■ he city of Eustis will have a workshop on July 17 with the Trout Lake Nature Center to discuss an offer for city land that would roughly double the size of the current center.

The Trout Lake Nature Center originally offered $400,000 for 269 acres next to the center across County Road 44 during the Audience to Be Heard part of the city commission meeting on June 5, according to a city commission agenda for June 19.

One parcel in the offer is owned by the city, but is a part of the nature center with a conservation designation, according to Eustis Acting City Manager Dianne Kramer.

Joan Bryant, the president of the board for Trout Lake Nature Center, said Friday that the parcel should not have been included in the offer, making the total size of the proposed purchase 226.52 acres. She said the Trout Lake Nature Center, including that parcel, is currently 230 acres, but a large part of that is in the lake.

"We want the opportunity to explain further the benefits to the city of taking this and if they feel that they want to negotiate in good faith, we're certainly willing to discuss it," Bryant said.

One of the recommendations in a city commission agenda for June 19 was to not include the sale property north of CR 44 and the property on the south side of CR 44. That area, not including the parcel that is part of the center, would be 140.35 acres.

"I'm not sure that it makes a lot of sense to extend Trout Lake Nature Center across 44, because you lose ... the

Iraq, Syria conflicts merge, feed off each other

ZEINA KARAM and QASSIM ABDUL-ZAHRA Associated Press

BEIRUT — In a reflection of how intertwined the Syria and Iraq conflicts have become, thousands of Shiite Iraqi militiamen helping President Bashar Assad crush the Sunni-led uprising against him are returning home, putting a strain on the overstretched Syrian military as it struggles to retain territory recaptured in recent months from rebels.

The borders between the two countries are being largely ignored, with fighters from the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant said to be crossing freely from one side to the other, transporting weapons, equipment and cash in a development that has potential to shift the balance of power in a largely stalemated battle.

The seizure of large chunks of Iraq by militants does offer Assad a messaging victory: he has long insisted the uprising against him is the work of foreigninspired Islamic extremists, suggesting that the West needs to work with him to check the influence of jihadis, and that the radicals, not the divided and

While the idea has been discussed for months, county officials said a recent review revealing several outstanding incentive jobs created but could grants with auditing

Although all job growth incentive grants require a minimum of a two-year auditing period, six incentive grants, from 2004 to 2008, were found to have incomplete reporting and no opportunity for further information gathering, according to coun-

Putin backs Ukraine's cease-fire, warns talks needed

DAVID MCHUGH Associated Press

KIEV, Ukraine — Russian President Vladimir Putin expressed support Saturday for Ukraine's unilateral cease-fire in its battle against pro-Russian separatists and appealed to both sides to halt all military operations.

But he warned that Ukrainian President Petro Poroshenko's blueprint for peace would not be viable without action to start peace negotiations.

The qualified Russian backing Ukraine's troubled east. for Poroshenko's effort to halt the conflict was another in a series of shifting Kremlin moves and statements that leave unclear the level of Moscow's commitment to de-escalating the conflict.

Putin's conciliatory words came on the same day he ordered largescale military exercises that NATO criticized as likely to raise tensions. U.S. officials also accused Russian troops of moving back into positions near the border with

The Kremlin said in a statement that Putin "calls on the opposing sides to halt any military activities and sit down at the negotiating table."

The statement said Putin supported Ukrainian President Petro Poroshenko's decision to order Ukrainian troops to observe a unilateral cease-fire starting Friday night.

connectivity there," Kramer said. Bryant said Wednesday that this offer would be unacceptable, noting that the land there is swamp and wetlands, which would be good for preservations but would not allow the center to accomplish its goals with the property.

"It's certainly not what we intended when we made our offer, because we gave them a long list of things that we would like to be able to do and we could do none of those things on those parcels that Ms. Kramer is offering," Bryant said.

Bryant said they hope to use the property for a trailhead that would meet with Lake County's Pine Meadows Conservation Area, where a proposed multipurpose trail would connect the center with the county's Lake May Reserve, and to someday have overnight camping facilities and cabin rentals. She said they also hope to build a facility for rental parties, conventions or meetings, and they might be able to bring in traveling science exhibits with a venue.

'The trailhead is critical to that whole trail system and it has got to be on the north side of 44 because that's where the trail will be," Bryant said.

Kramer said the workshop is necessary in order to find out what would be acceptable, as well as for the center to provide more information to the city commission.

"What I want to know is, truthfully, what their plans are for the property, how they're (going to) go about funding the things that they're talking about for the property, and we need to really discuss the north of 44 property that the city owns," said Eustis City Commissioner Michael Holland of the workshop.

Also listed as a consideration from the meeting was the property north of CR 44, which the agenda states the city has had discussions about with Lake-Sumter State College and the County Fairground Board for development. It had been previously selected for an "economic development partnership opportunity," the agenda states.

Kramer said there is not active interest from LSSC, but the fairground discussions are ongoing and they would need more land than what the city owns there.

Holland said they need to talk to the fair group again to learn about their interest.

The "Touch Table" in the Charles Newell Hall Museum at the Trout Lake Nature Center is loaded with artifacts and examples that children are allowed to hold on Thursday

"As a lifelong resident of Eustis, I would hate to see the fairgrounds relocate to south Lake County, or even into Tavares. The Lake County Fairgrounds has been in Eustis forever and I really would like to keep it here," Holland said.

Holland said he has not made any decision in regards to the offer from the Trout Lake Nature Center, which he said is an asset to the city. He wants to hear from everyone and will take everything into consideration.

"In the long run, this property does belong to the people of the city of Eustis," Holland said. "I want to make a decision that will help us develop the north end with eco-friendly tourism, but I also want the taxpayers of the city of Eustis to be able to have money in their coffers too, as things come along. So, I need to have a fair and balanced approach to everything that we do."

Kramer said the property is an asset and the city needs to evaluate it the same way they do their costs and expenses.

"When I say it's the city's asset, it's an asset that belongs to every citizen in Eustis and so to be good stewards of the city's assets, the commission has to decide has to look at a cost-benefit analysis sort of thing," Kramer said Wednesday. "Can we justify that there is enough benefit to the citizens by taking that kind of offer versus the possibility of getting additional money for it?"

Another consideration on the agenda was a public safety complex that was once considered for the southwest corner of CR 44 and Hicks Ditch Road.

Although a fire station is under construction on Hicks Ditch Road, Kramer said the center wants to buy the property around it and a maintenance facility on CR 44, which would box the city in with no ability for future expansions. She said the full complex with a police station is not currently being worked on, but the city is always trying to anticipate future needs and the police department is outgrowing its facility.

The value of the property the center offered to buy - without the parcel that is already part of the center but is owned by the city — is valued at $1,424,480, according to the Eustis City Commission agenda.

The agenda for June 19 states that the property appraiser had updated the land value in the last two weeks. The previous value of the same property was $844,193.

Lake County Property Appraiser Carey Baker said as a city owned non-taxable property, it is usually inspected last and that it had not been appraised recently. He said someone representing the center had asked about the property, so they reviewed it and found it was not kept current on the value because it was an exempt property.

