Be Thankful this Thanksgiving

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands.
Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.
Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name.
For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.—Psalm 100.

Flood Damage Survey of Sanilac Flats Ends

Representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers of the Detroit District Office have completed a flood damage survey of Sanilac Flats, according to an announcement made Wednesday by G. B. Crumble, chief of the Special Investigation Section of the Engineering Division. The survey in Sanilac Flats began Sept. 20, 1950.

A detailed and exhaustive field canvass was accomplished to determine the extent of flood damage experienced in the 1938, 1943, 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1950 floods along the Saginaw River and its tributaries.

The object of the survey is to provide data on the basis of which it will eventually be possible to determine whether the Federal government, on a cost and savings basis, is justified in backing a general flood control project for the Saginaw Valley.

According to Lt. Colonel John D. Bristol, district engineer, all information on individual losses is confidential. Results of the survey will not be released until the final report has gone to the Division Office and the Chief Corps of Engineers, Washington, D. C.

The damage survey is an extremely important element in the overall study, according to Col. Bristol, in that the Federal law does not permit the expenditure of Federal funds for flood control unless the estimated economic benefits are in excess of the cost of the relief measures. One of the principal factors in estimating benefits is the evaluation of past losses.

The general survey started in 1948 and all field work has been completed in Vassar, Frankmunth, Midland, Kawkawin, Flint, Flushing, Swartz Creek, Owosso, Corunna, Shiawassee Flats and Sanilac Flats. The two man field unit has completed the survey in Sanilac this week. Mr. Crumble has been assisted by Wm. Russell.

Mr. Crumble states that in cases where the field party was unable to contact owners, or residents, information on losses was estimated.

In behalf of the district engineer, Mr. Crumble wishes to express his thanks to the people of the Saginaw Valley for their fine cooperation in making this survey. Also to the village council of Cass City for kindness in loaning office space during their stay in this area.

Early Copy for Thanksgiving Week

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving and as customary with weekly community newspapers, they will be published a day earlier because of the holiday.

The cooperation of all will be appreciated by the newspaper crew.

Half Pints Are Popular with the Kindergarten Tots

Fifty-six half-pints of milk are consumed daily by morning and afternoon kindergarten classes, according to Miss Jean Hutchinson, kindergarten teacher.

The milk, which parents are asked to pay for at the rate of four cents a day, is served with crackers and cookies supplied by the school.

Miss Hutchinson says that serving the mid-morning and afternoon snacks serves more than just to take the edge off the youngsters' appetites. "Children drink milk when they are in the company of other children when they will not drink it while they are alone," she said.

She added that the children take turns passing out the milk, cookies and napkins and that the duties involved help teach them to be polite.

Although the youngsters would prefer to have their milk and cookies as soon as they reach the kindergarten classroom in the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Miss Hutchinson holds the serving periods from 10 to 10:15 in the morning and from 2 to 2:15 in the afternoon.

International Show Opens November 25 Cattle Class Prizes Largest Ever Offered

The 51st International Live Stock Exposition will be held this year in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago stock yards from November 25 through December 2. Increased prize money for the show should help to encourage the exhibition of top livestock from both the United States and Canada, exposition officials reported. Prizes for all cattle classes will be $61,870, the largest total ever offered. Many prize increases made in other breeds to mark the occasion of the golden jubilee show of 1949 are retained this year.

Dr. A. D. Weber, of Kansas State college, will judge the steers again this year. He is the only American to judge these classes since the exposition departed from the custom of having foreign judges two years ago.

Other features in connection with the international that have been familiar in the years since 1900 include the grain and hay show, recognized as the world's largest competitive showing of farm crops.

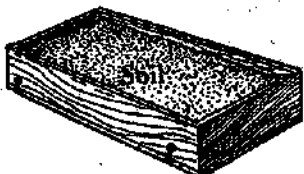

Farm Expenses Increased Five Fold in Past Decade

Farm expenses have increased almost five-fold over the past decade and not many farmers would care to return to the "good old days" of low expenses—if they had to accept the level of income that accompanied them.

This increase in cost of farm operation has been accompanied by some phenomenal changes in the composition of expenses. Machinery expense made up only 14 per cent of the total in 1935-39 while in 1947-49 it accounted for 21 per cent. Also, farmers are spending proportionately more for seed, fertilizer and crop expense than they spent 15 years ago.

These changes have been accompanied by a substantial increase in man labor efficiency on farms.

Improved Seed Flat

An idea that might be useful, when growing next spring's plants is the seed box with removable sides as shown in the above illustration.

