Board preparing 'prayer circle' policy

Clay Today staff

ORANGE PARK – Clay County schools officials say they are within weeks of adopting new guidelines for handle "prayer circles" at four elementary schools.

But they may not have that much time before Green Cove Springs pastor Ron Baker returns to the schools to hold the morning prayer sessions he began more than 10 years ago.

Superintendent Ben Wortham said Thursday, March 15, he's heard Baker is planning to restart the prayer sessions before the School Board can adopt its new policies in May.

Hanlin has gratitude for supporters

Below the 6-inch surgical scar is the mark of an exit wound left by the bullet that nearly ended Hanlin's life, a permanent reminder of what can go terribly wrong even with the best of training.

Another bullet, fired by a suspected meth lab operator either a split second before or after Hanlin was shot during a drug raid, took the life of Det. David White, Hanlin's narcotics team partner of five years.

Hanlin shrugged off any notion that he's a hero during a fundraiser held for him at Magnolia Springs had one of the first golf courses

At the Magnolia Springs Hotel just south of Governors Creek and on the bank of the St. Johns River was Clay County's biggest and best of the 1800s tourist hotels. Built in 1881, Bostonian Isaac Crufts' hostelry had all the latest bells and whistles including one of the nation's earliest nine-hole golf courses.

The hotel's extensive brochure touted it as "probably the best golf course in Florida" and claimed it "closely resembled the best Scottish links". The course was approximately a mile and a half long and was supervised by professional golfer and instructor Philip H. Honeyman.

The sport of golf was just catching on in the United States but the game had been around since at least the middle 1400s because it was then that James II of Scotland banned both golf and football. It seems they were interfering with archery practice necessary to defend the realm. The guests at Magnolia were mightily enthusiastic about the sport too.

They teed off swinging hickory shafted clubs with heads of iron or other various exotic woods. These were a big improvement over the crooks that bored shepherds near St. Andrews in Scotland are supposed to have used to hit rocks into rabbit holes and start the whole thing.

The Sears and Roebuck catalog sold gutta percha balls, manufactured from the hardened gum of a tree in Malaya, for $3.50 a dozen. Putters, mashie and niblick clubs and lofting irons were $1.25 each from the catalog giants in the 1800s.

Golfers at the Magnolia Resort Hotel faced the challenge of rolling terrain and fairways that wouldn't pass for roughs these days. There was more than likely no call for sand traps as the whole course was more sand than grass. The main hazard to overcome was the railroad track which split the course with the first two holes and the last three holes on the east side tracks and the middle four holes on the west side.

The hotel's charming Victorian train station for guests arriving by rail was perched right in the middle of the course. Play stopped when the train pulled into the station and players waited while baggage and new arrivals were loaded onto the hotel's mule drawn railcar for the short trip through the pine woods to the hotel.

Golf has changed a lot since those days. Balls go farther and last longer, the assortment of clubs is endless, and courses are lush and difficulty is intentionally designed.

But in the old days you could buy all the clubs and balls you needed for under $10 and at the Magnolia Hotel they might let you drive the mule cart on the way back to the hotel.

Fertilizer best applied in April, not March, study finds

Perhaps you have heard that recent results from a seven-year experiment conducted by University of Florida turf research scientists has demonstrated that our Northeast Florida grasses go through a spring "root renewal" period each year. During this time, old roots decline in number as new roots come on to replace them. There is a period each spring when grass roots are just not there in sufficient numbers to take up the fertilizer that is applied then. As a result, rather than being used by the lawn (which is what we intend) the fertilizer just sits there or (more likely) is leached through rain or irrigation out of the reach of the roots and then enters our surface waters as a pollutant. This is not a good thing because this impacts water quality causing problems for fish and often leads to massive algae blooms. It certainly encourages rapid growth of some of our more invasive aquatic weeds such as Duckweed, Hydrilla and Water Hyacinth.

In our area this all happens in March so as a result, the UF is now advising that we should not fertilize our lawns during the month of March but instead wait until mid April. This will help protect the quality of our ponds, rivers and other water bodies. Why apply fertilizer if the grass does not have enough roots to even take it up? It is a waste of money and environmentally destructive.

There are other ways we can help to protect our surface waters from unnecessary pollution and as lawn owners, it is our responsibility to do so because it is we who are doing the most polluting – not farmers as many would have us believe. Here are some suggested "Florida-Friendly" practices when it comes to fertilizing:

Use fertilizers where the middle number (phosphorus) is no longer larger than two – we have so much phosphorus in our soils it is rarely needed in Northeast Florida.

Use slow release nitrogen fertilizers (at least 30% of content) so that the fertilizer resists leaching until it can be more efficiently taken up.

If you fertilize near a driveway, roadway, or waters edge use a deflector plate on one side so the fertilizer cannot go over into that adjacent area – after all you want it on the grass – not on hard surfaces or in to water.

If fertilizer does get thrown over to a hard surface, sweep it up and spread it back on the lawn where it belongs. On the hard surface it can only be picked up by rain and travel to a nearby water body through storm water collection systems – not good!

If you live near water, do not fertilize within 10 feet of the water's edge. Let grass in that area serve as a buffer to take up the fertilizer before it can get to the water. Even better – plant some alternative-to-grass ground cover along the water's edge such as low growing Juniper, Mondo (Liriope) Lilyturf or Asiatic Jasmine which do not need to be fertilized. This is even more critical if your lawn slopes toward the water.

So there are some of the tips to help preserve Florida's water quality. It is in our best interest that we do this. Water is too critical to Florida to ignore how we are polluting it.

Council formally abolishes town's sanitation dept.

By Stephen Kindland
Staff writer

ORANGE PARK – Despite opposition from scores of residents during the past year, town council members have abolished the town's sanitation department by approving a contract with a private company that lowers residential and commercial rates for garbage, trash and recycling pickup.

The council voted 3-2 to enter into a contract with Advanced Disposal during a council meeting Tuesday, March 20, ending months of often emotional debate that included protests from groups of residents who said they were willing to pay higher collection fees in order to keep about 13 sanitation department workers who they have come to know and trust.

Council members Margaret "Marge" Hutton, Jim "J.B." Renninger and Steve Howard voted in favor of the seven-year contract, which carries a five-year option and an estimated annual value of $829,000. Mayor Pete Morgan and Councilman Gary Meeks voted no.

Residents will begin paying lower monthly sanitation fees -- from $29.52 to $25—when the contract begins on June 1. Commercial rates per cubic yard will drop from $9.19 to $4.06.

The contract calls for the same twice-a-week garbage and weekly trash and recycling service, but perhaps more importantly, guarantees that all sanitation department employees will be offered jobs by Advanced Disposal. Should any of the affected employees not be eligible to work for the company, they will be retained by the town, according to Town Manager Cindy Hall.

"There is no employee who won't have a job unless they desire not to have a job," she said.

Workers who choose to retire or quit their jobs will receive severance packages that include cash payouts for unused vacation time and sick leave. The council voted 3-2 to include those terms as part of a "separation assistance" addendum to the contract during Tuesday's meeting. Morgan and Howard voted against the package.

Council members also voted unanimously to place into escrow a total of $1 million from the sanitation department's unused transition costs and the $553,000 Advanced Disposal has agreed to pay the town for its sanitation vehicles. That measure came after six residents expressed concern about the town's ability to provide its own sanitation services in the future if privatization doesn't work.

Advanced Disposal, which is headquartered in Jacksonville, has 1,400 employees who provide services in 162 cities and counties throughout six states, including Clay County. Spokeswoman Tammy Wilson said after Tuesday's meeting that her company serves 36,000 households in Clay County but averages only three customer complaints per day.

She also said she is looking forward to starting a new contract with Orange Park.

"We'll work very hard to meet or exceed their current services," Wilson said.

Hall said Advanced Disposal was "very receptive" to ideas and concerns presented by the town throughout the negotiation

Marine Corps League helps community

Dear Editor:

By a resolution of the Second Continental Congress came the birth of the United States Marine Corps on November 10, 1775, at Tuns Tavern in Philadelphia. Marine's first engagement in the American Revolutionary War began a history of a disciplined, elite fighting force. The annals of warfare include Marine engagements in the War of 1812, The Civil War, World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam, Global War on Terrorism, Persian Gulf War, Iraq War, and ongoing Operation Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan). When the Marine warrior ends his service to his country he returns home. There he has many opportunities to further his service; to his community.

The Marine Corps League was founded in 1923 by World War I hero Marine Lieutenant General John A. Lejeune and subsequently chartered by an act of the Seventy Fifth Congress of the United States and approved and signed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on August 4, 1937. General Roy S. Geiger Detachment #1047, Marine Corps League of Clay County was formed in May 2002 by ten community service oriented Marines. Today that number has grown to eighty-seven Marines and Fleet Marine Force Navy Corpsmen. The Marine Corps League of Clay County is a 501 C 3, non-profit veterans service organization that supports Marines, FMF Navy Corpsmen and their families, other veterans and promotes community involvement.

