threshing dinners and even birthings must have been a form of therapy for pioneer women. Now there are organized clubs for newcomers, singles, separated, bridge players, senior citizens — you name it.

There also are support groups for the bereaved, the alcoholic, the afflicted, the over-weight and the under-weight. Parents of talented children, children with learning disabilities, children in trouble, have found strength in union.

One of these support groups, New Beginnings, was founded about one year ago. Its purpose was to help those who had recently lost a loved one. Evening meetings are the second and fourth Wednesday of each month in St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth. With a zero budget, having a rent-free meeting place is a necessity.

A RECENT conversation with Terry Sweeney, one of the founders of New Beginnings, revealed a few statistics.

During the first year, 110 people came to the meetings. The majority of them were women in their late 40s or 50s. Many were widows or widowers. Some had lost a brother, a sister, or a child. Cancer was the leader, with heart attacks second, in causes of death. There were drownings and suicides.

Some people attended the full year. Some came just once or twice. "People move up through their grief and use the group as needed," said Terry. "They come from loneliness and a need to talk."

He said that each person develops coping methods that can be shared. "There's a group empathy and support."

Guilt feelings are not uncommon. "They'll say, 'You're not treating yourself right.' They help each other."

Do men cope better than women, or are they less apt to ask for help? Terry said the ability to cope was not, necessarily, the reason more women than men attended the sessions. "There are more women. There are 106 male babies born to every 100 female babies. But later on, the statistics change to 94 men to every 100 women."

New Beginnings will continue its sessions in September — same place, same time, 7:30-9 p.m. For more information, call Terry, 453-0190 or 842-4853.

TWO LOCAL DOLLMAKERS, Pam Flick and Jean Trombley, are busy getting ready for the Michigan Doll Lovers' Guild show and sale. Pam is president of the guild and Jean is treasurer. The event will be Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18 and 19 in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Deadline for entries in the porcelain reproduction doll competition was Aug. 1. Pam said they will have 50 non-professional and 25 professional dolls in the contest. The categories are interesting — baby dolls, German children, French children, character dolls, doll kits (dressing only) and all-bisque dolls six inches and under.

She said they are using the Danish system of judging because it is the fairest.

"Usually, if two entries receive the same number of points in the judging, there will be a draw for the winner. In the Danish system, both will get a ribbon. But there will be just one Best of Show. In case of a tie there, judging will continue until the winner is decided."

She said she had been trying for years to get the show to Plymouth. Now she hopes it will become an annual event here.

SUE WYLES had high score and Mary Ellen Kenyon came in second in the last Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

MARK RADWICK was among 85 high school seniors who attended Operation Catapult, a summer program in science and engineering at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in Terre Haute, Ind.

Mark's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Radwick of Thornridge, Plymouth.

GENERAL MEETING of the Plymouth-Canton chapter of Parents Without Partners will be 8:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 10 at the VFW Hall east of I-275, north of Ford Road. Dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. All single parents welcome.

CLUB BOYAN REUNION will be held at the 69th anniversary banquet honoring the pioneers and builders of the Ukrainian American center. This historic event will be at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 19 at Carpenter Hall. For tickets at $10, call a member of the committee, 757-7406 or 366-4496.

PLYMOUTH LIONS Club members and guests will visit the Yankee Air Force at Willow Run Airport Thursday, Aug. 16. Cost, $5, includes dinner, film, tour of headquarters and museum.

STAMP CLUB West Suburban Stamp Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 17 at the Plymouth Township Meeting Room, 42350 Ann Arbor Road. Program at 8:30 p.m. will be a slide show from APS, "Canada, Maple Leaf Issues of 1897-98."

ART RENTAL GALLERY The Plymouth Community Arts Council Art Rental Gallery will be closed Wednesdays Aug. 22 and 29, Sept. 5 and 12 due to renovations at Dunning Hough Library. Due dates on rentals will be extended. For information during shut-down, call 459-6996.

It's 4-H Club fair time in Belleville

By Elinor Graham
staff writer

This is the big week for area 4-H Club members. Their annual Wayne County Fair runs Monday, Aug. 6 through Saturday, Aug. 11 at the fairgrounds in Belleville on Quirk Road.

The youth exhibits — art work, crafts, canning, all the non-perishables — were moved in Saturday. The official parade was Sunday. This morning, the 4-H members brought in their food, horticulture, vegetable and flower exhibits as well as their animals.

