The Meadowlands was correct in handling of race investigation

Why The Big M was right to overturn its initial ban of Joe Bongiorno, Nicole DiCostanzo and Jenn Bongiorno.

by Brett Sturman

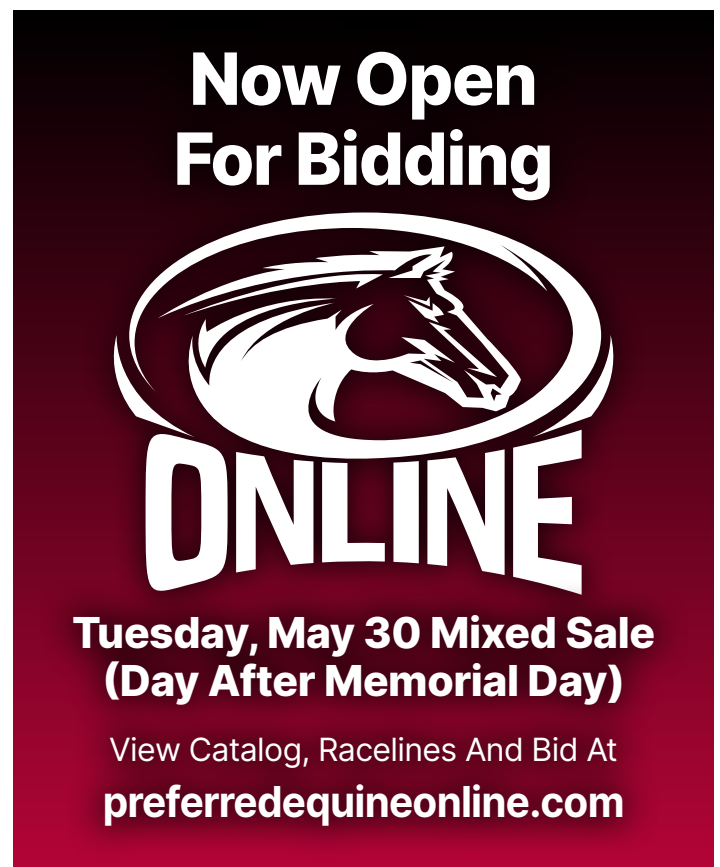

Dave Landry

Driver Joe Bongiorno (along with his sister, trainer Jenn Bongiorno and Nicole DiCostanzo) have been cleared of any wrongdoing by The Meadowlands.

with BRETT STURMAN

A firestorm was ignited on Wednesday (May 24) when news broke that The Meadowlands would be suspending Joe Bongiorno and Nicole DiCostanzo from driving, as well as suspending the barns of trainers Jenn Bongiorno and DiCostanzo from entering horses while The Big M investigated a race from last Saturday (May 20). Following a swift investigation, The Meadowlands issued a statement late Wednesday evening that cleared all parties of any wrongdoing, and noted they would be able to participate in racing at the track as of this Saturday (May 27).

In retrospect, one could argue that the suspensions were premature and unjust. But on the other hand, and in the interest of safeguarding its consumers, The Meadowlands shouldn't be faulted for acting out of an abundance of caution.

The race in question was race 14, the nightcap from last Saturday (replay here). The winner of that n/w $5,000 conditioned race was a horse named Lyon's Pride, trained and driven by DiCostanzo. Lyon's Pride paid $31 to win, while the 6-5 race favorite named JK Standingovation, trained by Jenn Bongiorno and driven by Joe Bongiorno, was a never threatening sixth. The Meadowlands reported receiving several complaints about the late double payout that concluded in that race. While Lyon's Pride paid $31 to win, the late double which combined Lyon's Pride with the winner from the prior race 13, paid only $21.20.

The Meadowlands obviously didn't appreciate the optics of the situation and felt there was reasonable suspicion to at least warrant a deeper look into the matter.

Beyond the late double payout, which was most certainly the trigger for the investigation, a race may come under additional scrutiny whenever the relationships between key participants don't fall outside of an 'arms-length' with one another, in this case Bongiorno and DiCostanzo, who have a personal relationship.

Statistics show Bongiorno first drove for DiCostanzo at The Meadowlands beginning on May 31, 2022. Prior to that time at The Meadowlands, DiCostanzo's training statistics were 40 2-0-4 with a UTRS of .083. Since that time, DiCostanzo's training statistics are 78 13-9-14 with a UTRS of .303.