Major projects include the nationally recognized Toys 4 Tots program, locally instituted Soles 4 Tots, monthly visits to the Robert H. Jenkins veterans domiciliary in Lake City, and scholarship awards to two graduating students from each of the seven Clay County high schools. The Marines provide color guards and participate in community parades. Each year they present certificates of achievement to Boy Scouts earning the distinction of Eagle Scout. Supporting the Wounded Warrior/Injured Marine Semper Fi Fund is an ongoing project. Marines and FMF Navy Corpsmen provide military funeral honor guard services for fallen comrades. These are merely a token of the community projects engaged by the members.

If you're an honorably discharged Marine or FMF Navy Corpsman and want to join together in camaraderie and get involved in the community where you live, you are cordially invited to join the General Roy S. Geiger Detachment, Marine Corps League of Clay County. Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at 1900

Coalition urges Sunday liquor sales change

It is time for a change in Clay County. For decades, we have been losing out on tax revenue, business revenue and convenience because of an old rule that doesn't allow those in Clay County to sell or serve alcohol before 2 p.m. on Sundays.

Our restaurants, bars, liquor stores, golf courses, convenience stores and grocery stores have been put at a major disadvantage to businesses in surrounding towns and counties. I am a lifelong Clay County resident and my family has been the proud owner of Whitey's Fish Camp since the early 1960s. I love owning a business in Clay County, but now I would love for my County to be on a level playing field when it comes to Sunday alcohol sales. This rule was put in place more than 20 years ago, before the Jaguars came to Northeast Florida and before many of our neighborhoods were built. We need this to change.

After talking with my fellow business owners and managers, we decided we needed to take the initiative. Dale Eggers of The Roadhouse/Foremost Liquors, Troy Albers of Fleming Island Golf Club and I got together to craft our plan on how we can make the change and allow Sunday alcohol sales to be the same as every other day of the week. We crafted an initiated ordinance with the help of others and after a few times back and forth, our petition was approved by the Supervisor of Elections.

Guest column

Elaine Cassala

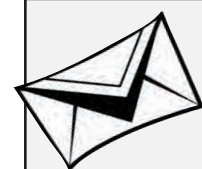

Owner, Whitey's Fish Camp

Now is where Clay County voters come in. We need your signatures to get this petition onto the November ballot to give Clay County voters the chance to decide whether they are with us in bringing taxpayer money back to our County.

If you haven't signed the petition, please go to www.claycountysmallbusinesscoalition.com, download a petition, fill it out and either drop it off or mail it in to us. We need about 6,500 signatures to make this happen and we can't do it without you. Petitions are located in dozens of locations around town, including Whitey's Fish Camp, Fleming Island Golf Club, The Roadhouse/Foremost Liquors, Mellow Mushroom, Taps, Eagle Harbor Golf Club, Eagle Landing Golf Club, Country Club of Orange Park, Golden Ox Liquors and Wells Road Liquors.

Clay County is not only losing out on the tax revenue on alcohol sales, but also on things like food sales, gas sales and golf course fees. Rather than coming to businesses in Clay County on Sundays, customers opt for shopping in a surrounding town or county where they can pick up their food and alcohol in one stop. Golf courses are losing out, because many people are opting for a course that will allow them to have an alcoholic beverage after their morning round of golf. Our business is going elsewhere and we need customers to stay in Clay County. Sign the petition and let's put this decision in the hands of Clay County voters.

Have you ever felt trapped?

Have you ever felt trapped? Is that your condition right now? If it is, I have an answer for you.

The Psalmist said the Lord "will release my feet from the snare." (Psalm 25:15 NIV) A snare is a trap set by a hunter to catch an animal.

It is also a trap set by Satan, the enemy of your life, to capture you.

Life is full of these snares set in our path by the one the Bible calls our adversary. You are walking through life on a path that has snares and the only way you will avoid them is to be spiritually diligent constantly seeking to walk in the Lord's way.

Whatever circumstance or sin has you enslaved right now, the Lord has promised to set you free if you will put your trust in Him.

You may be trapped by addictions. Your snare may be an ungodly involvement with another person. It may be your own willingness to be a devious person who is disloyal to your friends. Satan's snares take many forms. Whatever is holding you hostage today can be a trap set by the enemy of your life to keep you from serving God and fulfilling the plan He has for you.

Here is the good news. Christ will set you free if you will totally trust Him. "Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free." (John 8:32 NIV)

If you have not avoided the snares set by Satan to trap you, there is an answer. It is not too late for you. You can be the person your Savior wants you to be.

This column started with a promise. The Lord "will release my feet from the snare."

Whatever has ensnared you ... entangled you ... trapped you ... captured you ... is a bondage that will be broken by Christ who gives us liberty by faith in Him.

I submit to you today that Christ is Truth; He is freedom; He is victory. And He is for you! He will give you release today when you put your faith completely in Him.

City ordinance sets limits on Internet cafes'

By Pete Geiger
Correspondent

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – So-called "Internet cafés" that feature on-line gambling came under final regulation of a city ordinance Tuesday, March 20.

The new law, drafted to comply with new Clay County regulations, says that the establishments must be 1,000 feet away from any church, school, child-care center or military installation and 5,000 feet away from each other.

The city's three existing cafés do not comply with the second provision and one of them fails the first test, but the new ordinance declares them to be "non-conforming" establishments, granting them permission to stay in business.

In other business, the council:

- * Signed an agreement with United States Media TV, Inc. of Coral Springs for the city to participate in a "Today in America" video series with former Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who is a Fox TV commentator.

The show is proposed to air on Fox or Discovery Channel, after which the city will own its own segment of the series.

- * Witnessed the promotion of police Officer Derek Asdot to sergeant. His wife, Angela, pinned his new badge on him.

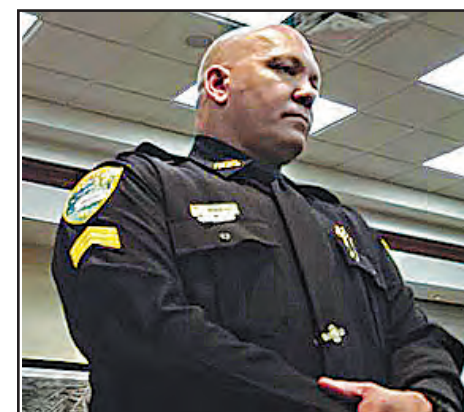

- * Presented a commendation certificate to employees Tim Hughes, Mike Le Blanc, Mike Williams and Huey James for their enterprising development over two years of new processes at the city's two wastewater treatment plants.

Their work placed the city in compliance with Florida Department of Environment Protection orders that were expected to require construction of a $6 million new treatment plant.

Mayor Debbie Ricks declared, "Every citizen of Green Cove Springs owes you men a vote of thanks."

- * Presented a certificate of thanks to Personnel Director Cynthia Hunter for her work as chair of the Police Pension Board.

Green Cove Springs Police Officer Derek Asdot was promoted to sergeant at the meeting.

The next City Council meeting will be at 7 p.m. April 3 in City Hall.

Vietnam veterans charter Middleburg chapter

By Tonya Davie,
Correspondent

MIDDLEBURG – The Vietnam Veterans Association (VVA) chapters has officially opened a chapter in Middleburg.

VVA Chapter 1059 received its charter earlier this month during a special presentation at the Middleburg VFW Post 8255 on Astor Avenue. About 45 people attended.

The VVA was originally founded in 1978 and is the only group congressionally chartered and dedicated to Vietnam –era veterans and their families. Some of the ways they assist these veterans are by creating a positive public perception of Vietnam veterans, holding government agencies accountable for following laws mandating veterans health care and by serving their communities.

Gary Newman, Chapter 1059 president, said the chapter currently has about 50 members but is hoping to reach 100 members by the end of 2012. The group had its first event at the viewing of the movie Act of Valor at the Fleming Island movie theater where they collected $130 to purchase much needed items.

Newman said VVA members plan to visit the veterans' home near St. Augustine. "We received two packages of toiletries to make survival kits for the veterans in need," Newman said.

Ben Humphries, VVA Florida State Council first vice president, presented the charter and also spoke of what this newest chapter could do for their fellow veterans.

"Please reach out to the homeless," said Humphries. "Some choose to be homeless and that's ok. I am an example of homeless from 28 years ago but I was lucky and a hand reached out." After sharing a few ideas of how this chapter could help other vets Humphries finished by saying, "Find a disabled vet and do what you do best, helping others."

Chapter member Steve Chance said he was trying to find helicopter pilots who served in Vietnam. "To many times they came and got us and they were sitting ducks," said Chance. "I just want to shake their hand and say 'thank you'."

If you would like to learn more about the VVA, contact Newman at (904) 269-1857 send an email to agnjustice@yahoo.com.

Making the Matzah!