Many of the young people will be sleeping in the barns at the fairgrounds this week, keeping an eye on the livestock carefully nurtured for the fair.

Monday is a full day with a dog show, judging of arts and crafts, crowning of the 4-H queen, a four-wheel drive pull and a karate exhibition. It will be topped by a performance at 8 p.m. of a rock band, Gary Ostrowski and Felix.

SENIOR CITIZENS Day is Tuesday with free admission from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. At 3 p.m. a seniors king and queen will be crowned and ribbons awarded to the oldest man, oldest woman, oldest with the most grandchildren, and the longest-married couple.

There'll be a horse shoe pitching contest, square dancing, blue grass music and barbershop singing by the Sweet Adelines.

It is a full week with a husband-calling contest, a waitress and waiter contest, clown competition, talent show, watermelon eating contest, dairy goat milking contest, rooster crowing contest and a frog jumping contest.

There is entertainment throughout the day, carnival rides and a band every night. For youngsters in the metropolitan area, it's the closest thing to an old-fashioned country fair most will ever see.

FOUR SEASONS Horse Club, a Plymouth 4-H club, will be at the west end of the center barn. Leader Kim McCarthy said they are easy to find because of the red, white and blue decorations.

His Suffolk lambs were purchased in the spring at a lamb auction in Monroe. With 400 lambs in the auction, he looked for stock with long rear legs, a straight back and a long body.

His lambs will go on the auction block Thursday evening and butchers look for good back legs when they bid.

Campbell also will have art work and other entries in the fair.

Poultry, rabbits, steers, hogs and market goats also will be auctioned to restaurateurs, meat markets and individuals.

JILL KIRCHGATTER, 16, and her sister Joy, 13, raised their own lambs

Sean Fitzgerald, left, and brother, Scott, show how much their Suffolk lambs have grown since spring. Kathy Gowan of the Tonquish Creek Garden club paloozas, POSE (pony of America, a small appaloosa) and a Shetland pony.

Members of the horse club are Kristi Trexler, Wendi Trexler, Michelle Yeu Casovic, Rachel Wilson, Brent Dominick, Sandie Howley, Kathy Oldenburg, Dawn Oliver, Heidi Medgan and Cheryl Stratton.

SCOTT AND SEAN Fitzgerald of the Plymouth Town and Country 4-H Club have their market lambs at the show Scott, 15, is a sophomore at Plymouth Salem High School, and Sean, 14, attends West Middle School.

Their sheep-raising project is sponsored by the Tonquish Creek branch of the Woman's National Farm & Garden Association. The club bought the Suffolk lambs in the spring and the Fitzgeralds were responsible for their feed and care. The lambs will be sold at the Thursday evening livestock auction and the club will be reimbursed.

The Fitzgerald brothers also will have a pair of turkeys at the fair. This was their first experience with turkeys and it turned out to be educational. The birds have earned a reputation of not being very bright. One of them was true to form — a real turkey. The other one decided he was half-human, according to LaFrenda Fitzpatrick, leader of her sons' 4-H group.

"He is terribly curious. One day he sat on the fence for 20 minutes watching city employees work on the street. He didn't get down until they left," she said.

DOUGLAS CAMPBELL, 15, will have market lambs at the fair. For the past three years, he has raised grand champions.

His Suffolk lambs were purchased in the spring at a lamb auction in Monroe. With 400 lambs in the auction, he looked for stock with long rear legs, a straight back and a long body.

His lambs will go on the auction block Thursday evening and butchers look for good back legs when they bid.

JILL KIRCHGATTER, 16, and her sister Joy, 13, raised their own lambs

Rabbits raised by 4-H Club members for the fair are prime attractions at the farmers market in Plymouth.

for the fair. Their four ewes each had a pair of twins — four males and four females. The mothers and lambs will be shown at the fair. At press time, the decision hadn't been made as to how many would be offered at the auction. The four males will be sold and perhaps one or more of the females.

Jill will be showing jams, a hand-made teddy bear, lemon meringue pie and almond coffee cake. Joy is making lemon bread and sour cream coffee cake. Both are entering needlework, flowers and vegetables.

The four ewes were sheared this spring and their wool processed in Frankenmuth. The two 4-H club members plan to make five comforters with the wool.

Four-H Club youths are busy people as a visit to their fair will reveal.

