CUBETTE

THE CUBETTE

*Alcester High School
Alcester, South Dakota*

1965

Foreword

This year was basically the same as any high school year; we studied, had fun, and experienced sad moments of trial and error. There were games and dances; voices were hoarse from Pep Club rooting and singing. Some of us had brief moments of glory in sports, music, and dramatic productions. All shared the hopeless reality of examinations, deadlines, and semester grades. These impressions are only a few that were packed into this full year which compose the crossroads for our learning. We hope you will enjoy the 1965 Cubette.

SECRETARY
Mrs. Ofstad

Providing a good education for 283 students at the Alcester High and Grade School is primarily the responsibility of the seven members of the school board who hold their monthly meetings in the school office.

Mrs. Ofstad, school secretary, and Bob Stoen, custodian, performed their duties very well. The cooks prepared delicious meals daily, while the three bus drivers delivered the students safely to and from school.

Student Council Aids in Governing the Student Body

The student council, under the leadership of President Arvid Thormodsgaard and advisor Mr. Herbold, organized and directed the Homecoming and Sweetheart dances, the annual March of Dimes Drive, and the school picnic.

The other officers this year were Marlene Hongslo, Vice-President and Tom Cole, Secretary-Treasurer.

The four high school years has given the 42 graduates many fond memories. Some will look back with regret because of the opportunities they didn't use; but fortunately, many can look forward to the future with courage due to their adequate preparation. Many fun-filled hours were spent preparing for their two class plays. Several senior boys found much satisfaction and pleasure in their hours spent participating in sports. Being the guests of the juniors at the Junior-Senior Banquet was another highlight of the year. They also enjoyed going to Omaha for Skip Day.

Among the subjects taken their senior year were: English, home economics, agriculture, bookkeeping, government, economics, physics, shorthand, and German. ACT Tests were another important event for the college-bound students.

The seniors kept themselves busy with Pep Club, A Club, FFA, FHA, music, and editing the Dakota and Cubette.

The senior class chose purple and silver as their colors and the purple mum as their flower.

Class Rings Bring Graduation

Get your heads down into those books!

Receiving their class rings, presenting the annual class play, and planning the spring banquet to honor the seniors highlighted the juniors' year; however, studying made up the most important part of their curriculum. Besides English and American History, their elective courses included home economics, German, typing, shorthand, geometry, physics, and agriculture. Thirty-six members composed the smallest class in high school. Beth Koops returned to Sioux Center after spending several months at AHS; and Carla Anderson moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. Participating in music, sports, Pep Club, A Club, F.H.A., F.F.A., and editing the Dakota and Cubette kept the juniors active throughout the year. Their studies and activities hold many memories for the class of '66.

Sophomores Develop Qualities

The sophomores concentrate on lines from "Julius Caesar."

Coming back to meet more of the challenges of high school were the sophomores. The different subjects offered to them were English, home economics, agriculture, German, biology, geometry, and typing. Mike Anderson left the class in January leaving 41 students to continue their education at Alcester High. Participating in the extra-curricular activities helped them to prepare for their role as upper-classmen. Their sophomore year was accented by several class parties.

Freshmen Encounter New

Freshmen intently listen to the science lecture.

One of the largest classes in the history of Alcester High School is the freshmen class with its forty-nine members. Becoming acquainted with the high school curriculum was their greatest challenge. They received their class pins in December. English, general science, home economics, agriculture, algebra, vocations, and general business were the subjects offered to them this year.

The Cubette Unfolds Another Story

Janet types stories and names.

Planning the dummy book, getting the pictures, writing copy, typing, and pasting, constituted the work of the Cubette devotees striving to meet their deadline. Last fall the editor, art editor and junior editor attended a Press Convention in Brookings where they gained many useful ideas. Lorene Heiman, editor, and other ambitious staff members worked hard from September to the close of the school year making this year's annual possible. Mr. Herbold supervised the staff.

The Dakota Scans News Scene

The student news of Alcester High is published in the monthly editions of the Dakota which is edited and printed entirely by the staff members. Co-Editors, Lynette Edson and Sharon Holthe, with the help of the other hard-working students, spent their spare time writing stories, typing stencils, running of the pages, and passing out the finished paper. The Dakota was supervised by Mr. Ptak.

Library Provides Essential References

The librarians are always willing to help.

The school library is the source of books, references, newspapers, and magazines for the high school students.