'We, using standard appraisal practices, put the most current land values, in that area, we applied them to that property and, lo and behold it, doubled the value," Baker said.

Both Holland and Kramer said the city commission could not respond to the offer when it was presented on June 5 because of the commission's rules.

"It was kind of a surprise offer, so it takes some time to absorb it and analyze it and figure out what's best for all citizens, and that's what the city will do," Kramer said.

And he can relish the fact that the U.S. is weighing airstrikes against Sunni militants in Iraq — and possibly Syria – while shying away from any military action against his government for the past three years. But the developments also threaten to upset what has recently been an upward trend by Assad's forces in the three-yearold Syrian conflict. The Syrian government is heavily reli-

They include thousands of Shiite Hezbollah fighters, Iranian Revolutionary Guard advisers and Iraqi militiamen who left their homes and headed to Syria to defend what they see as an attack on the Shiite regional axis comprised of Iran, Assad, Hezbollah in Lebanon and Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki's government in Iraq.

Man allegedly beats woman over oversleeping

A 40-year-old man will now spend more time with judges after he was arrested Thursday on accusations that he struck his girlfriend for failing to wake him up for a court appearance.

Keith Allen Quigley, of Leesburg, was charged with domestic battery and remained in the Lake County Jail Friday with no bail.

An arraignment date for the charge is slated for July 15, according to the Lake County's Sheriff's website.

It is not clear why Quigley was scheduled to go to court Thursday. But, according to an affidavit, his live-in girlfriend said she tried to wake him up several times about 7 a.m. Thursday for a court appearance in Marion County. After several attempts, she gave up.

She added when Quigley finally woke up about 1:30 p.m., he became upset because he missed the court date. He then started screaming and cursing before allegedly slapping her in the left ear. The woman left the home with the couple's child and called police.

The affidavit adds when police caught up with Quigley, he admitted the couple had argued but wouldn't confirm that he struck her and was arrested.

Fire destroys mobile home on County Road 723

A fire destroyed a Sumter County mobile home Friday night. The blaze occurred on County Road 723 in Webster about 9 p.m. According to Leland Greek, fire chief with Sumter County Fire & EMS, neighbors reported hearing an explosion, then seeing fire coming from the single-wide mobile home. Firefighters arrived and heavy flames were showing from the front and rear of the building.

"They performed a quick attack stopping the fire spread and upon arrival of additional units, they entered the home to perform a search and finish extinguishing the fire, Greek said.

The home was a total loss but the owners weren't there at the time of the fire and there were no injuries.

The Red Cross was called to assist the displaced homeowners.

Greek added the cause of the fire is under investigation.

About 30 people showed up at a Tennessee motel on Saturday to give cheek-swab DNA samples as people adopted through a nearby Georgia clinic hope to identify biological relatives before time for reconnecting runs out.

With no records of their birth parents, DNA testing may be the only way to confirm biological links for some of the 200-plus infants handed off to new parents in the 1950s and '60s through the late Dr. Thomas Hicks' clinic in McCaysville, near the Tennessee-North Carolina line.

Openly gay governor candidate leads pride parade

Associated Press

PORTLAND, Maine — Democratic candidate who reluctantly made public his homosexuality last year found himself serving as the grand marshal of Maine's biggest gay pride parade and festival Saturday and urged activists to continue fighting to eliminate discrimination and promote equality.

Mike Michaud, who would become the nation's first openly gay person to be elected governor if he unseats Republican Paul LePage in November, said it would be powerful for the gay community to have a seat at the table in discussions with governors across the country on equality issues.

"Maine has come a long ways and our nation has come a long ways, but there's still a long way to go," he said in an interview before he marched alongside a white convertible down the roughly milelong route in downtown Portland.

Aside from fundraising, observers say Michaud's sexual orientation will likely have other political importance in one of the first states to approve same-sex marriage at the ballot box in 2012.

It could turn away some deeply conservative and religious voters, but they likely wouldn't have supported the Democrat anyway, said Michael Cuzzi, a former Democratic campaign strategist.

Michaud has come under fire from his political foes for voting against anti-discrimination laws for gays and other pro-equality measures while in the state Legislature. His campaign said his position on the issues has evolved over the years and he's now strongly pro-equality.

That turnaround and his decision to come out could attract progressives who were not fans of his in earlier elections, said Sandy Maisel, political science professor at Colby College.

WASHINGTON About 65 percent of senior executives at the Veterans Affairs Department got performance bonuses last year despite widespread treatment delays and preventable deaths at VA hospitals and clinics, the agency said Friday. More than 300 VA executives were paid a total of $2.7 million in bonuses last year, said Gina Farrisee, assistant VA secretary for human resources and administration. That amount is down from about $3.4 million in bonuses paid in 2012, Farrisee said.

The totals do not include tens of millions of dollars in bonuses awarded to doctors, dentists and other medical providers throughout the VA's nearly 900 hospitals and clinics.

KABUL, Afghanistan — Hundreds of Afghans protested Saturday against alleged fraud in last week's presidential runoff, part of escalating tensions over what Western officials had hoped would be a smooth transfer of power as violence across the country killed at least 13 people.

CAIRO — A strange silence has met the U.S. capture of a Libyan militant accused in the 2012 attack that killed the American ambassador and three others. In his hometown of Benghazi in eastern Libya, there have been few threats of revenge, only speculation among supporters and opponents that Ahmed Abu Khattala was betrayed by an insider.

Abu Khattala had said for months he had no fear of the Americans snatching him, living at his home and saying he worked as a construction contractor. Before U.S. commandos snatched him from Benghazi a week ago, he had been battling alongside the militant group Ansar al-Shariah against the troops of Khalifa Hifter, a renegade Libyan general who has waged an offensive aimed at crushing Islamic militants around Libya, Abu Khattala's brother Abu Bakr told The Associated Press Abu Khattala was and independent."

McMurray wins pole position at Sonoma

JENNA FRYER Associated Press

SONOMA, Calif. — Jamie McMurray took the time to help rookie teammate Kyle Larson learn the road course at Sonoma Raceway.

The payoff for working together was two Chip Ganassi Racing cars in the top three of the starting field of Sunday's race.

McMurray won the pole for toay's race with a track record lap that bumped AJ Allmendinger from the top starting spot, and Larson qualified a surprising third.

Allmendinger seemed to have the pole locked down until McMurray turned a lap at 96.350 mph in the final minute of Saturday's qualifying session. It broke the record of 95.262 mph set by Marcos Ambrose in 2012.

"Great lap, I am so excited," McMurray said. "I thought our car in race trim was really good, really good on the long runs. We're not going to change a whole lot, I feel really good about it."

It's the first pole of the season for McMurray, 10th of his career, and third at Sonoma. McMurray also started from the pole last year but finished 25th.

He called the qualifying session stressful under NASCAR's new knockout format.

McMurray was on the verge of being eliminated in the first of the two rounds, but he went out for one last lap to advance into the top 12. Then he bumped Allmendinger as the clock wound down on the final 10-minute session.

in a race he believes he can win. He was out of the Sprint Cup Series a year ago because of a failed random NASCAR drug test in 2012, so while the series was racing at Sonoma, Allmendinger was in the Nationwide Series race at Road America.