4-H Club goats chomp on corn husks as passersby pet them during a personal appearance in Plymouth. The goats will be on their way to fair in Belleville today.

Runners' hearts aren't immune

I, too, was shocked to read the recent newspaper headline, "Heart attack during running kills Jim Fixx, expert on jogging." He was only 52.

Fixx had transformed himself from an overweight, two-pack-a-day smoker to a lean, non-smoking, 10-mile-a-day distance runner. His best-selling "The Complete Book of Running" led thousands to take up running for fitness and heart health.

Although his father had died of a heart attack at 43, Fixx had not had even a routine medical examination for some time.

Perhaps he believed that his distance-running lifestyle would protect him from, or even immunize him to, heart disease.

THE POSSIBILITY of avoiding heart attacks by distance running was first raised almost 30 years ago, after an autopsy of famed marathon runner Charles DeMar, who died at 70 of cancer.

fitness Barry Franklin

The medical findings described his heart's arteries as two to three times the normal size with only minimal narrowing from fatty-cholesterol deposits.

In more recent times, Dr. Thomas Bassler, a pathologist and marathon runner, and the American Medical Joggers Association have taken the position that marathon running provides "absolute protection" against death due to heart disease.

Unfortunately, the medical literature and lay press have demonstrated the "exercise and immunity" theory to be incorrect.

While it is recognized that each year several cardiovascular deaths while running will occur merely by chance, there is unequivocal evidence that heart disease may occur in some distance runners. Indeed, the autopsy report on Jim Fixx revealed that he had died of a massive heart attack, and that three of his heart's main arteries were blocked.

NO LONGER can we ignore the fact that heart disease is now considered a complex multi-factorial disease. Genetics, environmental influences and lifestyle habits — know collectively as "risk factors" — probably all play a role. Some risk factors may still remain unidentified.

Certainly, few authorities would disagree that the distance runner's lifestyle — including regular exercise, abstinence from cigarette smoking and careful attention to diet and body weight — may provide partial protection against heart disease.

The ironic death of Jim Fixx emphasizes that modification of one risk factor, such as regular exercise, may not always provide absolute immunity against heart disease for everyone, even if accompanied by other lifestyle changes.

It's time to lay the "exercise and immunity" theory to rest.

Laser prints checks here

More than 200 companies in southeastern Michigan are among the first in the nation to receive payroll and payables checks which have been printed on a laser printing system.

"We have completely eliminated the need for pre-printed check forms," says Bill Morrison III, president of Accountants' Computer Services (ACS) at 41590 Joy, Plymouth.

"Our new process begins with blank check stock and ends with a negotiable check.

"The flexibility of the system allows us to produce a check and accompanying stub which is extremely easy to read.

"We even can sign the check during printing, by storing the authorized signature in the computer in a digitized form. Because we have the professional staff capable of using the advances in laser technology creatively, we can offer a unique product and maintain our prices at 1979 levels."

The service made its debut on July 23.

East puts muscle on West, 24-7

West Bloomfield's Todd Krumm returns this punt for 20 yards Saturday. Krumm was one of the defensive stalwarts for the East team in the annual Michigan High School All-Star Football Game. More stories and photos on the game will appear in Thursday's Observer & Eccentric.

An ugly dark cloud hovered over Spartan Stadium in East Lansing Saturday — well, actually there were two dark clouds.

One was a legitimate meteorological phenomenon — it was an overcast day. The other was a cloud of impending doom.

The fourth annual Michigan High School All-Star Football Classic, put on by the state high school coaches association, was played under those clouds Saturday.

It may be the last time the game is played.

"We just can't keep taking a loss on this game," said Dick Look, first vice-president of the coaches association.

THE GAME has never drawn many fans despite featuring a wealth of talent and some outstanding football. This year's encounter was the worst ever.

Exact figures weren't announced, but estimates were that far less than 5,000 people were in attendance.

The game cost more than $52,000 to stage. Even with sponsorship from McDonalds and other organizations, the 1984 game is doomed to incur a huge deficit — thus renewing the annual question: Will the game go on?

To the 80 players on the field, among them the very best high school gridirers in the state, the answer is simple — who cares about the attendance?

The players, as they have done for four years now, played their collective hearts out.

When it was all said and done, the East team, propelled by a large contingent of Observer & Eccentric area players, overwhelmed the West 24-7. The East has defeated the West in three of the four games.

DEFENSE, SPECIFICALLY the defensive line, was the difference in the game.

