

No Dental Bills
Shark's teeth originate in the rear of the mouth and worn forward until reaching the outer edge, where they are discarded. New rows move up continuously to replace the discarded ones.

Protect Forests
It would cost many million dollars for man to reforest idle forest land, but with careful protection and prudence in cutting practices, the greater part of this area will reforest itself.

Oak Bluff Breezes

This is the season of the milkweed of which we seem to have two or three varieties. These stately plants with their pink and white silky blooms are really fascinating. They grow in patches along the bay shore, in the shady woodland lots along the local highways and lanes and in the fence corners that circle the cultivated fields and upland pasture lots. The milkweed is appealing from the time it pushes through the soil until the last seed has unraveled from its woven silky pod and floated away on the September breeze. It's the weaving of the silk for which the milkweed is most famous. The pod is efficient protection for nature's shuttle and loom while the mystery of maturity is proceeding. On these August days the pod with its finished selvage, seam edges begin to open and one can see the skein of lustrous, tightly wrapped, white silk with its numerous light brown overlapped seeds. Then the glossy silk begins to separate with airy floss. Each seed has its own balloon of shiny fluffy threads and in these white parachutes, the seeds float silently away. To the farmer or countryman the milkweed is not a welcome flower and is more regarded as a weed but as a man comes across his fields these late summer days the touch of the milkweeds gives a welcome color after the fields and meadows have been shod of their crops so he is not too much concerned.

Several of our local fishing enthusiasts have brought in unusual catches of perch this week, one lot of nearly 200. In this week's edition of Time Magazine we read as follows: "In San Francisco, Dr. Robert Miller of the Steinhart Aquarium excitedly opened a shipment of Hawaiian fish and was considerably let down to find a bunch of homuhumuhikale instead of humuhumunukunuuapuaa, as ordered." This surely was a serious mistake and we hope it does not occur here for perch are more easily spelled and it is much easier on the linotype machines and it is doubtful if our channels would withstand such a variety of the pieces species.

The mystery of the flying discs or saucers is as yet unexplained and it is as deep a mystery what has become of the Foster family this season. In other years, they have been here from late June until September and they are surely missed this year. Might be a case for the F. B. I. and, if and when, they do arrive, we shall certainly "Ask Mr. Foster."

Earl Holmes is here for a few days' vacation from his work with Krolik & Co. of Detroit, and with his sister, Miss Myrtle, will leave Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Morrisville, N. Y., near Syracuse. They will be away at least two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Janes of Caro were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Burke and Sandham cottages. The Janes are two of the few original shareholders of the Cass City Summer Home Club which was organized 54 years ago and we are always pleased to have them come back and renew acquaintances.

The Vallier family of Dearborn and Mrs. Wm. Moreton of Detroit have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sandham for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richmond of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting with Mrs. Flo Maholland this week. David Stormzand and Mrs. Chas. Crocker are here for a few days with the Stormzand family. Mrs. Crocker will be remembered as the former Lucy Fritz. David had quite a thrill Sunday afternoon when his motor boat capsized about a half mile off shore and was rescued by a party of fishermen nearby. They were able to bring the boat and motor ashore but the motor will need a complete overhauling after its watery bath.

Mrs. J. D. Brooker of Cass City is recovering at the Burke cottage from the effects of a fractured arm which occurred in her Cass City home last week.

Mrs. Charlotte Wellemeier and Mrs. Hutchins, formerly Mabel Reagh, formerly of Cass City and now of Vassar, were Sunday guests at the Walton cottage.

The Ketchum cottage was the scene for a five o'clock party Saturday afternoon, it being the occasion of Mr. Ketchum's birthday, and on Sunday afternoon the same group met for a Bohemian dinner at the Burke cottage.

Mr. Greig has been improving his tim during his vacation by painting the exterior of his cottage, a nice looking coating of pure white.

Mrs. Ethel McCoy of Cass City was a Sunday guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank McIntyre. Dr. McIntyre hopes to spend the last two weeks of this month here for his vacation from his office in the Book Tower in Detroit.

Transplanting Plants

The best time to transplant plants is when they are dormant, that is, before the spring growth begins. Many plants, however, can be safely moved later if they are carefully handled in transplanting. In transplanting, lift out the plant with a large ball of earth around the roots. Wrap it in a burlap cloth to hold the ball of earth around the roots. Set the plant in proper position, fill in with earth and firm it. Avoid cutting or breaking the roots, and give the newly-transplanted plant plenty of water and protection from hot sun.

Chinchilla Wraps

There are probably not more than 25 wild South American chinchilla coats or wraps in the world and possibly 12 of this grade of chinchilla in the United States. The wild South American chinchilla wraps, as distinct from the ranch-grown chinchillas, vary in cost from $20,000 to $100,000.

Both got their Potash at the same time

YOU can save time and money by making sure the fertilizers you buy for your fall seedings contain enough potash for a heavy stand of clover to follow the grain. As a guide, remember that a 2-ton yield of clover hay requires 2½ times as much potash as is needed to produce 30 bushels of wheat. Consult your agricultural adviser about the fertility of your soil and the fertilizer you need. Write us for free information and literature on profitable soil and crop management.

A Lady Likes to Be Treated Right

Ask any little girl who has exchanged burned-out lamp bulbs at an Edison office. She'll tell you she was treated like a debutante shopping for sables. For, although Detroit Edison supplies eight million new lamp bulbs to its customers annually, the Edison clerk never seems too busy to give her a smile and a cheery greeting.

Next time you need lamp bulbs, take your burned-out ones, along with a recent electric bill for easy identification, to your nearest Edison office. You'll find that the clerk is genuinely concerned with your needs and viewpoints. And you'll find a willingness to go out of the way to help a customer, whether it be a little girl or a great-grandmother.

Contest Winner "Brands" His Prize

A pioneer of the auto industry, hunted throughout the nation in a contest to discover the oldest Chevrolet truck in America, turned up, appropriately, in the possession of a Montana homesteader. The venerable vehicle, vintage of 1918, was still serving Rancher Leslie A. Storey, of Jordan, Mont., whose ranch lies 18 miles from a typical "last frontier" town. The award for owning the oldest licensed and operating truck was a new Chevrolet "advance-design" model, which Storey "brands" here with his distinctive Circle-Heart brand. It was presented to him by J. W. Burke, manager of Chevrolet's truck department, as Mrs. Storey and Montana cowgirl Merle Spears (right) look on. Nearly 7,000 old-time Chevrolet trucks were entered in the contest won by this vehicle, which was one of 384 built by the division in 1918, its first year of truck production.

Mission Maps
Many blank spots on standard maps of the Pacific area were filled in by the army map service from charts made by missionaries, by traders and skippers of the islands, and by surveys of oil and rubber companies. Today, however, the South Pacific is as well charted as Connecticut, for aerial photographers of the service mapped every square mile of the vast area. In the United States a re-mapping by aerial camera is now underway, with areas around army posts and valleys in which army engineers are working on flood control the first to be charted.

Mayoral Elections
Popular elections of mayors were not generally adopted in the United States until the 1820's. In colonial days, the mayor was usually appointed by the provincial or colonial governor.

Gardening Hint
Before working in the garden, if you work gloveless, scrape your finger nails over a cake of soap. The soap will prevent dirt from getting under your nails and can be easily washed out after the gardening job is completed.