He delivered in the Wisconsin race for his first career victory and found his way back into a fulltime ride in Cup. He wasn't disappointed after McMurray bumped him from the pole, but it eyeing another win.

"We were in position to have (the pole), so it could be a lot worse," Allmendinger said. "It sucks when you are that close, but you know what? Jamie put in a heck of a lap. We've got a clean view of the track when we go green and we're going to have some fun tomorrow. We've got a pretty good shot to win this thing.

In a surprise, McMurray's rookie teammate Kyle Larson was third to give Chip Ganassi Racing two cars in the top three. Larson doesn't have a ton of road course experience, and the rookie is admittedly still learning how to shift.

Goodyear points to speed for Stewart tire issue

JENNA FRYER Associated Press

SONOMA, Calif. -Tony Stewart was running lap times about a second faster than expected at Indianapolis Motor Speedway when a blown tire caused him to wreck this week in a Goodyear test.

officials Goodyear said Stewart's accident 17 laps into Tuesday's 20-lap run was the only incident of the two-day test. The three-time NA-SCAR champion wasn't injured.

"Our test speeds were extremely fast at Indianapolis," Greg Stucker, Goodyear's director of racing, said in a statement Friday. "Tony was approaching the end of a very strong 20-lap run, with his lap times as much as a second faster than what has become the norm at Indi-

Following Stewart's tire failure, Logano said Goodyear made adjustments "to figure out a way to knock some speed out of these race cars." Teams were given a different left side tire to use and will wait to see what Goodyear decides to bring for the

Brazil works to warn World Cup visitors of sharks

July 19

BRETT MARTEL Associated Press

RECIFE, Brazil — Newlywed Akiko Ishihama let out a nervous laugh when asked if she realized that she was honeymooning on a beach well known for deadly shark attacks.

"Not at all," she answered as she gazed at the aquamarine water lapping up against the inviting stretch of sand called Boa Viagem Praia. "Maybe I'll stay on the beach and get suntanned."

Ishihama, 28, and her husband, Makoto, 32, kicked off their honeymoon by attending Saturday's World Cup match between Japan and Ivory Coast in nearby Arena Pernambuco. They are among tens of thousands of visitors from around the globe descending on this city in northeastern Brazil to see one of five matches. The popular, sun-bleached Boa Viagem beach — which translates to safe journey beach — lies only a few miles south of Recife's city center. Less than a year ago, a woman was killed by a shark here, one of 24 deadly attacks around Recife since 1992.

Video of the attack shows several lifeguards rushing to the young woman's aid as she struggled to keep her head above water and her blood formed a red streak on the water around her. De Lima considers it part of his job to tell everyone new to the beach about the dangers and always issues a warning for swimmers not to cross the reef. But he speaks just enough English to do business. And not everyone heeds his warnings. "It's dangerous because a lot of people drink, and drink, and they don't know, or some guys think they're a big man, and they go on the other side," he said.

The state of our country is rapidly declining

thought I would never see a president less competent than Jimmy Carter, but that belief has been shattered.

The scandals of the current administration continue to mount, i.e. Fast and Furious, the IRS targeting of conservatives and the murderous attack in Benghazi. But as bad as these scandals are, there is a much greater threat to our Republic.

The increased danger to our nation has been well articulated by an Obama supporter, Jonathan Turley, who is a Constitutional scholar America. at George Washington University. According to Constitutional tip-Turley, our Constitution is at a tipping point due to the abuses of the Obama administration. Testifying before Congress, Turley pointed out that the Obama administration had circumvented on immigration, health care and greenhouse gas emissions.

President Obama did not hide his intentions after his re-election in stating that he had a pen and phone available to unilaterally circumvent Congress. And so he has. He has selectively chosen what immigration laws to enforce or ignore, he has changed his Obamacare legislation over 30 times to suit his whims and the new EPA regulations will strangle our coal industry and raise utility bills in most parts of

But it is not just the ping point crisis that is alarming. How about the Russians blatantly invading Ukraine and absorbing Crimea, the disappearing red line in the sands of Syria and now the rapid invasion of Iraq by some of the most evil and bloodthirsty terrorist groups in the world?

We lost over 4,000 brave Americans in freeing Iraq from a brutal dictator, Saddam Hussein, only to see that hard-fought victory rapidly disappear because of the neglect of this administration. Because President Obama couldn't wait to get out of Iraq and did not negotiate a "status of forces" agreement to keep a stabilizing force of American troops, we are allowing the worst kind of terrorist group to occupy a large portion of the Middle East.

Remember, Iraq had never known what it was to live under a democracy. They needed guidance and our military leadership for stability during the transition from a tyrant to a democracy. Without our presence, the leader of Iraq, Nouri al-Maliki, admittedly a poor leader, may well turn to Iran for protection and leadership.

It is simply mind-boggling that we free Iraq from a dictator and then Iran, whose leadership hates America, is the nation that now volunteers to save Baghdad. Remember that in 2010, Vice President Joe Biden said that Iraq would be one of the administration's greatest success stories. I don't believe that will be restated any time

So, our foreign policy is an absolute disaster, our Constitution is being shredded by executive orders and now our southern border has become a massive drop-off location for illegal immigrant children. The parents of these children believe that the Obama administration — via our tax dollars - will take care of them now and in the future. Why not? More dependent voters for Democrats.

But wait, surely our economy and job creation has blossomed under Obama's economic policies. Sorry to report that the jobless rate today is the worst since the Jimmy Carter days some 36 years ago. Some 37.2 percent of Americans 16 or older that comprise our potential workforce are not working. Youth unemployment is up, especially among black youth, family income is down and many college graduates loaded with student debt cannot find decent jobs to pay their bills or loans.

Food Stamp usage has mushroomed, Obamacare has proven to be a huge disappointment, immigration is in a state of chaos, Iraq is crumbling at an alarming rate, Putin invaded the Ukraine and laughed at our president's threats and our economic recovery remains the worst since World War II. We have now passed $17 trillion in national debt with no pretense of ever having a balanced budget and our entitlement programs are all headed toward insolvency, but none of these staggering problems seem to slow down the president's golf game.

To make matters worse, we have two and a half years left of the incompetence of this administration.

My apologies to Jimmy Carter. You're looking better every day.

> Citizens voted for peace in Colombia s internal strife with guerrilla forces rages in many parts of the world, on Sunday the people of Colombia cast a vote for peace and continuity.

In a heated runoff, they reelected President Juan Manuel Santos, giving him a second term in the presidential palace. His rival, Oscar Ivan Zuluaga, a candidate for the Centro Democratico party, quickly conceded to President Santos, who won by a margin of 53 to 47 per-

After his victory, President Santos said this democratic election had been one of the most important in Colombia's recent history: "What was at stake was not one candidate over another, but the future direction of a country." Here's why: In effect, President Santos and his opponent campaigned on two radically opposed views of domestic peace. President Santos favored continuing the 19-month-old peace talks Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia, the oldest homegrown guerrilla group in Latin America. At times, it has brought the government to the brink.

