

Daisy Worker On Job For 50 Years Today

ARTHUR BURDEN 50 years on the job. The picture was snapped in front of the Daisy plant a few days ago.

Arthur Burden Delights in His Long Service

Golden Anniversary of Steady Employment Finds Him on The Job

Today, Friday, May 3, is, indeed, an important day in the life of Arthur Burden, well known Plymouth resident. It was just 50 years ago this morning, when as a young man, his mother packed his lunch pail and he trudged off to the plant of the Daisy Manufacturing company where he had been given a job, the first steady job he had ever been offered—and a job that he has filled for one-half of a century with satisfaction to himself and the company that has employed him for all of these years. As far as known he is the only man in Michigan to have been employed on one job for such a long period.

How did he happen to get the job? That fact probably is almost as interesting as his half century of service with the Daisy plant. Mr. Burden and E. C. Hough, now vice president and treasurer of the Daisy company, were schoolmates together. Mr. Hough had a year or so previously secured a job at the Daisy testing office.

One day he confided to his schoolmate that he had been offered a place in the office of the company and that his job of testing air rifles was going to be open and he suggested to "Art" that he apply for it.

The 16-year-old lad hurried over to the office of the Daisy plant after school and asked if he could have the job that was going to be left vacant by the advancement of Mr. Hough into the office.

In those days they didn't have application blanks, social security numbers, health tests, employment records and all of those things which today make applying for a job a long and tedious and sometimes a very unsatisfactory procedure.

The "boss" looked at the young man, liked his appearance and told him to report for work the following morning—just one-half a century ago.

Enthusiastic over the fact that he had been given a steady job in the Daisy plant, he hurried home with his school books, told all of his young friends that he was going to work at the Daisy and thereupon started an employment record that has been, indeed, a most gratifying one.

During all of these years one of the most pleasant and satisfactory associations between employer and employee has been maintained. Never has his loyalty to the company or his enthusiasm ever lessened. He feels just as much a part of the company as does its highest officers.

He was born in Plymouth, March 20, 1874. Not only has he been a steady employee of the Daisy company, but during all of this time he has been regarded as one of Plymouth's substantial citizens.

His duty is to test every air gun made at the plant for accuracy and shooting strength. In the half century that has elapsed since he was given his job, he has seen many changes.

He has seen the plant expand from a small building to a large industrial complex. He has seen the company grow from a small business to a major manufacturer. He has seen the community around the plant develop and flourish.

He has seen the company's products become a household name. He has seen the company's reputation for quality and reliability spread across the country. He has seen the company's success and growth over the years.

He has seen the company's commitment to its employees and the community. He has seen the company's dedication to excellence and innovation. He has seen the company's leadership in its industry.

He has seen the company's impact on the local economy and the lives of its employees. He has seen the company's contribution to the community and the region. He has seen the company's legacy and the pride of its workers.

He has seen the company's future and the hope for the years ahead. He has seen the company's potential and the excitement of new challenges. He has seen the company's resilience and the strength of its foundation.

He has seen the company's success and the joy of a long and fulfilling career. He has seen the company's growth and the pride of a lifetime of service. He has seen the company's legacy and the honor of a well-earned reputation.

He has seen the company's future and the hope for the years ahead. He has seen the company's potential and the excitement of new challenges. He has seen the company's resilience and the strength of its foundation.

City Manager Tells Kiwanians About Finances

Points Out Changes During Past Ten-Year Period

City Manager C. H. Elliott was a guest at the Plymouth Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday evening and gave members a ten-year comparison of the cost of city government in Plymouth.

"I want you to feel that you are a stockholder in a five-million-dollar corporation," he declared in emphasizing the point that each individual in the city is a vital part of it. "Your corporation has two subsidiaries; one is worth one-half a million dollars, the water department, and it would probably cost more than that to replace it. The other is the cemetery."

The city manager then compared the 1930 and 1940 tax budgets. "The 1940 tax budget is more than $43,000 less than for ten years ago and represents a reduction of more than 40 percent," he said.

"The population has increased about 20 percent according to figures compiled by the postoffice department, Detroit Edison and Consumers Power companies. If unofficial reports from the census enumerators which have been working this city for the past month are correct, the increase will be much larger," Mr. Elliott continued.

Kiwanians were told that the per capita cost of city government, over the 10-year period, has been reduced from $24.49 to $10.88.

"Bonded indebtedness of the city has dropped from $546,310 in 1930 to the present all-time low of $124,000, yet the work in each department of city government has been greatly increased."

"Among the new services rendered residents of Plymouth during the past decade is the collection of garbage and rubbish," the speaker said. He also told of several others including those required by the state of Michigan.

"During the next decade, events will, without a doubt, mean more to residents than any period in the city's history. In 1950, the city will probably be completely out of debt, a grade separation will have been constructed and also a city library. It is possible from present indications that there will also be a city hospital and community building by that time."

Enthusiastic over the fact that he had been given a steady job in the Daisy plant, he hurried home with his school books, told all of his young friends that he was going to work at the Daisy and thereupon started an employment record that has been, indeed, a most gratifying one.

Plymouth Youth Amazes Editor

RUSSELL KIRK

Not only has Russell Kirk, of Plymouth, won a scholarship, but he has also won a bit of distinction as a writer. Booth newspapers throughout Michigan a few days ago published the following interesting bit of news about the Plymouth high school graduate who will this year complete his course at Michigan State college.

Russell Amos Kirk, Michigan State college student from Plymouth, got more than he hankered for when he submitted an article on Shakespearean and Sophoclean tragedies to a national magazine.

First of all, the editor of the college English magazine wrote Kirk, addressing him as professor and giving full assurance the literary opus would be published at an early date.

Kirk, who is a senior majoring in history, hastened to reply that he was not a professor.

"Quit kidding," he could a college senior compose such a brainy, pungent piece on Tragedy and the Moderns. You must at least be an instructor."

Kirk was forced to deny any right to that position, but what reactions his denial brought is a mystery. The latest issue of the magazine carries the article under Kirk's name. A footnote reads: "Mr. Kirk, who is instructor in history at Michigan State college, has for the last seven years been making a hobby of the study of Abyssinia."

Kirk will be graduated this June with a B plus average for four years of college work. He has been awarded a graduate scholarship at Duke University. He plans to work for a master's degree in history.

Census Takers Complete Report

Knowles-Gates Nuptials Spoken

A quiet wedding ceremony uniting Ruth C. Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Knowles, and Kenneth Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Gates, of this city, took place at 8:00 o'clock, Friday evening, April 26, in the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth with Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white organza with veil. She carried an arm bouquet of white sweet peas, carnations and violas. She was attended by her sister, Marjorie Knowles.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, David W. Gates and the ushers were Matthew McMillan and Wilbur Kincaid.

Guests numbering 75 were present from Detroit, Toledo and Plymouth.

The young couple, who are now at home at 9299 Hix road, Plymouth, have the best wishes of a host of friends.

School Presents Musical May 10

Bringing together all the musical organizations in the high school, for a public appearance, the annual Musical will be held this year, Friday evening, May 10, in the high school auditorium.

Each year, one evening is set aside to present to the public the music department in a program of varied selections. The program will include numbers by the band and orchestra, girls' octet, seventh grade group and the boys' and girls' glee clubs as well as a mixed chorus.

Several vocal and instrumental soloists are also to be featured. Residents of Plymouth and those localities served by the school system are especially urged to attend the program.

To Have Dental Clinic Here Again This Year

Superintendent Smith Announces Plans for 8-Week Service

Through the cooperation of the Children's Fund of Michigan and the Plymouth board of education, and sponsored by a committee of Plymouth residents, a children's dental clinic similar to the one in operation here last year, will again be available this summer.

Superintendent George A. Smith, of the Plymouth public schools this week.

Last year 300 children were given dental attention and as many or even more will receive the service this summer. The boys and girls will be designated by Mrs. Mary Straesen, public school nurse. They will be children of parents who are not able to afford regular dental services for them.

The clinic takes boys and girls through 15 years of age, but none from grades higher than the eighth.

Beginning July 20, the dental clinic will be in operation here for eight weeks, ending September 14. A dentist, supplies and equipment will be furnished by the Fund.

"The service given the children last year has made their school year happier and more profitable because they have not been annoyed by tooth difficulties," Superintendent Smith said.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the clinic here are as follows: Dr. B. E. Clampe, Mrs. Nellie Bird and Mrs. Jewell Bell; Starkweather school, Mrs. Jesse Hines, chairman, Mrs. Raymond Cavell; Mrs. Clark Sackett, and Mrs. Goddard Jackson; Central school, Mrs. Edna Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Hugh Law, Mrs. Roy Proctor and Mrs. Edward Klinski.

Kiwanians Extend Drive for Toys

Plymouth Kiwanians have extended their city-wide drive for new or used toys and magazines until tomorrow (Saturday) night, John Blyton, who is in charge of the movement announced this week. Several hundred toys and magazines have already been donated.

Members of the Kiwanis club are urged to bring their toys and magazines as soon as they get at their spring housecleaning.

The toys and magazines are being collected for use in the Crippled Children's wards at the University of Michigan hospital at Ann Arbor. These awards are maintained by Michigan Kiwanis clubs. At the present time, club members from the entire state are sponsoring a drive for articles to amuse the children.

Although so far as it is known, the Plymouth chapter is the only one in the state which is making the drive on a city-wide basis, all are giving a certain amount to the ward.

This week, and most of last, there has been on display at the big window at the front of Taylor and Blyton's department store, a small percentage of the toys which have been given by city residents. Also in the window are several photographs showing the children in the ward making use of the materials supplied by the Kiwanians. Examples of handicraft, art and needlework are also on display.

"We want every person who feels he is able to give some article for this worthy cause," Mr. Blyton said. "Many of you do not realize what these children are going through at the hospital, and each toy which you bring will do them a world of good in helping to pass away the long hours. Many of the youngsters are crippled for life, and confined to beds. Others can get around in wheel-chairs, while others are only able to sit up."

Each toy that we receive is certainly appreciated. If you have toys or magazines please call any member of the Kiwanis club or our store, telephone No. 44, and we will see that each article is "called for."

Mrs. John Kahl was hostess, Thursday, at a luncheon and afternoon of bridge, entertaining the members of the Jollyate club.

Dr. Paul W. Butz Killed In Automobile Crash

Russell Powell and Carl Caplin Also Badly Hurt in Accident Which Cost Two Lives and Injuries to Two Others

Dr. Paul W. Butz, prominent Plymouth physician and George deWald, a farmer living near Au Gres, were instantly killed, and four others, including Russell Powell and Carl Caplin, both of Plymouth, were injured late Wednesday afternoon in an automobile accident 16 miles northeast of Standish.

Dr. Butz and his two companions were returning home from a fishing trip to East Tawas when the accident happened. Witnesses told Sheriff John Johanneses, of Standish, that the deWald car in which were riding Henry Hess and Marvin Lyter, both of Au Gres, drove from a country road directly onto U. S. 23 without first stopping at the intersection.

Dr. Butz, who was driving a car belonging to Harold Underwood, of this city, crashed into the other machine with such terrific force that the deWald car was cut in two and its motor hurled down the highway for more than 75 feet.

Both Dr. Butz and deWald were instantly killed. The other two occupants of the deWald car were critically injured and are confined to a hospital in Omer.

Russell Powell was hurled against the front of the car with such terrific force that he was rendered unconscious. He was terribly cut and bruised about the head and both of his hands were bruised and cut by the impact. Fortunately, no bones were broken. The Butz car to the side of the road and the body of Dr. Butz was partly submerged in a foot of water in a highway drainage ditch. His neck had been broken and his skull crushed.

Caplin said that the car that came out from the side road appeared so suddenly on the highway that there was not even a chance for Dr. Butz to attempt to slacken the speed of his own machine.

The four injured people were taken to the hospital in Omer where their injuries were treated. Russell Powell will regain consciousness after removal to the hospital. He told the attending doctor that he didn't know what had happened.

The bodies of the two who were killed were removed to Standish where it was decided that no inquest into the accident would be necessary. The body of Dr. Butz was later brought to the Schrader Funeral home in Plymouth.

The two injured Plymouth residents came home early Thursday morning with Mr. Underwood and Mrs. Butz, her son, Jack, and Mrs. Caplin, who had gone to Omer.