The sides are nailed together and attached to the bottom by means of hooks and screw-eyes. When the plants are large enough to be transplanted from the flat, the sides are unhooked and lifted up from the bottom, the soil with the plants in it remaining undisturbed on the bottom board. The plants are then easily separated and pulled up. When ready to use again, the sides are hooked to the bottom, and the flat filled with new soil. Very little root disturbance will result when the small plants are cut from the mass of soil with earth clinging to their roots.

Low Temp. Rendering Of Lard Is Recommended

Your home-rendered lard will be of better quality if you use a low temperature for rendering, nutrition specialists report.

A low temperature is needed to give the greatest yield of lard from the fat and to prevent scorching and sticking, which changes the flavor. Render the lard as promptly as possible after the carcass has been thoroughly chilled—preferably within 24 hours.

SHORT STORY

Thanksgiving Turkey

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IMOGENE sat at the kitchen table and listened starchy-eyed while Tony read the letter. "Dear Tony and Imogene: I was sorry to hear about Tony's ill luck down there in Carolina, and know you must be having rather a hard pull. But things are bound to straighten out. Under separate cover I am sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Aunt Sara might read the letter. She doesn't know I'm doing this, and I doubt if she'd approve—you know how she felt when you two got married and started out on your wild venture. My love to you both, Uncle Rufus."

3 Minute Fiction

Accompanying the bird were vegetables galore, nuts and fruit and a real plum pudding ready for heating. It was a complete, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner.

At length Imogene stirred. She turned and looked through the window and there was something queer about the expression on her face. Tony saw the look and he came and sat down on the table and took her hand in his.

Imogene looked at him squarely. "I was thinking, Tony, about the Santrells. I can't help it, with this big turkey here in front of us."

"Precious," he said gently, "you're a dear."

He was silent, then, staring thoughtfully out into the yard. "The Santrells, he reflected, had probably never had a turkey for Thanksgiving. It was doubtful this Thanksgiving if they'd have anything to eat. They were poor, dirt poor, and there were eight children in the family. Mr. Santrell was sick half the time; he couldn't work, even if work were available. Their plight was pitiful. They had been too proud to ask for help; had reached a state of near destitution, when the town discovered their condition.

PRESENTLY TONY turned. He said: "Listen, sweet, as far as I'm concerned, I'd like to live through one Thanksgiving without a turkey. I've had to eat one every Thanksgiving since I can remember, and the novelty of not having to will be a welcome relief. Besides, Thanksgiving down here doesn't seem to call for a turk. And we still have the smoked shoulder we'd planned on."

"Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day."

And Imogene smiled in prodigious happiness and began re-wrapping Uncle Rufus's turkey. "Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day. And now I've found it." Whereupon she kissed him and Tony held her tight in his arms.

And so they marched over to the Santrells and undid the package on Mrs. Santrell's kitchen table and watched with a curious tugging at their hearts as the eight Santrell children and the two grown-ups stared and stared at the great fat bird. They left very soon after that because Mr. and Mrs. Santrell seemed to have difficulty in finding adequate words to express themselves.

They raced up the walk of their little stucco bungalow—and stopped dead still on the veranda.

A great package reposed before the front door, and a letter lay atop the package.

Tony picked up the letter, stared at the package curiously and tore open the envelope. "Dear Imogene and Tony," he read. "Your Uncle Rufus wouldn't like it a bit if he knew I was doing this. You know how he disapproved when you two got married and went away down South. However, I know you must be lonesome and rather discouraged, and so, under separate cover, I'm sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Uncle Rufus might read the letter and I'd never hear the end of it. Love to you both, Aunt Sara."

Spotted Fever
The mortality of Rocky mountain spotted fever throughout the nation averaged 23 per cent in 4,033 cases reported during the period 1939-1946. Fortunately, two of the newer antibiotics, aureomycin and chloromycetin, give promise of being effective in treatment of this disease.

Famous Bells
Among renowned bells are the Savoyarde, cast in 1895 for the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre, Paris, and the Jeanne d'Arc, cast in 1919 for Rouen Cathedral. The former, said to be the largest in France, weighs nearly 18 tons; the latter, two tons less.

So remember the MICHIGAN MADE Pure Sugar seal! Look for it, ask for it whenever you buy sugar! You'll get the finest sugar money can buy—value-priced!

MICHIGAN MADE PURE SUGAR

None Finer in All the World

While the Communists continue to accuse the U. S. of "bloody" intervention" in Korea, Michigan men are in the midst of their own annual intervention. Nearly 400,000 hunters will storm the woods in the next two weeks, bringing out an estimated 115,000 deer. About hunter casualties, no one is talking. But hope springs eternal.

