

GALANT

'03

A car is like a really nice suit. If you're only going to own one, you'd better make sure it looks darn good. It has to be slick enough for the clubs and sharp enough for the workplace. And if that sounds impossible, you'd be right. No suit can do that much. There is, however, a car that can. The 2003 Mitsubishi Galant.

STYLING

As you can probably tell from the photos, we're mighty proud of how this vehicle looks. Just check out that profile. A museum-quality exhibition of European styling mixed with a hint of Hollywood spy thriller. Check out the way the alloy wheels accent the distinctive back end. The way the color-keyed bumpers blend almost seamlessly with the bodyside panels. How the tinted solar control glass cradles the remote sideview mirror. And that's only one side of the Galant. Just imagine the other three.

PERFORMANCE

Just as amazing as how the Galant looks is how it sounds. Especially with a 3.0-liter, 195-hp V6 engine purring under the hood and a premium stereo pounding inside the dashboard. The semi-direct electronic ignition system will ensure that you hear a nice growl every time you turn the key. Bumps, thumps, and rattles are practically gone, however, thanks to the Galant's front and rear independent suspension. But if you think you're the only one listening, check out the driver-adaptive shift control. It learns your acceleration habits, then shifts gears to accommodate your driving style. Proving that the '03 Galant not only gets attention, it actually gives a little too.

INTERIOR

You should always keep your eyes on the road. A pretty tall order, considering the Galant's lush interior. The high-luminance instrument cluster begs to be glanced at every few seconds. And the lighted driver's side vanity mirror will leave you yearning for longer stoplights. If you do happen to get caught at a freight-train marathon, you'll have plenty of switches to fiddle with, including standard air conditioning, power windows and door locks. Or you could just spend your time soaking up rays from the one-touch power sunroof. And with a 210W, 7-speaker audio system and dual 12-volt accessory outlets, you may forget that you're even in a car. That is, until you notice the honking from the people behind you.

COMFORT

When you think of lounging, do you think of satin smoking jackets, funny hats with tassels, and velvet chaise lounges? Neither do we. For us, it's all about kicking back on a leather-trimmed seat in track pants and a tank top. Or picking up four of your friends for a few late-night hoagies. Or adjusting your driver's seat 12 different ways without dislocating your wrist in the process. Or even listening to music on a 210-watt Infinity® Premium audio system seconds after you bought the CD. For us, lounging means enjoying yourself without trying too hard. And sitting in a Galant is about as easy as it gets.

A photograph showing the interior of a Mitsubishi Galant. The focus is on the front and rear seats, which are upholstered in a light tan or beige leather. The seats have a quilted pattern and visible stitching. The car's interior is well-lit, and the windows show a glimpse of a green, wooded landscape. The steering wheel and dashboard are partially visible on the right side of the frame.

Naked, but far from vulnerable. Here's a peek under the paint at the Galant's innovative RISE chassis.

SECURITY

As much as we hate the thought of anything tarnishing the outside of this lovely machine, we realize, as you do, that preserving what's on the inside is what matters most. So it may interest you to know about the Galant's innovative Refined Impact Safety Evolution (RISE) chassis. It makes for an extremely rigid unibody, consisting of front and rear crumple zones, side-impact door beams, floor crossmembers, and high-rigidity side sills. Simply put, it's an incredibly tough nut to crack. And when you factor in the Galant's available driver and front passenger side air bags* you'll feel safe no matter what part of town you're driving through.

The Galant's engineers realize, however, that the best safety feature is one that never has to be used. That's why the Galant comes with rack-and-pinion steering, a fully independent suspension, available traction control, and 4-wheel anti-lock disc brakes. And if you think all this maneuverability will make it hard to keep a child's seat secure in the Galant, the LATCH system will have you thinking again. The fact is, every inch of the Galant has been designed to help keep you, your mate, and anything else the family tree drops on you, safely driving for a long, long time.

It's easy to need a sedan, but what does it take to want one? This was the question foremost on the minds at Mitsubishi. The answer? Runway-model looks and a blue-collar work ethic. The design to handle life's responsibilities, and the horsepower to run from them. A car that lives fast and drives young. Simply put, the 2003 Galant. Are you in?

For over forty years, we've put thoughtful engineering to the test on the international rally circuit. In addition to the obvious thrill of winning, competing against our peers helps us develop and refine new ideas. Ideas that find their way into all our vehicles. Ideas that look good sitting in your driveway.

We are Mitsubishi. We build quality cars. Yet we also offer something more. Because while a car should answer your needs, it should also stir your emotions. Like it or not, cars are a window through which the world views us. Through that window we can appear dull and lifeless—sensible to the point of boring. Or we can show the world that our hearts beat strong, and our minds are quick. Mitsubishi takes pride in building cars that ignite the vital spark which often lies sleeping just beneath the surface in each of us. Cars that challenge us to wake up and drive.™