(Above) Rob Lebu helps his children, Alexander and Shayan, prepare matzah during a Model Matzah Bakery presented by the Chabad of Clay County on Sunday, March 18 at the Fleming Island library. Rabbi Shmuel Feldman held the event to educate Jews and the general public about the centuries-old tradition of preparing matzah, the Hebrew word for unleavened bread. Matzah is eaten after 8:31 p.m. during Seder, a Jewish feast that marks the beginning of Passover, a holiday held during the Jewish month of Nisan (late March to Early April in the Gregorian calendar). Passover celebrates the liberation of the Israelites from slavery in ancient Egypt. Shmurah matzah, made only from flour and water, became a tradition because the Jews didn't have time to allow the bread to rise during the Exodus from Egypt.

Sunrise Rotary creates HonorOne program

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK - The Rotary Club of Orange Park Sunrise recently announced the transition of the First Coast HonorAir program to HonorOne – the Individual Augmentee Program.

First Coast HonorAir was established in 2007 to provide World War II veterans with the opportunity to visit the World War II Memorial. Since 2007, First Coast HonorAir made seven one-day trips to Washington, D.C. taking over 600 World War II veterans to visit the WWII Memorial.

The new HonorOne program was created to honor and support our military arriving back home after tours of duty. Many which are arriving home alone and injured.

"We showed our gratitude and respect to our WWII veterans and provided many of them with an opportunity to visit their memorial. Now we want to show our support and appreciation for those soldiers that have served and are now arriving home," said Nancy Ulrich, Rotary Club of Orange Park Sunrise president.

process, and that she is glad a decision has been reached.

"It was a tough choice by the council," Hall said. "Now we can move forward and make this [transition] as smooth as possible for the employees and the residents."

Also on Tuesday, the council:

* Approved the purchase of a street sweeper to replace a 12-year-old vehicle that is in need of repair. The new sweeper costs $207,444 and is scheduled for delivery on March 23.

* Approved creation of a part-time "building official" position to serve as a liaison between the town and builders, developers and home and business owners. The town currently contracts with the county for such services. Money collected from building permits and plan reviews will be used to fund the position.

* Scheduled a work day for 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, March 24, for anyone in the community who would like to help prepare Somer's Sunshine Park for a dedication ceremony on Thursday, April 5. The work day will include distributing pine straw and other landscaping. The small "pocket" park is situated at the corner of Debarry and Gano avenues, and is named after Somer Thompson, a 7-year-old Grove Park resident who was abducted and murdered in October of 2009.

Mary Huntley's legacy lives on: Dali arrives in Clay County

Orange Park, Fla. – For the first time ever, Clay County's Thrasher-Horne Center for the Arts is hosting an art exhibit by the world renown Surrealist master Salvador Dali.

Based on Louis Carroll's classic, Alice and Wonderland, Down the Rabbit Hole: The Alice and Wonderland Suite features 25 original works by Dali. The exhibit is on loan from the Museum of Art in Fort Lauderdale.

"With the opening of this Dali exhibit and the THCA's affiliation with the Fort Lauderdale Museum of Art and the current exhibit of photographs by former New York Times photo editor, Lonnie Schlein, we have realized the vision that the late Mary Huntley wanted to establish for the residents of Clay County," said THCA Executive Director Tony Walsh.

In 2005 Louis and Mary Huntley generously created the Lee Adams Florida Artist Gallery in the Mary Ward Huntley Wing. For the next 7 years Mrs. Huntley generously supported the gallery, in hopes that it would provide the residents of Clay County a place to view the works of Florida artists of the past, present and future as well as traveling exhibits from prestigious Florida Museums.

To realize her vision Mrs. Huntley worked side-by-side with Walsh and established the Florida Artists Fund. This fund supports exhibits in both of the THCA galleries. Since 2005, more than 200,000 visitors have viewed 48 visual arts exhibits at the Center.

With Mrs. Huntley's passing, Walsh has now become the steward of her legacy and vision for the visual arts in Clay County and particular at the THCA.

"One of Mary's primary interests was exposing the visual arts to young people and this legacy will continue," explains Walsh, "by hosting gallery visits for school age children as well visual arts outreach programs and student activities."

Admission to the THCA galleries is free. The THCA galleries are open Monday-Friday, from 10 a.m.- 4 p.m., Thursdays until 7 p.m. and during performance. "I would like to keep the galleries free," said Walsh, "and also continue to attract and exhibit national and international artists."

Although the Huntley family continues to support her vision, Walsh plans to get the community involved by inaugurating a special visual arts fundraising initiative.

"Mary's strong and firm belief in the Lord, coupled with her love of nature and the visual arts were an inspiration for me personally," said Walsh. "One has only to see the eyes and expression of a young person looking at a piece of original art in the THCA galleries, to know that Mary Huntley's legacy is alive. I resolve to continue to follow through and do everything I can to continue her good work and her vision.... I am asking the community to join in this effort!"

Episcopal Diocese closes historic St. Margaret's Church

By Christina Leach Phillips
Correspondent

FLEMING ISLAND -- With a dwindling congregation of about 40 members and a shortage of funds, St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, Hibernia, on Fleming Island officially closed its doors after holding its last worship service March 4.

The closing left some members surprised and upset, one parishioner said.

"The congregation is very upset about this -- they were doing everything they could, but it wasn't enough ... People were crying," said Anna Grass, who attended the final service. "Some of these people had been there for 30 years."

The church's Pine Avenue campus includes an original Carpenter Gothic chapel, built in 1878 with its adjoining cemetery. The chapel is one of the five oldest wooden church buildings still in use in Florida.

St. Margaret's Episcopal Church and the cemetery are on the National Register of Historic Places. As part of the restructuring, the Diocese said it will take into account the historical significance of the chapel.

"I don't think that a part of the plan is to do anything to disturb the historical nature of that space," said Doug Walker, the Bishop's deputy for advancement/executive director of Episcopal Foundation. "It is our intent to keep it as a worship space."

In the meantime, the Diocese will maintain the church grounds and pay the bills for the church. "Typically, that is the case for churches that are unable to fund any of their current operating expenses -- the Diocese will pick those up," said Walker.

The remaining members of St. Margaret's have been welcomed into the parish community at other area Episcopal churches. In addition, neighboring Episcopal clergy members have offered to work with the bishop to hold worship services in the historic chapel during the restructuring.

The Rev. Kimberly Still conducted the final service at the church that has struggled financially in recent years. The Episcopal Diocese of Florida said in a news release that it was "restructuring" the church.

In late February, the Right Rev. Samuel Johnson Howard, Bishop of Florida, received a request from St. Margaret's vestry - its parish governing board - which had decided that the church as presently managed and configured was no longer sustainable as a parish. The request included the vestry's desire to hold final worship services on March 4.

"God willing, this will not mark the end of the ministry of St. Margaret's, but will, rather, provide an opportunity for prayer, conversation and the seeking of Divine guidance with regard to the future of this wonderful and historic parish," Bishop Howard said in the release.

The Diocese said that the remaining members of St. Margaret's have been welcomed into the parish community at other area Episcopal churches.

In addition, neighboring Episcopal clergy members have offered to work with the bishop to establish an alternative worship schedule for services to be held in the historic chapel.

Is there a possibility that the church will reopen? "It is our desire to hold occasional and special services at St. Margaret's after some period of discernment for the space, which will encompass a study of the needs of the surrounding community and the Diocese," said Walker.

Bishop Howard said, "I remain committed to the future of St. Margaret's, while mindful that this parish must change in order to meet the challenges before it."

Talented cast brings 'Arsenic and Old Lace' to life

Review by Lydia Filzen

ORANGE PARK -- Orange Park Community Theatre has done it again. They've brought a talented cast and a classic play together to provide a laugh-filled evening of live entertainment.

Sweet old ladies Amy (Susan Carcaba) and Martha Brewster (Alice Voorhees Basford) share a deadly secret that seems incompatible with their benevolent reputations. When their nephew Mortimer (Jack Bisson) uncovers their habit of offing lonely older gentlemen and burying them in the basement, they don't quite understand his consternation. After all, they are only doing the gentlemen a favor by plying them with their special elderberry wine and giving them a suitable private funeral.

Adding to the mix is nephew Teddy (David Warber) who believes he is Theodore Roosevelt and acts accordingly, including digging the Panama Canal in the basement. Then when the menacing, estranged nephew Jonathan (Steve McMahon) makes a surprise visit with his cohort Dr. Einstein (Bill LeSeur) and sinister plans of his own, the plot takes an even darker turn.

"I'd encourage families to bring their children, since this has a little bit of scary and whole lot of funny to enjoy and talk about as a family," director Sara Green said. She also noted that some of the actors were new to the stage and others were returning after years of absence, along with OPCT regulars.

