ORDER OF CEREMONIES

PROCESSIONAL

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE — Elgar
Michigan State University Band, Professor LEONARD FALCONE, Director

AMERICA — SMITH

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing:
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From ev'ry mountainside
Let freedom ring!

INVOCATION

THE VERY REVEREND FRANCIS M. DONAHUE, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Religion, Michigan State University
Associate Pastor, St. Andrews Orthodox Parish, East Lansing

ADDRESS

THE HONORABLE EARL WARREN, B.L., J.D., LL.D.
Chief Justice of the United States

CONFERRING OF DEGREES

JOHN A. HANNAH, D.Agr., LL.D., HH.D., L.H.D., D.Sc.
President, Michigan State University

ALMA MATER — Traynor

M.S.U, we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.

When from these scenes we wander
And twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger
Where light and shadows played.
In the evening oft we'll gather
And pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.

BENEDICTION

THE VERY REVEREND FRANCIS M. DONAHUE

RECESSIONAL

TRIUMPHAL MARCH FROM "AIDA" — Verdi

The audience is requested to remain seated while those in the procession are entering and leaving the stadium.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The pageantry and color at commencement exercises reveal a record of academic achievement of the various individuals taking part in the exercises. The following brief description is given that the audience might more readily interpret such achievement.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met at Columbia University to draft a code which would serve to regulate the design of gowns and hoods indicating the various degrees as well as the colors to indicate the various faculties. This code has been adopted by most of the colleges and universities in America and its use has made identification of scholastic honors an immediate activity.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors are made of black worsted material and have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters may be made either of black silk or black wool and have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. The arm goes through a slit, giving the appearance of short sleeves for the master's gown. Doctor's gowns are made of black silk and are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains.

Historical associations of color have been continued to signify the various faculties. Art and letters can be recognized by the white, taken from the traditional white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge Bachelor of Arts hoods. Red, long traditional of the church, indicates theology. The royal purple of the King's court signifies law. The green of medicinal herbs immediately identifies a medical degree. Philosophy is signified by the color of wisdom and truth, blue. Because through research untold wealth has been released to the world, science is identified by golden yellow. Oxford pink indicates music and russet brown, the color of dress worn by ancient English foresters, indicates forestry.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the bachelors graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, one of the leading land-grant universities and the first agricultural college in America, strives for excellence in affording liberal and practical education for its students in a broad range of human endeavors.

MSU also serves people of the state, nation and world through its numerous research, extension and international programs.

Now in its 111th year, Michigan State has grown from three buildings and six faculty members to one of the ten largest universities in the nation. It has approximately 2,500 staff members engaged in teaching, research and public service, 429 buildings, and 4,900 acres of land, including 1,440 acres in the campus and housing area and 420 more in planned development.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day — farming — MSU has broadened its offerings to meet the educational needs of young people today. Michigan State now has the School for Advanced Graduate Studies and 13 colleges — Agriculture, Arts and Letters, Business, Communication Arts, Education, Engineering, Home Economics, Human Medicine, Justin Morrill, Natural Science, Social Science, Veterinary Medicine and the University College — which offer basic courses for all freshmen and sophomores. Nearly 200 areas of specialization are available to undergraduates; approximately 300 are offered for graduate students.

The Honors College, which enables superior students to waive normal graduation requirements and undertake individual programs, attracts many of the nation's finest young scholars. The Merit Scholarship Program, of which Michigan State University is a prominent sponsor, enrolled 199 Merit Scholars in this year's freshman class. This figure represents approximately 12 percent of the nation's total of this unusually select group.

One of the newest of many innovations in higher education made by Michigan State University is its coeducational-academic residence halls. Incorporation of classrooms and faculty offices with living, dining and recreational facilities has given these giant new dormitories a stimulating academic environment. Six of these residence halls are now occupied and one more is under construction. The academic-coeducational arrangement has worked so well that it will be carried one step further with four of the seven new residence halls reserved primarily for upper classmen. Each of these halls will be the center of curricular and noncurricular activities for a college, creating a "college within a college" atmosphere.

Today, more than 31,000 students attend the University at East Lansing. About 80 per cent are from Michigan, representing every section of the state. Students also come from every state in the nation and 83 foreign countries.

Looking to the future, Michigan State University is preparing for increasingly larger enrollments as the great number of children born after World War II reach college age. To meet this challenge MSU is revising curriculums and developing new teaching techniques through its Educational Development Project.

