INTERIOR

Accent GS and GL come with a handy 60/40 split fold-down rear seatback to handle oversize items.

Adjustable front seatbelt anchors adapt to the wearer's most comfortable position.

Pleasant surprises are all too rare these days. This alone makes the 2002 Hyundai Accent something for economy-car buyers to celebrate, for no other car in America can match its combination of affordability, standard features and warranty protection. In fact, it seems like the Accent is filled with thoughtful touches. For instance, its reclining front bucket seats contain a special high-density foam for added comfort and support.

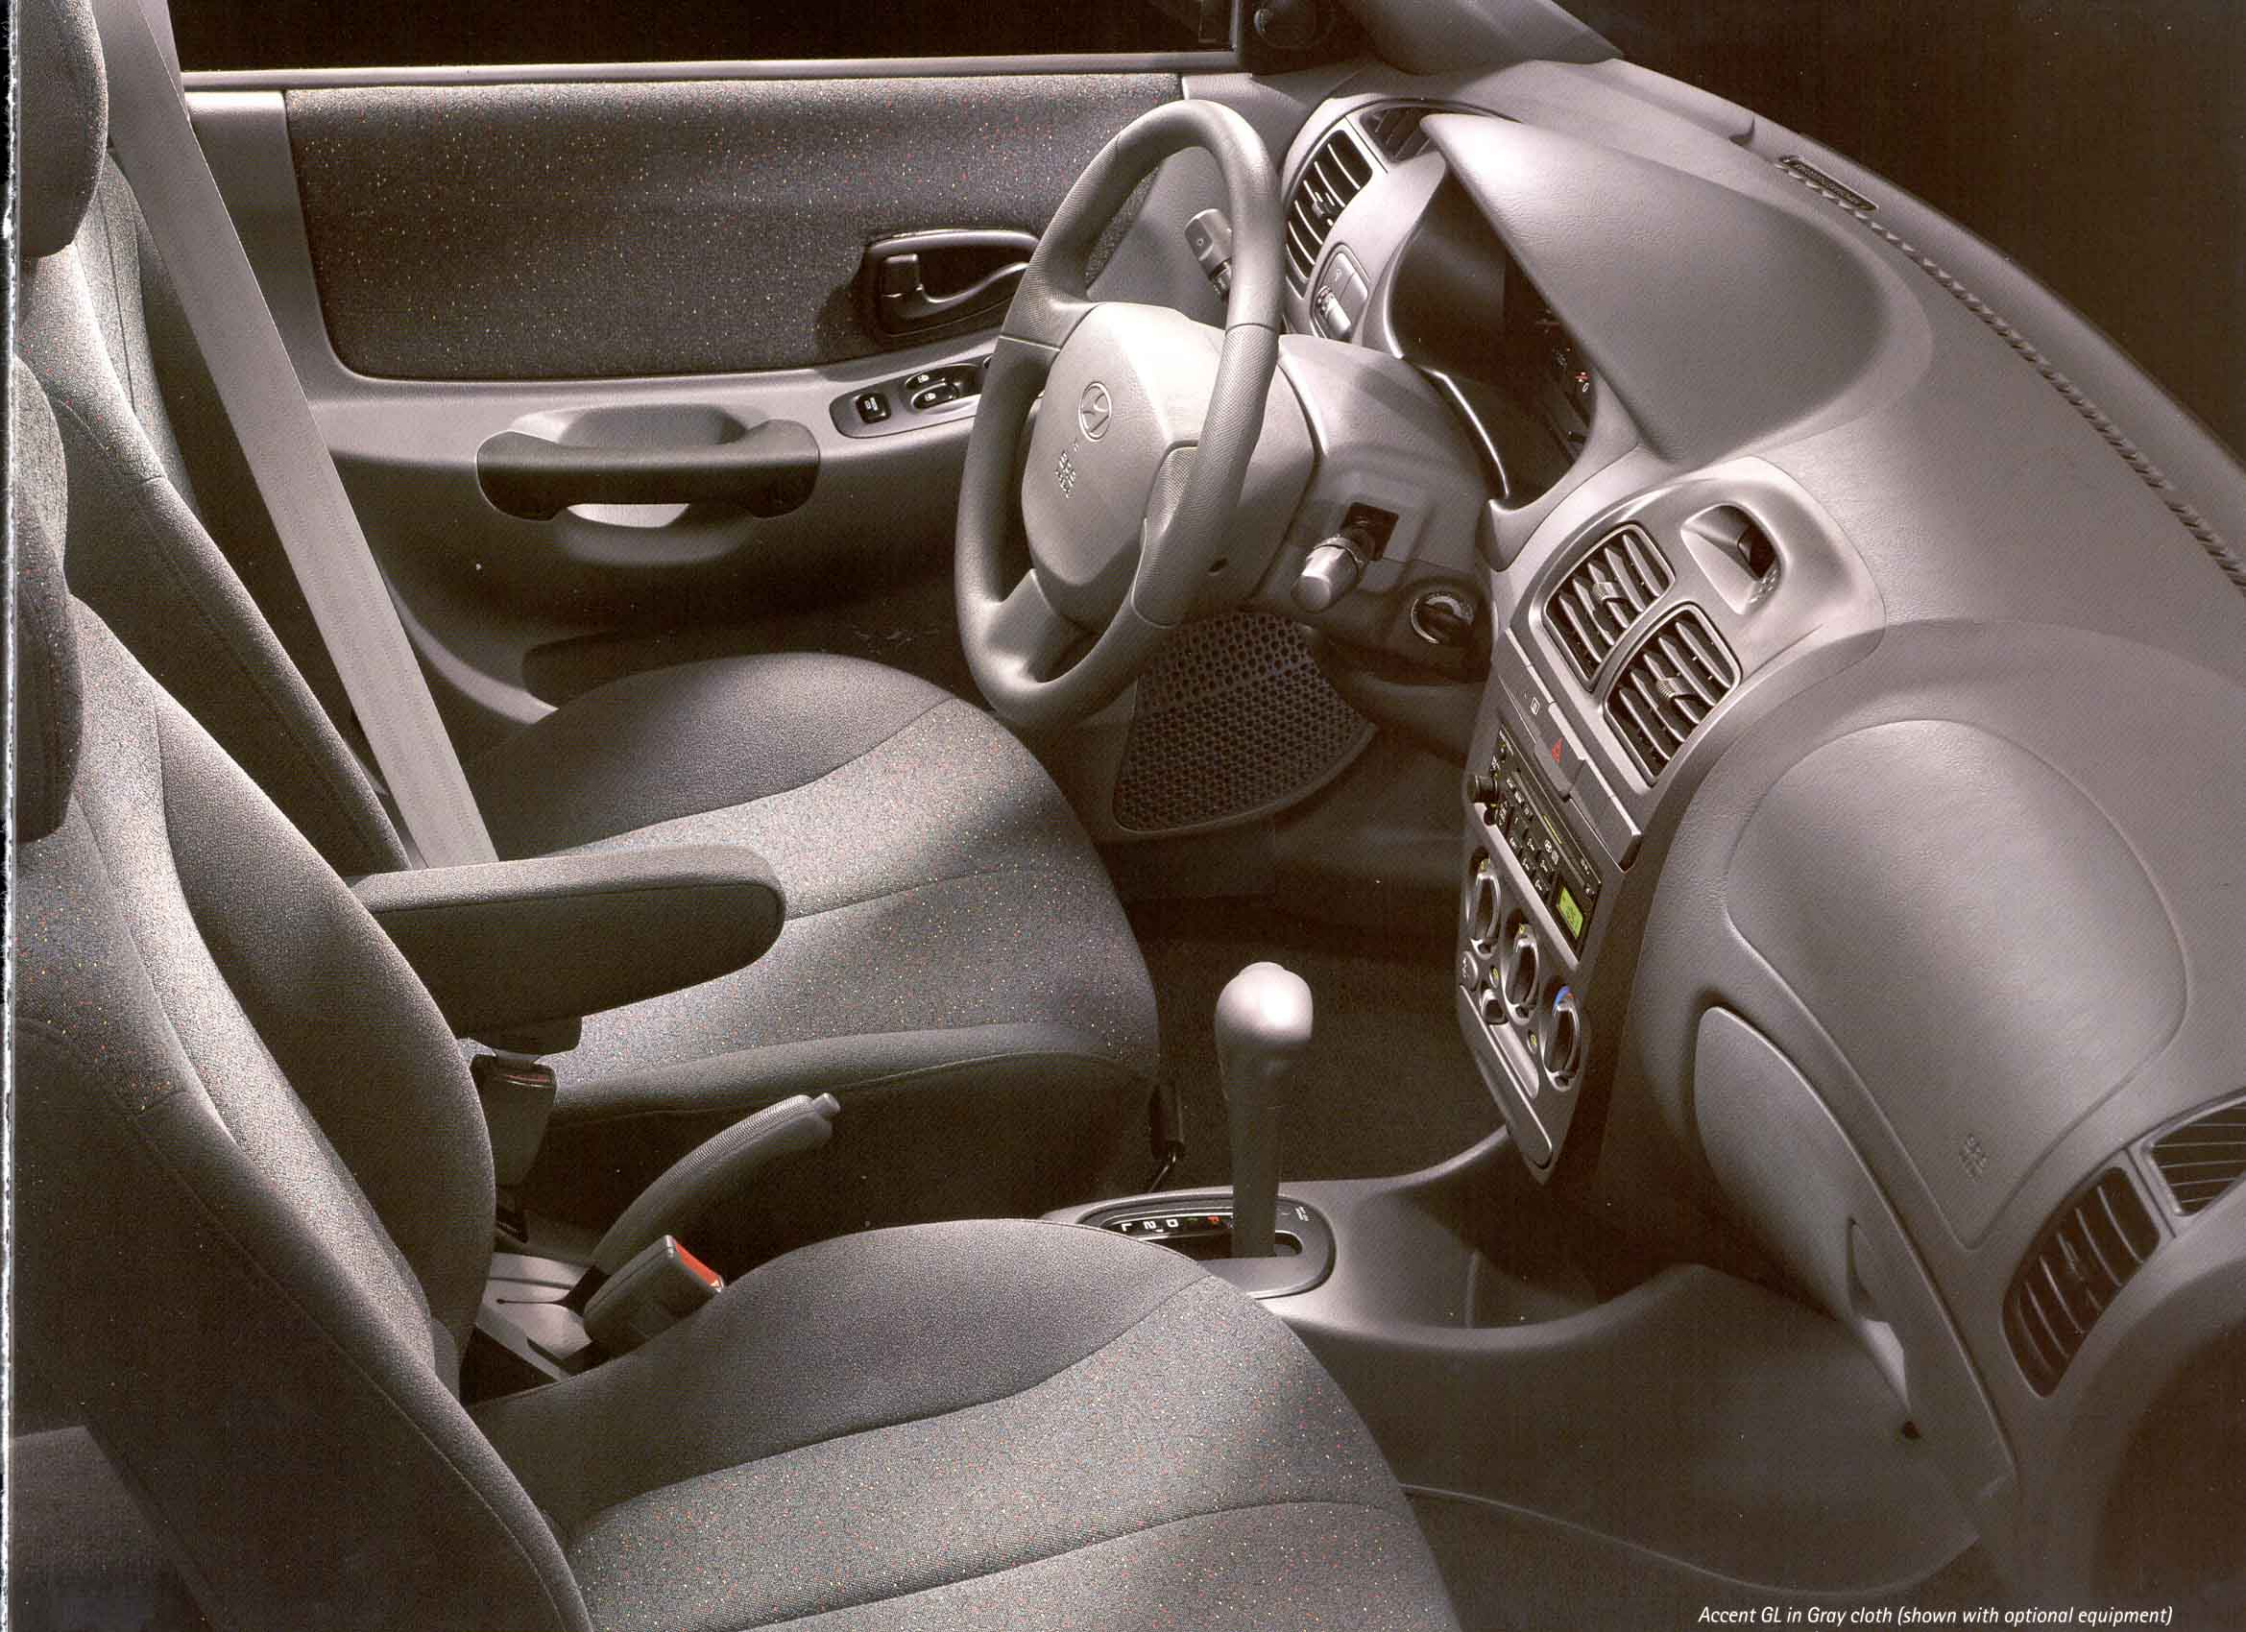

To keep all your essentials close by, there's a handy center console with a coin holder and storage compartment. And when you need to tote oversize items like skis, surfboards, or a few weeks' laundry or groceries, Accent's fold-down rear seatback makes life a whole lot easier. Other standard amenities include beverage holders, front door map pockets, remote hood and fuel filler door releases, a carpeted cargo area and rotary-type climate controls. As you can see, Accent is generous, comforting and accommodating. Which sounds like the basis for a great relationship.