"Their defensive line just kicked our butts," said West offensive lineman Steve Mussio, who is 6-2, 205 — not an easy butt to kick.

Redford Catholic Central grad Mark Messner, bound for the University of Michigan, was the defensive player of the game for the East — just ask East head coach Chuck Skinner.

"I was very surprised they didn't throw the ball more than they did. But then, everytime they tried to throw, Messner and (Bud) Gereg were in their faces. Messner was just fantastic. He's going to be a fine player at U-M," said the Birmingham Seaholm coach.

The West offense, which featured the likes of Ypsilanti All-American tailback Eric Ball, was held to just 128 total yards. They mustered just 14 in the second half. Ball accounted for 61 of those yards on 11 carries.

The East, using a nice blend of runs and passes, totaled 286 yards.

THE EAST opened the scoring on its second possession of the day. Southfield-Lathrup's John Slazinski, a last-minute addition to the team, caught a 24-yard touchdown pass from Terry Andrysiak. Slazinski also had an 11-yard reception during the drive.

In the second quarter, the East went to its running game, going 54 yards in 11 plays scoring on quarterback Kevin Yarema's 2-yard sneak.

Chris Carney, from Bishop Foley, kicked both extra points and added a 29-yard field goal to put the East up 17-0.

The West got its only score, an 8-yard run by Joe Boik, at the close of the first half.

The West looked as if it may pull back into contention at the start of the second half. Dave Copp blocked an East punt, setting up a golden scoring chance for the West. Unfortunately, all-star rules prohibit the blocking of punts.

The West eventually pushed inside the East 30. Then Messner and Gereg took over. Two consecutive sacks pushed the West out of scoring range, then Messner stuck Ball on a third-and-47 play forcing a fumble.

The East recovered at the 29, and scored five plays later — a 4-yard run by Greg Loose.

TOM SPAHN from North Farmington and Todd Krumm from West Bloomfield played strong games defensively for the West. Krumm batted down two passes, had several tackles and ran back a punt 20 yards. Spahn had four tackles and a quarterback sack.

Bob Wasczenski, the fleet-footed Farmington Harrison, receiver caught one pass for 36 yards. He was wide open on virtually every pass route he took.

Bishop Borgess back Chuck Gregory ran the ball four times for 19 yards and Seaholm's Tim Jemal had two carries for 11 yards.

Matt Dingsen (Brother Rice), Bill Kupp (Lahser), and Steve McAnelly (Troy Athens) contributed strong line play for the East. Brian Tauber (Groves) helped out in the secondary.

Chuck Adams, Country Day tight end, didn't play because of a slight hamstring pull.

Adventurous racer gets shot at big-time

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Picture this: Young man goes to college, but quits after one year. He gets married and starts raising a family, which will grow to include five children in the next 12 years.

The man searches for a way to support his family. A friend suggests pro football. He tries it and nearly catches on, but is forced to quit when it is discovered he has a brain tumor.

Doctors operate, successfully. However, his dreams of playing pro football are forever dashed. He looks for a new occupation, and suddenly it comes to him: He'll turn his hobby into a full-time career.

His hobby is racing cars. Eight months after becoming a professional driver, he lands his first big ride: against the Richard Petty and Cale Yarboroughs on the Grand National Stock Car circuit.

WHAT A MOVIE that would make! If anyone would believe it, that is.

Except that fiction has little to do with this story. Jim Hull, only 32 years old, is living proof that truth can indeed be stranger than any fiction.

"I'm a very busy person, I really am," Hull said, trying to be convincing when there was no need to be. His life story provided all the proof that was necessary.

Hull, now living in Canton, graduated from West Bloomfield High School in 1970. He attended Ferris State, where he played football, but he dropped out after a year.

He was married in 1972 and began working for Custom Craft in Southgate. A friend noticed Hull's prowess in football and suggested, half in jest, that Hull try out for pro football.

Hull took the suggestion seriously. "I went to those 'Gong Show' type of tryouts," he said, getting invitations after "I wrote a lot of letters."

The St. Louis Cardinals were first to give him a shot in 1973. A 6-foot-3, 230-pound linebacker, Hull reached the final five (out of 350) before being cut.

NEXT CAME a chance with the Washington Redskins in 1974, and this time Hull said "I know I would have made it. They were looking for younger people in sports

players because all their linebackers were old." A brain tumor, and subsequent operation, intervened. Hull fully recovered, but doctors told him he'd best give up his dreams of playing football because of the "impact my skull would take."