For the record, I'm in full agreement with The Meadowlands findings that there was no wrongdoing or irregularities in the race. While all above factors and statistics are true, I don't believe that it led to any type of predetermined outcome in the race.

For the most part, Lyon's Pride was a horse that absolutely was a logical figure in the race. While that would seem to undercut the notion that Lyon's Pride couldn't have won unless there was nefarious activity, the recent form spree of Lyon's Pride himself contributes to poor optics of the situation overall.

Prior to moving to the DiCostanzo barn earlier this month, Lyon's Pride had a career mark of 1:54.2 taken at Woodbine Mohawk Park last year. The 4-year-old had won 2 of 35 starts lifetime (one of which came recently at a county fair in Virginia in 1:59.2) and had generally been pacing his miles in the 1:53 and 1:54 range at The Meadowlands throughout much of the year up to May.

In his second start with DiCostanzo, both training and driving, Lyon's Pride won by over 12 lengths in 1:50.4, the fastest amateur race ever. Last week, with DiCostanzo still driving, this time against professionals, Lyon's Pride was parked about 6-wide into the first turn from post 10, didn't clear to the lead until past the

If anything, why don't other tracks operate with such regard for their customers that The Meadowlands does? There're so many races at other tracks that come back with impossibly low payouts, and those races become ignored entirely. No one cares. There's very little respect given to customers at those tracks because they don't need to. But The Meadowlands operates under a slightly different business model, one where they are more reliant on handle, and in turn have some level of accountability to those who support the product vis-a-vis wagering.

three-eighths, and had enough to keep going to hold on and win in 1:51.2, on a track rated with a 2-second allowance for the track condition. A month ago, such a mile against superior competition would have been unfathomable.

Again, none of this implies any wrongdoing either and there could very well be plausible explanations that often come with a change in trainers; but these are simply details that may have played a role in how The Meadowlands perceived a bigger picture.

With all that said, The Meadowlands was correct to suspend those parties while they conducted their investigation. In most other areas of employment, it's customary to suspend or place on leave individuals who are the subject of an ongoing investigation. Such was the case here, and once The Meadowlands completed their investigation in a matter of a day or two, they issued a formal statement of their findings and cleared the matter.

Admittedly, it seems possible that if different race participants had been involved in a similar situation, maybe The Meadowlands would have handled the suspension news differently. Or maybe not, I don't know. But I do believe that The Meadowlands deserves a massive benefit of the doubt for ultimately acting out of a position of wanting to ensure they're running a comparably clean product.

They acted decisively and with transparency, issued their findings, and at the end of it all the race participants and consumers are better off for it.

Rejoice! Elitloppet weekend is here

One of the greatest weekends of racing is upon us at Solvalla near Stockholm.

by Thomas Hedlund

The dinner is served and the menu is varying, to say the least, when Solvalla near Stockholm offers harness racing fans an incredible race card this weekend, starting today (May 26).

This year's edition of the Elitloppet recalls the historic years when participants from all over the planet gathered at Solvalla and it's a spicy combination of horses, trainers and drivers that will show up before the packed house.

The Elitloppet is a special event, known all over the world for its hospitality and well-arranged show during three days. This year, Solvalla has really succeeded in compiling an interesting program.

The two Elitloppet eliminations are obviously the most exciting races during the weekend, but when we glance at the entries for the entire show, many other races are worth keeping an eye on.

Saturday's (May 27) highlight is the $187,500 Harper Hanovers race over 3,140 meters, where trotters like Moni Viking, Power, Aetos Kronos and Kentucky River show up. Earlier on the same race card, the three Sweden Cup eliminations will end in a $135,000 final with nine horses (three from each elimination) over 1,640 meters. Throughout the day, finals in every V75-division will be held, so the program is massive for the fans.

And the show continues on Sunday (May 28) with the $113,000 final of the Breeders Course for 3-year-old fillies, the $187,500 final of the Breeders Course for 3-year-olds, fillies included, and the two big races for 4-year-olds: the $56,000 Delicious race (where Joviality shows up again after her win in the Drottningpokalen earlier in May) and the $95,000 Fyraåringseliten (with Double Deceiver as one of the contenders).

