ACTION IS SEEN ON CLAWSON ROAD

Property Owners In District Approve Paving Of New Highway

Action on the paving of the Clawson road is expected soon as the result of a meeting between county road commissioners and property owners last week at which no objections were raised. While all agreed on the proposal for the paving, the 20 property owners present expressed unusual anxiety that the work be started at the earliest possible moment.

"When you are going to start work on the project," queried one of the property owners and, incidentally, that was the only question asked, and the only matter in which anyone present seemed to be interested.

Leon V. Balknap, county engineer, replied that just as soon as bonds to the amount of approximately $600,000 had been sold to cover the cost of the improvement the right of way would be secured, and the work of moving buildings would begin.

From Woodward avenue to Crooks road, which marks the westerly limit of the village of Clawson, a 20 foot strip will be laid. At Crooks road the pavement will widen out to 36 feet, which width will maintain as far as Washington street, and from this point through the business section of the village to Rochester road the right-of-way will be 56 feet wide. At Rochester road it will drop back to 36 feet, which width will be held right through to Dequindre road.

The late David E. Cleary, president of the village, was keenly interested in securing the paving of this highway, and it was mainly due to his efforts that it will have greater width through the village. Knowing this, a movement has been started, a movement has been the thoroughfare within the village changed from Clawson road to Cleary avenue.

PONTIAC DRIVER ON PROBATION

A. H. Losee, son of Floyd Losee, county treasurer, is at liberty today on two years' probation as a result of being arrested for driving drunk. If he is found driving a car or drinking during that time, he will be arrested on the original charge, and will be liable to 90 days' imprisonment, according to Judge Floyd S. Buck. He must report to Probation Officer James Butler twice a month for two years.

AL SMITH BEING PUT FORTH AS A COMBINATION WET-DRY

By CHARLES P. STEWART Exclusive Central Press Dispatch

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Part of the New Yorker became well known to the wet-and-dry crowd in Washington, D. C., because he is invited to support them.

Al Smith

It may be logical, but I can't say so. Al Smith as a wet-dry candidate is a combination wet-and-dry. He is not a wet-dry, but a combination wet-and-dry. He is not a wet-dry, but a combination wet-and-dry.

Certain New York wets had voted as Bruce thought they should on a pending wet-and-dry question, and Bruce, in a few hours, attributed the vote to "an Empire State Presidential candidacy."

It is evident now that he was referring to just what's since developed. I'm not sure whether he was positive of it at the time, or simply sensed it. If it was a shot in the dark, it was a blanded good guess.

It goes without saying that there are any number of wets who would be slightly wet and of wets who would be slightly dry for the sake of a presidential nomination.

But my! Those boys are just puss-footers. It is rumored for these Al Smithites to think up the scheme of running their candidate as an ultra-wet and ultra-dry on the same ticket.
