LIVE VIOLENCE FREE
CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF SERVICE
1977 - 2017

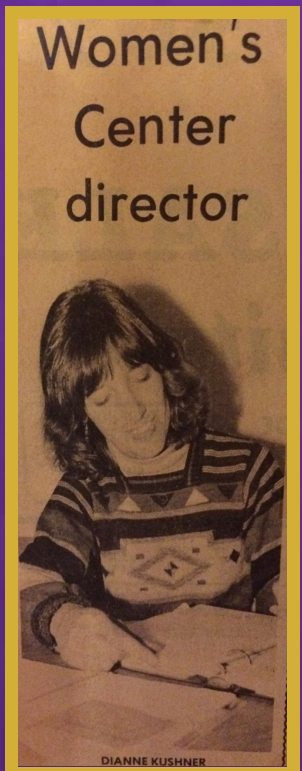

"The Women's Center opened my eyes to the fact that I was understood, I was worthy and I was valued."

- Vonnie Krantz, Founder

"It was the first time I ever spoke up for anything; it was something I believed in so strongly."

- Maureen Price, Founder

"It was just in line with everything I did; everyone should be treated equal."

- Betty Mitchell, Founder, commenting on the impact of founding the South Lake Tahoe Women's Center

We've been fortunate this year to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the South Lake Tahoe Women's Center, now known as Live Violence Free. This past September, Live Violence Free honored the Founders of the agency during the Sunset Gala. It was so moving to hear their stories of what inspired them to create the South Lake Tahoe's Women's Center.

Our Founders were driven to create a safe space for women, and within it, build a supportive community to educate, advocate and to build professional and personal relationships. In a community that traditionally relied on neighbors and friends for support, the Women's Center grew.

Through the strong supportive nature of the agency, having others rely on the Tahoe Women's Center, is what propels and motivates the Live Violence Free Board members and Staff today. We strive do our best for each client. It is an honor to be able to continue the work begun by the Founders forty years ago in carving out a safe space for the community.

For the past forty years, those in need were given assistance and a place of solace. Since then, thousands of clients have felt safe, supported and connected to the community. Live Violence Free's hope is to provide another forty years of peaceful solutions for the men, women, children and families in need of our services. Our goal for the future is to live in a world without violence.

Sincerely,

Jane Flavin

REFLECTING ON OUR PAST

In 1977, it was a simple game of horseshoes and a handful of dedicated and determined women that lead the creation and establishment of a 2-bedroom cabin named the South Lake Tahoe Women's Center. Their vision was to help community members affected by domestic violence.

The SLT Women's Center was a safe space for women and youth, and as the organization grew, so did its services and client base. Through the Founding Members' vision, they established the now thriving nonprofit, Live Violence Free.

"It was me, a pay phone and a roll of dimes!"

- Dianne Kushner, first Executive Director on the first year of work in the Tahoe Women's Center Cabin.

Today, Live Violence Free offers a multitude of services for women, men and children who are survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, or family members of those impacted by those issues. Throughout the past 40 years, the services have continued to grow and create a wider safety net for abuse survivors. More educational programs and services are being offered, including an emergency domestic violence shelter, transitional housing, response teams, education programs taught in Lake Tahoe Unified School District, prevention education programs and extended services with a Live Violence Free branch in Alpine County.

Over the years, many powerful and respected women have aided in the efforts of Live Violence Free, often doing so not for notoriety but in order to serve the driving mission to promote a violence free community through education and advocacy to address domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse and basic needs.

To acknowledge the Live Violence Free Founding Members, a beautiful bench has been dedicated in their honor for leading our community in finding its serenity, peace, hope, and strength.

Del Laine, Founder