Between all these great races, the two elimination heats of the Elitloppet will be held and the three last spots in the race were taken by Norwegian owned Best Ofdream Trio (Nad al Sheba), Ultion Face (Joke Face) and Saturday's winner of the Prins Daniels lopp, Mister Hercules (Trixtion).

The two top seeded horses in the Elitloppet are San Moteur and Etonnant, so they will not face each other before the final, if they make it to that race. The 2023 Elitloppet is an extraordinarily open story and Solvalla has really managed to find the best possible horses for the moment to race. There are several trotters aiming for the trophy that really can go all the way this year and the draw for post positions that was held on Sunday night (May 21) didn't lower the expectations.

San Moteur is still the favorite to win the Elitloppet, but the odds are quite even a few days before the battle.

Åke Svanstedt is entrusted behind last year's runner-up in the Elitloppet, Hail Mary and the 7-year-old Googoo Gaagaa son has impressed in his two starts in 2023 so it will be exciting to see what Svanstedt can do from post 4 in the second elimination.

HORSE-BY-HORSE ANALYSIS

HEAT 1

Don Fanucci Zet won the Elitloppet in 2021, in the fastest mile so far in a final (1:50.4) and it seems like the 7-year-old Hard Livin son still is in good shape. The post position is a big advantage for him.

Önas Prince went off-stride in the last turn, under a three-wide attack in last year's final of the Elitloppet. This Chocolatier son has stepped up a level this year and if he reaches the front in this heat, he will be hard to beat.

Stoletshow is a quick starter who was best in Finland's biggest race, the Finlandia-ajo earlier in May. Interesting with Dunn in the bike.

Etonnant, the title defender of the race, who managed to win even with a break in the middle of the final last year. After sickness during the winter, Etonnant has shown great condition in France this spring.

Vernissage Grif won the Lotteria in Naples on May 1 and showed that he can handle two heats without problems. The most experienced trotter in the 2023 Elitloppet with his 122 lifetime starts.

Go On Boy is the French dark horse this year. The talk about the 2023 Elitloppet is pretty much about how open the race is and Go On Boy is often mentioned as the fans' winner. Trainer/driver Derieux succeeded in 2019 with Dijon.

Just Believe is the exotic element at Solvalla this year. The trotter from Australia has never seen horses like the ones he will face this weekend, but the audience of Solvalla will cheer and welcome this horse into their hearts. This is what the Elitloppet is, Just Believe.

Brother Bill finished second to Hail Mary in 1:51.1 in his 2023 debut and that performance gave him the ticket for this event. Quick finisher who will have to have luck from the bad post.

HEAT 2

Best Ofdream Trio is the race's least-merited trotter but he showed great capacity at several occasions the past season. A nice debut for the year is followed by an exciting entry in the Elitloppet.

Ultion Face has developed to become a stable horse for the big races in northern Europe and his performance prior to this start was impressive, as he held high pace in front and almost put his nose first.

Mister Hercules is the talent that still waits for the big breakthrough in his career. Claimed his ticket to the Elitloppet via an impressive, to say the least, win in the Prins Daniels lopp last weekend. Three wide almost the entire race didn't stop him from winning in 1:52.1.

Hail Mary was runner up in the 2022 Elitloppet and judging by his two starts this season, he is in better shape now. Åke Svanstedt knows how to win the Elitloppet. He won in 2004 with Gidde Palema and 2009 with Torvald Palema.

Hohneck, trained by Allaire, has belonged in the top of the French "H-crop" since he started his career and the horse is used to competing against the best horses in Europe. Exciting news with a five-eighths mile track and an American bike.

San Moteur is the least experienced horse in the field with his 22 lifetime starts, but still, he is the probable favorite to win the 2023 Elitloppet. We remember his outstanding performance in the Jubileumspokalen last year, when San Moteur won in world record mile rate 1:52.1 over 1.3 miles.

Vivid Wise As, the 9-year-old Yankee Glide son that never gets old. This season already includes wins in big races in Turin and Cagnes-sur-Mer and Vivid Wise As is the Elitloppet's most merited trotter this year.

Usain Töll went off-stride, on the lead, heading towards a possible win in the Prins Daniels lopp last Saturday and the Italian owned horse has shown super form in his starts during the spring. Interesting choice of driver in Alexandre Abrivard, one of the best drivers in France.