Doctors have ordered that for a time no visitors be permitted to see Russell Powell until he has more fully recovered from the shock of the accident.

Carl Caplin will be able to be about in a few days. Dr. Butz came to Plymouth eleven years ago when he purchased the practice of Dr. R. E. Cooper, who had also been killed in an automobile accident.

He was born in Angola, Indiana, where his mother still resides. After completing his high school course in Angola, he entered Northwestern University where he graduated from the medical department. For some time he was associated with the medical staff of Harper hospital in Detroit, coming from that city to Plymouth.

He was a member of the Rotary club and a most enthusiastic outdoor sportsman, fishing being his chief delight. When the Western Wayne County Conservation club was organized he was most active in its affairs and was elected its first vice president, a position to which he was just recently re-elected. Some time ago he was named a director of the Michigan United Conservation clubs and was delegated the chairmanship of the bird propagation committee of that organization.

It had been his custom for many years to take the one day a week he spared from his practice to go fishing in some nearby lake or stream, and it was on his return from such a trip Wednesday night that he met his untimely death.

Mrs. Butz and son, Jack, a student in the Plymouth high school, were frequent companions with him on these fishing trips. Many times they have accompanied him on his Canadian fishing trips during the summer.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend Walter Nichol officiating. Services will also be held on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the White Chapel in Angola, Indiana; and interment will be made in Angola cemetery.

May Day Brings A Snow Storm! Rotarians Hear Detroit Speaker

Plymouth Rotarians were entertained last Friday noon by a talk given by John McMillan, of the Detroit Board of Commerce, an industrial department of the Detroit Board of Commerce. The speaker was brought to Plymouth under the direction of the club's community service committee of which Harry Lush is chairman.

Mr. McMillan devoted most of his talk to the subject of selling Detroit, which at the present time is one of the major programs of the Detroit Board of Commerce. He cited many instances of factories leaving Detroit in the last few years but stated that a recent survey had revealed that nearly seven times as many new firms had come into the city as had left.

The speaker told members of the local club that wages in Detroit and the metropolitan area were higher than in any other section of the country.

The Junior Contract Bridge club was entertained Thursday evening at the Hotel Mayflower by Mildred Barnes.

Ask City to Take Over Christmas Decorating

Suggest Flushing of Down Town City Streets Each Week

Members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce met for their first noon time meeting last Monday at the Hotel Mayflower. A committee composed of Fred D. Schirader, Irving Blunk and Walter Harms was appointed by President John Blyton to confer with city officials next Monday night on the problems of Christmas decorations and the cleaning of city streets.

Due to the fact that the commission is holding a public hearing next Monday night on the budget for the coming year it was suggested that provision be made in the budget for Christmas decorating expenses as is done in many other places.

Under the program for the last few years merchants were solicited for donations to help defray the expenses at the holiday period but last year the Chamber ran in the red about $150.00 due to the fact that many of the local business places failed to contribute. Under the new plan the city would undertake all the expense, which would eliminate solicitation and make the payment of the same fair to everyone.

Another problem which the same committee will take up with the city commission is that of cleaning the streets. Merchants suggest that streets should be cleaned and washed every Sunday morning and should be cleaned at least twice during the week.

The membership also suggested that the officials of the Chamber contact the city commission immediately and urge them to undertake steps at once to provide a parking lot in the rear of the stores on Penman avenue and Main street.

The city plan is to plant two more of the maples, one on the Holbrook side of the park, and the other on the Hardinberg side.

In the center the city plans to set out two Redwing crab bushes. At the Holbrook-Wilcox corner of the park there will be a plot of barberry bushes and another at the corner formed by the intersection of Wilcox and Hardinberg. At the other corner the plan calls for Pfitzer junipers.

Sixty-five Japanese barberry bushes will be planted in Central park in addition to two Washington hawthornes, one Cockspar tree, 16 Wintergreens, one Four Sugar maples, 41 spreading coleasters, 25 glossy Wintergreens, 29 Chinese junipers, six Pfitzer junipers, 11 Canada yew, two Upright Jay pines and 10 American elms.

Bids were taken for the articles to be planted last week from five different nurseries and the lowest responsible bidder was accepted.

City Workers Plan Extensive Beautification Project for Year

All Streets and Three Parks to Have More Shrubs, Trees

The second week in May an extensive city street and park beautification project will get under way. City Manager C. H. Elliott announced yesterday, Stanford L. Besse, city engineer is in direct charge of the work, and labor will be done by city employees.

According to a plan submitted to the city commission by the planning commission recently, upon suggestions made by T. Glenn Phillips, consulting landscape architect, 36 elm and 52 maple trees will be set out on the city street system, in addition to a general beautification in each of the three city parks.

The property which was dedicated to the city by Henry Ford last fall, according to the plan submitted, will be improved to a greater extent than the other two parks, Central and Kellough.

Ford Park, as the property is now called, is located in the triangle made by the intersection of Wilcox road, Holbrook and Hardinberg avenues. At the present time the park contains only two sugar maples which were set

City Officials to Push Development of Badly Needed Public Parking Place

City officials, Monday night, took another step in the direction of obtaining a downtown parking lot for the city of Plymouth when they met with the major property owners of the area to the rear of the business places on Penman avenue and Main street.

There are 13 property owners in that area which the city is attempting to obtain for the parking lot. Because it is felt by various business men's organizations that Plymouth definitely needs such a parking area somewhere in the downtown district, it has been requested that the city provide the parking area. Owners of the large plots of land in that area met with City Manager C. H. Elliott and other administrative officers Monday night to discuss the situation and tell what they would or would not do toward making it possible for the city to purchase the land.

The city manager said at the meeting, "This lot is for the good of the general public. Several organizations have requested that it be provided for and you must not think only of yourselves, but the residents of the city and other shoppers must be convenience as well."

Present indications are that a satisfactory agreement to all concerned will be obtained without the city having to start condemnation proceedings.

School Exhibit Thursday Evening

Announcement was made this week by George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth public schools, that the annual exhibit of school work done by Central grade and high school students will be held Thursday evening, May 9, from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock. Central grade exhibits will also be on display the following afternoon from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock.

Each year the schools exhibit examples of pupils' work so that parents and friends may see a sample of the boys' and girls' accomplishments in elementary and higher grades. Parents usually enjoy seeing just what their children are doing for class work. There is no charge whatsoever connected with the students' display of school work.

An announcement concerning the Starkweather grade school exhibit will be given in the Plymouth Mail at a later date.

Hal Wilson Home Has Been Sold

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Dodge, of Detroit, have purchased the Hal Wilson country residence on Ann Arbor Trail, two miles west of Plymouth and have moved into their new home. Mr. Dodge is Michigan representative of the Champion Spark Plug company and is well known among automobile manufacturers. The Wilson home was erected a few years ago and occupies a beautiful hill-top site overlooking a large section of the surrounding country. The new owners plan to landscape and beautify the three acres that surround the attractive bungalow atop the hill.

Team Sponsors Will Officially Open Ball Season

Schrader and Haggerty Take Important Parts in Opening Festivities

With John S. Haggerty pitching the first ball, and Fred D. Schrader on the receiving end of the battery, the official baseball season will get under way at Riverside park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The two men are sponsors of the Schrader-Haggerty baseball team, from Plymouth, which will play its first game in the Inter-county league with the Amazo team from Northville following the opening festivities. Bob Callahan, University of Detroit basketball star, will appear with the Amazo team. The Northville drum and bugle corps, led by Dr. G. K. Ashton, will have a vital part in the flag raising ceremonies, equally shared by members of the Myron

H. Beals post of the American Legion, from Plymouth. It is planned that the drum and bugle corps will give a concert in front of the bleachers for several minutes preceding the ceremonies. The two service organizations will march to the center field flag pole where the flag raising will take place.

Schrader-Haggerty team members will be decked out in new uniforms this year. They are of green and grey material. Caps and socks are green and the suits are light grey on which are green letters across the shirts. "Schrader-Haggerty."

Last week the team played an exhibition game with the Central Specialties, of Ypsilanti on the Riverside diamond and won in a lopsidedly played contest, 18-8. This was a non-league tilt. New men who were trying for positions on the team were tested. Many were dropped from the roster while some were retained for league play.

The Inter-county league schedule has now been made. Notice of Plymouth's team play will be announced weekly in The Plymouth Mail.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and two children, Jack and Larry, of Detroit, were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman L. Ball.

Albert Stover and nephew, William Duggin, of Bradford, Pennsylvania, were week-end guests of the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Livenood, of Los Angeles, California, spent a few days at the Hotel Mayflower this week while they visited old friends in Plymouth.

They were enroute to Quebec, Montreal and New York City and planned to visit his parents in Pennsylvania.

Central Leaguers Complete Week's Softball Play

1-0 Contest Features Opening Games of Season

The first week of play in the Central league softball tilts are now history. Each of the eight teams in the league were given an opportunity to display their hitting and fielding strength, but as nearly always happens, half of them came out on the small end of the scoring.

Teams representing the Plymouth Hardware and Super Shell played the first game Tuesday night with the Hardware dropping the match by one runner.

3-0 Wednesday night crowds saw Sutherland nose out Daisy, 1-0, in a pitchers' battle. Plymouth Plating annihilated Perfection 16-4 Thursday evening and Friday when dusk fell, Schrader had rocked Dunbar Davis' team asleep to the tune of 7-2.

Starkweather league play will begin their schedule Tuesday evening when a team from the Wall Wire company will meet one from the Lutheran church.

Wednesday, Stark will play Super Shell Farms and Studebaker Champions and Hi-Speed will vie for their first win of the season Thursday. Games begin at 6:30 o'clock at both diamonds.

Next week at the Central, spectators will see the following teams in combat: Tuesday, Sutherland vs. Perfection; Wednesday, Schrader vs. Daisy; Thursday, Dunbar Davis vs. Plymouth Hardware; and Friday, Super Shell vs. Plymouth Plating. Unpipers for these games will be furnished in order by Schrader, Plymouth Hardware, Super Shell and Sutherland.

Following is the first half of the season's schedule for Starkweather league:

First Week
Tuesday, April 30—Hi-Speed vs. Wall Wire; Wednesday, May 1—Lutheran church vs. Stark No. 2; Thursday, May 2—S. S. Farms vs. Studebaker Champs.

Second Week
Tuesday, May 7—Wall Wire vs. Lutheran church; Wednesday, May 8—Stark No. 2 vs. S. S. Farms; Thursday, May 9—Studebaker Champs vs. Hi-Speed.

Third Week
Tuesday, May 14—Lutheran church vs. Studebaker Champs; Wednesday, May 15—Stark No. 2 vs. Wall Wire; Thursday, May 16—S. S. Farms vs. Hi-Speed.

Fourth Week
Tuesday, May 21—Hi-Speed vs. Stark No. 2; Wednesday, May 22—Lutheran church vs. S. S. Farms; Thursday, May 23—Wall Wire vs. Studebaker Champs.

Fifth Week
Tuesday, May 28—Wall Wire vs. S. S. Farms; Wednesday, May 29—Lutheran church vs. Hi-Speed; Friday, May 31—Stark No. 2 vs. Studebaker Champs.

Sixth Week
Postponed games.

Plymouth Woman Attends Convention at Nation's Capitol

Mrs. Walter Patterson, of Farmer street, is in Washington, D. C. this week, attending a national convention of the Woman's Institute of Government.

She will hear talks by several members of the president's cabinet in addition to a speech by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. A tea at the White House is also scheduled for convention members.

On her return trip, Mrs. Patterson will visit many points of historical interest, among which will be the home of the first president of the United States, Mount Vernon, on the Potomac river in Virginia. She also plans to spend some time in New York and other eastern cities.

Mr. Patterson is employed at the Plymouth branch office of the Michigan state highway department as district requisition clerk. The Pattersons have lived in Plymouth about one and one-half years.

City Approves Permits for Two New Residences

Boosts Month's Total Building Activity to $73,274

Permits for two new houses and several re-siding jobs have been approved by the city during the past week, it was announced by city officials yesterday.

One of the new houses is to be located on South Mill street, and the other will be constructed in Pacific avenue.

The addition of the two houses and other improvements to homes in the city boosts the total announced for the month in last week's Mail to $73,274.00, and represents a $50,947.00 increase over last April's building in Plymouth.