That's when, as Hull explained it, "I put my total focus on a racing career."

Hull started racing go-karts soon after leaving college. Racing was in his blood: "My father (Ed Hull) engineered all of Ford's racing cars," he explained. He travelled the go-kart circuit throughout the country, recording his best finish at Talladega (Ala.) in April, 1978.

For the past two seasons, Hull raced his GT-1 Trans Am Firebird at Waterford Hills. He sold that car when he decided in January to pursue a professional racing career.

"I WANT TO be a professional driver," he said. "That's what I want to do."

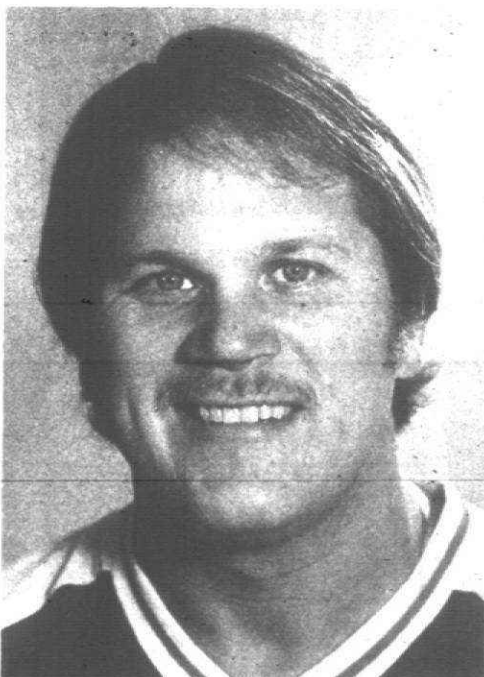

That may sound simple, but it's not. And yet Hull is not easily discouraged, apparent in his earlier ambitions. On the contrary, with his goal firmly established, Hull plunged in head first.

Before working his regular (48 hours a week) afternoon shift at the Chevrolet Tech Center, Hull starts early each morning with letters and follow-up phone calls to potential sponsors.

That, according to Hull, is the biggest stumbling block — finding a major sponsor. "It's been very, very difficult," he acknowledged. His wife, June, serves as his secretary, keeping correspondences with some 250 potential backers up-to-date.

Then, last week, Hull got an answer. Hanley Gray of Rome, Ga., signed Hull to drive his blue-and-white Chevy Monte Carlo in this weekend's Champion Spark Plug 400 at Michigan International Speedway.

It's the type of opportunity Hull has been searching for, but it carries no guarantee. He is signed for just the one race, and he'll need to impress a major sponsor if he is to continue driving this year.

THAT MEANS qualifying for the 40-car field, which Hull admitted "won't be easy. Fifty show up, so we'll have our work cut out for us."

He hasn't tested the car yet, and he won't get the chance until practice sessions Friday. After that, Hull plans to "take it a step at a time, like everything else I've done. First, I've got to make it through qualifying."

"I want to be consistent, and I want to finish (the race)."

The only worries Hull has concern all the people who have supported him. "There have been so many people behind me, I just don't want to disappoint them," he said.

The MIS race is the highlight of Hull's racing career "by far," but he's had letdowns in his life's ventures before. Should this chance turn sour, Hull will handle it.

"It'll be back to the letter-writing and phone calls and stuff like that," he said, smiling.

EMU back in the MAC

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

The ban's been canned. Eastern Michigan University, threatened with removal from the Mid-American Conference (MAC) by the council of presidents unless it dropped intercollegiate football, was reinstated Friday by a 10-0 vote of the same council.

The conference call vote was taken after Eastern received a rules interpretation from the NCAA regarding attendance requirements.

The MAC council of presidents issued its ultimatum to EMU after a July 16 vote calling for the school to either drop football or be expelled from the conference. That vote was spurred by Western Michigan University's announcement at a May 19 meeting that it might not be able to meet the NCAA attendance requirements for Division 1A football schools.

TO REMAIN in Division 1A, something the MAC presidents have said they are committed to, a majority of the conference's 10 universities had to meet the attendance requirements. Toledo, Miami of Ohio, Northern Illinois, Central Michigan, Bowling Green and Western met requirements last year.