But under President Santos' leadership as head of state and while he served as defense minister under the previous president, Alvaro Uribe, the FARC has been dealt crushing blows. U.S. military aid to the Colombian government under at least three administrations has made a big difference in putting the insurgents on the ropes.

Zuluaga took a far more combative stance during his campaign. He wanted no part of the peace talks unless the rebels ceased their hostilities, ended abductions of private citizens and stopped recruiting Colombian children and teens to become cannon fodder.

Political pundits believed Zuluaga's position meant he would likely

Most Colombians thousands of whom have already fled to South Florida to escape the turmoil — voted to continue the negotiations by reelecting President Santos. Many scribbled the word "paz," or peace, on the palms of their hands on election day. Who can blame them? Some Colombians have gone from childhood to adulthood fearing they would become victims in the war between their government and FARC.

The negotiations between President Santos' government and the FARC have become problematic because of their duration. Many Colombians, though initially supportive, have grown increasingly impatient and skeptical of FARC's intentions. And unfortunately, the talks take place in Havana, capital of the longest government had to make this concession to bring the rebels to the negotiating table. And Cuba's lack of a free press means the Colombian government can maintain secrecy regarding the progress of the negotiations.

Regardless of the location of the talks, Sunday's vote gives Colombians hope that the conflict in their country is nearing an end. It has been one of the longest and bloodiest in the Western Hemisphere, claiming more than 200,000 lives, most of them civilians.

The FARC is no longer as powerful as it once was, thanks in good measure to Santos' strategy of talking while pursuing aggressive military tactics on the ground. His re-election rep-

Box 1429, Palatka Florida 32178-1429 (4049 Reid St., Palatka, FL 32177) or by e-mail with the District Clerk at Clerk@sjrwmd.com, within twenty-one (21) days of newspaper publication of the notice of District decision (for those persons to whom the District does not mail or email actual notice).

ing is deemed filed upon receipt of the complete petition by the District Clerk at the District Headquarters in Palatka, Florida during the District's regular business hours. The District's regular business hours are 8 a.m. – 5 p.m., excluding weekends and District holidays. Petitions received by the District Clerk after the District's regular business hours shall be deemed filed as of 8 a.m. on the next regular District business day. A petition must comply with Sections 120.54(5)(b)4. and 120.569(2)(c), Florida Statutes (F.S.), and Chapter 28-106, F.A.C. The District's acceptance of petitions filed by e-mail is subject to certain conditions set forth in the District's Statement of Agency.

A petition for an administrative hear in the District's Statement of Agency Organization and Operation (issued pursuant to Rule 28-101.001, F.A.C.), which is available for viewing at floridaswater.com. The District will not accept a petition sent by facsimile (fax). Mediation may be available if you meet the conditions stated in the full Notice of Rights (see last paragraph).

The right to an administrative hearing and the relevant procedures to be followed are governed by Chapter 120, F.S., Chapter 28-106, F.A.C., and Rule F.S., Chapter 28-106, F.A.C., and Rule 40C-1.1007, F.A.C. Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means the District's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Failure to file a petition for an administrative hearing within the requisite time frame shall constitute a waiver of the right to an administrative hearing. (Rule 28106.111, F.A.C.).

nside a windowless warehouse here teeming with 1,143 pot plants, one of the state's pioneering marijuana producers waited anxiously to "snap the lights."

To growers, that means putting the leafy stalks on a 12hour cycle under the lights. The suddenly shorter "days" signal to the plants that fall is coming — in early June.

"That's when we play Mother Nature," said Steve Elliott, an owner of one of Washington's first licensed pot growers, AuricAG. "It puts the plants into hyper-drive."

To propagate the species, the all-female plants then start to flower, secreting resins, sticky with pot's psychoactive chemicals, to attract pollen.

But not a speck of pollen should be around if Elliott and team have done their job. Desperate, the plants get more for harvest five weeks sticky, more pungent and more valuable. Their fastest-growing strain should be ready after flowering begins.

As the cycle is repeated in coming weeks, AuricAG's owners will confront crucial questions. Can they deliver to the state's first recreational pot stores a crop that meets purity standards, makes a decent profit and brands them as mature entrepreneurs who view pot more like good wine than hippie lettuce?

Much is at stake, including personal finances and reputations. Even the perceived success of Washington state's experiment with legal weed depends on the first wave of growers getting good products to the stores expected to open in July.

The name AuricAG hardly conjures marijuana, never mind counterculture. But it is a sly riff on the owners' ambition. "Auric"

By 9 a.m., Jack Motter had been planting peas for hours.

He pushed a twocontraption wheeled that deposited a seed every few inches along neat rows at Ellwood Canyon Farms, just outside Santa Barbara, Calif. As clouds gathered overhead, he picked up the pace to avoid losing days of work to the fall rain.

Timing can mean the difference between profit and loss for the 5-year-old farm.

Motter and his business partner, Jeff Kramer, are part of a growing crop of young farmers choosing to produce food without pesticides and synthetic fertilizers. As consumers demand more fresh and local food, grown with minimal environmental effects, a new generation has taken up organic farming.

is more than the first name of the James Bond villain Goldfinger. It means related to, or derived from gold.

And gold is what the owners of AuricAG hope to grow. It's what they dream of reaping. And it's the standard they aim to set for the new industry.

With their backgrounds, the owners believe they're wellequipped for the mission. "This product is basically a widget. You manufacture it and distribute it. I understand that operation," said Mark Greenshields, the company president.

Sales director Joby Sewell sees pot differently. "Instead of selling two-by-fours or hammers, this is living and breathing. There's passion involved, and that's why I'm in it," Sewell said.

In any case, those on the team have faced a steady diet of stress. They had to find property where the landlord was willing to break federal law. They had to pass the state's vetting process, including FBI background checks. They had to install security cameras — 29 in all – to cover every inch of their operation. "Treat this like a prison," a state inspector told them.

They've also had to create 911 clones and counting — from the 232 plants they brought in during a 15day window in which state officials essentially looked the other way while the industry sprouted from medical-marijuana farms and illegal sources.

with their more-thana-half-century of combined business experience, the local guys who own AuricAG are in deeply unfamiliar terrain as a company that banks won't even serve because of the federal prohibition of pot.

Will they really be forced to deal only in cash? How will they protect it? Is there a chance they could be one of the few pot merchants a local credit union has said it will service on a trial basis?

"It would bring a big sigh of relief," Greenshields said one day earlier this month. That afternoon, a committee at Salal Credit Union would decide if AuricAG was worthy of becoming their first customer in the pot industry.

Two credit unions have stepped up to give legal pot merchants a trial run, Numerica in Spokane and Salal in Seattle.

Credit unions tend to operate within state and appear to be more comfortable developing programs that meet Washington's pot law than multistate banks, said Scott Jarvis, director of the state's Department of Financial Institutions.

AuricAG's Greenshields was the first potential customer to make a presentation to Salal. Greenshields brought a thick binder with 23 sections, stocked with tax returns, financial disclosures, credit references.

The odds still didn't seem all that favorable.