Down Under's Butt, Lilley and Lang share their Elitloppet experiences

And how they think Aussie star Just Believe will do in Sweden on Sunday.

by Adam Hamilton

The connections of star Aussie trotter Just Believe are in for an awesome experience, but an almighty challenge in the Elitloppet.

Some of the key Down Under horsemen who have tackled Sweden's iconic trotting race in the past outlined just how enormous the task was in the countdown to Sunday (May 28).

Champion driver Anthony Butt and highly successful trainers Brent Lilley and Chris Lang all raved about their experience in Sweden.

But all stressed just how hard it will be for Just Believe to make the final – especially now that he's drawn a wide gate (post 7 in a field of eight) – let alone make any impact in it.

Butt and his brother Tim took one of Down Under's all-time trotting greats Lyell Creek to Solvalla in 2001.

"He was basically unstoppable at home when he left, so we went there with high expectations," Anthony said. "Maybe we were a bit naïve, but it was hard to think a horse who was almost unbeatable in Australia and New Zealand, and was being talked about as one of the best we'd seen, wouldn't be very competitive with anything, anywhere."

"It was definitely a reality check and a bit of a shock, to be honest. To have him race so well and still not make the final was hard to get your head around. He didn't have the best of races and had to come wide, but still raced the fastest last quarter of the day from memory. Still, we finished fifth and were a long way from fourth, which we needed to qualify."

So, what was so different?

"It's just the sheer volume of trotters over there and depth of quality at the top," Anthony said. "We might have one or two outstanding trotters, they've got 15. What struck me most is how hard they go all the way. Lyell Creek was flat to boards all the way, from the moment they left the gate. And that was just trying to go with them. I never had a chance to even think about trying to get him on the bit and travelling, it was bustle, bustle, bustle."

After drawing an outside post for Sunday's Elitloppet in Sweden, Aussie trotter Just Believe may need a little luck at the end of a rainbow.

Stuart McCormick
Just Believe (Greg Sugars) winning the first qualifying heat of the Inter Dominion Trotting Championship in November.

“It’s just the sheer volume of trotters over there and depth of quality at the top. We might have one or two outstanding trotters, they’ve got 15. What struck me most is how hard they go all the way. Lyell Creek was flat to boards all the way, from the moment they left the gate. And that was just trying to go with them. I never had a chance to even think about trying to get him on the bit and travelling, it was bustle, bustle, bustle.”

~ Anthony Butt

“To his credit he just kept on coming and finding for me and did a great job to get as close as he did. Then again, we might have picked the hardest year of all. We had Varenne and Victory Tilly that year, two of the greatest of all time. I said when I went home that Varenne was the greatest I’d ever seen and I’d still say the same. I think he’d have beaten most of our best pacers in Australia or New Zealand at the time, that’s how awesome he was.”

Anthony said a win for Just Believe would be showing he was genuinely competitive, especially from a wide draw.

“The draw was always going to be important and it hasn’t gone his way, sadly,” he said. “If he’d have drawn [better], you’d have set making the final as the goal, but that’s going to be hard now.

“He’ll have to come out hard and get in somewhere. And then he’s going to need everything else to go right. I do think he’s a good enough all-rounder to make the final if absolutely everything went right.”

Lang, who was sixth with Sundons Gift in a 2009 heat, longs to get back to Solvalla.

“I’m definitely envious of the Just Believe team this year,” he said. “Just being part of it with Sundons Gift ranks up with winning an Inter Dominion or four Grand Prix’s in a row at home. I’ve had a few chats with Greg [Sugars] about it all, but nobody [from Australia] can understand how amazing it is, or how good the horses are until they’re part of it.

“I thought I’d reached the pinnacle of my career when Sundons Gift won the Inter Dominion that year. I thought I’d climbed Everest, but when I got to the [Elitloppet], I quickly realized I hadn’t left base camp. It’s certainly a huge step-up. Sundons Gift broke his [personal best] by two seconds in the heat and ran sixth, but that’s the level he was at.”

~ Chris Lang

“I thought I’d reached the pinnacle of my career when Sundons Gift won the Inter Dominion that year. I thought I’d climbed Everest, but when I got to the [Elitloppet], I quickly realized I hadn’t left base camp. It’s certainly a huge step-up. Sundons Gift broke his [personal best] by two seconds in the heat and ran sixth, but that’s the level he was at.”