A brick veneer house and garage will be built by Elmer J. Reddeman at 334 Arthur, for an estimated cost of $5,000. Another house and garage will be constructed at 382 Pacific, for $3,300.

Cloverdale creamery obtained a permit last month to improve its dairy store and plant to the extent of $1800. Several alterations were made and an addition erected at 26 Arthur street.

A new house permit was approved by the building inspector which is to be constructed at 1192 South Harvey street by Mrs. B. W. Fisher. It is to be a five-room brick house which will cost about $4,000.

Harry Lush, of Grandingham, of 1012 North Mill street, plans to re-side his home with asbestos shingles for an estimated $485.

Another new house is being constructed at 1227 West Maple by L. H. Goddard for $6500. It is to be a one and one-half story brick veneer.

G. A. Hartling was granted a permit to rough-in a $1,000-house at 519 North Harvey street. It will be a 44-by-28-foot structure.

The largest single construction for the month is that of Harry Lush's $40,000 theatre which is already under construction on Penniman avenue across from Kellogg park.

A $25 permit was issued to Orla Rooker, for the construction of a sign at his place of business at 760 Penniman avenue. At 905 Church street, Fred Rogers will repair both front and rear porches of his home. The repairs will amount to about $25.

Re-roofing his home with asphalt shingles, Howard Smith, of 1365 Sherman street, spent an estimated $220. Oral Rathbun will repair and alter his home at 668 Kellogg to the extent of an estimated $600.

Clarence C. Kincaid plans a $4,000 home at 481 Evergreen. It will be of brick and concrete construction. Ralph J. Lorenz is re-roofing his home at 1419 Sheridan for an estimated $150.

S. K. Freyman is constructing a house at 535 South Mill street and Joe Mault is re-siding his home at 911 Palmer for $255. Another re-siding job is being done on the home owned by O. W. Showers at 1112 Palmer for $154.

The Vernon-Pilgrim company, of Northville, is constructing a new house on Pacific avenue. As the specifications have not been submitted to city officials, the house cost cannot be stated. It will be of frame construction.

Three hundred dollars worth of repair work is being done to a home owned by Dave Tyler at 302 Roe street. The last permit issued this month was one to Ernest Guider who is re-siding his home at 502 Adams street.

Beaver pelt classifications, according to size, are: Blanket, 65 inches or more long; XL, 60 to 68 inches; large, 55 to 60 inches; large medium, 48 to 55 inches; medium, 45 to 48 inches; small, 35 to 45 inches; cubs, under 35 inches long. Early in the present season top prices were about $35, with the average price about $18.

Audience Greatly Appreciates Ypsi Symphony

Appears Thursday Under Auspices of Civic Music Committee

From the opening string pizzicato to the last sustained full chord by the entire ensemble, those who heard the Normal College Symphony orchestra when it appeared at the high school auditorium last Thursday night were delighted by the program. It cannot be said just which number featured the program or was most enjoyed by the audience as each was worked to such a degree of perfection, and executed with so much perfection, none seemed to over- or under-shadow another.

Probably the most credit goes to Marius Fossenkemper, dynamic director of the orchestra; first for the well-rounded program he conceived and secondly for the perfected pieces he put his young musical organization through. Not once was there a jagged start, interrupted pause or other imperfection. The tone quality and musicianship displayed were that of a professional orchestra.

It is doubtful if residents of Plymouth have ever before had the opportunity to enjoy a musical program such as this one right here in the city. The concert was sponsored by the Civic Music committee, headed by Miss Marion Beyer, who was assisted by Mrs. M. J. O'Connor, Mrs. Dora Hundorp, Edwin Campbell and Alfred Smith.

For its opening number on the program, the symphony played the overture, "Italians in Algeria," by Rossini. It was a fitting introduction for the group as during the number practically every section was brought out separately, making the audience acquainted with the various sections of the orchestra. It brought out the organization's fine soft qualities, displayed individualism and also had movements in which the entire ensemble worked together in perfect coordination.

Ravel's "Introduction and Allegro" followed the first number. It was for harp, string quartet, flute and clarinet. The orchestration began with a few bars for flute and clarinet, gradually built up by other sections joining in until reaching a point where one of the featured soloists, Mary Bartlett of Detroit, harpist, came in on a crescendo and took numerous cadenzas. Two violins, viola, flute, clarinet and harp were the instruments used in playing the number.

The composer Ochs was responsible for the next number on the program which met with great approval of the audience. It was "Humorous Variations on a German Folk Tune," having seven distinct movements, each in the manner of one of the following composers: Bach, with a background of sustained chords; Hayden in a quicker, more light movement; Mozart as only the great composer would have done it; Strauss in the style of his Viennese waltz; Verdi with operatic style; Gounod; and lastly in the traditional curtain-closing technique of Wagner.

Still bringing the music of another country to the audience, Director Fossenkemper and his orchestra next favored with "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" by Grieg. This was a lighter tune, containing numerous sprito dances.

The well-known Boccherini "Minuet" was followed by the "Dagger Dance" by the immortal Herbert. It is an Indian or savage dance with a predominance of tympani and tom-toms.

Emily Mutter Adams, violinist, was featured in the number, "Souvenir de Moscow," a sentimental Russian air by Wieniawski. The orchestration brought out all the fine musicianship of Mrs. Adams. Parts of it were emotional violin with symphonic backing; others suggested fast Cossack dances. The soloist was called back two times by the audience in recognition of its appreciation.

The last number on the regular program was "La Fete de Sevillo" by Tavan-Marchetti, in which there were five separate movements. First was the bolero, then sierra morana, jota, sevillanas and marche des toreros. It all suggested life in Old Mexico.

For an encore, the orchestra played the well-known "Gold and Silver Waltzes" by Lehar. Although the orchestra has 75 members of its personnel, only 40 are carried on road trips. The Plymouth audience was not conscious of the remaining 35 who were absent from the ranks, as the quality of musicianship was that of a much larger, professional organization.

Arch A. Mercey, assistant director, Film Service, Office of Education, Interior Department, testified to a congressional committee that some of the $331,000 allocated for relief funds to the Film Service had been spent for pay of per diem employees (not relievers) at $5 to $25 a day, besides traveling expenses.

A very lovely red and white kitchen shower was given Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rice, when Jacquelyn Schorf and Mrs. Lionel Coffin entertained in honor of Barbara Phillips, of Northville, a bride-elect. During the evening the guests enjoyed refreshments which were prepared by the hostesses, after which games were played. A buffet luncheon was served from a table covered with a bridal cloth in pink and blue and centered with a bowl of sweet peas. The guests other than Miss Phillips were: Helen Johnson, Betty Schrader, of Northville, Wollha Sella, Norma Coffin, Betty Korb, Mrs. Jack McAllister, Mrs. Harold Wagonschutz, Mrs. Don Schalle and Mrs. Wilbur Peitz. Each guest was presented with a package of pink and blue sweet peas. Miss Phillips received several useful gifts.

More than 100 ladies attended the card party and tea given Wednesday afternoon of last week, by the St. John's Episcopal Mission in the church house. A beautiful spring bouquet centered the tea table, which was covered with a lace cloth, and two ivory lighted tapers on either side. The committee was distinguished by corsages of pink sweet peas.

The Happy Helpers of the Lutheran church will have a potluck supper this (Friday) evening in the home of Mrs. George Bratcher on Wilcox road. At their last meeting held in the home of Hildur Carlson the members presented Sarah Gayde with a beautiful vase filled with flowers in appreciation of her services in Sunday school for the last several years.

Miss Amelia Gayde entertained at a family dinner party, Sunday, having as her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gayde, Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Miss Clara Wolff, Mrs. Fred Gantz, Sarah Gayde, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burnett, Marion and Robert Beyer, Mrs. Elizabeth Mowbray and daughter, Mary Lou, and Carl Hartwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joffile will be hosts Monday evening, to the members of their bridge club. The following will be guests: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bachelder, Mr. and Mrs. William Otwell, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Curtis, Dr. and Mrs. John C. McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Allison.

The Laf-a-Lot card club met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Horton on Forest avenue. Following a potluck supper the guests enjoyed playing cards. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nebard, of Brightmore, were present. On May 16 the same group will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sallow.

Mr. and Mrs. William Otwell will attend a dessert bridge, Monday, in the home of Mrs. J. G. White, in Ann Arbor.

NEWBURG METHODIST church. — Robert M. Trencny, minister. Morning worship is at 10:00 o'clock and is followed immediately by church school at 11:00. This Sunday the worship service is in charge of the Epworth League, William Lusch Jr., and Dorothy Bell will each preach a short sermon, and Velma Stokes will lead the worship. Each year the Epworth League conducts one service and, from past reports, they do a splendid piece of work. Everyone will want to be on hand this Sunday for this special service. The league will hold its regular Sunday meeting at 7:00 o'clock in the church and will take up the discussion postponed from last Sunday. A drama club is being formed in the church. If you are interested be sure to come to the first meeting, Monday night, at 7:30 in the parsonage. Choir practice will be held in the church on Thursday, May 9, at 7:15 p.m. Epworth Leaguers, don't forget the party tonight, Friday, May 3. It is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. in the home of Lava and Maxine Goslin on Halstead road, Northville. Be ready early for your drivers when they come to pick you up.

ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN church. John B. Forsyth, minister. Sunday, May 5, church school departments from primary upward will meet at 9:30 a.m. Morning worship will be at 11 o'clock, with a sermon by Mr. Forsyth on "Watching The Other Person Win." Christian Youth league will meet at 6:00 p.m., and all young people of high school age are cordially invited. The board of trustees will meet Thursday, May 2, in the minister's study at the church. The new choir for young people, now rehearsing under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd F. Nelson, has places for more boys in the bass section. Rehearsals are on Thursday evenings at 6:30, and any young people of high school age or older who are interested in singing are invited to attend. Church attendance for April has been most encouraging to the officers, and especially gratifying is the large number of young people attending the services.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00 p.m. The subject of "Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 5. The Golden Text (Proverbs 10: 29) is: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." Among the Bible citations in this passage (Galatians 6: 7, 8): "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Correlative passages to be read on the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 391): "It is error to suffer for aught but sin; sinners, Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed saviors, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases."

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL church. Lucia M. Stroh, minister. Divine worship, 10:30 a.m.; Sunday school session, 11:45 a.m. All are cordially invited. Don't forget the Central district council meeting at the Baptist tabernacle, 69 1/2 Oakland avenue, Pontiac, April 30-May 3. James Swanson, of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, will be the special speaker. 2 Chron. 30: 9B: The Lord your God is gracious and merciful and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Hardinberg, Lynn B. Stout, pastor. Why guess about the future? You will not have to, if you will take time out on Sunday night and come to the Bible class with studies in the book of Revelation. Remember that God has had this book recorded that you might be informed; if you are not informed, especially when there is a class being conducted, who is to blame? The coming of the Lord draweth nigh—James 5: 8. The men's fellowship meeting will be this Friday night at the Hensler home. Cars leave at the pastor's home at 7:15 p.m. Be sure and keep Sunday afternoon, June 2, open. Bulls Eye No. 68: The only kind of nakedness that God commands is the "naked truth."

Two Badly Hurt When Glider Goes Into a Spin

First Serious Accident Occurs at Gliderport

George Martin and Louis Partch, both 20 years old and residents of Detroit, who were critically injured Sunday at the Glider Airport one mile east of Plymouth, are believed to be recovering. Both are confined in Eloise hospital where they were taken following the 200-foot fall of their glider late Sunday afternoon.

Large numbers of Plymouth people were at the Gliderport when the accident happened.

Accurate details of the accident have been provided Plymouth Mail readers by "Skysailor," who writes a weekly review of the activities at the Gliderport for The Mail.

His interesting account follows: George Martin got into a lot of trouble Sunday, April 28, while flying the "Skysailor" glider. He had Louis Partch with him as passenger, both of them being students in Detroit. There was nothing wrong with the ship, apparently, and also nothing wrong with the weather.

George holds a private glider pilot's license. He has flown the LIT 2 Place a great deal and has been doing very well. He got into serious trouble, however, by flying too slow while making an approach along the edge of the field with 200 feet of altitude. While thus flying, the glider also started to turn to the left in toward the field. The ship immediately started to spin to the left.