Some 3,250 Michigan young men will get guns from the government before November ends. The draft still claims its monthly total, attesting that the Korean conflict is far from over.

Government expense has gone up. Says R. Perry Shortt, Saginaw banker: "The cost of living since 1940 has increased about 75 percent, while the cost of the government has increased 274 percent." The blame? Not defense spending, but non-defense—which he says has quadrupled since 1940.

The government got one return. Kaiser Steel Corporation gave RFC a check for $91,185,990.80 in full payment of wartime loans. Payment in full. Down to the eighty cents. And it was paid 20 years ahead of schedule!

An old song is the labor shortage. Detroit suffers most, along with Flint, Pontiac and Lansing, smaller industrial areas. Harry C. Markie, MUCC director, suggests in-plant training to augment skilled worker forces.

Employers, expecting the situation to grow even more critical, talk mysteriously about "advantages" and already are hinting at Christmas bonuses to hold men on their jobs. Others are paying the workers' social security for them, increasing minimum rates.

Apparently the college boom is over. Michigan educators are planning for "seven lean years." The Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, president of the University of Detroit, predicts many colleges may have to close. He sees enrollment losses up to 50 percent.

Credit curbs still claim page one news space. On the whole the news restrictions have not had the predicted dire results. Even the used car market—usually among the first to feel the impact of such curbs—has held up with but few decreases.

A fluctuating stock market, has reflected fear of soaring war taxes. Here is a far more sensitive barometer than prices that Korea is more than a name.

One of every six Michigan veterans has used his G. I. home loan guarantee. In the last six years the regional office of the VA has authorized 98,198 insured loans. VA guarantees amount to $323,681,840.

Michigan's parole system is under the glass again. Earnest C. Brooks, corrections commissioner, wants broader discretionary power for parole officers. Grounds? "Any written set of rules that fits one man is not suited to another case," Commissioner Brooks says.

The rent control picture still is hazy. Pontiac is leading the fray with its problem before the Michigan Supreme Court. As the year draws to an end the cudgel will be taken up in more communities throughout Michigan. Landlords and their tenants already have drawn lines in several of the larger communities.

"Operation American Citizenship." An educational program sparked by Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, hopes to "multiply and improve the amount and quality of citizenship education in Michigan."

Election comment: This column adheres to a policy of being non-partisan in its interpretations of state politics. The Nov. 7 vote outcome is now on the record. On Thursday, Nov. 2, this column observed: "Governor Williams has the best chance of any Democratic nominee in more than a decade to win re-election . . . It will take a lot of Republican votes upstate to offset the Democratic margin of populous Detroit and Wayne County." This was printed five days before E-Day!

Republicans strengthened their control of state government at Michigan. The administrative board and the state legislature will be dominated by G. O. P. officials and legislators. Practically speaking, August Scholle and his CIO liberal group were defeated by Michigan voters on Nov. 7.

it's a CHANCE you wouldn't take

No, you wouldn't risk moving in, unarmed and unprotected, on a deadly rattler, no more than you'd expose your life to any one of the hundreds of risks against which you can have protection.

But it's easier to see the peril of a rattler poised to strike than to sense some of the everyday chances many of us still take with our own and our families' lives.

Leaving a family without the security of life insurance is no less a risk than tempting a rattler; it's a risk no man can afford to take.

For without adequate life insurance a family is taking chances, reckless, unnecessary chances. See for yourself how easy and inexpensive it is to secure family protection—there's an Equitable representative near your home who will be glad to explain how you can assure your family's future.

Let's Talk It Over

Ed. Vallerder - Farm Editor
Radio Station WBCM - Bay City

Mysterious Cow

A farmer over in Battle Creek had himself a real problem. One of his prize cows took to a mighty peculiar milking schedule. In the morning, she'd give a whole pailful. At night, only a quart, or even less. Farmer Meyers decided to watch the cow to determine if she was feeding any differently than the rest. The quart and pailful mystery was cleared up within a very few hours. Two fawns emerged from a nearby woods, headed for the questionable cow and started to nurse. We have no information as to how the farmer solved his problem. I hope the answer wasn't a double-barrel shotgun.

Hunting

It's very difficult to keep one's thoughts on anything but hunting, this time of year. Conservation officials say that the Michigan deer population is about the same as last year. They also expect about the same number of hunters to make the annual trek northward. Close to 300,000 red-coated Nimrods will take out licenses. One out of three will be able to tag a deer.

Camp Hunting

We plan to spend a week on Bois Blanc Island located just above Chulovoyan. Ten men of various ages and occupations will comprise the hunting party. This will be our first experience in a hunting camp. From the many stories we've heard, it is undoubtedly the best way to pursue the wily buck. We know of a group of county agents and extension specialists that have been making the yearly pilgrimage in just such fashion for over twenty years. Same camp, same bunch of men. It gets to be one of the highlights in a whole year's activities.