Judging by the opening night audience reaction, OPCT veterans Susan Carcaba, Jessica Palombo, Bill LeSeur, Jack Bisson, Steve McMahon, David Warber, Michael Smithgall and Dave Quirk combined well with newcomers Alice Voorhees Basford, Carter Cheatum, Fred Steel, Franklin Ritch and Robert Rojas to bring this time-honored dark comedy to life. It should be noted that Franklin Ritch's role as Officer Brophy will be played by Cameron Henderson or Kristen Walsh at other performances due to work conflicts.

"We had to create the illusion of a grand house and height with the set, which I think came off fairly well," Green said. "Dave Wells and my father, Joe Green, teamed up to build the majority of the set. Most of the actors, at one time or another, came out to help with the set. I was very proud of how many of them took extra time to chip in."

Tickets for Arsenic and Old Lace are $15. Show dates are April 23-24, 30-31 and April 6-7, at 8 p.m. Sunday matinees are at 3 p.m. March 18, 25 and April 1.

Performances will be held at the theater, 2900 Moody Ave. For reservations, call (904) 276-2599 or go online www.OPCT.org.

Health officials urge list signup

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS -- The Clay County Health Department says its staff used the ongoing Caribbean Circle fire in southern Clay County to urge residents there to register with the County Special Needs database.

Clay County Emergency Management officials notified the Health Department about several homes in need of evacuation assistance or potential special needs sheltering, said Nancy Mills, Health Department administrator.

Health Department workers went contacted about 20 residents in person in the area of the fire and provided information on special needs sheltering and the county's notification system. The residents were reassured that the county was concerned about their personal health and safety, Mills said.

Not all opted to complete the registration forms for special needs sheltering, but they did register in the County notification system, Code Red.

"This is another example of the partnership between the Health Department and County Emergency Management working together to assure the health and safety of Clay residents and visitors," Mills said.

Military history

(Top, left) Annette Lindsey tells a group of visitors to the Military Museum of North Florida about the role women played during the Civil War, including several who disguised themselves as men in order to serve as soldiers on the front lines. Lindsey, a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, traveled to the museum in Green Cove Springs from Trenton, Fla., to take part in the second annual Military History Day on Saturday, March 17. Museum curator Herb Steigelman said he and about 10 other active volunteers put together the event to honor the nation's military veterans. He also said he hopes the all-volunteer museum at 1 Bunker Ave. and Taylor Parkway – established on a shoestring budget several years ago by Bud Nelson – can find someone to help market and publicize the 4,000-foot museum that features artifacts and collectibles, mostly from the World War II, Korean War and Vietnam War eras. Anyone interested in volunteering can call Steigelman at (904) 673-7727; (top right) Steigelman stands next to a LARC – an acronym for lighter amphibious resupply cargo – that is parked outside the museum; (bottom, right) Kevin Dahl of Jacksonville photographs an aircraft radio unit on display at the museum. The new Orange Park location is offering a new tool to help you get fit and stay fit — a personal training studio — and it's one of the best-kept secrets in the fitness community. Certified personal trainers are available to conduct group classes as well as individual sessions to help clients reach their goals in a cost-effective, personalized manner.

Lynda Linforth, the fitness director at the First Place studio, is a certified personal trainer with nearly 15 years of experience. She specializes in weight loss and personal training; however, she found her niche in post-rehab training.

"Our staff has the knowledge to get them to the next level," Linforth said.

The first steps to getting in First Place shape are as easy as stopping by or calling the Wells Road location. People from every level of fitness are welcome. Trainers will do an initial assessment and decide on a starting point for a fitness program. Since nutrition is an integral part of any good fitness routine, trainers will also help create a healthy-eating plan to go along with your training.

Those who train with First Place don't have to worry about dealing with a gym membership or a contract. Users pay for a training package, use the services and can decide whether or not to continue.

"Our goal was to make personal training available to all by creating group classes to share the cost of a training session as well as being able to offer our private one on one sessions," Linforth said.

Clients will also enjoy the convenience of the studio's locker rooms and showers, so clients can head straight to work after an energizing routine.

Training sessions vary to meet each client's goals and comfort levels. Choose from private (one to one), semi-private (four or five people in a group), and group training sessions, such as bride and bikini boot camp (for females), boot camp, Zumba and spinning.

The private and semi-private sessions can be scheduled by appointment and a certified trainer will be available at your convenience.

More classes are being planned for future schedules including yoga, Mommy and Me sessions and more.

Open since Feb. 14, the studio will hold a grand opening on March 4.

If you're looking to step up your personal fitness with the help of highly experienced personnel, call today or visit www.1pfe.com. Contact Lynda directly at llinforth@1pfe.com.

Board chairman's spouse blasts wife's critic

Clay Today staff

FLEMING ISLAND – The husband of the Clay County School chairman lambasted a frequent critic of the School Board on Thursday, March 15, reciting up the man's criminal history and offering his version of a December confrontation with the man.

James Studdard, the husband of Chairman Carol Studdard, also used the time granted during a 10-minute citizen's presentation near the end of Thursday's meeting to accuse School Board member Charlie Van Zant Jr. of not offering a public apology to him over what happened at the prior board meeting.

Reading from a prepared statement, James Studdard focused on a confrontation he and his wife had with Stanley Pfenning of Clay Hill at the December meeting. Pfenning, upset that the board chairman hadn't allowed him to speak, walked up to the Studdards during a break at the December meeting. Told by

"I asked him not to do it, but he is a citizen who has a right to defend himself. He was defamed ... and no public apology was given."

– School Board Chairman Carol Studdard

deputies to get away, Pfenning turned but then "walked aggressively toward my wife," James Studdard said.

James Studdard said he told Pfenning to stay back, using a profanity in his command. Pfenning had a digital camera to capture the incident and posted it on YouTube.

Clearly upset by the incident and Pfenning's comments and subsequent emailed references about his wife as "Mao Tse Studdard", James Studdard said Thursday he wanted to set the record straight. He also chastised Van Zant for using Pfenning to personally attack him.

Van Zant later offered a private apology but not a public one, he said. "That is unacceptable," James Studdard said.

Hearing James Studdard's comments – including reading verbatim from a felony arrest report narrative – was too much for Board member Lisa Graham, who got up and left Thursday's meeting without comment. It was also too much for Pfenning, who began saying "liar" as Studdard read from the report.

When Pfenning refused to be quiet, board Chairman Studdard asked two sheriff's deputies at the meeting to escort him out. Pfenning left without incident, but not before James Studdard walked past him, glared and tapped a handful of police reports he had taken with him to the podium.

Pfenning has been a monthly speaker at the School Board meetings since October when he demanded time to speak at workshop where public comments aren't allowed. At the February meeting he addressed the board at least five times, including giving a 10-minute power point presentation on what he believes are questionable copying fees for School Board documents. On Thursday he gave yet another 10-minute presentation on "A More Open and Transparent Clay County School Board."

But Pfenning's ongoing demands for information – and alleged verbal mistreatment of district employees – led to his emails being blocked and his phone calls not being answered. In February, Superintendent Ben Wortham said Pfenning's called the district office nearly 30 times in less than three hours in a single day.

Carol Studdard said she urged her husband not to make Thursday's comments. "I asked him not to do it," she said, "but he is a citizen who has a right to defend himself. He was defamed ... and no public apology was given."

She also urged board members to stop attacking one another and work together.

"Just this week Rev. Baker has gone to two schools and asked for sign in sheets and told them that he planned to resume the prayer circles after spring break," Wortham said. "This would break a 'gentleman's agreement' we had with him to suspended the prayer circles."

Clay schools are on spring break this week. In December, Baker agreed to suspend the prayers circles at Clay Hill, Lake Asbury, Shadowlawn and Charles E. Bennett elementary schools until the district held a workshop and created a policy. Board members held the workshop Feb. 29 with two attorneys considered experts on constitutional law involving prayer in public schools.

Board member Charlie Van Zant Jr., who wants Baker to continue to have access to the schools, urged board Chairman Carol Studdard and Wortham to contact Baker.

Studdard held out hope that Baker, pastor of the Russell Road Baptist church, would give the board more time.

"I will talk to Rev. Baker," she said. "We are moving in the right direction ... It may take a little more patience. I am sure Rev. Baker has the patience."

Board attorney Bruce Bickner outlined a proposed "facilities use agreement" on Thursday that would provide Baker and his supporters with guidelines while also helping the district avoid a potential legal challenge from organizations wanting to keep prayer out of public schools.

All groups wanting access to school grounds:

Must begin their activity no later than 35 minutes before classes start and can meet for only 10 minutes in a designated area, creating a "buffer zone" for children who would not want to participate.

Must fill out a facilities use form and provide the district with proof of liability insurance.

Must receive a facilities use "license" good for only five months subject to approve by the superintendent and must re-apply each time.

No group would have "seniority" status or any privileges above others and only one adult who does not have a child in the school can represent the group. No additional "outside adults" can attend the gathering, the policy states.

Bickner said the policy adequately addresses the concerns of both sides and takes into account the recommendations of the expert attorneys from the workshop.