Martin immediately recognized this spin and gave the ship a lot of warning. He could then easily have pushed forward on the control stick and thus have nosed down and had the ship spin again. But Martin never did push the stick forward more than about half way, as was evident to an experienced glider pilot who happened to get a very good view of the position of the elevators. (Horizontal hinged controls in the tail group.) As a result many pilots and spectators were obliged to watch the ship make approximately three turns of a well developed spin straight to the ground below the point at which George Martin started his turn at much too slow air speed.

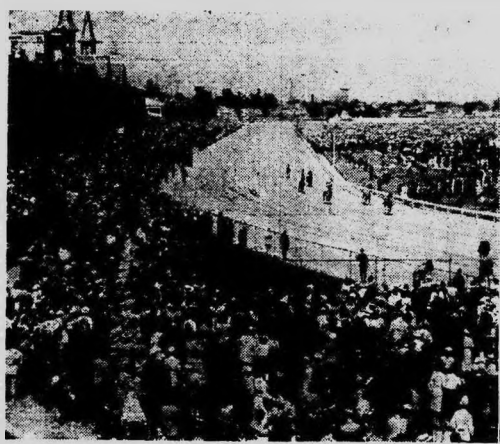

Both Martin and Partch were thrown forward violently when the ship stopped abruptly with its nose straight down and digging into the ground. Both suffered serious injury around the face. X-rays indicated Martin has skull fracture originating from the impact on his upper jaw, while Partch had his lower jaw bone broken. Both were in very serious condition, yet both may yet recover.

Randy Chapman made a flight of 45 minutes and reached 1,000 feet Sunday, April 21.

Saturday, April 2, Alcide Santilli made a flight of 26 minutes in the XYZ Franklin.

Sunday, Arthur Schultz made the longest flight of nine and a half minutes in the ABC Sailplane, but joined the Bean Patch club by failing to quite get back to the field. He made one more turn after all observers conceded he was too low to do it and just watched for him to land outside.

Churchill Downs Again Welcomes Kentucky Derby

Col. Matt Winn, right, 79-year-old promoter who has seen all 65 runnings of the famous Kentucky derby, will be on hand Saturday for this year's $75,000 added race.

Golf League Starts Monday

An 18-team golf league from Plymouth will begin play next week at Plymouth Hills Country club, located on West Ann Arbor road. It was announced by Casey Partridge, pro-manager of the course, following a meeting of league members Monday night.

The league will start Monday night, and continue on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. It was planned. A schedule is being arranged and will be distributed to team captains this week, Partridge said.

Twilight golf has been popular at the Hills for some years, but it was not until recently that a league of teams from Plymouth was organized to play three evenings a week at the club. Play will continue each week during the summer months. In connection with the league, Partridge sponsors numerous contests for golfers each weekend. He extends a cordial invitation to golf players from Plymouth and vicinity to come out to the sporty nine-hole course for a round of golf at any time. Partridge reports that it is in better condition this year than it has been for several seasons.

Lady Bowlers Have Banquet

Parkview Recreation lady bowlers had their first annual bowling banquet at the Hillside Barbecue Wednesday evening, April 24. Thirty-two members of the league were present in addition to one guest, Mrs. Hazel Cassell, secretary of the Ann Arbor Ladies' Bowling league.

Robert Tadd, manager of the Parkview Recreation, presented Jean Mining, captain of the winning Purity Market team, with a trophy, as recognition of the team's supremacy. Members of the team were presented with corsages of gardenias.

At the business meeting following the banquet, it was decided that the league will be sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress next year. Officers were elected as follows: President, Lillian Kiernan; vice president, Rosemary Lyker; and secretary-treasurer, Myrtle Henri.

Firemen Extinguish Fire in Hough Woods

Plymouth firemen were called to the Hough Woods Saturday afternoon, about 3:00 o'clock to assist in putting out a grass fire which was out of control. The blaze was extinguished in 15 minutes. No particular damage was reported. The cause of the fire is not definitely determined but it is believed that it spread from a bonfire which had been set by children.

Plymouth Man Awarded Trip

As recognition of his 13 years of service, W. C. Smith, of South Harvey street, spent last week as a guest of the W. T. Rawleigh company, at Freeport, Illinois.

A guide was provided and Mr. Smith was shown through the large factory. It was interesting for him to see the transformation of raw material to the finished product by their up-to-date machinery.

Another interesting part of his visit was the tour provided for him through the Rawleigh museum. There he saw their large collection of oil paintings, statuary and relics. He also visited the company's farms which cover an area of 940 acres. On the farms, all types of thoroughbred stock are raised.

The company and associates provided entertainment, all of which convinced Mr. Smith that the trip was one which will be remembered for the rest of his life.

Rotarians Attend Conference

President-elect Glenn M. Jewell of the Plymouth Rotary club, with Mrs. Jewell, attended the district conference of Rotary clubs held at Dearborn Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Others from Plymouth who attended were Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eaton, Charles H. Bennett and Russell Daane.

Dearborn Rotarians proved themselves real hosts to nearly a thousand Rotarians from eastern Michigan and western Canada. In fact, many Rotarians who have attended most annual conferences of the club state that the Dearborn meeting was one of the best arranged they had ever had the pleasure to attend.

Townsendites to Hear Detroit Representative

A Detroit, J. F. Winneur, will be a guest of Plymouth Townsendites real hosts to nearly a thousand Townsendites representative for Indiana and Kentucky. He will be in a song-fest.

Mr. Winneur has been working in Indiana with B. J. Brown, national Townsendite representative for Indiana and Kentucky. He will leave for Kentucky in the near future to continue his work for the organization.

The weekly Flash of Townsend progress in Washington, D. C., will be read giving advance notice of club news. The public is welcome at all Townsend club meetings.

MICHIGAN, MICHIGAN

and radiating heat. . . . In January, the mean temperature of the land sinks to 19 degrees, while that of the water does not, probably, fall below 40 degrees. The atmosphere in contact with the water must partake, to some extent, of the temperature of the water, and, when moving from the water to the land, must transfer to the land some portion of the heat or cold proper to the lake. The effect is a tendency to equalize the land temperatures in summer and winter. This tendency is most distinctly felt in case of extreme weather. On occasion of our coldest weather, the wind blows generally from the southwest, and, passing diagonally from Lake Michigan for a distance of 100 to 200 miles, must necessarily experience a great degree of amelioration. . . . The foregoing generalizations from the numerical data of the science of meteorology are abundantly confirmed by the results of the efforts made during a few years past to introduce the cultivation of peaches, grapes, and other fruits along the entire belt from St. Joseph to Grand Traverse bay. These results are so much a success that it is now generally acknowledged that scarcely a superior fruit-producing region exists within the United States."

Shell Bowlers Win in Both Parkview Leagues

Two teams representing the Lorenz & Ash Shell service station, won in their respective divisions of the Parkview Recreation bowling league which had

THIS clever electric cooker makes entertaining easy . . . particularly those smart buffet parties that are always popular. You can prepare and serve food right at the table, with a minimum of time and effort. And for very large parties, the cooker can be used as an extra oven, to supplement your regular stove.

An electric cooker roasts, bakes, stews. This talented electrical servant is more than simply a roaster: it will perform every cooking operation possible on a large stove. You will use it often in preference to your stove.

Plugs into any convenience outlet. The cooker can be used anywhere there is a convenience outlet—in the dining room, the kitchen, on the porch, at a summer cottage. And it is fine for picnics . . . you can carry it with you in the car, and it will keep food warm for hours.

30,000 OF YOUR NEIGHBORS now use these electric cookers. See them on display—in many different sizes and models—in furniture and department stores, hardware stores, electric appliance dealers and all Detroit Edison offices. The Detroit Edison Company its final games last week. One team was in the Red Division, the other played with teams in the Blue Division. Each team was presented with a trophy signifying team supremacy. Members of the team competing in the Red Division were Walter E. Ash, sponsor; Gar Evans, captain; Carl Ash, Carl Zarr, Edward Guebel and John Garco. The Blue Division winners were Ralph J. Lorenz, sponsor; Russell Ruddick, captain; Lornie LeFever, Earl Chappel, Ronald Lyke and Chester Dieks.

William Streng was in Detroit Tuesday to attend the funeral of his cousin, George Streng.

IN MEMORIAM
 In loving memory of our dear father, William Salow, who passed away nine years ago, on
 May 3.
 Of and off our thoughts wander
 To the grave not far away,
 Where they laid our dear father.
 Just nine years ago today.
 Sadly missed by his
 dear children.

IN MEMORIAM
 In loving memory of Mrs. Ernest Frank, who passed away nine years ago, May 3.
 A loving one from us has gone.
 A voice we loved is still.
 A place is vacant in our home,
 Which never can be filled.
 Sleep on, dear Mother, and take thy rest.
 God called you home when He thought best.
 Sadly missed by her husband and children.

IN MEMORIAM
 In treasured memory of Frederick R. Spurr, beloved husband, who passed away one year ago,
 May 2, 1939.
 It is sweet to remember a husband so dear,
 Though absent from me he is ever so near.
 Unseen by the world he stands
 by my side
 And whispers, "My loved one,
 death cannot divide."
 Lovingly remembered by his wife, Clara.

Over 200 Attend Church Luncheon

Over 200 ladies were present at the annual Methodist birthday luncheon held Wednesday at the church, the affair being probably the largest and most successful ever conducted by the ladies' organization.

Especially attractive were the table decorations. Mrs. Fred Thomas, general chairman, was very ably assisted by Mrs. Kroyon and Mrs. Penhale in the kitchen; Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. Harry Mummy in the lower kitchen; Mrs. Manna Blunk and Mrs. Harry Terry in the dining room; Mrs. S. S. Closson, as program chairman; Mrs. William Squires, as ticket chairman; Mrs. Elyton and Mrs. Miller Ross, in charge of publicity; and Miss Florence Slader, chairman of the posters.

The program consisted of a group of spring readings, charmingly given by Mrs. Marian Teft Freeman and music furnished by a quartet of talented violinists from Hartland, Michigan. Miss Anne Ray and Miss Ardis Curtis each sang a solo. The girls of the Methodist junior choir sang two numbers. Six quaintly garbed little girls, led by Marianne Witter, danced before the May Queen, and then crowned her in the presence of her pages and court attendants. The queen, Margaret Ann Burr, her court attendants, Betty Bowden, Caroline Hill, Janice Closson, and Beverly Ross, and the two pages, Elmer Huston and Charles Hanlon, quite enchanted the audience. The musical accompaniment for the May Queen scene was played by Mrs. Inez Curtis Locke.

All the chairmen feel the success of the luncheon was largely due to excellent assistance and cooperation they received from all their helpers. Mrs. Closson especially wishes to extend thanks to Mrs. Batenan, Mrs. Dickes, Mrs. O'Conner and Mrs. Witter for their valuable help in preparing and presenting the program.

Daisy Worker on Job 50 Years

has tested over ten million air rifles and fired more than 50,000 shots. The number of shots he has used in testing these air rifles represents more than 165 tons of lead. If the shots could be placed side by side, they would make a straight line more than 500 miles long.

Interesting, too, is the fact that there are three generations of the Burden family now working in the testing room of the Daisy. Frank and Lester Burden, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burden, have for many years been employed with their father in the testing department. Not so long ago a grandson, Edward Burden, also went to work in the Daisy plant that has been so much a part of the life of the grandfather during all of these interesting years. He and his sons test on an average of more than 2,000 air rifles per day.

Is he going to retire? Not as long as the wheels of the Daisy plant keep turning and the company keeps producing air rifles, he declares. "He is just as 'peppy' as he was in the days when he first went to work for the Daisy and his mind is as keenly alert as it was 50 years ago. During this half century of service with the Daisy he has lost only three days of steady employment due to illness, and his health is regarded as perfect.

When he first went to work for the Daisy the entire payroll of the plant was just 35. Today it numbers more than 300.

That is a record of employment any man and any company can well be proud to claim. All of Plymouth extends congratulations to him upon this golden anniversary of such an ideal service record.

NYLON STOCKINGS TO BE ON MARKET SOON

THOSE spider-webby stockings made basically from coal, water and air—du Pont's nylon—about which there has been so much talk during the past year, will reach the retail stores of the country probably in May.