Salal is starting with no more than seven pot companies in what it calls a "beta test" for the industry. "We aren't sure how labor-intensive these companies are going to be," said Bob Schweigert, senior vice president. "We have to do this right. If we stumble at all, it's going to impact the ability of others."

Formed by Group Health employees in 1948, Salal is the 23rd-largest credit union in the state, with $366 million in assets, Schweigert said.

He sees great potential for pot business. "It's going to surpass the alcohol industry," he said.

Salal decision-makers emailed Greenshields after their meeting, just after 4 p.m. Impressed by the experience of AuricAG's owners, they said they wanted to make the company a customer.

In licensing her work, she retains the copyrights and essentially rents those designs to companies that work with consumer-goods manufacturers. She then gets a royalty on the sale of each item that has her artwork on it.

Simas says most of her royalties come quarterly and usually range from 5 to 8 percent.

Licensing is a way to build a brand. For example, a paisley pattern of pink and teal, with a Bible verse, that she created could end up on candles, notepads, even garden tools.

"You know what's interesting about her?" said Kim Livengood, spokeswoman for Tervis, an insulated drinkwear company that has sold thousands of products

Caroline Simas is a local artist who has licensed her work to many national companies that have put her faith-based artwork on everything from coffee mugs to garden poles, stationery to Tervis tumblers.

TIPS FOR GROWTH

Below are some more of Simas' winning strategies:

- MAXIMIZE YOUR WEBSITE: Although Simas doesn't handle e-commerce on her site, she has direct links to many online stores that sell products bearing her artwork.
- DON'T BE AFRAID TO OUTSOURCE: To avoid burnout, Simas says she outsources nearly everything that keeps her from the creative process, from the bookkeeping to the tax preparing, image scanning to email chains with manufacturers
- STAY NEAR YOUR INSPIRATION: Simas' art studio has windows facing her backyard, a spot that inspires many of her designs.

It wasn't long before Simas had created several dozen greeting cards, which a friend sold at her home art show.

Within a week, the co-owner of 3 French Hens, a gift shop in Charlotte, had commissioned her own batch for the store.

Simas launched her official business, Multiple Blessings — a nod to the twins whose birth inspired her entrepreneurship — with a greeting card line in 2005. Soon, a half-dozen local shops asked to carry the line.

By 2007, juggling motherhood and logistics — printing, warehousing and shipping — was too stressful, Simas said. That's when she looked to licensing.

Her first contract was with a company that sold baby linens. She picked up more clientele after renting a booth at Surtex, a New York trade show for art and design that manufacturers attend to pe-

The boutique agency, which only represents just more than a dozen artists, takes a sizable portion of her sales, she says, but in exchange, they've opened doors to relationships with many of their manufacturing clients, which number in the hundreds.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, June 22, 2014:

This year your life seems to flow more naturally. You probably will see a pay raise or more funds coming in this year. Resist the desire to spend them as quickly as or even quicker than they come in. If you are single, you will develop an even larger circle of admirers. Your next sweetie could be hidden within it. Don't push this relationship to move quickly — trust its natural pace. If you are attached, the two of you act like newfound lovers. A major purchase is likely to enhance your lives. TAURUS helps you stabilize when you experience wild mood swings.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll make an effort to reach out to a family member. A purchase made right now will add to the quality of your life. You could see a big difference in how this item enhances your home. An older friend might give you unwanted feedback.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others appreciate your efforts far more than you realize. You might feel burdened by a choice you feel you have to make. Know when to step away and say "enough." You also could decide to view the situation differently.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Listen to your inner voice. You might not like what is going on, but your sixth sense whispers a perspective that you probably hadn't thought of. Flow with the many changes, as someone could decide to head in a new direction.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Beam in more of what you want. Others will have a difficult time saying "no" to you right now. On the other hand, a parent might have a strong message for you. An older friend or family member finally will relax and become less difficult. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Whether you're out for Sunday brunch or just hanging with the family, others seem to look to you for answers. Without realizing it, you could wind up taking the lead. Before you know it, you'll have organized the rest of the day for everyone.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Go where you'll be among crowds. You might enjoy taking off for a daytrip with a loved one. Read between the lines when speaking with someone at a distance. You'll see the big picture, but it will be apparent that this person does LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Indulge a loved one, and make this a special day for the two of you. Know that this day means a lot to both of you. You will be smiling throughout the day. Make the most of the moment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Your vision of what should happen might be very different from that of those with whom you've made plans. Don't worry so much about having certain situations play out as you think they should. Be sure to tuck away your judgmental side.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Deal directly with someone you care deeply about. You are adventurous by nature, and therefore you like to take risks. Stop, get in touch with your feelings and express your more nurturing side. Offer someone a foot massage or some other treat.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-

Jan. 19) Your ability to come up with a solution without even a second thought is one of the reasons you excel in the business world. Give that same gift to your immediate circle. What you thought could be mundane will turn out to be the opposite. e.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Put the brakes on an uncomfortable situation that ultimately could cause you a problem. You might enjoy your Sunday most by spending your time at home and reading the newspaper or watching a movie. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Speak your mind, and assume that others will be interested. If you are single, you could have a secret admirer. You will see how this person's face lights up when you speak with him or her. You might like keeping this a secret, at least for now.

BAE Systems challenges Lockheed on F-16 upgrades

STEVE KASKOVICH

FORT WORTH, Texas — Inside a hangar at Alliance Airport, two F-16s await a major overhaul.

The fighter jets, which arrived from South Korea last month, will be the first to be worked over by engineers at BAE Systems, a British company that won a $1.3 billion contract to install new avionics and other systems on that country's fleet of about 130 F-16s.

To handle the work, BAE has set up shop at Alliance in space for-Helicopter. It has hired 175 workers, plans to expand its workforce to 300 40,000-square-foot expansion that will add a systems integration lab.

The operation represents another chapter in the long life of the legendary fighter jet that's celebrating the 40th anniversary of its first flight — and a new competitor for its maker, Lockheed Martin Aeronautics in west Fort Worth.

More than 4,500 F-16s have been produced by Lockheed and its predecessor in Fort Worth, General Dynamics, with about half going to foreign nations. By some estimates, more than 1,000 of the 3,000-plus merly occupied by Bell F-16s still in operation could become candidates for upgraded electronic systems in an era by the end of the year when defense funds to and broke ground on a buy new jets are tight.

Engineers work on an F-16 at BAE Systems at Alliance Airport in Fort Worth, Texas, on June 2.

With Lockheed Martin focused on meeting development targets on its next-generation F-35 fighter jet program, which has been plagued by technical delays and

(It also has about 200 employees in west Fort Worth working with Lockheed on electronic warfare and other vice president of busisystems for the F-35.)

"Customers clamoring for competition," Bean said.

While the F-35 was designed as a successor to the F-16, many nations are reassessing how many F-35s they the higher costs. As one and flying them longer.

Greece, which has 140 F-16s, is expected to upgrade contract this year, Bean said. Other countries considering upgrades include Singapore, Turkey, Egypt and Bahrain.