"This is not going to make everybody happy but you're not going to be miserable either," said Bickner, who later added, "I think the approach we have here is correct."

Bickner said this is district first policy controlling before-school events at elementary schools.

Van Zant challenged the policy, maintaining the workshop attorneys agreed that Baker could come onto the school grounds now for the prayer circle.

"No they did not," Bickner said. "There is no right of anyone to come onto the school grounds and do whatever he wants."

The board will received the proposed policy in April. If approved, it would be published in a legal notice and could be formally adopted in May just before the end of the school year.

Studdard noted that while a delay in approving the policy might impact prayer circles this spring, the new policy would get the district "good to go" for the 2012-13 school year.

In other business, the board:

* Heard Board member Janice Kerekes and Van Zant continue their dispute from last month over whether Van Zant sufficiently attended a January legislative workshop enough to be reimbursed nearly $1,000 by the district. At Thursday's meeting Kerekes asked for board time to address board reimbursement policies, noting that "travel expenses are for official business only" and that board members must provide an agenda, dates, times and fees of what they attended.

"I was outraged when I saw that Mr. Van Zant was seeking reimbursement for a conference he barely attended," she said.

Van Zant responded that he went directly from a school event in Orange Park to Tallahassee, arriving there after midnight. He said he met the next morning with a state senator working on a bill affecting students' First Amendment rights and had other meetings throughout the day.

The legislative workshop is for "new" School board members and influence legislation, he said. "We don't go to Tallahassee to sit around with other School Board members," he said. "I'm pretty up to date on things ... I came in the back (of the meeting room) while you all were sitting up there all nicely together."

Van Zant said he refunded the conference registration fee. But that didn't quell Kerekes.

"You did the right thing in reimbursing the registration fee," she said. "It's a shame you had to be called out about it in the first place."

* Reviewed a 4-2 vote by the insurance committee recommending the School District accept Aetna Insurance's offer to keep premiums for the district's 5,000 employees unchanged for the 2012-13 school year. Teachers' union president Steve Richards urged the School Board to reject the vote, saying the committee had not discussed the matter enough and that other alternatives existed.

"It's beyond me why a consensus was not provided," Richard said.

But George Copeland, district finance director who chairs the nine-member committee, said panel members at the Feb. 29 meeting were given ample opportunity to comment before the vote. The unions representing teachers and support personnel each have three members on the panel as does the school district.

An insurance consultant for the district said the district would be facing premium increases "in the teens" if it rejected Aetna's offer and sought other bids.

New federally mandate programs for women's health, however, will increase premiums 2.5 percent, she said.

* Heard Copeland say a bi-annual audit found only six minor discrepancies and gave an overall positive review.

* Received a Community Partner of the Year award from the First Coast YMCA for its support of the Y's programs for school-age children.

* Learned maintenance crews are finishing up installing updated audio/visual equipment in more than 1,600 "enhanced" classrooms, which now include ceiling-mounted projects, microphones for teachers and students, DVD players and digital "pen pads" for classroom presentations.

Developer wants to build indoor gun range

By Deborah H. Buehn
Correspondent

ORANGE PARK -- Things look to be on target for the construction of an indoor shooting range in Clay County.

Franklin Dickinson, developer of the Jefferson Crossings strip mall at 179 College Drive, said he has plans to build an indoor shooting range and gun store in the back section of the mall.

The path toward building the range and store came a step closer to reality at the Feb. 28 County Commission meeting when the commissioners voted 5-0 to approve an amendment to the county's Land Development Code that would add indoor shooting ranges as a conditional use in the business zoning BB-2.

While Dickinson still needs to submit final plans to the county for its approval, he said he is taking great care in his plans to make sure the range and store will be quiet, safe and an asset to the community. With that in mind, the plans call for a unique design by architect Thor Heinrichs.

"We will literally be building a building within a building," Dickinson said.

Units 1 through 4 of the back section of the Jefferson Crossings mall will become the 5,000-square-foot shooting range with 10 lanes, while the adjacent Unit 5 will be the 1,250-square-foot store and office. All of the units will be gutted to complete the construction, which will include a second roof and solid concrete walls three feet inside the original building. On the back side, where the bullets hit, there will be a state-of-the-art bullet trap, called a "snail trap," Dickinson said.

"The bullets fired will enter the trap and be forced into a large cylinder where it will decelerate until it stops moving," he said.

The gun store will offer pistols, rifles and shot guns for sale as well as educational material. There will also be a gunsmith on site as well as a custom holster-maker.

Dickinson said he plans to start with three full-time employees and four part-time, and will be hiring "expert instructors." Patrons will be able to receive basic live fire instruction and take the steps to receive their concealed weapon license.

The range and store will be called "Basics: Range and Gun," with the basics being "God, family and community," Dickinson said, adding, "Basics are what made our country great."

Special attention will be paid to members of the military and law enforcement at Basics.

"I really want to be a blessing to our law enforcement and our military and therefore active duty, retired and disabled members of the military, fire and police departments and their spouses will get deep discounts," Dickinson said.

Dickinson said he hopes to open the range by August.

Clay Electric donates truck to Haiti co-op

Special to Clay Today

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS -- Clay Electric Cooperative, Inc. is donating a digger derrick truck to Haiti's first electric cooperative in support of efforts to expand electric service in Pignon, a small town in the north-central region of Haiti.

The truck left the cooperative's Keystone Heights headquarters last week on a transport truck headed to the Port of Miami to await shipment to Haiti. Pignon's co-op, the Cooperative Electrique de Pignon, is the first electric cooperative in Haiti.

"Electricity is central to progress in all of those areas," said Caleb Lucien, a Pignon native now with Hosean International Ministries. "I thank Clay Electric for this generous donation, and I know the people in Pignon are grateful as well."

The donation is one way Clay Electric is celebrating 2012 as the International Year of the Cooperative.

The vehicle, which was purchased new by Clay Electric in 2000, has a digger derrick unit mounted atop the vehicle that enables crews to dig holes and place larger power poles, such as those used for transmission lines.

Infant clothing resale shop opens

ORANGE PARK -- Baby's Closet, a resell store for infants closing, has opened at 2000 Wells Road. Store owner Jonathan Wilson says the business wants to provide a positive, family-friendly shopping experience.

"When my fiancé and I had our first child together we realized how expensive having a baby can be, especially in these trying times," Wilson said.

"We also realized that Orange Park did not have a place where you could save money by buying gently used second hand baby clothes and items."

The store has $5 and $10 fill-a-bags every day on baby clothes. The store is open 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday. Go online to babys-closet.com for details.

Co-op's annual meeting is Thursday

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS -- Clay Electric's 74th annual meeting will be held Thursday, March 22.

The meeting's special entertainment will be National Banjo Champion Mike Snider. In addition to the live entertainment, there will be health screenings, food, exhibits and a chance to win a door prize.

An important part of the day is the business portion of the meeting, which takes place beneath the big tent located alongside Highway 100. The morning session begins at 9, followed by voting by members who can cast their ballots to elect four members to Clay Electric's board of trustees.

The afternoon business session begins at 1 p.m. and will include comments by Board President Laura Dean and General Manager/CEO Ricky Davis.

Animal Care & Control

Up for Adoption

Tortie is a beautiful domestic shorthair tortoiseshell cat that was caught in a live animal trap and brought to CCACC on February 1st, 2012. She is about 5 years old, has been spayed and is up to date on her shots. Tortie is currently residing in the Free Roaming Cat Room, uses the litter box and does get along with the other cats.

Whisper is a 1-2 year old bulldog that was picked up as a stray by CCACC on March 9th, 2012. She is spayed and current on all her shots. Whisper is a gentle girl, walks well on a leash and likes being with people. She is very quiet and easily intimidated, so certainly needs a gentle hand from her new family.

"I'm not a hero," he said in front of TV cameras set up outside the rink, where CCSO deputies often work off-duty. "My [narcotics] team is a hero, and the people who saved my life that night, they're the heroes."

The man suspected of shooting White and Hanlin was shot and killed moments later by other members of the narcotics team investigating a suspected meth lab inside a Middleburg home.

Details of the Feb. 16 incident aren't available because the Florida Department of Law Enforcement is continuing its investigation.

Hanlin said he has been "overwhelmed" by the attention he and David White's family have received as he talked to reporters, fellow deputies and the general public during the three-hour fundraiser held jointly by Skate Station management, the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 104 and the CCSO.

"I want to thank the community," he said. "I want them to know how overwhelming the support has been, and how much it's appreciated."

Hanlin recently returned to work, but has been assigned light duty until he completes another six to eight months of physical therapy.

Oakleaf/Lakeside take gold at Bob Hayes Track Invite

Detwiler wins 800/Oakleaf dominates long jump

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

Oakleaf and Lakeside junior high schools ventured to the most prestigious track meets in the southeastern United States, the 16th annual Bob Hayes Middle School Invitational, and came away with a handful of podium finishes led by Lakeside distance ace David Detwiler's sizzling win in the boys 800 meter run and Oakleaf's domination of both the girls and boys long jump events.