The hosiery, the latest application of this achievement of industrial chemistry, will be available at first in light sheer weight. Nylon hosiery will be in the high-quality group comparable to the finest hosiery now on the market. To prevent any possible confusion, the word "nylon" as well as the brand name of the hosiery manufacturer will be plainly marked on every pair of the stockings.

as long as other high quality hose of the same weight. Erroneous statements have been printed that nylon stockings will not snag or "run." Nylon threads are stronger and more elastic than any other hosiery fiber and therefore more resistant to breakage, but if the snag is sufficient to cause a thread to break, a "run" will result. As in the case of any fine hosiery, reasonable care should be taken to avoid contact between the hosiery and rough surfaces that might cause a snag.

Best, Most Used, Lowest in Cost

America's telephone service gives such good value that it is the most used telephone service in the world. This is the direct result of a long-established Bell System policy that strives to make the telephone of constantly increasing usefulness to a constantly increasing public. No factor in this growth is more important than the "spirit of service" prevailing among telephone workers... trained men and women who feel that it is their personal responsibility to serve the public well.

Plymouth Country Club Now Open

William Rambo, manager out at the Plymouth country club, located on North Territorial road, announces that the golf course is in fine shape and has been opened to the public.

Guests at the sporty eighteen-hole course for the first time this year noticed a great many changes that have taken place during the past winter months. The clubhouse has been renovated and is now under the management of Walter Graves. This season among other things, full-course dinners will be featured, including chicken, steaks and tenderloin steak sandwiches as specialties.

Another feature is that table service is to replace counter service. Last year only counter service was available.

Of log cabin architecture, furnished throughout in natural wood rustic furniture and situated in one of the most scenic spots in Southeastern Michigan.

the Plymouth Country club is an ideal place to bring the family and friends for an enjoyable round of golf and dinner.

It was announced that kicker and sweepstake tournaments will take place every Saturday and Sunday. Inter-club matches are to be arranged and also a spring handicap tournament which is to start May 25, are also in the offing. Bill Fisher is pro at the club this year.

Manager Rambo requests that golfers turn in three cards so as to establish their playing handicaps. The cards must be submitted before the May 25 tournament.

Youths Bag Big Hawk

While hunting for crows Sunday morning in Bennett's woods, west of the city, two Plymouth boys shot a chicken hawk. They were Melvin Krumm and Harold Stevens.

The boys brought the hawk back to town but did not realize how big it was until they measured its wingspread which was 42 inches from tip to tip.

Because it is one of the largest hawks ever shot in this locality, the boys plan to mount it. They will do the work themselves.

Miss America to Attend Blossom Festival in St. Joe-Benton Harbor

America's most beautiful girl will crown the Queen of Blossom Land during Blossom week at St. Joseph and Benton Harbor on Tuesday, May 7.

All highways from Plymouth will lead directly to the Twin Cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph the week of May 5 to 12 when the eighteenth annual Blossom Festival will be in full swing.

More than a half million visitors are expected again this year, states 1940 Festival Chairman Malcolm Starko, in a statement he made a few days ago for the newspapers. "Everything will be ready on opening day for what we plan to make the greatest celebration in the history of Blossomland."

"Southwestern Michigan's millions of peach, pear, plum, apple, and cherry trees will be in full blooming splendor, and the entire countryside will be air conditioned by their exotic fragrance. It will be all yours to enjoy."

A score of communities have been busy arranging a week's program filled with theatrical events, pageantry and parades, all working towards the climax—the event of events—the nationally famous Blossom Parade, on Saturday afternoon, May 11, at 1:30 o'clock.

Last year's parade was five miles long. It featured bands and drum corps, large and beautiful floral floats and many novelties.

Ranking among America's leading parade spectacles, the annual Blossom procession attracts visitors from nearly every state in the Union.

Heralding the coming of spring and luscious crops of fruit in summertime, the entire week of May 5 to 12 is given over to celebrating the treasures of one of the nation's richest agricultural districts. Everywhere in southwestern Michigan, farmers and city folks alike are in gay mood when the trees are in bloom.

The Blossom Festival is southwestern Michigan's way of telling the world how grand it is to be alive in such a paradise of natural beauty.

"This is your party," announces Harry Harris, publicity director of Blossom Week.

Home With Boost for California

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Ayers have returned to their home in Plymouth after spending the winter at Santa Monica, California. It required but a trifle over five days to make the trip from the Pacific coast to this place, he states.

"We followed U. S. highway 66 all the way from Los Angeles to Santa Monica. It is a wonderful highway and as a result of a cut-off that has been built between Albuquerque, New Mexico and Oklahoma City I think it is probably the shortest way now," said Mr. Ayers yesterday.

"California is good in California, especially for Los Angeles and Santa Monica. The airplane factories there are the busiest places in the West. One big factory has over 15,000 men employed. Most of their planes are being produced for foreign war service," he added.

"California enjoyed an excellent winter tourist business, more easterners being there than ever before it seemed to me. We escaped all of the unfavorable weather that seemed to prevail throughout the South and enjoyed one of the most pleasant winters we have ever experienced but on the cost."

Mr. Ayers is most appreciative of a letter signed by every member of the Santa Monica Rotary club and presented to him just before he left for home. While in Plymouth he is one of the most active of club members in behalf of its various projects. During his winter visits in California he maintains his membership standing by attending the Santa Monica club, where he has made a host of friends.

A New Deal film, "The Fight for Life," cost $150,000, according to the testimony of Assistant Director Aron A. Mercey, U. S. Film Service. But an itemized statement revealed that the film cost $172,000, which was taken out of relief funds. Seven professional actors were hired to take the principal parts.

Gene Orndorff Writes From "The South"

"Down here in Ohio seeing the sights around Black Hand Gorge and other places. Budget is way out of balance, but who cares when some one else has to pay for my joy ride," wrote Robert Lee Gene Orndorff to Fred D. Schrader the other day.

The postcard Mr. Schrader was the first news that Plymouth residents had of the whereabouts of the hustling Plymouth township Democrat. He is believed to be heading for the hills of Kentucky from which he originated way back in the days when carpet-baggers were moving from the north to the south. Gene has always said he came north because they went south.

Recover Stolen Car Friday

Car owners are again warned by Police Chief V. R. Smith not to leave keys in parked automobiles.

A car owned by Robert Lidgard, local Kroger store manager, was stolen from Main street, near Penniman avenue, Thursday evening at about 6:35 o'clock. Mr. Lidgard reported the theft to Plymouth police officers who immediately put it on the Wayne county sheriff's teletype. A description was soon in the hands of every police chief and precinct station in the county and the search for the missing automobile was on.

Friday night Mr. Lidgard's car was found abandoned on a railroad track in Detroit. It had been driven on the tracks for a distance, damaged somewhat and the radio stolen. Detroit police informed Chief Smith of the recovery and Mr. Lidgard called for his auto Saturday morning.

Chief Smith said Saturday that this instance was just another glaring example of "no matter how much faith we have in the people, we can never be sure about the fellow down the block."

As the theft occurred in broad daylight, the chief said, none of us can be too cautious about inviting trouble. "Evidently those who stole Mr. Lidgard's car were in the business for the money. Not all cases are like that. Often times automobiles are stolen by persons who just want a joy-ride."

"Again I plead with residents of this city to lock the automobile ignition, if not the doors, when leaving their car parked not only on the streets, but also in garages. There is no percentage in inviting trouble which will involve dollars and cents to every owner whose car is stolen," Chief Smith said.

Only those who have the patience to do simple things perfectly ever acquire the skill to do difficult things easily.—Schiller.

Nonagenarian Makes Home Here

Mrs. Susan Lennox, the 90-year-old mother of Mr. and Mrs. John Lennox, of Joy street, has chosen Plymouth as the city in which she wants to live for the remainder of her life.

The nonagenarian previously lived in Buckley, Michigan, but Mr. Lennox received a letter from her a few days ago asking if she could come to live with him. Mr. Lennox drove to Buckley last week and brought her back. He said she stood the 369-mile drive exceptionally well.

Mrs. Lennox is in fine health and has a wonderful memory. She lived in Plymouth about 15 years ago. Born in Canada, she is now a naturalized citizen of this country and enjoys her work in the garden among the flowers and birds which she loves.

Friday, April 26, Stella Phillips was on her way to Plymouth high school to compete in the district spelling bee. Marjorie Stokes, Madeline Simpson, Lois Traine, French and Margaret Jenkins went along to watch, but all had our fingers crossed, but one of us must have opened them while Stella was spelling "pulleys" because she misspelled it. But we all feel she did her best and that what counts. The next word pronounced became the winning word.

At the meeting of the P. T. A. on Wednesday evening the new officers for the ensuing year were installed by Rev. John Forsyth. Mrs. Ralph E. Baker, president, gave a splendid report of the recent state meeting in Lansing and Rev. Forsyth gave a very interesting talk on the program planned by the teachers. Annual reports were also given at this time.

The Parent Educational class under the leadership of Mrs. Mallory, held its first meeting on Thursday afternoon of last week in the Presbyterian church. It proved most interesting and was well attended. Nursery facilities have been arranged for during the class from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Ralph Baker, chairman; Mrs. Lillian Hedden, secretary; Mrs. E. W. Price, librarian and Mrs. Watt Graham was placed in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill Thurston and son, Mack, of Rosedale Park were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Baker in their home on Hubbard avenue.

Mrs. H. H. Shierk entertained a foursome at a luncheon bridge, Tuesday, in her home on Ingram avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Burton and son, Winston, were supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Thomson of Freeland avenue, in Detroit.

The month of May is to be a busy one for the members of the Rosedale Garden branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden group if they participate in the state and national, national, planned. On May 7, the local group will have its regular meeting with Mrs. John Perkins, 11414 Cranston avenue, when they will have the pleasure of meeting Miss Georgia Haerr of the Monroe Nurseries and enjoy the rustic lecture on "Perennials," which she will provide.

On the evening of May 10, a conservation award program will be held in cooperation with the Civic association; the state annual meeting will be held on the 14th and 15th at the Hotel Olds in Lansing; the national annual meeting will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania, May 22-24 inclusive. May 18-19 the Detroit Garden Center will sponsor a Garden Pilgrimage through gardens in Grosse Pointe.

Registration for the state meeting must be made with Mrs. Maurice Baker, 225 West Grand River, East Lansing, while the registration for the New York meeting must be made, by May 19, with Mrs. Whitney Merrill at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDowell were guests, Thursday and Friday, last week, of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dubbison, in Grand Haven, and attended a banquet on Thursday evening when Mr. McDowell gave a talk on "You."

What will you be doing Saturday evening, May 11? If you have nothing planned, why don't you come over to Stark school? The P.T.A. and the Ladies Auxiliary are going to put on a card party. There will be dancing during the evening. Due to the fact that there has been complaints against children attending the card parties without their parents, only children, who are over 16 years of age will be admitted without their parents. All children under 16 must be accompanied by their parents. If you would like to see the children of Stark school have a picnic this year, please attend this party as the proceeds will go for this cause.

Friday night, April 26, was a gala night for the seventh and eighth graders, also their high school friends.

There was music played first, then came dancing, after that came the real fun, we played a game called "Guess." One person would go out of the room and then came the comments, and from what was said, this game was well played.

The social starts at 7:00 p.m. and is full of fun until 9:00 p.m. Won't you come?

For the month of April the following list of names are the children from Mr. Rossmann's room that have had a perfect attendance. These are: Margaret Jenkins, Marjorie Stokes, Geraldine Savage, Pearlina Erwin, Emma Seales, Albert Ziegler, Robert Snyder, Lloyd Newton, Keith McKinney, Richard Hoffman, Fred Byrd, Clifford Waack, Jack Henry, and Robert Grimm. Marjorie Stokes.

The girls defeated Cady school Tuesday, April 25, in a ball game. They played two and a half innings when it began to rain. Both teams continued to finish the last half of the third inning, leaving the score 10-11 in favor of Stark.

Both teams put up a good ball game.

The May Festival will be held on Tuesday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne County Training school. The pupils are supposed to be there at 7:15 p.m. These are the songs the little folks will sing: "The Slumber Boat," "The Wooden Shoe Dance," "On a Rainy Day," "The Spinning Mice," "French Market Song," "The Kite," "The Little Elf," and "The May Queen."