In the land-grant tradition it pioneered, Michigan State University is concerned with research and service as well as teaching.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

All colleges and the Agricultural Experiment Station are engaged in a wide range of research. Some 1,700 individual projects are in progress. The University's research tools include the giant new Control Data 3600 Computer and a 50-million-volt cyclotron, which will begin operations this year. Facilities completed in 1964 include a $6 million chemistry building, a $5.2 million biochemistry laboratory, and an $862,000 psychology research building. A $4.7 million veterinary medicine building will be finished in 1965.

Through an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission, MSU will become a national center for basic research on plants and their reactions to radiation. Involved is construction of a $2 million building, a staff of about 90 persons and an annual budget of about $1 million when the program is fully underway.

Benefits of the University are brought to every county in Michigan by the Cooperative Extension Service and the Continuing Education Service. Their programs, on and off campus, provide a wide range of technical information and formal course work for hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, one of the finest conference centers in the nation, annually hosts nearly 50,000 adults who come to the campus for some 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

Michigan State University's land-grant concept of service is international. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, Michigan State University maintains research and technical assistance projects at 15 educational institutions in Asia, Africa and Latin America. International projects have given many faculty members overseas experience, adding a new dimension to their teaching.

With more than a century of educational achievement behind it, Michigan State University continues to apply its academic and physical resources to the problems of today and the challenge of the future.

THE UNITED NATIONS FLAGS

HONORARY DEGREES

EARL WARREN

Your career as a lawyer, statesman, and jurist has been marked by eminent achievement. Your integrity, wisdom, and dedication to the best traditions of American government have enabled you to serve with uncommon success at all levels of government, most notably as Governor of your native California and as Chief Justice of the United States. Wherever you have been entrusted with responsibility you have displayed the finest qualities of leadership. You have given freely of your time and energy to many civic duties and have supported with enthusiasm the cause of social service and human dignity. In recognition of your deep loyalty to the principles of justice, liberty and democracy, and of your outstanding contributions to our country's welfare, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

ELISHA GRAY II

Your achievements as an engineer, business executive, and civic leader have been extraordinary. During your long career with the Whirlpool Corporation you have acquired an outstanding reputation of progressive leadership and you have made noteworthy contributions to American industry in such areas as personnel policy and management development. As chief executive officer of one of the nation's largest corporations you have given your enthusiasm and influence to important civic projects, and especially to the development of higher education. Because of your dedication to the economic and civic welfare of your fellow citizens and to the progress of American industry, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

JAMES STANSBURY HOLDEN

In the decades since you were a student at Michigan State University you have fashioned a distinguished career as a leader in metropolitan Detroit, the state, and national business communities. Your outstanding achievements in industry and finance have been matched by your notable accomplishments in civic improvement. The unstinted contribution of your energy, attention and counsel has enriched your native city and state, and your many philanthropies have clearly demonstrated your continuing concern for your fellow man. In recognition of your significant role in promoting the economic, social, and cultural welfare of our American society, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

VERGHESE KURIEN

Since your graduation from Michigan State University nearly two decades ago, you have distinguished yourself in your native land as an engineer, administrator, and civil servant. In developing the dairy industry of India, you have advanced the welfare of thousands of your countrymen and have contributed notably to agricultural and industrial progress. The organization you have built is not only India's most successful cooperative venture, but is also a source of hope and livelihood in the 300 villages associated with it. In recognition of your status as a distinguished alumnus, Michigan State University is pleased to confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Science.

FREDERICK SEITZ

Your activities as a research physicist, author, teacher, and public servant have marked you as an outstanding scientist, educator, and citizen. Your extensive and generous participation in professional organizations, particularly as President of the National Academy of Science, has brought you national renown. Your contributions to the government's research efforts, in particular your work with the Atomic Energy Commission, in the Office of Scientific Research and Development, and as Chief Scientific Advisor to NATO, have given you a significant role in developing and defending our society. Because of your distinguished achievements and your unselfish sharing of your knowledge and wisdom with your fellow man, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

RUSSELL I. THACKREY

Your career as a journalist, teacher, and educational executive has been truly outstanding. During your years as an editor in Kansas and as a professor of journalism at Kansas State College, you demonstrated the knowledge and devotion to truth which have illuminated all of your endeavors. As a writer, administrator and commentator you have given abundant evidence of your keen insights into the pressing problems of education and their solutions. The distinct contributions to higher education and to the welfare of this country made by the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges reflect both your perception and your leadership. Recognizing your intellectual integrity, your dedication to the highest standards of journalism, and your contributions to the advancement of American higher education, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARDS

Nominations for the award are submitted by the Alumni Advisory Council and local alumni clubs representing alumni throughout the United States. The awards committee of the Alumni Advisory Council recommends no more than five alumni to the Board of Trustees of the University for final action. The awards are presented each spring at Commencement. The chairman of the Alumni Advisory Council is John T. Hayes, Class of 1949.