A poor home schedule prompted Western to express doubt that it could meet the requirements for this season, which in turn resulted in the vote by MAC presidents July 16 to remain 1A by eliminating one member (Eastern) and making the majority five instead of six.

Eastern officials asked the NCAA for a rules interpretation concerning when attendance requirements must be met.

"I believe that, starting on May 19,

the council of presidents felt they had to take corrective action before the football season" to retain Division 1A status, said EMU provost Ronald Collins at Monday's Board of Regents.

THAT BELIEF was incorrect. Officials from the NCAA assured the MAC council that no reclassification action — dropping the MAC to Division 1AA — could be taken before September 1985. The NCAA will study attendance figures for the 1984 season in June, and the MAC can decide then what course to take.

"We are very pleased with this interpretation," said MAC commissioner Jim Lessig in a press release issued Friday, "as it will allow us to enter the 1984 season with all 10 members of the league competing for the Mid-American championship in football."

"The MAC is totally committed to Division 1A football now and in the future . . . we are hopeful that our attendance will allow at least six member institutions to meet Division 1A criteria this fall."

"Following the 1984 football season, we will continue to evaluate our position relative to Division 1A."

Friday's press release contained Lessig's first comments on the issue since the vote by MAC presidents. At Monday's meeting of the EMU Board of Regents, the decision was to retain football, but to also explore all avenues possible of remaining in the MAC.

2d distance classic Sunday

The second Plymouth Distance Classic — a mile and an 8K roadrace run through the streets of Plymouth — is set for Sunday, Aug. 12.

Last year's inaugural event, sponsored by Growth Works Inc. and Henry Ford Hospital's Plymouth Center, was a huge success attracting more than 500 runners.

Run organizer Mike Spitz, Canton High School track coach and a counselor at Growth Works, hopes this year's event will be an even greater success.

The one mile fun run will begin at 8 running a.m. The 8K (4.98 miles) will start at 8:30

Certification of the Plymouth 8K course is pending from the Athletic Congress.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION is already underway, and will continue through Aug. 6. Advance registration fee is $8 for the 8K and $5 for the fun run. All advanced registrants will receive a tank-top running shirt.

All proceeds go to Growth Works, a Plymouth social agency that provides counseling, alternative education and job training to area youth.

Completed entry forms and fees may be mailed to Growth Works, Plymouth Distance Classic, P.O. Box 115, Plymouth 48170.

For more information on these events, contact Spitz at 455-4095 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

120 sign up for golf tourney

The Colonial Kiwanis Club of Plymouth will host its second charity golf outing beginning at 9 a.m. this Friday at Hilltop Golf Course.

Last year's inaugural event was a huge success. This year's event promises to be even better.

"Right now we have 120 people registered," said Kiwanian Tom LaBau. "There is a 144-person maximum, and we feel we will hit the max. There are people who have said they were interested, but as of yet haven't committed."

Last year's outing attracted 100 golfers. Tickets for the event, available right up until tee time, are $75. The tickets take care of 18 holes of golf, breakfast, lunch, dinner, prizes and refreshments on the course.

The grand prize is a 1984 Pontiac Firebird furnished by Bob Jeannotte Pontiac. The car will be awarded to whoever scores an ace on the par-3 14th hole.

The sole purpose of the Kiwanis Club is to improve its community. Money earned from the tournament will go back into the Plymouth community.

Canton, RU Foss fly in Mack district

By Chris McCleary staff writer

The Redford Adray baseball league is being well represented in the Connie Mack District Playoffs thanks to its No. 1 and No. 2 teams.

Canton Elks, who swept through the Redford Adray regular season with a 19-1 record, won its first game in the Pontiac district, 12-6, over Wayne last Thursday.

Redford Union Don Foss, second to Canton, had a rougher time in the Flint district, but managed to survive its first two games. Foss beat tourney favorite Flint Grossi 4-1, then hammered Flint Hardware 17-3 on Thursday.

Both district tournaments were scheduled to conclude on Sunday. Complete results of the finals will appear in Thursday's Observer.

Canton, coached by Dave Racer, broke open a close game scoring 10 runs in the final three innings. Down 3-2 after four, Canton scored three in the fifth, five in the sixth and two in the seventh.

JOHN LONGRIDGE led the Canton attack with four hits (two of which were doubles) and two RBI. Dan Michaels added a pair of singles and three RBI.