Nine librarians check out, repair, and catalog the books and magazines of our library. Biographies, adventure and sports stories, non-fiction books, and novels were among the 110 new books added this year.

Mrs. Aen, the advisor, helps the librarians keep the library in good order. The time they spend in the library is both educational to them and helpful to the students.

Many students use the library for studying.

The paper-back library gives the students a wider selection of books.

Juniors Perform in . . . Take Your Medicine

"Get that chicken coop away from me."

The junior class presented their class play on March 19 and 26. Mrs. Aaen was their director.

The plot centered around Bill Jackson, a doctor of philosophy, who was taken to the hospital by his fiance to meet her uncle, who thinks that Bill is a surgeon. He promises them $50,000 as a wedding gift for the first person's life that Bill saves. Bill manages to get into hot water when he has to substitute for a regular doctor who is out of town.

"All right nurses, dress him."

"His back is broken. Do something quick!"

"See, here's my ring!"

"He'll be more comfortable in the bunk."

The senior class of Alcester High presented "Very Untruly Yours" on April 29 and 30.

William Pollard, a college professor and writer, tries to find solitude by being thrown in jail. Instead of peace and quiet, he finds that his cell resembles a hotel lobby. Everyone disturbs him, and it becomes very difficult to work. A varied plot plus continuous activity makes this an interesting and funny play.

Mrs. Hazel Lappegard directed the play.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization for boys who are studying vocational agriculture. Robert Anderson and Douglas Johnson attended the National FFA Convention held in Kansas City. The enrollment of the local chapter is fifty members. Some of the highlights of the year were the Father-Son Banquet and observance of national FFA Week. Twenty members along with Mr. Dobberstein, chapter advisor, attended the State Convention and judging contest at Brookings in April. During the football season, concessions were managed by the FFA.

Crowning King and Queen Highlight Homecoming Activities

The Homecoming festivities for 1964 began with the annual Homecoming coronation and program held at the Alcester High School auditorium Thursday evening, September 17.

King Arvid Thormodsgaard and Queen Linda M. Carlson were crowned by Tom Cole and Marlene Hongslo, student council members. Becky Cooper, Curtis Hebert, Janna Giddings, and Todd Anderson served as crown and flower bearers.

Selections were presented by the classes to entertain the royalty with Glen Thormodsgaard acting as Master of Ceremonies.

A pep fest was held in the auditorium followed by a bonfire pep rally on the school grounds.

On September 18, the Cubs played the Centerville Tornados. The band performed at halftime.

A dance at the school auditorium ended the Homecoming festivities for another year.

Lynette Edson was crowned Sweetheart Queen of Alcester High School by the Student Body President, Arvid Thormodsgaard, on February 13, 1965. She was attended by Lynda Edson, Lorene Heiman, Sharon Holthe, and Judy Klostergaard.

The girls made their grand entrance to "One Hand, One Heart." Bruce Ellingsen, Master of Ceremonies, announced the queen. Brenda Crawford presented the queen a box of candy from the student body. The program consisted of a number by the clarinet quartet, a tap dance by Becky Cooper, a duet by Art Dobberstein and Rita Hendricks, "live" valentines by Linda M. Carlson, and a vocal solo by Deborah Herbrandson.

Dancing to records provided by Bob Allen of KMNS was enjoyed by all.

Seniors Invade Omaha on Their Day Off

Omaha, Nebraska was the destination of the senior class on May 11, 1965. Skip Day officially began at 5:45 A.M. when they boarded the school bus to Sioux City where they transferred to a modern Greyhound. The morning was spent visiting Boys' Town, a 1900 acre haven for homeless boys, and "browsing around" a new shopping center. The Pepsi Cola Bottling Company and the Kitty Clover Potato Chip Factory were also toured. The remainder of the afternoon was spent shopping in downtown Omaha. Most of the group ate at Bishop's Cafeteria and then went to the cinema where The Greatest Story Ever Told was playing. The seniors and their chaperones, Mr. Herbold and Mr. Dobberstein, arrived home around 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Everyone received a free bottle of pop at the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company.

'Come Surfing with Us' for a Night to Remember

"Come Surfing with us" was the theme for the Junior-Senior Banquet held on May 7, 1965. Surfboards, sand, camp-fires, surfer cut-outs, and a large mural of an ocean scene carried out the theme. The "Surf Sea Basket," served by the ladies of the Alcester Baptist Church, and the program, with Lee Thormodsgard as master of ceremonies, began the evening's fun.