Recipients of the awards for 1965 are:

FELIX ANTONIO BACIGALUPO

Class of 1951. University professor. Currently Dean of the School of Animal Science, Universidad Agraria, Lima, Peru. He has done a great deal of world-renowned research in the production, grading, and distribution of meats. He did his undergraduate work at Universidad Agraria and received his Ph.D. in Dairy Nutrition from MSU. His research projects have contributed to the changes of diets for Peruvian children. He has been a contributor to a number of publications in Peru and the United States and is often called on as a consultant to the Food and Agriculture and the World Health Organizations of the United Nations. Constantly in demand as a consultant and speaker in other South American countries. Recently spent a summer at M.I.T. working on a meat preservation project.

COY GLENWOOD EKLUND

Class of 1939. Insurance executive. Currently Senior Agency Vice-President, The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. Became an agent for the Society before he was graduated and has been with the firm ever since, interrupted only by service in the Army where he rose from Second Lieutenant to Lieutenant Colonel. In 1945 he was named assistant manager of Equitable's Michigan agency, and two years later, agency manager in Detroit. In ten years he moved his agency from 105th place in sales to second in the Society. He was elected a vice-president and assistant to the president in 1959 at the home office in New York. In 1961 he was elected agency vice-president, and in 1964 senior agency vice-president. Chartered Life Underwriter, past state president of the Reserve Officers Association of Michigan, past president of MSU's Detroit Alumni Club, past president of Equitable's general agents and Managers Association, past president of both Detroit and Michigan's Life Agency Management Association. Director of National Foundation, vice-president and trustee of Salk Institute, and trustee of MSU's Development Fund.

NORMAN JAMES ELLIS

Class of 1935. Personnel director. Currently general director of personnel for Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corporation. He joined Chevrolet immediately after graduation and has now served for thirty years. Beginning as a student trainee, and inspection and personnel department clerk, he has held a variety of personnel assignments for the Company. In July, 1940, he was named personnel director of Chevrolet's Baltimore Assembly Plant. He held the same position in the Division's St. Louis Assembly Plant the next year. Brought to Central Office, Detroit, in 1942 as assistant director of personnel relations, he became assistant to the director of hourly employees in May of 1948, and general director of industrial relations for Chevrolet in February of 1952. He was promoted to his current post in December, 1957. In this assignment he has represented Chevrolet with the UAW-CIO and other unions. Member of the University's Alumni Advisory Council.

JOHN CURRIE MACKIE

Class of 1942. State Highway Commissioner. Engineer. Currently serves the 7th District, Michigan (Genesee and Lapeer Counties), in the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. After graduation from MSU he enlisted in the Air Force and served in the Pacific as a First Lieutenant and aircraft control officer. After the war, he worked for Detroit and Flint engineering consulting firms, and organized the Flint Surveying and Engineering Company in 1952. He is one of Michigan's best-known public officials. Served as State Highway Commissioner from 1957 to 1964, when he took his seat in Congress. During his administration as Highway Commissioner, Michigan moved to a position of national leadership in highway construction. His efforts were recognized when highway officials from the other 49 states elected him president of the American Association of State Highway Officials. Registered professional engineer, Registered Land Surveyor, member of Michigan Society of Planning Officials, Michigan Engineering Society, member of the Society of Registered Land Surveyors.

JOHN SPENCER PINGEL

Class of 1939. Advertising executive. Currently president of Ross Roy, Inc., a Detroit and New York advertising agency. While attending MSU, he was an All-American football player. After graduation, he joined the advertising and sales promotion staff of Chrysler's Dodge Division. In 1941, he entered the Army and was decorated with a Bronze Star and Purple Heart before he was discharged in 1945 with the rank of Lt. Colonel. Back in civilian life, he became an administrative assistant at MSU, moved to Reo Motors, then to Chrysler and subsequently to Brooke, Smith, French and Dorrance, Inc., advertising. Named a vice-president in 1955, he was promoted to executive vice-president in 1960 when B.S.F. and D. merged with Ross Roy, Inc. He has been president since July, 1964.