Lockheed has handled F-16 upgrades for years, including midthe Air Force, and believes that its knowledge of the aircraft is a major advantage over BAE or any other rival, said George Standridge, ness development for were Lockheed Martin Aeronautics. Two years ago, it won a contract with Taiwan to upgrade the electronics on 145 F-16s for $1.85 billion. "We are the design and development auwant to buy because of thority on this airplane," Standridge said, alternative, some are emphasizing that it upgrading their F-16s has unique know-how to take the plane to its maximum capability. Despite budget conopen up bidding for an cerns around the globe, Lockheed doesn't believe that F-16 upgrades will eat into potential sales of its F-35, which comes with stealth capabilities and other fea-

"There is nothing you can do to a fourth-generation airplane that will take it to the capabilities of a next-generation plane like the F-22 or the F-35," Standridge said. "Even as the F-35 enters into service, we will have F-16s out there in numbers for a long period of time."

Indeed, many nations with F-16s have already placed orders for F-35s, which sell for about $100 million each. Nine countries, including South Korea, have ordered about 700 F-35s.

And Lockheed could drum up more sales next month, when the plane is scheduled to fly overseas for the first time at the Farnborough International Airshow in England. It expects the fighter's cost to drop as production increases.

At Alliance, BAE engineers will write software and integrate the avionics and other systems to provide all new controls for the F-16s. New systems will include central mission computers, radar, communication, sensors, navigation and weapons targeting. The cockpits will receive high-definition displays and a new helmet system that displays information for the pilot on its visor, Bean said.

The equipment will first be installed in the two planes at Alliance, with ground testing planned for next year and flight testing for 2016. Once the systems have been developed, the upgrades will be installed on the rest of the

HBO's 'True Blood' pulls no punches as it starts it final season

By John Crook © Zap2it

As "True Blood" begins its seventh and final season Sunday, June 22, on HBO, longtime fans are bracing themselves to say goodbye to their favorite characters.

And they may be saying goodbye to some of them sooner than they think.

Within the first three minutes of Sunday's premiere, which is directed by series star Stephen Moyer, a principal player who has been with the series since Season 1 is bloodily and permanently dispatched. It's a death that could be a warning for viewers not to assume anything as they make this last trip to Bon Temps, La.

"Because it's the last season of 'True Blood,' we're not going to pull any punches," cautions executive producer and show runner Brian Buckner. "When you're in the middle of a series run and you don't know how long you're going to run, you can have characters get into trouble but they're always going to get out of it. But there will be profound consequences this year, I'll just put it that way."

During separate phone conversations in late May, both Buckner and leading lady Anna Paquin, who plays telepathic waitress (and part-fairy) Sookie Stackhouse on the hit series, both say they've been too busy just getting the work done to spend much time mourning the imminent end of the unabashedly melodramatic fantasy about supernatural doin's in a rural Southern community teeming with everything from vampires and werewolves to shape-shifters and witches

"Obviously, on some level I know and recognize that this thing is coming to an end," Paquin says, "but I have made some amazing friends among the cast and crew on this show and I have no intention of not keeping those people in my life, so it just really doesn't feel like goodbye. It just feels like a next chapter. Our company is very tight knit and we see each other outside work, so it's impossible for me to think in terms of 'I'll never see this person again.'"

SUNDAY'S BEST BETS

Kesha

8 p.m. on (HALL) Signed, Sealed, Delivered

Season 1 of this series about cases from the U.S. Postal Service's dead letter office concludes with "A Hope and a Future," in which Carol Burnett guest stars as an elderly woman who is reunited with the grandson (Geoff Gustafson) who never knew she existed. Eric Mabius, Kristin Booth and Crystal Lowe also star.

9 p.m. on 20 23 Rising Star

There's no shortage of singing competitions on television these days. However, this new one gives viewers the chance to vote in real time on who stays in: There's an App for that. The contestant also can see how he or she is faring while actually performing, so if things are going badly — ouch. Several people who know something about musical success are on hand, since Josh Groban is the host and Brad Paisley, Kesha and Ludacris make up the panel.

9 p.m. on (TNT) The Last Ship

A deadly contagion has decimated most of the Earth's population, with the crew of an at-sea U.S. Navy destroyer among the few survivors. On board is a scientist whose experiments may hold the key to a cure. Eric Dane ("Grey's Anatomy"), Rhona Mitra ("Strike Back") and Adam Baldwin ("Firefly") star in this 10-episode suspense-drama series from adventure master Michael Bay ("Transformers").

10:03 p.m. on (TNT) Falling Skies

In the Season 4 premiere "Ghost in the Machine," the Masons and the remaining 2nd Mass find themselves under attack by a new Espheni war machine just outside Charleston, where they were supposedly safe. Divided, they must develop new relationships and abilities to survive. Treva Etienne guest stars.

It's a Miracle!!!!

Dr. Vaziri and staff have done what I didn't think was possible. He gave me my smile back! I haven't felt this good in years, and I'm eating better too. It's been a winwin solution and I am very happy with the results.

Thank you Dr. Vaziri and Staff!!

Movie: Up

The Disney-Pixar teaming scores yet again with this delightful, sometimes emotional fantasy about a cranky senior citizen (voice of Edward Asner, who's perfect for the part) who decides to fulfill a goal he had with his late wife. To reach South America, he attaches numerous balloons to his house and heads aloft — with a young scout (voice of Jordan Nagal), who was on the traveler's porch at the wrong moment, as an unexpected companion.

SUNDAY 12 p.m. on (FAM) Movie: Alice in Wonderland

There still can be new life in old stories, as the Disney organization and director Tim Burton prove again with this effective, live-action take on the Lewis Carroll classic. Mia Wasikowska plays Alice as a teenager who bolts from a marriage proposal and tumbles down a rabbit hole into a wondrous land where she encounters such characters as the Mad Hatter (Johnny Depp), ham Carter) and the much nicer White Queen (Anne Hathaway).

MONDAY 8 p.m. on (DISN) Movie: Another Cinderella Story

Despite the title, this bit of tweenfriendly fluff isn't a true sequel to 2004's "A Cinderella Story" but just another modernized recycling

FRIDAY 7 p.m. on (FAM) Movie: Step Up

Not the greatest movie but far, far — did we say far? — superior to "Save the Last Dance 2," this 2006 drama stars the good-looking Channing Tatum ("She's the Man") as a street kid who gets in trouble with the law. Part of his sentence is to help out at an elite performing arts school, where he meets a young student (the marginally decent Jenna Dewan) who needs a dance partner — fast. Damaine Radcliff, Drew Sidora and Mario co-star.

8 p.m. on (DISN) Movie: Zapped

Getting control of the guys in your life? There's an app for that. That's the premise of this new two-hour telepic that stars Zendaya ("Shake It Up") as a teen who downloads a smartphone application that's supposed to help her gain control of her unruly dog. But something happens to the device and now she finds she can make any man submit to her will. Adam DiMarco and William Ainscough also star in this familyfriendly comedy directed by Peter

DeLuise. 9:45 p.m. on (DISN) Girl Meets World

"Boy Meets World" characters Cory and Topanga Matthews (Ben Savage, Danielle Fishel) are now married with children, one of whom is daughter Rilev (Rowan Blanchard), the "girl" of the title. As was the case with her dad from the 1993-2000 series, there plenty of life lessons to be learned. Sabrina Carpenter and August Maturo also star in this new comedy series.