Wayne, coached by Westland John Glenn coach Bill Hoenes, wasted an outstanding pitching performance by Glenn grad Don Wolfe. Wolfe, headed for Eastern Michigan University, yielded two runs in the first inning, but blanked them after that through the fourth.

In the fifth, he gave up a bunt hit to Longridge then a single to Jeff Wittner. Wittner's hit went through the center-fielder all the way to the fence. Both runs scored and Canton never looked back.

Wayne committed three more errors in the five-run sixth.

Canton left-hander John Rogers put in seven good innings of work. With his team down 3-2, he was touched for a lead-off triple by Glenn Belcher in the third. Belcher had hit a home run off baseball

Rogers in the first. Rogers, though, fanned the side-stranding Belcher in the third.

Rogers fanned eight on the day.

Canton was supposed to play again Friday, but the games were rained out.

RU DON FOSS, coached by Glenn Murdoch, got up to Flint in time to find out that two teams dropped out of the tourney, leaving just six. RU had to play two games on the first day, causing extra stress on the pitching staff.

Brian Porter, another EMU-bound hurler, fired a gem at Grossi beating them 4-1. He scattered seven hits in six innings. Rick Rozman, (yes, he's EMU-bound also), pitched the last inning to post a save.

Wilkins got the mercy-rule shortened victory.

Winners of the two districts will advance to the state finals in Marshall.

What makes a hometown newspaper a hometown newspaper?

Good coverage of local events is a big part of it. And attractive, informative advertising by area business people completes the printed image of a good hometown newspaper.

But the people behind the pages--the reporters, editors, sales staff, pressmen, artists, photographers, clerical staff, management, and carriers are also a great big part of what hometown newspapers are all about.