"The Bob Hayes track meet has historically been one of the top track meets in the spring season of middle and high school track," said Oakleaf coach Mike Ford. "We had five medalists, girls and boys, in the long jump event with our boys going first, second and third, and our girls taking first and second. To win it is big. To have a podium finish is nice. To have two individual winners and five podiums on the same team in the same event is very nice, to say the least. To have all three podium finishes over 19 feet is almost exclusive for one team."

Leading the Yellowjacket boys contingency was Deandre Steelman, who won at 19-feet, 4.5 inches, with teammate Chris Long second at 19-3 and teammate Chase Mitchell at third in 19-1/2 inch. Mitchell had the number one ranked jump in the state at 19-9 prior to the Orange Park master runner Alfonso Solano battled hard in the 3000 meter finals of the U.S. Master's Indoor Track and Field Championships and ran faster than he ever has, but his time, which was as fast as last year's winners, got him third place.

"The guy who won, Kevin (Miller, 50, of Kansas City) just moved into the 50-54 age group and he smoked it," said Solano. "My time; nine minutes, 46.96 seconds, was close to the winner's last year, but that guy ran 9:04.33 to win this year. Back to the drawing board."

Solano, 52, competed in three individual events at the meet; the 3000, the mile and the 800, plus teamed up with his former club, Southern California Track Club, for three relays; 4 x 200 (third), 4 x 400 (third) and 4 x 800 (second).

Solano got a bronze in the 3000 and a silver in the 4 x 800 relay, plus some ribbons for his sixth in the mile (4:17:16) and fifth in the 800 (2:13.47).

"I have been dealing with a nagging hamstring and that fast 3000 kind of kicked it back up," said Solano. "I had to ice it for the rest of the meet."

Solano's anchor leg of the 4 x 800 split at 2:10. Solano will try to compete in the U.S. Master's Outdoor meet in June.

"If I can stay healthy, I am sure these same guys will be training hard to get there too," said Solano.

Two-base hits flavor of the month for area baseball

Key district play in next two weeks

By Randy Lefko
sports Editor

Doubles seemed to be the hit of choice for both the Fleming Island and Clay high school's baseball squads as the two-bag hits piled up in wins on Monday with the Blue Devils trashing Ponte Vedra 8-3 and Fleming Island defeating Sandalwood 11-2 in non-district play over spring break.

Fleming Island's win over the Saints was the third game of day one of the Baker Sports Invitational at Atlantic Coast High School and featured a six-run fifth inning by the Golden Eagles. Luke Czajkowski, Jason Chitwood and Daniel Turknott all hit doubles to lead the Golden Eagles, now 8-4, with a schedule game on Tuesday, March 20, against Atlantic Coast. A Tuesday win will put them in position for a tournament final on Thursday.

Ridgeview High's Drew Dumar's RBI-double pushed in Aaron Highsmith for a 1-0 non-district win over Bradford last week.

"We need to stay sharp and playing games keeps us sharp," said Suriano.

Fleming Island lost a non-district contest on Wednesday to Bishop Kenny 5-2 with Maurice Cooley on the mound. Bishop Kenny held a 10-1 won/loss record.

In 12 games, Fleming Island's top hitter is Bo Rosette with a .406 average on 13 hits on 32 at bats with seven runs batted in. Fleming Island is hitting at a .306 team average. Matt Grandstaff has a .417 batting average in nine games. Jason Chitwood and Ryan Hodges lead on the mound with Chitwood holding a 0.74 earned runs average for 19 innings and Hodges throwing a .67 for 21 innings pitched. Chitwood has 20 strikeouts with Bryce Baker hurling for 23 Ks. Hodges has 12 whiffs.

In district 2-7A, Fleming Island, First Coast and Fletcher are all locked with two district losses each. Fleming Island has district games against Englewood (3/27) and Fletcher (3/30) after spring break.

Oakleaf played in the first game of the Baker tournament and lost 4-0 to host Atlantic Coast High with Will Skoog losing on the mound. Oakleaf was scheduled for a Tuesday, 1 p.m., game.

At Clay High, Ponte Vedra (10-5) visited Green Cove Springs for what should have been a tight matchup that turned blow-out after a three-run homer in the fifth by Hunter Alexander put the Blue Devils up 7-1. Jordan Desuyo, Jake Altman, Jake Frisovsky and Dane Dunning all blasted doubles for Clay. Dunning (1-2) won on the mound.

"I don't think I have a 'Go-to' guy at the plate, but right now, Wes Weeks and Dakota Higdon are leading my team in average," said Blue Devil coach Rob Thompson. "We always want to be aggressive on the bases to put pressure on the defense. Pressure will create opportunities."

Clay sits comfortably in the second slot of the three-team district 5-5A with Bartram Trail at 0-4 in district play. Creekside is on top at 12-1 with an unblemished district record. Clay lost 9-3 to Creekside on March 1. The Blue Devils get their second shot at Creekside on March 29 at Creekside.

St. Johns Country Day School put together a week of three wins last week with a 6-1 win over Oak Hall on Saturday behind a Dylan Dautel home run; a 10-0 win over First Coast Christian on Thursday with another Dautel homer and an 11-0 bruising of St. Joseph's Academy behind 16 hits by the Spartans. First Coast Christian only got one hit from pitcher Luke Dill.

Ridgeview High (6-7, 3-1) kept a slim hold on a possible top three district finish with a win over Middleburg, but a loss to Leon (8-2, 5-0) put the Panthers in a battle with surging Orange Park High (7-5, 2-2) for the two or three spot. Against Bradford on Monday, consecutive doubles by Aaron Highsmith and Drew Dumas spelled a 1-0 win over the Tornados.

"We almost blew that game in the seventh with some field errors, but Highsmith threw strong for the final two outs," said Panther coach Bob Adamson. "Leon is good and hit us early to go ahead and we couldn't get back into it."

Against Leon, the Lions scored four in the first inning and four in the sixth to win 10-4. Dumas hit a homer for Ridgeview. Justin Ackerman and Peter Stuts hit doubles for the Panthers.

Orange Park got bruised to the tune of 10-0 against Clay behind, yes, doubles by Weeks, Higdon, Alexander and Altman. The Raiders bounced back to hold unbeaten (11-0) 5A-Creekside scoreless for five innings after spotting them three runs in the first two innings. Creekside eventually won 3-0 on six hits. Orange Park trounced Wolfson 12-5 on eight hits on Tuesday.

Middleburg scored a 3-2 win over Oakleaf on Thursday with Bubba O'Neal doubling and Oakleaf's Nathan Pouch also doubling.

District 3-6A; Leon, Ridgeview, Orange Park, Middleburg and Oakleaf, all play key district games after spring break, stay tuned.

Area tracksters take on two meets in two days

Creekside Knight Relays on Friday/Bob Hayes on Saturday

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

CLAY COUNTY— Clay County track athletes, highlighted by a double sprint win by Oakleaf's Audreana Bussey and hurdle wins by teammates Amia Carter and Raven Mimms, took a second place finish at the Creekside High School Knight Relays track meet held Friday, March 16.

At Creekside, Oakleaf's girls squad picked up 86 team points to finish second behind Creekside's 123 with Fleming Island third with 35, Ridgeview 11th with 22.5 and Middleburg 16th with 10.

In the boys competition, Ridgeview's Ryeann Mastin continued his assault on a possible 24 foot long jump with a winning 23-foot, 6-inch leap to win that event. The state's best jump as of March 19 is 23'-7", according to FLRunners.com.

In two other field events, Fleming Island shotputter David May won at 45'-8" and Middleburg's Derek Freitag won the discus at 167'-8". Freitag holds the state's best throw with a 169'-7" toss earlier in the season. Ridgeview's Jordan Steinmetz won the girls discus with a 117'-8.5" toss with teammate Skyler Humphrey winning the boys 100 meter hurdles with a 15.15 split.

In the boys 100 and 200 dashes, Ridgeview's Stanley Dye got two second place finishes with a 10.89 100 and a 22.41 200.

"He ran fast for Creekside, but we did not go to Bob Hayes because that's crazy fast and he's just a sophomore," said Paul Grybb, Panther coach. "Bob Hayes was won in 10.55 and 21.12 and that would have been a tough double. He had never broken 11 seconds prior to Creekside."

In team points at Creekside, Ridgeview finished fifth with 63 behind team champion Mandarin's 111 points with Fleming Island seventh with 55.50, Oakleaf 11th with 26 and Middleburg 12th with 17.

With just one night's rest, area tracksters headed to the Bob Hayes High School Invitational at Raines High School on Saturday to battle with the southeast's top athletes.

Top performances at the Bob Hayes meet came from Mastin who finished third in the long jump at 22'-8.25, Ridgeview pole vaulter Shane Altizer who finished third with a 12-foot leap and St. Johns Country Day School's Kelsey Stern taking third in the girls pole vault with a 9'-6" jump.