In retrospect, Lang said two of his other stars Skyvalley and Let Me Thru would have been better suited.

“They had more speed, but just as importantly they were better gaited,” he said. “That’s crucial. I had to race Sundons Gift in heavy shoes to keep him trotting. The locals couldn’t believe it and I came under intense scrutiny.

“Lots of the best trotters race barefoot at times, but Sundons Gift wouldn’t have trotted if I took his shoes off or even if I just lightened them.”

So, what does Lang expect from Just Believe.

“He’s lovely, professional and well-seasoned trotter with a good gait and some speed,” Lang said. “Those wide draws make it hard around Solvalla. He’s a chance of making the final if everything goes right. That would be an amazing result.”

Lilley was just the second and most recent Aussie trainer to tackle the race, but without success when Maori Time made a break in her 2018 heat.

He is already eyeing-off a possible return next year with his brilliant 5-year-old mare Queen Elida.

“There’s no doubt it’s a whole new level over there, but we’re closing the gap, gradually,” Lilley said. “Our breed has improved so much over the past decade and a mare like Queen Elida has the speed to say she would be competitive if she keeps developing over the next 12 months.

“I love that they’ve taken Just Believe across and I’ll be watching and cheering. If he could make the final, he’s done a mighty job.”

Greg Sugars, who drives Just Believe and co-trains with his wife, Jess Tubbs, was realistic after the draw.

“It’s not ideal, that’s for sure,” Sugars said. “We hoped to draw down closer to the inside, but we’re just thrilled to be part of the race. It’s made it harder. I’ll have to come out on the gate as best I can and try and get in somewhere without giving away too big a head start.

“On the upside, he looks to have drawn the easier of the two heats and he’s handled the long trip [60 hours from Melbourne to Stockholm] really well. It’s a huge step-up, but he’s just kept answering every challenge we’ve asked of him so far. We’ll give it our best.”

For Sugars and Tubbs, who are an emerging force in Australian harness racing, just being invited to race and being part of it all is a win.

“That’s how we look at it,” Sugars said. “I mean, we’re staying with Stig H. Johansson and get to talk and have time with him... How’s that not a privilege and a huge win?”

“It’s a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and Jess and I keep saying how it’s something we’ll talk about for the rest of our lives. Here’s hoping he runs a great race on Sunday, but this trip is about so much more than that.”

Peter Kleinhans is harness racing's renaissance man

by Debbie Little

According to Merriam-Webster, a renaissance man is a “person who has wide interests and is expert in several areas.”

It would be hard to find a more fitting description for Peter Kleinhans, who is, or has been, an owner, trainer, driver, breeder, handicapper, TV talent and race caller, and that's just his harness racing resume.

Kleinhans, 57, will be donning the headset at The Meadowlands tonight (May 26) to call the races while Ken Warkentin is on assignment. He was given the option to call tomorrow night as well, but his significant other, Ivy, put the kibosh on that since they're getting married on Sunday.

Kleinhans got hooked on horse racing as a youngster when his parents took him to Belmont Park when he was just 6 years old. Prior to that, the only horses he had ever seen pulled carriages where he grew up in Lower Manhattan.

“And I was so in love with the whole thing, especially the announcer, it was Dave Johnson, who I am still friends with now,” Kleinhans said. “I guess it was 1972.”

A few years later, while visiting his grandparents in Pittsburgh, he was introduced to standardbreds at The Meadows. You had to be at least 10 to attend the races and since he was only 9, they had to sneak him in.

From that day, he was hooked.

“Then I found Sports Eye, which I would buy every single day on the way to school and read it on the subway,” Kleinhans said. “Then I wanted to become an announcer. I started watching the Channel 9 show with Stan Bergstein and Spencer Ross and imitating the announcers, who at that time were Bob Meyer at Yonkers and Jack E. Lee at Roosevelt.

“Every night I'd watch it and I'd turn off the sound and I would announce the races.”

Kleinhans was also a huge baseball fan and wasn't sure if wanted to be announcing for the diamond or the diamond gaiters.

“I made the decision to make horse racing my announcing focus, not baseball or a different sport which probably would have had a better trajectory for actual prestige these days, but who knew at that time," Kleinhans said. "I did fine at school and I enjoyed a lot of the subject matter in school, but I was really obsessed with racing from before I graduated high school."