The older folks will sing the following: "When Puppies Close Their Eyes," "The Fisher Maiden," "Fair Lord Jesus," "Sunday Naples," "Angeline," "Bald Song," "The Serenade," "The Pipes of Galway," "Whistle," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

The dances for the second and third grades are: "A-Hunting We Will Go," "Swiss May Dance," "The Gallant Sir," and "The Danish Dance." For the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are: "Csboguar," "Holka Madrolka," "The Crested Hen," and "The Dutch Dance." For grades six, seven and eight, the dances are: "Little Brown Jug," "Minuet," "Heel and Toe Polka," and "Karnatka."

Miss Hoersch will be there and she hopes you will all enjoy yourselves.

Wednesday, April 24, was a very exciting day for the girls of both Stark and Rosedale, the seven-inning game started at 3:35 p.m. The game went along fine until the last time Stark was at bat; the score was 9-9 and there were two outs and two persons on base when Wilma Burdick, our pitcher, was up to bat; she hit a home run. Later the team returned to the field with the score being 12-9 in favor of Stark.

Our pitcher, Carolyn Leurek, struck out the first three batters and Stark won. Mr. McKinney umpired.

Gardine Savage also hit two home runs.

The game was very exciting.

Wednesday, April 24, Stark lost their first game to Rosedale on account of the third baseman, who let two runs in. The winning score was 2-1 in favor of Rosedale.

Former Manager Gets New Job

Perry Cookingham, formerly city manager of Plymouth, and at the present time holding that post in the city of Saginaw, Monday received notice of his appointment to manage the city of Kansas City, Missouri. His resignation becomes effective at Saginaw, June 1.

Mr. Cookingham was head of city government here from April 1, 1931 until January 1, 1936, when he accepted a similar position at Saginaw. Before coming to Plymouth he was located at Clawson. He has been managing cities for the past 14 years, and last year was elected president of the International Association of city managers.

His starting salary at the Missouri city is $15,000 a year, while he will receive $20,000 annually starting the second term.

Some of the highlights of his career at Saginaw include the reduction of city taxes to their lowest level in 23 years, attainment of a city health record among the top 10 in the United States, citation for a National Safety Council award for cities in the 90,000 class, development of a year-round recreation program, a civil service program and a ten-year plan for public improvements.

Tuesday morning, City Manager C. H. Elliott, on behalf of the city commission and administration, sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Cookingham.

$10,000 Stable Being Built Here

Construction is under way in Northville Hills on Sheldon road of a new riding and hunt club stable which when completed will stable 30 horses. The building is being built by John Hallar, of Detroit, at an approximate cost of $10,000.

Mr. Hallar purchased 76 acres from the Grennan estate and intends to operate the boarding stable which will be opened about June 1, according to the owner. Headquarters for the Northville Paper Chase association will be in the new club and drag hunts will be sponsored there this summer. Kennels for hounds are also being constructed on the property.

Dondero to Seek Another Term

Congressman George A. Dondero has expressed his intention to again seek re-election as representative in congress from the seventeenth Michigan district. Petitions are now being circulated to place his name on the Republican ticket in the September primaries.

During the past seven years he has represented the seventeenth congressional district of our state ably and courageously. He has endeavored to render conscientious service in the deliberations of congress and the many other duties of the office.

He now occupies a commanding position in congress and is recognized as a leader. He is the ranking member of the committee on education and stands very near the top on the powerful rivers and harbors committee, which latter committee is of vital importance to the state of Michigan which has 1,700 miles of coastline, many harbors and enormous water-borne commerce. Congressman Dondero is Michigan's member on the National Republican Congressional committee.

Congressman Dondero has consistently opposed unwarranted and extravagant government expenditures and will continue this policy, he stated, should the people of this district return him to Washington for another term. During this congress he led the fight and succeeded in slashing nearly 50 million dollars from the rivers and harbors bill for power and navigation, namely the Connecticut river project, Umatilla Dam, Oregon, and the Tombigbee river project in Alabama and Mississippi, none of which was needed or justified. This is but one example of his untiring work in connection with economy in government.

The people of this congressional district have an investment in an experienced member of congress. By long service he has worked up to a place of prominence on committee which are vital to this district and state. These places are of real worth to them now and will prove of greater value in the event of a change of administration. Legislative work, like any other activity of life, must be learned through experience, and nearly eight years of continuous service has placed our representative in a commanding position; one of influence in the house of representatives; and of real usefulness to the people he represents.

He has been frank and honest in expressing his opinion on proposed legislation to those he represents even though it might be against his political interests.

The congressman expressed his appreciation of the confidence placed in him by the people of the district in the past. His desire is to be worthy of that confidence by rendering even greater service in the future.

Fowler V. Harper, general counsel of the Federal Security Agency, rendered an opinion on February 23, 1940, that by a "broad interpretation" of law the Office of Education could produce and purchase motion picture films. The House of Representatives disagreed and struck out a proposal to establish a New Deal film service, at an initial cost of $106,000.

NYA Project Unique in Northern States

A former summer hotel at Idlewild has become the home of twenty-one unemployed Negro girls, first enrollees in the only project of its kind in Michigan and northern states. Sponsored by the Michigan National Youth Administration and co-sponsored by the Board of Education, this resident work project provides work experience and training in homemaking and resort and hotel work. Training includes preparation of foods, buying, serving, correct table service and setting, and all phases of work pertaining to the home. Left: Garments are made in daily sewing classes and are distributed to relief clients. Upper Right: Project residence. Lower Right: Project personnel. Left to right: Mrs. Helen Harris, nurse and leader in health and hygiene work; Mrs. Mary Brown, sewing and homemaking instructor; Mrs. Nellie Martin Bunn, project supervisor; Edward M. Swan, Director of Negro Activities for the Michigan NYA.

Farmers Must Sign up Soon

Wayne county farmers have until May 1 to sign their 1940 AAA farm plans. Maurice C. Bird, chairman of the Wayne county Triple A committee, announced this week.

"The farm plan shows the soil-depleting acreage allotments, the soil building goal, and the maximum payment which can be earned by each farm through cooperation with the Agricultural Conservation Program," Mr. Bird said.

This basic information is worked out in the county AAA office but the details of how the plan applies to the individual farm are worked out by the farmer and a community committeeman. Mr. Bird added:

Farmers who intend to cooperate with farm program sign their farm plans, indicating that they want their farms inspected this summer to determine performance.

Mr. Bird urges all farmers who plan to participate in the 1940 AAA program, but have not as yet signed their farm plans, to see their local Triple AAA committeeman as soon as possible.

A clause in the Trade Agreements Act withdraws the right of aggrieved parties to appeal to the courts.

With The Masons

The May regular meeting will be this Friday night with business of importance to be attended. A large attendance will find this meeting of interest. Friday night, May 10, the officers of Plymouth Rock Lodge will confer the First degree on several candidates.

Difference in domestic and foreign costs of production is no longer a prime factor in tariff-making, according to testimony of State Department experts in hearings on trade agreement legislation.

OPTOMETRIST

announces the enlargement of his offices and the installation of a new Bausch and Lomb PERIMETER

The new Perimeter is the culmination of years of study by two famous authorities on light and vision. The purpose of this complex instrument is to chart the visual fields of the eye. With it the examiner can record, in permanent form, the external limits of the patient's vision. Analysis of these records often gives the first indication of impending eye disease or toxic conditions interfering with vision. The importance of this new instrument cannot be over-estimated. With it... the cause of many eyesight troubles may be definitely traced... Conditions that are baffling without its use are revealed in time to prevent serious consequences.

To better serve the needs of our hundreds of patients, we have also enlarged our offices... These important steps forward have been made for your convenience and for your protection. We endeavor to keep step with the advancements made in our profession. This effort assures you of perfect vision.

Full Program Ahead for Rest of School Year

Three Banquets Scheduled; One to Be Next Week

With a little less than half the semester left in which to complete several outstanding events of the year, the schedule for the remaining eight weeks is unusually full. It was disclosed upon recent examination.

Featured are three banquets, each an event looked forward to every year. The first to be held, sponsored by the Girl Reserves, will be the annual mother and daughter banquet on May 7. Following this is the honor banquet held last Friday in May. Under the direction of the student council, this banquet honors students outstanding in athletics, speech, citizenship, music, art, journalism and those who maintained a B average or above the year preceding the banquet. The junior-senior banquet, set for June 7, will be given as a farewell dinner to the graduating seniors.

Other events scheduled for the school year are the annual musicale on May 10, in which all students of glee clubs, band, orchestra, and seventh grade music classes will participate; the state tennis match, June 1, which Plymouth has a good chance of entering; the Wayne team in which boys of all grades will, by testing their athletic prowess, attempt to win a bronze, silver, or gold medal; and following this, Senior week, beginning on Sunday, June 16, with the bacchanal service Tuesday, June 18. The class night at which the seniors give a history of their class, telling its pleasures and sorrows, prophesying the future, and reading the class poem. Commencement exercises, the climax of the week, are scheduled for June 20. The alumni banquet held the following evening, is an annual affair enabling graduates of Plymouth in years gone by to meet their classmates once again, and to recall some of their high school memories.

Added to this list of important events are the athletic meets in baseball, tennis, track, and golf, assemblies, the school contest in interpretive poetry reading, and short story telling. Plymouth high school, indeed, finds its schedule a full and complete one for the little time remaining in the school year.

Plymouth Students Win Honors at U. of M.

Honored at the annual convocation in Ann Arbor on Friday, April 26, were two Plymouth students, Harry Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fischer, of 1110 Plymouth road, a senior enrolled in the college of engineering; and Belva Barnes, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Barnes, of 413 North Harvey street, a freshman in the college of architecture. The speaker at the convocation was the president of the Washington and Lee University in Virginia.

Harry is a member of the Phi Lambda Upsilon, a national chemical honorary fraternity; of the Phi Kappa Phi, a national scholastic honor society; and of the Sigma Xi, a national scientific honor society.

Mother-Daughter Banquet a Sellout

"Songs" Feature Annual Affair

Setting a most remarkable record with 300 tickets sold a week before the event, the sixteenth annual mother-daughter banquet to be held May 7 at 6:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium, will be featured by a program of songs planned by the Girl Reserves, and readings by Mrs. Grace Dunshee, a graduate student of the University of Michigan.

Ardith Rowland characterized by the song "I Told Them All About You," will introduce Ruth Ash, the toastmistress. Mrs. M. A. Arnold, "Girl of My Dreams." Last year the juniors (the present seniors) started the ball of student government rolling but as it looks now we wonder if someone is going to give it the ball a push!

A short play called "Memories" will be given by the Girl Reserves portraying favorite songs of the decades from 1890 on. Shirley Bernard will play an accordion solo and then, Mrs. Dunshee will give interpretive readings.

The tables will be decorated with bouquets of flowers and favors depicting well-known songs will be set at each place. The program covers, designed by Jeanette Welch, have ten motifs featuring as many songs. These will be placed at each place.

This year's banquet will differ from those of former years in that the Alumni Girl Reserves, wearing blue bows will receive special recognition.

Chairman for the committees are Vera Essie, music; Virginia Rock, program planning; Ruth Parmake, table decorations; Mary Jane Olsaver, program covers; Hazel Pankov, menu; Alvin Parmake, table setting; Betty Scheppe; and Betty Brown, publicity.

Rocks Win Close Match

Plymouth defeated Ferndale Wednesday, April 24, in the closest golf match of the season. The remarkable playing of the Rocks, led by Wayne team, brought victory out of defeat by the narrow margin of one stroke. The Plymouth team, composed of Dick Dunlop, Captain Warren Hoffman, Al Owens, and Jack Sequin, went into the last nine holes down, but the over-swing attack of the golf team kept them in there fighting and they crashed through for victory on the eighteenth green.

One of the Ferndale men had a score of 72 when he began the eighteenth hole and a par (4) would have given him an excellent score of 76. Any one who has ever played golf can realize the pressure that was on this player. Everything was all right until he got near the green (in the trap in two strokes), then he over-shot the green, he had a shot, and finally approached into the green. The other golfers in the foursome had been on the green in two and had got down in four, so it was up to this Ferndale golfer whether his team lost or tied. There was a hushed silence as he lined up his putt, the ball trickled slowly toward the cup but it failed to drop, Plymouth was again victorious.