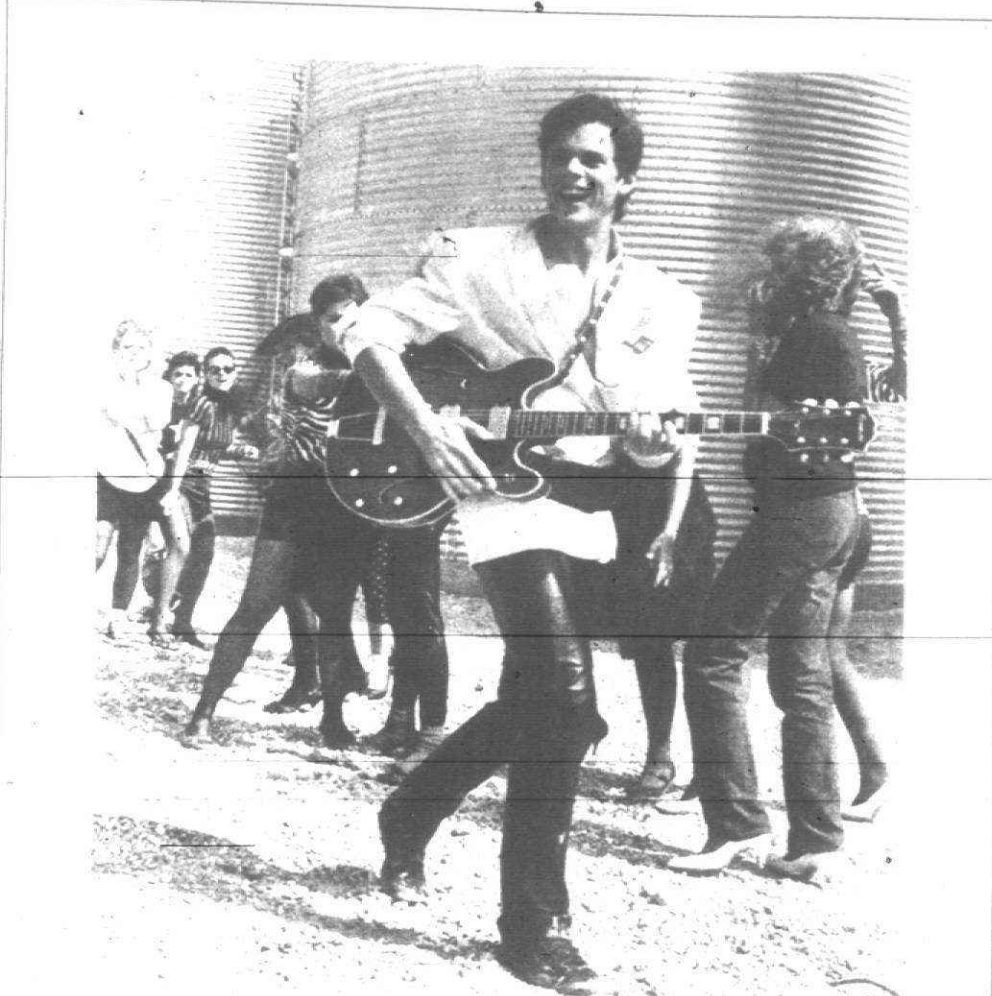

There is a saying in the newspaper business that everyone can do their job beautifully, but if the carrier doesn't lay the finished product on the doorstep, we might as well all go home.

We think our carriers do a great job of delivering the hometown news. That's why we recently treated them to a night at the Detroit Zoo complete with the Detroit Shriner units of Moslem Clowns and Highlanders.

Observer & Eccentric family night at the Zoo is always great fun and just one of the advantages of being a hometown newspaper carrier.

If you have an eleven to fourteen-year-old son or daughter who would like to join the Observer & Eccentric hometown newspaper family, give us a call, we'd like to make it possible.

Jamie Lee Curtis is Michele "Mike" Cody, owner and operator of Cody's Speedrome, her dead father's creation and the site of Grandview's demolition derby races. The Grandview Zoning Board is pressuring her to repair the Speedrome as the old facility is in violation of city codes. Mike is divorced from we-never-learn-whom, or why she married him in the first place, but she really loves the hero of the demolition derby, Ernie "Slam" Webster (Patrick Swayze), who is married to Candy (Jennifer Jason Leigh), who is constantly cheating on him.

DURING MOST of the film, the object of her kinky adultery is a sickeningly slick, washing-machine salesman, played with an embarrassed smirk by Troy Donahue. Ernie only married Candy because Mike had married that other, nameless guy. Got it? Good, I didn't. Things aren't much better on the other side of the tracks, and just to prove it, Mike shacks up with Tim Pearson (C. Thomas Howell) to prove how much she loves Ernie. This gives Ernie the excuse to get drunk because his first alibi, his wife was cheating on him, was wearing a little thin.

In case you were wondering, although I don't know why you would, Tim Pearson is the son of one of the town's first families, the high-school valedictorian, and a major college-scholarship winner. His father, Mr. Pearson (Ramon Bieri), the local real-estate king, lives in a nice old home (authentic location shooting in Pontiac, Ill.) and belches his way through life and dinner while Mother and sister Pearson (Camilla Hawk and Melissa Domke) struggle to achieve basic competency as weak stereotypes. They fail. As Tim Pearson meanders through the difficult process of growing up, he takes refuge in MTV dream sequences where, naturally, Mike Cody is all his to conquer with his guitar. Obviously Producers William Blaylock and Peter Rea ("Grandview" is their first production) and Director Randall Kleiser ("Grease" and "Blue Lagoon") wanted to ensure audience attention when interest in the soap-opera-plot complications waned.

THE OBVIOUS answer MTV. People will believe anything as a dream sequence and there's always an audience for music video. Screenwriter Ken Hixon ("Grandview" is the first of his five screenplays to be produced) deserves his share of the blame. The script is so weak in character and plot motivation that accomplished actors look foolish without significant reasons for the actions they take. The imagination pales at the thought of Hixon's other four scripts.

With few exceptions, the acting isn't much better. Bieri burps and belches in a weak performance. Why? The screenwriter thought an overweight man's stomach grumbings are humorous escapes me, even though they provide impetus for the plot to turn, however slowly. On the whole, Bieri looked and acted like Monte Clark playing a football coach.

John Philbin turns in a credible performance as the dimwitted "Cowboy," doing as much as possible with limited materials. William Windom appears as Uncle Bill Cody, a role small enough not to damage his acting reputation.

Curtis is an attractive and accomplished actress in a script that provides little for her talents. One moment she effectively portrays an independent, self-confident, accomplished woman and the next moment that characterization is destroyed as she goes all soft and gooey. Strong women don't degenerate into simpering, romantic blobs, typifying every offensive stereotype to which the feminists rightly object, because a high-school hero walks into the room.

Ray Villalobos' cinematography provides the film's only bright moments as he effectively captures the quality and atmosphere of small-town Midwest America. Unfortunately, that's not enough to save this film from itself and the audience from 100 boring minutes.