Kleinhans graduated high school at 16 and attended college at Pennsylvania's prestigious Carnegie Mellon, chosen, in part, for its proximity to The Meadows.

"So, I basically went to The Meadows every single night that they raced during my college years," he said. "And when they didn't race, I would go to the thoroughbreds at Waterford, which is now Mountaineer."

Kleinhans got a big break thanks to the kindness of then-Meadows' track announcer, Roger Huston.

"I knew some guy who was a teller there and he gave Roger a tape of my race calls and Roger liked it," Kleinhans said. "Roger said, 'We don't have room here, but we're opening this new track Lake Shore Meadows, in Erie, which would be a sister track.'"

Kleinhans thinks Lake Shore Meadows was the first track in the country to have simulcasting.

"Because they'd have a card of six live races and six Meadows' races and was one of the first places to do that," Kleinhans said. "I announced all the live races. They raced two years, 1984 and '85."

In addition to race calling, Kleinhans wrote the tip sheet, delivered the programs and kept all the statistics on the drivers.

"I was doing like six jobs at once but it was heaven for me," he said. "They were $1,500 claimers racing for $800 purses, but that didn't matter to me."

The same year, the 18-year-old Kleinhans started calling in Erie, he unexpectedly became a horse owner.

"There was one horse [Flip Collins] that I'd been betting at The Meadows over the school year who I had a nice win on as a longshot once and he started making breaks and I could see he was getting sore," Kleinhans said. "And he showed up at Lake Shore Meadows. His first race, he finished fourth in a $1,500 claimer and then he kind of pulled up lame the next time."

People were telling Kleinhans that the fate of this lame horse was in question and that he should consider buying him.

"So, in this panic, I basically called my mother up and asked her if she could lend me $500 to buy this horse," he said. "So that's how I got going with the ownership."

"He had two bowed tendons so he had to be laid off for a year, but then he came back the next year and he actually won the final race they ever ran at the track. He only raced twice and he won his second start. And that was, to this day, my happiest moment."

For Kleinhans it was a tough choice between announcing and training because he loved both of them so much, but that choice was made easier when he got a full-time job in '94, as color commentator at The Meadows.

At that same time, he was hired by The Meadowlands' then publicity director Ellen Harvey as a part-time co-host for the track's in-house broadcast.

"I put Peter in the rotation and he did a great job," said Harvey. "He does a good job at anything he does."

“I made the decision to make horse racing my announcing focus, not baseball or a different sport which probably would have had a better trajectory for actual prestige these days, but who knew at that time. I did fine at school and I enjoyed a lot of the subject matter in school, but I was really obsessed with racing from before I graduated high school.”

~ Peter Kleinhans

Huston also had nothing but praise for his young co-host, but, in addition, he remembered a funny story.

“He can train a horse,” Huston said. “He can drive a horse. He’s got his musical career. He’s very smart. He can announce horse races. He truly can do anything.

“One time he was with me as co-host and he bet a horse,” Huston said. “Somebody else in the race was the heavy favorite and he couldn’t see why anybody would have bet that horse that was the heavy favorite. He said something on the air like ‘I can’t see how this horse is the favorite.’ After the race was over, he saw he had bet the wrong horse and made the horse that was supposed to be a longshot the heavy favorite.”

Harvey remembers being contacted by Tammy Knox from Hoosier Park, who was looking for an announcer for the brand-new track and told her that Kleinhans would be a perfect fit.

“I got hired at Hoosier Park in Indiana in ’95 and I worked there for four years,” Kleinhans said. “I loved that job and I quit to go to law school, which I don’t know if it was a smart decision. In fact, it definitely wasn’t because I haven’t used the law stuff at all. But I did really enjoy law school itself.

“But it cost me all my momentum with the announcing and that was unfortunate. I’ve had a lot of little gigs but I’ve never gotten a full-time job back. Partially, that’s because I started going whole hog with the horses and I had 20 horses at one time.”

The 2000s were great for Kleinhans as he would go on to be owner/trainer and occasional driver of top horses Lavec Dream, Wearable Art and two-time Dan Patch champ Enough Talk, the first sub-1:50 trotter.

In addition, he also welcomed his son, Quinn, in 2005, and daughter, Becky, in 2009.