Coach Latture was very proud of his team after it had pulled this match out of the fire and he says that he thinks it has finally "hit its stride." Dick Dunlop was again the star of the match for he scored a low 82, but undaunted, Al Owens again socked the pill around for a nifty 86. Captain Hoffman made up for his poor showing in the first two when he carded an 88 and Jack Sequin maintained his average with a 93. The team looked good against Ferndale and it hopes to continue the good work.

Two shale formations underlying Michigan, as well as the Michigan coal formations, contain oil, but not in commercial quantities. Antrim shale specimens from Alpena and Charlevoix counties yield four to nine gallons of oil per ton. Working the deeper Collingwood shale was attempted at Collingwood, Ontario in 1859, when seven to eight gallons per ton were obtained by distillation of the crushed shale for two and a half hours.

Nine Loses Home Opener

Three Ecorse Rallies Down Plymouth 10-5

Ecorse batters solved Jack Nielson's pitching in three separate innings, Tuesday, at Riverside park to defeat Plymouth 10-5 in the first home game of the Plymouth season.

Rotting Ecorse batters in order with the exception of the first, fifth and seventh innings, Nielson allowed nine hits distributed among the middle five batters in the Ecorse line-up. John Plopan, Ecorse pitcher, allowed Plymouth only three hits.

Both pitchers were removed in their half of the seventh inning when rallies threatened. Each relief pitcher cut the rallies short with two strike-outs. In this inning, Ecorse scored three times and Plymouth twice.

Rudy Riskey, Ecorse shortstop, and Bill Ulrich, left fielder, scored between them enough runs to defeat Plymouth. Each hit safely twice and walked once to score six runs.

Jack Lee, Plymouth left fielder, who has walked nine times in 15 trips to the plate scored two runs through a free pass to first. Wilkie, Kelley and Blackford scored the other Plymouth runs.

Newman, Krumm and Kelley garnered the three hits off Plopan. Newman's double was the only extra-base blow which Plymouth made.

Through the effects of a scarlet fever quarantine, several of the Plymouth regulars were missing necessitating a juggled line-up. Kelley, a pitcher, and Schwartz, a substitute, played the whole game.

A Plymouth bid for runs in the last inning failed when Gorton and Kaitos, two relief batters, struck out in succession under the influence of Rabb, new Ecorse pitcher. Ecorse used the squeeze play two times in their half of the last inning to push across their last two runs. Each time a perfect bunt, tableted by a runner on third to cross the plate, Fay Pratt, Plymouth relief pitcher, snuffed this rally by a pair of strike-outs.

Look at the Luck of Joe Scarpulla

Some people have all the luck; and some have it all bad. Examine for instance, the career of Joe Scarpulla in his senior year in Plymouth high school.

The present one of this year's senior class, the winner of letters in football, basketball and track, Joe was dealt his latest hand by fickle fortune last week when he received a combination automobile accident and a genuine case of scarlet fever within the space of seven days.

Contrary to natural laws, etc., different kinds of lightning have struck the same place. A regular member of the Plymouth backfield in football, Joe in the first half of the season, came down with the opposing line-man. This gave him a broken arm and a doctor's ultimatum of no more football.

By the time the basketball season was begun, Joe was prepared once more for action. For some reason, the perils of basketball eluded him and he finished the season safely.

He was still in good health when he went out for track a few weeks ago, but it couldn't last.

Freshmen Win Play Contest

Already winners of stunt night, the freshman class was awarded first place in the One-Act-Play contest Wednesday evening, April 24, by Netter Worthington, critic judge, for their comedy, "Peeved Pants."

Over 500 people who saw the plays, one from each of the upper four grades, almost assured the establishment of a similar contest each year.

Mr. Worthington based his selection on the acting of Calvin Furling, Ray Kearney, Virginia Moss, Doris Rowland, and Durat Strauss in the play which had for a plot a pair of pants which came from the cleaners at the wrong time.

A farce, "The Unicorn and the Fish," enacted by the sophomore class, received the award of second best from Mr. Worthington. It satirized the arrogance of the "upper-class families."

Each of the four plays was supervised by Winniford Ford, director of high school dramatics, although every play was directed by student members of the Plymouth Dramatics club.

Most of the 19 actors were members of the Dramatics club which gives short plays in public. Several, however, were volunteers from the classes.

The contest was sponsored by the Plymouth Student Council who said that if the contest was successful, it would be made a yearly event. The Council hoped to finance the annual honor banquet later in this semester with the proceeds.

Essentially the same cast, playing in the annual Stunt Night earlier this year, won first vote from a large majority of the observers for the freshman class.

The senior and junior plays were "There's Always Tomorrow," a comedy drama; and "The Diamond Necklace," a mystery melodrama.

Those in the cast of the sophomore class play which won second place, were Janice Downing, William Upton, Charles Bowdler, Frances Weed, and Bruce McAllister.

Kelley Pitches Rocks to Victory

While Coach "Hank" Jensen paced up and down in front of the bench like an expectant father in a maternity ward, "Curve-ball" Kelley pitched Plymouth's baseball warriors to a 4-0 shut-out over River Rouge last Thursday.

After a downpour of rain that had threatened to halt the game had subsided, the two teams took the field with high hopes of victory. Kelley drew the pitching assignment for Plymouth and turned in a brilliant performance, allowing only three hits to the usually hard-hitting Rouge team.

Rokoey started for Rouge, but proved to be wild at times and had to be replaced by Shook in the sixth. Short finished the game with a rather mediocre performance.

Plymouth drew first blood in the second inning when Blackford got on an error. Bulson fouled out, Lee walked, Kelley fanned, and Johnny Wilkie came through with a smashing grand slam double far into right field, scoring Blackford. Robinson ended the inning grounding out.

Plymouth scored again in the third when Newman doubled to left field, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a long fly by Hoffman. Plymouth struck its third run across in the fifth when Hoffman singled, went to second when Krumm walked, and scored when Andrews, Rouge shortstop, muffed Bulson's grounder. The final run was scored in the sixth when Robinson walked, went to second when Newman grounded out and scored on Hoffman's second hit of the day.

The final count was Plymouth, 4 runs, 4 hits and no errors. For Rouge, no runs, 3 hits and four errors.

The highlights of the game were: Kelley's fine pitching which proved too much for the Rouge boys to solve.

Jack Lee's two line running catches of "sure" hits which robbed Rouge of two runs and a lot of morale. His catch of Menzies' fly in the sixth was one of the best seen in a long time.

Wesley Hoffman's two solid singles to continue to be the Plymouth powerhouse.

Doubles by Larry Newman and John Wilkie.

Coach "Hank" Jensen's fine handling of a ball team.

The cheers from Mr. and Mrs. Matulis, Plymouth's No. 1 and No. 2 fans.

Fine fielding by Krumm, Robinson, Blackford and Bulson.

The rain gave Plymouth confidence for their tilt with Ecorse on Tuesday, April 24.

Fresh Nine Loses to Ypsi Powerhouse

The Plymouth high school freshman baseball team played Ypsilanti Central's second year team much to their sorrow at Recreation park on Ypsilanti, with the final score of 12 to 7 in Ypsilanti's favor on April 25.

Even with the combined effort of three pitchers, Herriek, Bill Donovan and Cliff Ebersole, Plymouth was unable to stop Ypsilanti's perfect hitting.

Eugene Nappier, from Plymouth, set a three-hitter with two on in the first inning but from then on Plymouth's hits were limited.

The highlights of the game were: Kelley's fine pitching which proved too much for the Rouge boys to solve.

Jack Lee's two line running catches of "sure" hits which robbed Rouge of two runs and a lot of morale. His catch of Menzies' fly in the sixth was one of the best seen in a long time.

Northville Boy Wins Spell Bee

A student in the sixth grade at Northville won the district spelling bee held at the Plymouth high school auditorium Friday afternoon. He is Robert Edwin Ward, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ward, of Lake street.

The runner-up in the contest was Marjorie Turnbull, 12, a seventh grade student in Vinneton high school in Redford township.

"Description" was the winning word. Miss Turnbull had the first chance to spell it, but was eliminated from the contest by the judges by spelling "description."

Twenty-one schools were represented in the contest which lasted about two hours. Superintendent George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools was chairman of the affair. Judges were Mrs. Ida Cook, principal of the elementary schools at Northville; Mrs. Jewell Bell, Starkweather school principal; Mrs. Nellie Bird, principal of the Central grade school; and Mrs. Ada Watson, teacher in the first elementary division of the Newburg school.

Mary Jameson, county supervisor for rural grade schools in northwestern Wayne county; Mrs. Bernice Dondereau, also a county supervisor in rural schools; and Mrs. Ruth Huston Wimpole, mayor of the city of Plymouth, pronounced words for the contest.

Each contestant had in his possession previous to the spelling bee, a list of the words to be asked which were compiled by the sponsoring organization, The Detroit News.

Medals were presented to the contestants before the contest, representing the honor they received in winning their school contests.

The Northville winner will represent the district in a Metropolitan Detroit spelling bee which is to be held at the state fair grounds, at Detroit, sometime this month.

Following is a list of the schools from whom representatives competed in the contest Friday: Livonia township, Briggs, Elm, Livonia Center, Newburg, Pierson, Rosedale, Stark and Wilcox; Northville township, Base Line, DeKay, Thayer, Watford and Northville public grade and elementary; Plymouth township, Plymouth public Central, junior high and Starkweather, Allen; Redford township, Redford Union, Beech road, Keeler, Roosevelt; V. Smith and Fisher.

Present program of the United States Housing Authority calls for dwellings for 156,976 families in 429 projects, totaling $770,000,000, not counting a 60-year annual subsidy to amortize capital cost. About 4,500,000 families need rehousing, according to the Housing Administrator, and the total cost at an average of $4,500 per unit would run to more than $20,000,000,000.

Birthday Party In The Clouds

PASSENGERS on Trans-Canada Air Lines planes had a pleasant surprise when their stewardess appeared with brightly frosted birthday cakes and they helped T.C.A. celebrate its first birthday. One candle indicated a year's passenger service between Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Lethbridge and Vancouver and between Lethbridge and Edmonton. In the 24 months the Lockheed ships flew 3,500,000 miles, carried nearly 33,000 passengers. The line was extended eastward to Moncton, N. B., and will soon establish two round trans-continental trips daily.

The birthday cakes, served to passengers on all Trans-Canada Air Lines planes, were prepared by J. P. Morgan (right inset), chief chef of the Canadian National Railways, who was chef to King George and Queen Elizabeth during their North American tour last summer.

Air Riflers Have Outdoor Shoot

Twenty members of the Boys' Air Rifle club took their first hike and outdoor shoot last Saturday when members of the police department accompanied them on a four-hour walking tour of the countryside near Plymouth.

V. R. Smith, police chief and Officer Ira Hauk went with the boys. The group consumed about six dozen hotdogs and buns when they stopped for lunch about noon.

In the course of their hike, the boys had some excellent target practice with their Daisy air rifles at both moving and stationary targets. The guns are furnished by the company whose plant is located here.

Originally started as a subsidiary organization of the Plymouth Gun club, the boys have had the use of the club's new target range for the past few months. There many of them developed a keen shooting eye and all have been taught the "safety-first" of guns.

Members of the older club feel that if boys are taught the proper handling of firearms early enough in life there will be far less shooting accidents when they are old enough to be trusted with larger guns.

At this point in their training, supervisors of the boys feel that their training has been such to warrant parents' complete confidence in permitting their children-members to go out with the air rifles.

Plymouth Students Honored at U. of M.

Eight hundred University of Michigan students received public recognition at the seven-day annual Honors Convocation on April 2 for their outstanding scholastic work. Belva Jane Barnes, of Plymouth, received Best Honors from the college of agriculture and design. Harry C. Fischer, also of Plymouth, received senior honors from the college of engineering.

The New Deal's own estimate of the public debt on June 30, 1941, is $44,938,000,000.

Odd Bits of News in the News

WRITES EXTRA ROLE

GLADSTONE — When clever students tried out for the 10 parts in a senior class play titled "Second Fiddle," Director Keith Campbell didn't want to make any of the aspirants a second fiddle. Result, he wrote a brand new role into the play for the eleventh character.

