FOREWORD

In this 1939 edition of the Master Numerical Parts Price List more than thirty thousand service replacement parts for Hudson-built cars, of current and earlier models, are identified by part number, price and name. Most of these parts are further identified by showing the car models on which they are used.

In form and arrangement this book is similar to the previous edition with which parts men are familiar. Prices shown are in all cases list prices, and except for "HA" items, are subject to regular Distributor and Dealer discounts.

A feature is the designation—by means of an asterisk (*) to the left of the part number—of those parts upon which price changes become effective with the publication of this book, and of which you have not previously been notified.

Many standard parts, such as bolts and nuts, are sold only in standard packages. These items are indicated by the package designation—"Pkg. 10-", "Pkg. 20", etc.—printed directly after the part number. In each of these cases the price shown applies to the package.

Space limitation necessitates the use of abbreviations wherever possible. On a succeeding page is a list of easily understood abbreviations, arranged in alphabetical order, which are used throughout the book.

In order to assist in identifying cars, a list of Chassis models from 1927 to the present is given on the next page. Name, model designation, wheelbase and starting serial number are shown.

This book is for your benefit in ordering parts. It is to our mutual advantage that prices be correct. Keep them up-to-date by making entries from the price change bulletins as you receive them.

PAINTED PARTS may in some cases be different for different car models, even though the part number is the same for both cars. This applies particularly to wheels, the difference being in the striping design. When ordering painted parts it is desirable to give the car serial number as well as the part number and color.

TRIMMED PARTS, such as upholstery panels, and seat cushions which are identical except for trim, usually carry the same part numbers regardless of the style of trim. In ordering trimmed parts, it is necessary to specify the trim material desired, also the serial number.