Meetings Nil

It's a peculiar thing how all agricultural activities can come to a complete halt during the hunting season. For any group to schedule important meetings during the 16-day season is one way of insuring a very poor turnout. Even the ladies discontinue their social functions. Ones that don't accompany their husbands are atonement by the lack of transportation.

Here's Hoping

This will be my first real attempt to bag a deer. Up until this year, I've had no particular interest in spending any amount of time away from home because of varied responsibilities. Because of the lag in farm doings, I've made arrangements to take the second week of a vacation during the deer season.

Use Emergency Power

When the electric power goes off in an emergency, auxiliary power for the milking machine is available from the tractor, truck, or car. I. E. Parkin, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania state college, explains a hole in drilled in the intake manifold and a milking machine vacuum line stall cock installed.

Stone Age Tool Chest

The little Stone Age boy who lived about 10,000 B. C., was as proud of his tool chest as any little boy of today. It contained chisels, drills, saws, and stone axes and stone knives with edges that had been ground sharp and smooth on a whetstone.

It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy what we have, that makes for happiness.

The leading part in the drama of life is minding your own business.

Indian Coinage

India has continued the issue of coinage in pure nickel and cupronickel, and during the past four years over one thousand million coin blanks have been produced for striking in India. The issue of the new coinage will not be completed for some years and will involve altogether many thousands of tons of nickel.

For Home Runners

Approximately 150 yards of strong, fine thread are used in every baseball. The cotton thread is so fine that it takes 1 mile of it to weigh a pound!

It's a safe bet that the chips that some fellows carry on their shoulders came from their heads.

One of the best ways to achieve success is to remember not to believe everything you hear.

A writer says that if you wish to rise with the lark avoid the mid-night swallows.

Nickel Stainless Steels

The largest volume of production of stainless steels is in the United States which for the last four years has held an average of about 550,000 ingot tons. Volume last year was somewhat below this average, but with roughly 60 per cent of the total production in the nickel-chromium varieties, a very large consumption of nickel was maintained.

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the hump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-cube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

WOMAN'S WORLD

Emphasize Your Individual Style When Selecting Winter Clothing

By Erta Haley

MANY WOMEN with styling problems feel they cannot do justice to their needs with winter clothing.

Dramatic Velveteen

When a fabric like black velveteen is used in a dress, decorative effects are kept very simple.

On the other hand, tall and slender women feel that the more sombre winter colors and their heavy materials take away color and drama which can be achieved with clothing for other seasons.

Perhaps these complaints were once true, but not this season. The new clothes can give you all the color you want, or supply the muted shades which may be preferable.

Those with soft rounded contours about the face and neck will welcome the bare shoulder look which is so pleasing and flattering to them.

After you've studied your individual problems and then the available styles, you can easily choose the most flattering costume. Don't yearn to look like something other than your type if you want to avoid the pitfalls of poor taste.

Few women can wear all the different styles of clothing which are being featured. That's why there are so many diverse kinds. They're there for individual types so that each can look her nicest.

Select Coat to Fit Figure and Wardrobe

Since the winter coat represents a substantial investment in the wardrobe, do choose one which will keep you well clothed for two or three years. The coat should be one which makes you happy in wearing it, for it is one item in the closet which will be called on to give a lot of service.

This year coats will look bulky, but this is an optical illusion since the coats are really light in weight. They're soft and easy to wear and will give warmth to those who feel they need an extra measure of that.

For the tall girl who wants to wear something really dramatic, nothing could be better chosen than these soft, fleecy, but easy to carry casual coats. She is the one who can stand a bit of extra bulk and body in coat material, and they're made for her.

Shorter women can choose something equally warm, but will prefer a more sleek, and at the same time more feminine style in a sweater or a modified cloak, possibly with Spanish accents which are new on the fashion horizon.

The brief and casual coats made frankly to simulate furs will be acceptable to both tall and short, in their own individual styles. If you're taller than average, the best choice would be a rather short coat which will cut your height. If you're short and somewhat plump, it's best to select a longer coat, and thus make the most of what height you have.

Remodeling of Furs Pays Dividends

Many women tire of their fur coats after several years, but if the fur chosen was carefully selected to suit the wearer, then it's only the style of the coat which has grown tiresome. You don't get tired of colors or textures, if they are flattering to you!

Furs can be restyled once they're outmoded, and when expertly done, anyone would think you really came along with a new coat. Check into the possibilities of this way of hav-