The prom was held in the auditorium with music by the Sha-Dels. "The Masque of the Red Death" was seen in Hawarden, after which everyone enjoyed breakfast served by the mothers of the junior class.

Under their new coach, Mr. Kroger, the Alcester Cubs had a disappointing but yet promising football season. The Cubs exhibited more scoring potential in comparison with last year, as fifty-three more points were tallied. At the end of the season, the coaches of the conference schools voted Art Dobberstein all-conference player; Arvid Thormodsgard was on the honorable mention roll. Eight lettermen along with many underclassmen should provide for an interesting season next year.

Basketball Team Proves their

Other team members look on.

The 1964-65 Alcester Cubs had a comparatively good basketball season. They compiled a 10-12 record and placed second in district play where they were defeated by the highly-rated Parker team in the finals.

The individual statistics compiled by the six players who usually started were as follows:

Tom Cole attempted 445 field goals and made 178 for 40%. He made 72 out of 104 free throws for 69% and scored a total of 452 points, averaging 20 points per game. In the 90 quarters he played, he made 188 rebounds and 58 fouls.

Art Dobberstein made 141 out of 389 field goals attempted for 36%. Out of 154 free throws attempted, he made 106 for 69%. Art scored

Robert Anderson did good defensive work for the Cubs with 169 rebounds and a total of 81 points.

James St. Pierre, a freshman, made 43 field goals and 63 free throws for a total of 148 points.

Gary Numsen made 45 field goals and 9 free throws for a total of 101 points in the 69 quarters that he played.

Donald Anderson totaled 49 points with 23 field goals and 3 free throws in the 39 quarters he played.

Art and Tom were co-captains this year. The nine players who lettered were Robert Anderson, Tom Cole, Art Dobberstein, Don Anderson, James St. Pierre, Gary Numsen, Bruce Ludwig, Bruce Ellingsen, and Steve Wilson. Tom represented Alcester on the all-conference team.

"B" Team Trains for Positions

The "B" Team coached by Mr. Fuerst gained valuable experience learning the technique of basketball. The 26 participants worked hard at daily practices getting in shape and learning the plays.

Winning the Hudson, Chancellor, and Canton High games ended the season with a 3-15 win-loss record. Lack of experience proved costly in many of the games.

RELAY TEAM

The Alcester Cubs scored well in almost all of the track meets they entered this year. The season was climaxed when Tom Cole and Art Dobberstein represented Region 8 in the state track meet at Watertown. Tom won the pole vault event in the Class B division by clearing 12' to outdistance 24 other qualifiers.

Two school records were broken. The 1939 record of 19' 2" set by W. Reinmuth in the broad jump was erased by Art's 19' 5 3/4". Tom has consistently broken his own record of 10' 4" in the pole vault. At the Hawarden track meet, he set the amazing record of 12' 3".

Alcester scored 21 points to finish fifth in the tough Big Eight Conference and 17 points to finish fifth out of 28 teams in the Region 8 meet.

Those who lettered in track were Tom Cole, Art Dobberstein, Robert Anderson, Dennis Belkey, Bruce Ludwig, Arvid Thormodsgard, Doug Anderson, Lee Thormodsgard, Doug Quinn, Ward Peterson, Mike Pederson, James St. Pierre, Merlyn Solberg, Wilbert Bowers, and Scott Hammerstrom.

The Cubs are looking for many of the freshmen and sophomores to carry the track team to another successful season.

Art set a new broad jump record. Tom won the state pole vault event. Art also did well in the hurdles.

Pep Club Inspires School Spirit

Backing the Alcester Cubs at all of the athletic games was the Pep Club. Girls wearing their A-line skirts with white blouses inspired school spirit throughout the student body. Meetings were held the first Monday of every month with President Rita Hendricks presiding. The coat check sponsored by the Pep Club not only provided them with essential funds but was also a service to the community.

The Pep Club supported the Cubs in defeat as well as victory.

Pep Club girls were responsible for the coat check.

Graduation: Ending of One Era -- Beginning of Another

At the closing of the school year of 1964-65, the editorial staff wishes to each member of the class of 1965 much success in their future lives and hopes that this annual will hold many wonderful experiences and memories.