Grybb did note that 800 meter ace Robert Brashear, who has run two sub-two minute races this year, ran a personal best 1:58.83 to take sixth at Bob Hayes. The state's best time is 1:54.15.

"His time is just .83 off the school record and he ran most of the race in lane two because of the congestion," said Grybb. "It was a phenomenal race."

Mastin jumped a disappointing 22'-8.25 with two scratches.

"He fell back onto his hands on that jump or he would have been over 23 feet," said Grybb. Others in the top 10 at Bob Hayes were Ramsey Meyers, RHS shotputter, eighth at 45'-7", Andrew Vargas, OPHS shotputter, ninth at 45'-4.5", Antonio Ferguson, OPHS high jumper, fifth at six feet, Jordan Steinmetz, RHs discus, 110'-4" and Middleburg pole vaulter Meridith Groves who finished sixth at nine feet. Ridgeview's 4 x 800 boys relay team finished 10th.

Two nights of Knights too much for Clay

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

After a dominating 8-1 winning performance over Oakleaf High's Lady Knights softball team on Tuesday, the Clay High softball girls had two days to prep for the once-beaten Knights of Creekside High, the district 5-5A leader at 11 wins, one loss. With game two versus the Knights knotted at 2-2 only by virtue of two Creekside home runs, Clay succumbed to a barrage of hits in the ninth inning to lose 6-2.

"After the Oakleaf game, I thought we would be able to rebound and keep the momentum going," said Clay coach Matt Lewis, now holding an 8-4 record. "The team played great ball all the way to the ninth, then they started getting the hits."

Against Oakleaf two days before, Clay pitcher Brooke Formby was able to control the powerful Lady Knight lineup to just slow grounders and flyouts for the Blue Devil non-district win.

"Brooke had a great game and the defense behind her was outstanding," said Lewis. "You don't get many games in a row like that one where everything clicked our way."

In the first two innings of the Clay/Oakleaf game, both pitchers, Oakleaf's Danielle Hassey and Clay's Formby, were registering very quick strikeouts.

In the third inning, Clay's bats erupted and Hassey's pitching suffered an untimely four walks for the Blue Devils first score than a string of hits; first by Shelby Griffis, then by Sidney Branch, and two wild pitches filled the scoring column at six by the end of the inning. Formby would limit Oakleaf to just three batters in the bottom of the third.

In the Creekside ninth inning, two walks and two fielding errors spelled disaster for the Blue Devils as the Knights bashed for their four game-winning runs.

Hassey would regroup in the fourth to shut down Clay to three batters with help from a hard hit grab from Lee Ann Wright.

In the fifth, an error by Oakleaf third baseman Emily Johnson put Branch on base again where a steal of second and a misplayed throw to third put the score at 7-0.

Against Creekside, the Clay defense was stifling the Creekside bats notwithstanding two solo homers, but the ninth inning proved fatal with two walks and two fielding errors spelling disaster.

Clay has just one more district 5-5A game against Bartram Trail on March 29 and will most definitely need a win over Bartram Trail in the district tournament to move into region play.

Fleming Island's season has been battle-testing itself with a rugged spring break vacation at the hands of Bradford (11-1) and Flagler Palm Coast (9-1) where the Golden Eagles took their lumps to the tune of 13-1 against Bradford with a horrendous 11 runs allowed in the eighth inning and a 5-0 loss to Flagler. Fleming Island's schedule gets no easier in the final two weeks with 5A powers Creekside and Bartram Trail on the docket, district foes Fletcher and Englewood to follow and Clay and Oakleaf the final two games. The Golden Eagles sit third in district 2-7A but the rugged schedule may be enough seasoning to get the team a ticket to the district finals.

Fleming Island won games against Ed White (2-1) and Bell High (4-3) from last week.

In district 3-6A, where Oakleaf, Leon, Orange Park, Middleburg and Ridgeview have yet to prove who is worthy of the leader spot, the final two weeks could make a big impact on the district tournament seeding. Leon leads with a 10-4 slate but games against Oakleaf, Orange Park and Ridgeview remain with Oakleaf and Orange Park both capable of knocking them out of the unbeaten district realms.

Ridgeview has had a rough season, but statistically, Casey Bird is the Lady Panther leading hitter with a .436 batting average with 17 hits on 39 at bats and one homer.

Gabby Kowal is second at .273 but has nine runs batted in to lead in that category. On the mound, Morgan McHenry, 2-9, has started all but two of 18 games with a 4.77 earned runs average against 50 strikeouts and 32 walks.

meet, but fell to number two after a 19-11 jump was registered in south Florida.

“Chris had a great jump and has been waiting in the wings for his shot,” said Ford. “He did pretty good.”

Steelman and Mitchell would also compete in the 100 meter dash with finishes of eighth and 11th, respectively, behind Oakleaf’s Shaquille Quarterman’s sixth place finish.

In the girls long jump, Oakleaf continued its onslaught with Osa Obasuyi leaping for a 14-9.5 winning jump with teammate Destiny Arbinger second just four inches off the mark at 14-5. Brooke Searles of Wilkinson came in at fifth at 13-5.5 with Oakleaf’s third jumper at eighth, Ashley Wilson at 13-2.5.

Detwiler’s 800 meter time, 2:13.98, stands unofficially at top five in the nation for eighth graders and top three in Florida and the soft-spoken ace had to run hard in his second heat in order to avoid a faster time from a third heat that followed his second heat.

“I was up about 15 yards at 200 meters to go, but kept my effort up to make sure a guy in the third heat wouldn’t beat my time,” said Detwiler, who won the Clay County 800 title last year and is a favorite to repeat again in April.

In the first 800 heat, the winning time was 2:22, with Detwiler’s time upping that by nearly eight seconds. In the third heat, an opening lap of 61 seconds seemed like the race might get close to Detwiler’s time, but the lead runner faded and also finished at 2:22.

“He went out fast, but it was hot and he slowed in the second heat,” said Detwiler. “I was a little concerned.”

Detwiler’s time was bested as a number one state time by a 2:12.89 effort by a Tallahassee Maclay middle schooler in a race in the Panhandle also on Saturday.

Also in the 800, Oakleaf got a fourth place finish from Evan Boykin who led Detwiler around on their first lap, but faded to finish in 2:22.60. Boykin would also finish third in the 100 hurdles in 15.19.

In the boys 100, Lakeside’s Amari Dubose ran a near-perfect race, but fell just .04 seconds short of winning with his 11.73 split. Oakleaf’s quartet of Quarterman (12.04) Steelman (12.06) and Mitchell (12.21) took sixth, eighth and 11th respectively. The same trio plus anchorman Keylin Brown ripped a 46.92 split to win the 4 x 100 relay event.

In the girls 100, Obasuyi was affected by the heat of the race and finished in sixth in 13.38 behind the winning time of 13.19.

In the boys and girls 400 meter dash, Wilkinson’s Brooke Searles (1:04.64) and Alec Dowling (56.45) both took thirds in impressive fashion.

Oakleaf Junior High Deandre Steelman led a one, two, three finish for the Yellowjackets with his first place leap of 19 feet, 4.5 inches.

Oakleaf High School sprinter Audreana Bussey scored two wins; in the 100 and 200 dashes at the Creekside High School Knight Relays Friday.

Police Briefs

Woman dies in apartment fire

ORANGE PARK – Orange Park firefighters checking a small apartment filled with smoke late Thursday, March 15, found a woman unconscious inside.

Denise Martindale, 45, was not breathing when found by firefighters at 8:54 p.m. inside the apartment at 555 McIntosh Ave., Fire Chief Ty Silcox said in a news release. She was pronounced dead at the scene, making her the first fire victim in Orange Park in 15 years.

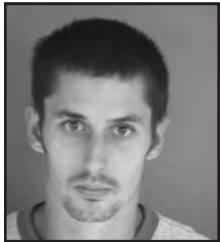

There was no one else in the apartment at the time of the fire, which was reported by neighbors, Silcox said. One resident of the adjoining apartment was evacuated until officials could ventilate the residence and check for hazards.

The state Fire Marshal's Office is investigating the cause of the fire along with the OPFD fire marshal and Orange Park police.

Fake money leads to assault

MIDDLEBURG – A Middleburg man allegedly upset he was paid with counterfeit money during a drug transaction is accused of using a car to attack his customers.

Johnathan Charles Moore, 26, is charged with felony aggravated assault with a deadly weapon following his March 12 arrest on County Road 220, according to a Clay County Sheriff's Office arrest report.

Johnathan Moore

The report says Moore met two people in a convenience store parking lot around 8:30 p.m. and was paid $270 for 11 Oxycodone pills. After the transaction was completed and the two drove away, Moore discovered that several bills were counterfeit. He drove after the other vehicle and struck it in the rear as it was doing a U-turn in the 3100 block of CR 220, the report says.