Movie: The Parent Trap

Lindsay Lohan ("Life Size," "Another World") plays the Hayley Mills part — make that parts — in this 1998 remake of the 1961 family classic. Twins separated as babies meet at camp and decide to switch places in an effort to get their long-divorced parents (Dennis Quaid, Natasha Richardson) back together. But the clock is ticking: Dad is about to marry a thoroughly unlikable woman (Elaine Hendrix). Lisa Ann Walter also stars.

of the old tale. Selena Gomez ("Wizards of Waverly Place") plays Mary, the put-upon ward of a washed-up pop star (Jane Lynch), who finds her "prince" in a teen idol (Drew Seeley) attending her high school — sort of a male Hannah Montana. The plot

MONDAY'S BEST BETS

8:30 p.m. on (3) (11) Mom

Christy (Anna Faris) hates to admit it, but having Bonnie (Allison Janney) around has its advantages. In fact, she really, really hates to admit it in "Belgian Waffles and Bathroom Privileges." The result has Christy struggling with highly mixed emotions. Not helping matters is what's parked in the driveway: It's not a car, it's Baxter (Matt Jones). Sadie Calvano, Nate Corddry and French Stewart also star.

10:01 p.m. on 20 23 Mistresses

A new personal interest arises for Savi (Alyssa Milano) in a new episode with the telling subtitle "Friends With Benefits." After meeting Zack (guest star Jason Gerhardt), she finds herself preoccupied with thoughts of someone besides Dom (Jason George).

TUESDAY'S BEST BETS

Abby Lee Miller

8 p.m. on 🗗 🗇 NCIS

Supposedly protective vests that don't do the intended job set off alarms for Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and company in "Bulletproof." The items were part of a shipment intended for U.S. Marines, sending the NCIS team on a search for the source. The probe eventually leads Tony and Ellie (Michael Weatherly, Emily Wickersham) to a gun show. David McCallum, Rocky Carroll and Sean Murray also star.

9 p.m. on 🕄 🗗 🕰 Freedom Summer: American Experience

Events in Mississippi in the summer of 1964, when student volunteers took part in efforts to end white supremacy in the state, are recalled in Stanley Nelson's new documentary. The creation of Freedom Schools and the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party were among the results. However, there also were tragic outcomes to the activities — including the murders of three civil-rights workers, burnings of churches, and bombings of homes and community centers.

9 p.m. on (LIFE) Abby's Studio Rescue

Hotels, restaurants and bars on the brink of closing can get rehabbed and rescued, so why not dance studios? This new sevenepisode series features renowned dance coach Abby Lee Miller of "Dance Moms" fame going on the road to turn dance studios in distress into profitable enterprises, using a mix of tough love and nononsense advice.

10 p.m. on (FX) Tyrant

Dr. Bassam "Barry" al-Fayeed is a pediatrician living the good life in California with Molly, his wife of 19 years, and two children. But when a family wedding brings him back to his home nation of Abbudin, he soon finds himself drawn back into the family business.

WEDNESDAY'S BEST BETS

"Hot in Cleveland"

8 p.m. on (3) (11) Big Brother

If Julie Chen is back in primetime, it's a pretty good bet another group of strangers is about to bond with — or scheme against — one another. The unscripted, three-timesweekly series starts Season 16 with a new batch of houseguests developing a bunch of first impressions. Chen sets them on the path that will earn one of them $500,000 at the end. She'll also preside over the weekly Thursday airings that see someone voted out of the house.

8:30 p.m. on 20 23 The Goldbergs

Murray (Jeff Garlin) learns much more about Erica (Hayley Orrantia) than he really wanted to know in "Daddy Daughter Day." Her somber behavior is having an effect on the whole family, so he hopes getting direct insight into her activities can help him turn things around for her. Adam (Sean Giambrone) is particularly edgy when Beverly (Wendi McLendon-Covey) goes on their annual shopping excursion for his school clothes. George Segal also stars.

10 p.m. on (TVL) Hot in Cleveland

In the new episode "I Just Met the Man I'm Going to Marry," the women fly to Los Angeles to watch Victoria (Wendie Malick) announce the Oscar nominations, but she comes down with a case of nerves. Elka (Betty White) gets campaign advice from a statistics expert, while Joy (Jane Leeves) meets a potential mate. Tim Daly ("Private Practice"), J.P. Manoux ("Spun Out") and Bill Bellamy ("Mr. Box Office") guest star.

10:01 p.m. on ② ③ Taxi Brooklyn

Inspired by "Taken" filmmaker Luc Besson's "Taxi" action-comedy movies, this new series' "Pilot" casts "Grey's Anatomy" alum Chyler Leigh as a New York police detective with a rebel's attitude. She has an ally in cab driver Leo (Jacky Ido), who's handy as a chauffeur as well as a partner in solving cases.

CELEBRITY PIPELINE

'Resurrection' appears to be far from over

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

Q: I am really puzzled about the series "Resurrection." It just stopped, leaving no answers. I kept waiting to see when there would be another episode, but there never was one. Did I miss something, or was that it? — Marge Nees, Marion, Iowa

A: That was it for now, and you didn't miss anything. Season finales — particularly for dramas — are designed that way, to keep you guessing so that you'll come back, provided the show in question gets renewed. "Resurrection" did, and while you may get some answers when the Frances Fisherstarring series returns to ABC this fall, don't bank on everything being resolved right away. That's how they keep you hooked.

Q: Will "The Sing-Off" be coming back, and when? — Natalie Carter, Clearfield, Pa.

A: At this writing, NBC hadn't made a Season 5 of the competition official, but one can't necessarily take that as a sign the show won't be back. After all, the network canceled it after Season 3 ... only to reverse its decision a year later by ordering a Season 4 that aired over a limited period during the holiday season last December.

Q: Is "24: Live Another Day" the start of another regular, ongoing "24" series? — Tim Scott, Pawtucket, R.I.

A: Though it was designed as a stand-alone miniseries, the current Fox show is billed as "Day 9," thus folding it into the history of the entire franchise. Nothing had been said about another "24' series at the time of this writing, but we've learned never to count Jack Bauer (Kiefer Sutherland) out. There's long been talk of a feature-film version of the series, too, so it's entirely possible that another "day" still may come for the character and the concept.

CELEBRITY SCOOP Checking in with Chyler Leigh

By Jay Bobbin © Zap2it

Chyler Leigh made an eventful exit from "Grey's Anatomy," but she didn't necessarily think she'd become an action heroine afterward.

Two years ago, her Dr. Lexie Grey perished from plane-crash injuries in the ABC medical drama's Season 8 finale, but the actress' series career is being reborn. She tackles another of TV's most popular professions — police detective — in the seriocomic "Taxi Brooklyn," which has its NBC premiere Wednesday, June 25.