In 2007, Kleinhans gave a home to a very special horse. Harvey’s Starfish Stable had bid against the killers to rescue a chestnut mare at the New Holland sale, which she named January for January Davies, who had died earlier that year.

“I knew [January] well from working at the Red Mile and was devastated by the news,” Kleinhans said. “When it turned out that the horse with her name needed a home, I was happy to help. She was already an older horse; she lived about 10 years at the farm before passing away.”

When the barn area closed at The Meadowlands it was too tough for Kleinhans to continue training because his kids were in school in New York City. He still owns horses and competes with the Meadowlands Amateur Drivers Club but currently leaves the training to John McDermott, although he has had horses with Simon Spicer, Jennifer Bongiorno and Dan Smith.

Although training may not presently be monopolizing his time, Kleinhans found other projects to fill the void.

He became a songwriter, has released two albums with a third on the way and performs fairly regularly at The Bitter End in New York City.

He also raises chickens, beef and lamb at his farm in New Jersey that he says is “more organic than organic.”

He and his daughter, Becky, recently competed in The Meadowlands Chili Cookoff Winter edition with their farm-raised beef. His daughter loves to cook and although they didn’t win this time they plan to be back for the next competition.

Kleinhans will be calling several race cards at Yonkers starting in June on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays for about a month and would have done more, but his son is getting ready for college, his daughter is going to camp and he’s going on his honeymoon; after Hambletonian Day, of course.

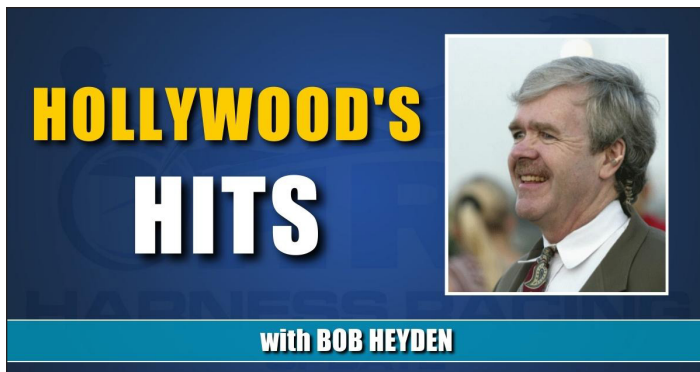

He hopes one day to once again have a full-time gig calling races but with his new wife planning to go to law school, he knows he will need to be flexible for a while.

“If I’d have stayed at Hoosier Park I’d probably still be there,” he said. “I loved that job.”

Today would have been Shelly Goudreau's 75th birthday

by Bob Heyden

Shelly Goudreau was born May 27, 1948.

We lost him the first week of September 1982 following an accident in a race he had the week before at Hollywood Park. He was just 34 years old.

I never met him, but I sure wish I had.

He was a great, great driver. That's right, two greats. So great, he was inducted to the Hall of Fame as an immortal just two years after his death.

John Campbell knew him best, but before I get to John, here are some facts, numbers and accomplishments and comments for and about a bona fide star gone far too early.

1. He won 2,250 races (No. 39 all time) and $12.9 million (No. 22 all time).

2. He won 23 per cent of his Meadowlands starts; top five all time in East Rutherford.

3. At the time of his passing, the sport of harness racing had held six million-dollar races. Take a wild guess who was the only driver to appear in every one? Goudreau. And remember this was 1980-82, when catch-driving was nowhere near on the radar like it is today.

4. As a matter of fact, seven weeks before Goudreau passed, a million-dollar event was won for the very first time by a catch driver. It was John Campbell in the 1982 Meadowlands Pace with Hilarion.

5. Simulcasting began the year after he passed, so very few got to see his talents on display.

6. Tender Loving Care (TLC) also passed in the first week of September, 1982, within 48-hours of Goudreau. That great daughter of Meadow Skipper was just 7 and the 1979 Pacing Mare of the Year was campaigned by Goudreau for Lloyd and Nancy Arnold.

7. In 1979, Goudreau also campaigned Try Scotch to the Older Male Pacer of the Year title. John Campbell on Try Scotch: "Nobody could get Try Scotch to go like Shelly did. Others did drive too. But he stepped him up one to one-and-a-half seconds."