None of the occupants in either car were injured. Deputies recovered 10 counterfeit $20 bills and a $50 bill. One $10 bill appeared to be legal tender, the report says.

Two people in the other car were arrested for possession of a controlled substance, the report says. Moore was also charged with driving on a suspended license, the report says.

Man accused of texting threats

FLEMING ISLAND – Police have charged a Fleming Island man with sending threatening text messages to a woman and displaying a handgun to her male friend.

Nicholas DiPerna told Clay County sheriff's deputies he was giving Ashton McLamb a ride to her apartment when he noticed Brian Alan Bressler, 22, waiting in the parking lot around 2 a.m. March 13, according to a Sheriff's Office arrest report. McLamb, 21, said Bressler had been sending her text messages the night before stating that he was going to wait for her to come home and he would have a handgun with him, the report says.

Brian Bressler

Instead of pulling into the parking lot, DiPerna decided to drive to a County Road 220 business and call the Sheriff's Office. The report says as they were driving there, Bressler drove up alongside their vehicle and pointed a weapon at them, but once they arrived at the business he drove through and left.

McLamb provided deputies with copies of the threatening text messages sent during the encounter. Deputies found Bressler at an Idlewild Avenue residence a few hours later, arresting him without incident and confiscating a 9mm handgun, the report says. Bressler is charged with sending written threats to kill or do bodily harm, a felony, and misdemeanor illegal exhibition of a firearm, the report says.

No beer rule prompts attack

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – A 41-year-old man upset his mother wouldn't let him have beer on her property is accused of assaulting her during an argument.

Felony charges of battery on an elderly person 65 years of age or older have been filed against Troy Austin Burnette of Green Cove Springs, according to a Clay County Sheriff's Office arrest report.

Troy Burnette

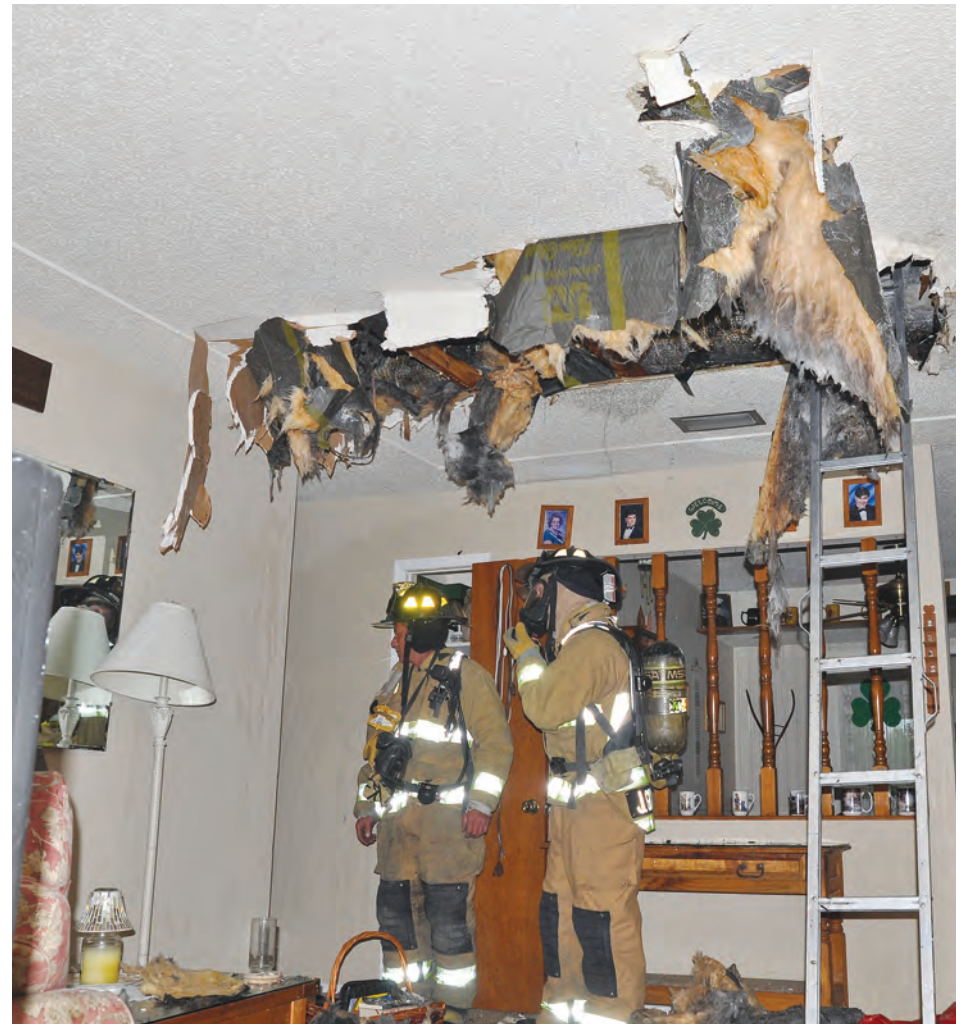

The report says Burnette's mother, Donna, recently allowed him and his girlfriend, Lisa Robinson, to live in an apartment on her property but with the stipulation that no alcohol could be consumed there. When the woman saw Robinson walking on the property with a 12-pack of beer on March 13 she reminded her of the agreement and took the beer into her house.

Troy Burnett is accused of showing up a few minutes later and demanding the 12-pack. During the ensuing argument he is accused of grabbing her by the throat, before letting go moments later and walking outside, the report says.

Sheriff's deputies noted red marks and scratches on the woman's neck prior to ar-

Gas leak brings evacuation

ORANGE PARK – The Orange Park Fire Department responded to a natural gas leak on Saturday, March 17 in the 1400 block of Smith Street.

Responding units discovered a small leak – reported around 9:30 a.m. by a resident -- from a half-inch natural gas feeder line that had been accidentally cut by utility workers. Eight residences were evacuated until Teco Gas Company and fire crews could secure the leak, Fire Chief Ty Silcox said.

The incident was reported under control at 10:38, and units cleared the scene at 10:52, he said.

Renee Rooks of Orange Park enjoys a cup of tea with her daughter, Abby, as Jayden Salliotte of Middleburg looks on with curiosity. The three were sitting in a screen room attached to the Clarke House, home of Orange Park pioneers William and Mary Clarke.

Mallory McConnell entertained a small but appreciative audience at the history festival. The versatile vocalist performed a variety of songs – from Lady Antebellum to Bonnie Raitt.

Clarke Day draws praise from attendees, organizers

ORANGE PARK – The farmer's market town officials hoped to unveil during this year's Carrie Clarke Day history festival didn't materialize, but no one seemed to notice as the ninth annual event was held under sunny skies at picturesque Clarke House Park.

"I think everyone had a really good time," said Alaina Ray, Orange Park's director of economic and community development. "The weather was beautiful; people were there all day long."

Ray got involved with planning this year's event for the first time since she was hired by the town a year ago. She said that overall, she was pleased with the festival, held on Saturday, March 17 in honor of town pioneers William and Carrie Clarke.

"We're looking at multiple ways to play off the history of the town ... to make it an even more enjoyable day next year," she said.

Future festivals likely will include the farmer's market Ray and other organizers hoped to stage at the popular, 15-acre park this year. Unfortunately, Ray said, the local growers who planned to sell produce on Saturday travelled to Tennessee to help friends and family affected by recent tornadoes.

Pirate Roger "Jolly Roger" Simon of Jacksonville, a member of the Brothers of the Coasts re-enactment group, talks about 17th century weaponry to Eddie Hottes of Orange Park during the ninth annual Carrie Clarke Day festival.

"We certainly understand that," Ray said. "Family comes first. But we've also got a list of farmers for next year who are very interested" in expanding the open-air market idea.

Free bus tours of nearby Magnolia Cemetery and other local points of interest again proved to be popular, as well as free hay rides and guided tours of the fully furnished Clarke House that has stood on the Kingsley Avenue site for the past 100 years, according to Cheryl Cheatwood, president of the co-sponsoring Historical Society of Orange Park.

She said that festival goers aren't quite sure what to expect when they first enter a screen room attached to the house that historic society members helped save from the wrecking ball several years ago. Upon arrival, female visitors are offered period dresses and Southern belle type hats to wear as similarly clad volunteers serve them tea.

"It's interesting to get the older people," Cheatwood said. "At first they think it's for kids, but then they look around and end up having a wonderful time."

Outside, Orange Park resident Eddie Hottes is listening to pirate Roger "Jolly Roger" Simon talk about 17th century weaponry as the two stand near a canopied display area. Simon, a member of the Brothers of the Coasts re-enactment group, explains about muskets and cutlasses – smaller versions of sabers designed by pirates that allowed them to swing the blades more effectively in tight quarters aboard ships.

"This is great," Hottes says. "This is a beautiful park. I'm learning a lot."

And that, organizers say, is what Carrie Clarke Day is all about.