"This is one of those opportunities that hardly ever comes up, unless you're Tom Cruise," the lively Leigh muses of the show, which is based on the "Taxi" series of action-comedy movies created by Luc Besson ("Taken").

"It's one of those things," Leigh explains, "where I got a call from my agent, who had gotten a call from (executive producer) Gary Scott Thompson, and he said they were pretty much offering me the role."

Leigh's Detective Cat Thompson finds an ally — not to mention a chauffeur — in Marseilles-born cabbie Leo (Jacky Ido, "Inglourious Basterds"). An international coproduction like last summer's NBC series "Crossing Lines," the series also features crime-show veterans Ally Walker ("Profiler") and Jennifer Esposito ("Blue Bloods").

Since many of her characters have been on the order of quirky or offbeat, Leigh admits she was "a little nervous" going into her new role. "I was like, 'Wait. Have they seen what I've done? Are they sure?' "

"I think it was really the vulnerability that they saw. You can start with somebody who's very tough, but I think it's harder to grab a raw, honest quality from that person than to take somebody who's vulnerable and add an edge to them. And with the kind of swagger Cat has, it's pretty sweet. It's a dream job for me, to be honest."

Birth date: April 10, 1982
Birthplace: Charlotte, N.C.
Current residence: Nashville
Family info: Married to actor Nathan West: they have three children.

THURSDAY'S BEST BETS

Sarah Chalke

8 p.m. on 2 3 Hollywood Game Night

Brooklyn Decker ("Friends With Better Lives") and her tennis-veteran spouse, Andy Roddick, are among the celebrity players who lend extra meaning to the episode title "He Said, She Said." So does another married couple, music star John Legend and model Chrissy Teigen. "Scrubs" alums Sarah Chalke and Donald Faison also try to help the hour's "civilian" contestants win $25,000. Jane Lynch is the host.

10 p.m. on 20 28 NY Med

Manhattan's New York-Presbyterian Hospital and Newark's (N.J.) University Hospital are the settings as this reality series begins Season 2. Dr. Mehmet Oz is the most famous medic featured, but others also return from the show's original round.

FRIDAY'S BEST BETS

Joe DiDomizio

8 p.m. on 1 1 Undercover Boss

Even if you're a travel expert, traveling incognito is another story. Joe DiDomizio, the chief of a retail business that operates in transit-oriented locations, learns that firsthand in "Hudson Group." He disguises himself to see how well his company runs in such sites as airport terminals — and he hopes that what he sees won't make him want to take flight, figuratively or literally.

8 p.m. on (FX) Movie: Safe House

Denzel Washington excels at playing characters who don't wear everything on their sleeves, and he has another in this well-paced 2012 melodrama about a rogue CIA man forced into hiding by his shady connections. The fellow agent (Ryan Reynolds) assigned to guard him thinks the mission will be by the book ... but that quickly proves inaccurate, sending both men on the run for their lives in an uneasy alliance. Vera Farmiga, Sam Shepard and Brendan Gleeson co-star.

10:01 p.m. on 2 6 Crossbones

Lowe (Richard Coyle) is forced to decide which is the worse of two evils in the new episode "Antoinette." He figures out how to notify Jagger (guest star Julian Sands) of Blackbeard's (John Malkovich) plan to target civilians in Jamaica. However, he then discovers Jagger may have even more dastardly intentions — leaving Lowe to go with his gut. Claire Foy and Yasmine AlMassri also star.

'The Last Ship' sails to save a dying world

By Kate O'Hare © Zap2it

Once, people feared the world would end in a mass conflagration followed by a nuclear winter and ultimate demise either from radiation poisoning or mass infertility.

At least that's what William Brinkley had in mind when he wrote his 1988 post-apocalyptic novel called "The Last Ship." Well, this is 2014, and we've got more things to worry about now, so when TNT premieres its 10-episode series adaptation of "The Last Ship" on Sunday, June 22, it's not nuclear war that devastates the world, but a mysterious plague.

Michael Bay ("Armageddon,"
"Pearl Harbor," "I Am Number Four") is executive producer, along with writers Hank Steinberg and Steven Kane (also, Jonathan Mostow directed the pilot).

Eric Dane ("Grey's Anatomy") stars as Commander Tom Chandler, the captain of the fictional warship the USS Nathan James, which, after the pandemic hits, is carrying scientist Dr. Rachel Scott (Rhona Mitra) and her experiments, which may just yield a cure.

Also starring are Adam Baldwin ("Chuck," "Firefly") as second-incommand Mike Slattery; Charles Parnell as Hugh Jeter, the ship's master chief; and Travis Van Winkle as SEAL team leader Danny Green.

Joining them are Tracy Middendorf, Jocko Sims, Christina Elmore, Michaela McManus, Sam Spruell and Marissa Neitling.

But, despite the devastation of the world, the Nathan James is not alone on the seas, and on this day on the show's indoor sets in Manhattan Beach, Calif., a tense scene is being shot as the ship attends to slip away from an enemy vessel.

Other California locations include the decks of the USS Dewey, in port in San Diego (the USS Halsey, which was then in port, was used for the pilot); the former cruise liner RMS Queen Mary, berthed in Long Beach; and the USS Iowa museum ship, berthed at the Port of Los Angeles in San Pedro (standing in for a Russian vessel).

Tucked into the tight quarters of the bridge set, Dane, Baldwin, Mitra and other cast members create palpable tension as they work to keep control during a dangerous maneuver.

"Maybe that's why I like this character so much," Mitra says of the tough-minded Scott. "She rolls like a guy."

It's the combination of external peril and internal discipline that lies at the heart of "The Last Ship," filmed with the cooperation of the U.S. Navy.

"How do they hold it together?" asks Steinberg. "How do they preserve the hierarchy and the structure of a system that Blinds.

8 p.m. on (LIFE) Movie: Outlaw Prophet: Warren Jeffs

Based on a true story and the book by Stephen Singular, this new telepic tells of the rise and fall of Warren Jeffs, the Mormon leader who was ultimately convicted of child sexual assault in 2011. The film follows the FBI pursuit of Jeffs for arranging the marriages of underage girls. Tony Goldwyn ("Scandal") stars as Jeffs, with Martin Landau ("Crimes and Misdemeanors"), Molly Parker ("Deadwood") and Joey King ("Fargo") also in the cast.

9 p.m. on 20 23 The Assets

Sandy (Jodie Whittaker) collides with senior officer Jeanne Vertefeuille (Harriet Walter), who's conducting an investigation into the CIA mole, in the new episode "What's Done Is Done." The situation worries Ames (Paul Rhys), who's under pressure from the Soviets to relay even more inside information. As if that isn't enough for him to deal with, Ames also has domestic concerns caused by his wife's freespending shopping habits.

10 p.m. on 2 3 The Blacklist

Liz (Megan Boone) helps Tom (Ryan Eggold) mentally prepare for their adoption. Red (James Spader) reveals that the next person on the Blacklist is a woman from his past (guest star Jennifer Ehle). During a party at the Syrian Embassy, Red talks Liz into pulling off a covert heist in "Madeline Pratt." Diego Klattenhoff and Harry Lennix also star.