SKIERS WEAR SWIM TRUNKS

GAYLORD — Two local youths took advantage of winter's last snow to set a new style in skiing attire. Wearing only swimming trunks, boots and a smile, the two skied down winter sports park hills, said it wasn't cold as long as they kept moving.

LOGS DISAPPEAR

MT. PLEASANT — P. E. Gove, of Clare is wondering how nine black birch logs he planned to use this summer disappeared from his land in Arthur township. He told police the logs in his land was almost impossible. The logs were 12 to 14 ft. long and 18 to 24 inches in diameter.

OUTSHINES ROBIN TALES

BANGOR — Here's a tale that outshines the whole batch of annual "first robin" stories. Early this spring, a park superintendent reported observing flocks of red-winged blackbirds, blue jays, meadow larks, blue birds, a mallard hawk, and a blue tree snake. He also saw a robin.

IMPROMPTU BUTCHERING

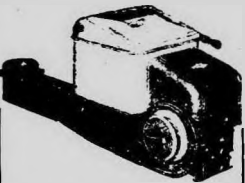

PORTLAND — The end of a trailer in which three hogs were being transported to Ionia and so did the hogs. One hog received a broken back, so it was butchered on the spot. The other two were loaded in the trailer and the trip was resumed.

HEN GETS COLORFUL

HOLLY — A white leghorn hen owned by A. L. Moxe expressed herself colorfully recently when she changed her egg-laying style. Instead of the usual white or brown or speckled variety, the chicken laid an egg nearly the color of a robin's egg.

BIRD CRASHES HOME

PARMA — A large cock pheasant startled Mrs. Roy Brower when it flew through the glass in the front door of her home. After a brief chase through the house, the bird was captured and released, apparently unharmed.

Receives Notice of Civil Service Exams

Mrs. Beatrice M. Schultz, local secretary of the United States Civil Service commission, received notice this week that several new positions with the Federal government are open and will be filled by open competitive examinations.

Examinations will be given to applicants in the following fields: Cadet training instructor, $3,200 a year, in the U. S. Maritime commission; Senior mussel culturist, $2,000 a year, Bureau of Fisheries, Department of the Interior, and Under fish culturist, $1,260 a year, also in the Bureau of Fisheries.

Applications to take the examinations listed above must be on file in the commission's office at Washington, D. C., not later than May 27, if sent from this locality. Further information may be received from Mrs. Schultz at the Plymouth post-office.

Leading farm organizations protest against transfer of the Forest Service to the Interior Department, contending that it is support to agriculture, not politics.

"WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T AFFORD A PONTIAC!"

Special Six 2-Door Touring Sedan, as Illustrated, $838*

WE FELT CERTAIN that many people had an inflated impression of Pontiac's prices. We sent men out to ask them and 9 out of 10 guessed Pontiac's price from $100 to $200 higher than the actual figure. And listen to this: 99% of those who guessed actually said they considered Pontiac worth the money.

READ WHY SO MANY PONTIAC OWNERS GO OUT OF THEIR WAY TO SELL CARS FOR US!

HOW SMART WE WERE TO INQUIRE ABOUT PONTIAC PRICES. I HAD NO IDEA THEY WERE SO LOW!

BIG CAR LIKE THAT MUST USE A LOT MORE GAS AND OIL, MUST BE A BARRIER ON OUR WAY DOWN TO MIAMI!

YOU'RE WRONG THERE, A PONTIAC USES LESS. WE AVERAGED 38 TO BE MILES A GALLON ON OUR WAY DOWN TO MIAMI!

HOW IN THE WORLD CAN THEY PRICE A BIG LUXURIOUS CAR LIKE THIS RIGHT DOWN WITH THE CHEAPEST?

THE FIRST STEP toward getting the most for your money in a new car this Spring is to visit a Pontiac showroom and take a look at the Pontiac price tags!

Then follow it up with a ride in a Pontiac. If you only drive it around the block, you'll understand why so many people have difficulty in realizing it's a low-priced car.

It's a big, wide-steered, long-wheelbase beauty. And its ride is "Triple-Cushioned." Its steering, gear shifting and all-round handling ease will put you in a very pleasant frame of mind. And, after a stop, notice particularly the smooth, quiet, powerful sweep of Pontiac's getaway.

We know you'll be crazy about this car. And delighted to discover that its price is right down with the lowest!

* Delivered at Pontiac, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

WELFARE MONEY.

There has been quite a bit in the newspapers during recent days about the reduced allotment of state funds for welfare purposes. Budget Director Hartman is reported as saying that "living on relief isn't supposed to be a career, but a great many people have apparently come to think that it is." Therefore, he continues, the county allowances will in some cases be substantially reduced.

On the other hand the state welfare commission says the money that Mr. Hartman proposes to allow is not sufficient, that there are people in need of state aid who are actually hungry.

There is no reason to doubt the statement of the state relief commission members. And if people are ACTUALLY hungry, the state welfare commission should insist that the state provide the funds to buy the necessities of life for the hungry.

It may be said that the appropriation is not sufficient. Well, there is this about that welfare appropriation—when the present amount was voted by the last legislature, it was distinctly understood that if the amount should prove not to be sufficient to carry the load, that the legislature would be willing to return for an extra session to increase the amount. That statement was freely made on the floor of the house of representatives during the discussion of the welfare bill.

The legislature felt that probably under the newly organized department, a tremendous savings could be made in administration and that county aid would prove sufficient. Even way back a year ago some members of the legislature had a fear that there might not be sufficient funds and if there were not, the members expressed a willingness to be called back to vote the additional money.

The state seems to be finding money for many other purposes, and possibly if some of these officials look around a bit more they can find more money for welfare, even without the necessity of an extra session.

It is perfectly O. K. for public officials to talk about economy when it pertains to others than themselves, but there is no disputing the public responsibility for the care of unfortunate who find it absolutely impossible to provide themselves with sufficient food to keep body and soul together. No sane person prefers to exist on the meager welfare allowance if able to provide for themselves. Any one who knows anything about the welfare problem knows that.

If the welfare commission says more funds are needed to feed and clothe our unfortunate, the state should DO something about it instead of haggling over how much money there is for this, that and the other thing.

POOR McCREA.

It seems that every move Prosecuting Attorney Duncan McCrea makes in connection with the conduct of his office and his mix-up with the grand jury investigation is just another step to convince the people of Wayne county that there is a whole lot of fire in the place from which the smoke has

But It's True -----!

Mr. Havens did not like to think of the possibility he might be buried alive.

been originating. First he made an effort to "raid" the grand jury headquarters for a questionable purpose. Then he made an attempt to start a phoney grand jury investigation of his own out in the county before some grave-digging justice of the peace. Now he is conducting some "raids" of alleged gambling places. If he keeps on at his present rate, it will not require much of a trial to convince the voters as to what is what. He is doing a mighty good job in helping folks make up their minds about the whole mess.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Taxpayers are wondering where all the money collected by the federal government in taxation is spent. That's easy. Of course promises to reduce the number of federal employes and promises to cut federal expenses made during the presidential election, were not promises made to be kept.

The record shows that instead of reducing either, there are now more than a quarter of a million people on the federal payroll than there was eight years ago.

Data secured from the Federal Civil Service commission reveals where the biggest increases have been made in various departments down in Washington. The following tabulation shows the "distribution" of these thousands and thousands of new political job holders:

	February 28, 1933	December 31, 1939

Rambling Around

WITH EDITORS OF MICHIGAN
Their views about public problems and issues.

NEW COMPLEXION NOTED ON LIQUOR BOARD

Michigan's new member on the liquor Control Commission, Alva M. Cummins, a good lawyer, said this week that an old Michigan law requires proprietors of drinking places to refuse minors "under 17 years of age, attending school, permission to remain in a place where alcoholic beverages are sold." An assistant attorney general says that the law is still on the books and was not superceded by the Act of 1933. Neither believes, however, that the law applies to so-called "package" stores which sell for consumption off the premises.

Commissioner Muri B. DeFoe believes that "strict enforcement of this old act would change the character of these Saturday night crowds considerably. If youngsters were forbidden even to enter drinking places, the problem of liquor sales to minors would be much easier to solve."

Unless proprietors of many beer taverns, particularly those outside of municipal jurisdiction, take it upon themselves to correct many of the abuses and evils of the present law, it will not be long before public opinion will demand a radical change in our present set-up.

In the meantime Michigan is fortunate to have in Messrs. DeFoe and Cummins, a majority of the liquor board, which is personally dry—men of high moral calibre who are anxious to clean up conditions in the state so far as the law permits.

In the few weeks since Mr. Cummins' appointment created a dry majority on the board a different attitude is noticeable. Roman McCall in The Gratiot County (Ithaca) Herald.

WORK, THAT'S THE WAY!

If you don't like it because the other fellow has accumulated something and has been able to keep off the welfare, dig in yourself! Get a job cleaning some one's lawn, washing windows, and make yourself generally useful, and you'll be on the way to something better. The good things of life will not look up and tap at your door and force themselves on you. This is a fighting world, and even in a peaceful country every man has to fight for himself if he gets anywhere.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton County Journal.

THE FUTILITY OF BUYING INDUSTRIES

We were visiting with a man who is very close to the industrialists in a Michigan industrial city one day recently. "What can a small town do to attract sound small industries to locate?" we asked. He smiled and answered, "You can buy them, if you wish." Then he told us an interesting story which had come to his attention a short time before.

One of his friends living in a small city jubilantly told him that his town had located an industry. When asked how this particular established industry had been induced to locate in this town, his friend replied that a promise to make them an award of $5,000 a year for five years had been made. The condition was that the factory should employ a minimum number of 150 people.

Already, our friend told us, there is trouble. The committee handling the affair expected the city government to levy a tax to meet the $5,000 bonus. When other industries in the town heard of this they objected—and very properly. Why should they pay a tax to give some concern a promise to make them an award of $5,000 a year for five years had been made. The condition was that the factory should employ a minimum number of 150 people.

Industries which have to be bought, our friend said, are seldom worth what they cost. As soon as the bonus arrangements are ended they are apt to move to some other town or city which will offer them other inducements. It is perfectly proper, this experienced man said, to cooperate in every way possible. Tax consideration, free sites or even existing vacant buildings, may be offered legitimately, he suggested—but when a community offers annual cash bonuses, watch out.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

Visitors to Riverside cemetery this coming summer will find some improvements that will be much appreciated. The trustees are having considerable work done on the drive-ways, by widening them and getting on a thick covering of cinders, which when it is packed hard makes a splendid and lasting driveway. Some ornamental shrubbery has been set out which will add a little to the beauty of the surroundings.

The dancing party given by the Pythian Sisters at Penniman hall last Tuesday evening was one of the most delightful social functions that has been held in Plymouth the past winter. Red, blue, yellow and white bunting, the colors of the Order, were used very effectively in the decoration of the hall, together with many Japanese lanterns and flags. One of the features of the decorations was an arrangement of an American flag in connection with an electric fan, which caused the flag to be continually waving. Guests were present from Detroit, Northville and Ypsilanti.

The play, "Lost—A Chapter," given by the pupils of the public school at the opera house Monday and Tuesday evenings was very well attended on both nights and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The play was given for the benefit of the playground fund. The musical part of the entertainment on both evenings was a most pleasing feature. A quartet composed of Mrs. R. E. Cooper, Mrs. William E. Miss Hazel Conner and Miss Marguerite Hough rendered a selection that was greatly appreciated.

That he recognized the late Senator Thomas C. Platt as the boss and consulted him as such about appointments, was admitted by Col. Theodore Roosevelt in the Barnes-Roosevelt $50,000 libel action at Syracuse, N. Y.

The anti-trust bill was vetoed by Governor Philipp of Wisconsin, who in explanation of his action said the bill, if it became a law, would interfere with personal liberty, and was therefore unconstitutional.

In a crowded chamber in the city hall at Chicago, Mayor Harrison turned and handed his gavel to William Hale Thompson as his four years' administration began. For three hours and a half in the afternoon a yelling mass of humanity swept by "Smiling Bill" Thompson, mayor-elect, in a "Prosperity day" parade.

Elkhart, Indiana, sets were victorious in the option election, winning by a majority of 108. Elkhart has 22 saloons.