SAFETY

An affordable car that doesn't protect its passengers is no bargain. That's one reason why every 2002 Accent comes equipped with a host of standard protective features. Protecting the driver and front passenger are dual front airbags<sup>1</sup> and 3-point front seatbelts with adjustable shoulder height anchors. The front seatbelts also contain force limiters, and pretensioners that cinch the belt in the event of a moderate to severe frontal impact. Also standard are rear child-seat tether anchors and, on the 4-door Accent GL, childproof rear door locks. Finally, all Accents share structural safeguards like built-in front and rear crumple zones, 5-mph front and rear bumpers, and steel side-impact door beams. Of course, it's best to avoid impacts altogether, and with front and rear stabilizer bars, power rack-and-pinion steering, power front disc brakes and 4-wheel independent suspension, Accent has quick, nimble handling that can help you out of a difficult situation.

<sup>1</sup>The Supplemental Restraint (airbag) System (SRS) is designed to work with the 3-point seatbelt system. The SRS deploys in certain front-end impact conditions where significant injury is likely. The SRS is not a substitute for seatbelts which should be worn at all times. Children under the age of 13 should be securely restrained in the rear seat. NEVER place a rear-facing child seat in the front seat of a vehicle with a passenger-side airbag.

Dual front airbags are standard on every Accent. To assure readiness, the airbag system checks itself at every start up.

Standard power-assisted, ventilated front disc brakes have wear warning sensors that alert you when it's time for replacement.

STYLING

Judging by the appearance of today's economy cars, there's literally not much thinking outside the box. Fortunately, the 2002 Accent offers a design that's smart in every sense of the word. For instance, Accent's slim roof pillars create a distinctive, contemporary profile, but they also provide the driver with a nearly unobstructed view outside. Similarly, handsome exterior details like semi-flush side glass, tapered side mirrors, and aerodynamic clear lens headlights direct air away from the cabin for reduced wind noise. And because there's nothing wrong with beauty for beauty's sake, the Accent GS pictured here comes with bodycolor front and rear bumpers, bodycolor bodyside moldings and deluxe full wheelcovers.

Aerodynamic, clear lens headlights illuminate the road with bright, evenly distributed halogen beams.

The Accent GS and GL come equipped with bodycolor protective bodyside moldings, bodycolor front and rear bumpers and deluxe full wheelcovers.

FEATURES

Clearly marked gauges are a driver-friendly feature. An analog tachometer is standard on the Accent GS and GL.

An electric rear window defroster with timer is standard on all Accents. The Accent GS also comes with a rear window wiper/washer.

The Accent GS and GL offer the convenience of available power windows, door locks and mirrors.

Dual front and single rear beverage holders, plus a full center console with storage compartment, are standard on Accent GS and GL.

When it comes to being well equipped, the 2002 Accent is anything but basic transportation. After all, there's nothing basic about an AM/FM stereo cassette with 4 speakers, dual remote mirrors, an electric rear window defroster with timer, variable intermittent windshield wipers and a removable cargo area cover. In fact, only two cars in Accent's class can top its standard features: the Accent GS and GL. Both come with amenities like air conditioning, a 60/40 split fold-down rear seatback, tachometer, quartz digital clock, a multi-adjustable driver's seat with lumbar support and fold-down armrest, full cut-pile carpeting and tinted glass. The 3-door GS also comes with a rear window wiper/washer, while the 4-door GL includes childproof rear door locks and a remote trunk release. And if that's not enough, both models offer desirable options like power windows, door locks and mirrors, an AM/FM stereo and CD player and a 4-speed, electronically controlled automatic transmission. In other words, the only thing plain about Accent GS and GL is their value.

LEITE

Accent GL in Charcoal Gray

The Accent's self-tuning 1.5-liter engine virtually eliminates major scheduled service.

A 4-speed, electronically controlled automatic transmission, available on the Accent GS and GL, offers power and economy shift mode.

Whether you're on an open highway or a winding road, power-assisted rack-and-pinion steering offers excellent response and road feel.

TECHNOLOGY

It's easy to put advanced technology into a car with a premium price. But you'll also find it in one car that puts a premium on value. Sophisticated technology and engineering make the 2002 Accent one of the most reliable, durable and low-maintenance cars on the road. For instance, Accent's self-tuning engines have proven tough and dependable over millions of miles. What's more, they require only minimal routine maintenance, thanks to features like a distributorless ignition and self-adjusting valves. Accent's good looks are also made to last. Together, the superior fit and finish of one-piece bodyside panels and a multi-layer, state-of-the-art painting process help Accent fight corrosion. And since economy is the whole point of an economy car, Accent is built to stay affordable for a long time down the road, with money-saving features like long-wearing, all-season radial tires, self-adjusting rear brakes, and a long-life, maintenance-free battery. Easy to own, hard to wear out. That's the 2002 Accent.