8. How rare was it in 1979 for a driver to handle both the male and female Older Pacer of the Year? Well, it would be 29 years until it happened again, when in 2008, Brian Sears did it with My Little Dragon and Lis Mara.

9. The 1979 USHWA balloting was not close. Try Scotch 172-43 over Abercrombie (defending HOY) and Tender Loving Care 192-22 over Misty Raquel.

10. Upon retirement, Tender Loving Care had a 1:52.4 time trial mark set at Lexington with Goudreau, the fastest female mile ever. She made $327,822 lifetime.

11. Goudreau left us just 26 months after the first million-dollar race and 25 months after the first $2-million race. That one was the closest he came to winning a seven-figure event when he finished second to Land Grant with Armbro Wolf beaten a neck.

12. He drove longshot Armbro Whiz in the 1981 Meadowlands Pace, but go no check.

13. He drove Dear Star in the 1980 Pace in the first million-dollar race – harness, thoroughbred or quarter horse – and got no check.

14. He did appear in the first New Jersey Hambletonian in 1981, but drove a bomber, Santa Ana, who made a break and finished 10th in his elim at 43-1.

15. Goudreau passed half a year after Nihilator was born, Tim Tetrick was 10 months old at the time and the Breeders Crown was still two years away from its debut.

16. The seventh edition of the Monticello OTB Classic in 1981 went to Goudreau and Freedom Fella. His 1:55.4 clocking lowered the stakes mark from 1:57.3 set by Silk Stockings in the 1987 inaugural and erased the all-age track standard of 1:56.3 set by Whata Baron three years earlier.

18. Some of Goudreau's top performers include: Dream Maker, Walt Hanover, Mr. Newt, Apollos Way and of course the great Genghis Khan, who he handled for Eddie Cobb in California.

19. Goudreau was second in the nation in 1974 in wins (292) to Herve Fillion (637). Greg Wright was third with 282.

HORSEMEN SHARE SOME MEMORIES OF GOUDREAU

Jimmy Cruise Jr.: "I raced against him at Hollywood Park. We shared many a story at the Cockatoo Lounge nearby."

Howard Perlmutter: "I never met him, but followed his driving from 1979 on. He was as talented as they come and had to be a top four, five guy at The Meadowlands along with Ted Wing ("Mr. Saturday Night") Ben Webster and Greg Wright as [John]

“Horses relaxed for Shelly. They responded to him. Had he lived he definitely would be... a top 10 guy all-time.”

~ John Campbell

Campbell and [Bill] O'Donnell then came along. He was full of finesse and his ROI had to be off the charts. I recall him bringing in plenty of juicy prices. Nobody seemed to catch on to how truly great he was.”

Rick Plano: “He had that magic in those hands. That kind of talent. He was able to just sit outside and wait and wait and then go by you. My view of Shelly? Very special.”

Greg Wright: “I raced against Shelly a lot back in Windsor Detroit days. Nothing he did surprised me. All around horseman too.”

And finally, John Campbell: “His dad [Fred] and mine [Jack] were stabled next to each other back in the day and I got to know him really well. The Detroit -Windsor days. Shelly was seven years older than me – I was maybe 16 then – and I looked up to him and from that point on we were really good friends. Later on, he lived with me and Paula twice when he came in from California to race out east.

“Horses relaxed for Shelly. They responded to him. Had he lived he definitely would be... a top 10 guy all-time.

“One time he had a bunch of days and put me down to drive everything. In those days the hand holds were up high. I noticed his were way back. I tried it and I found it was a better way to make speed and keep them going.”

In regards to the stat about Goudreau being the only driver to appear in all six million-dollar races at the time of his passing Campbell said: “That tells you everything you need to know. Catch-driving was not really around yet. You actually had to be lucky just to get in one of those races.

“It was a sad day for me when I heard what happened to him.”

OLDEST HORSE OF THE YEAR WINNER CR KAY SUZIE PASSES

CR Kay Suzie at 31 has passed away. She was the oldest living former Horse of the Year (1995). That title now belongs to 26-year-old Gallo Blue Chip (2000).

No 20th Century HOY is still with us.

Numbers tell her story. Let's look at some of them during her fabulous run from 1994-1996:

1. She went 1:55.1 as a 2-year-old, a world record for either sex.
2. She made 910G at 3, making her the last trotter to be named HOY (1995) without hitting a million.

3. She won the Breeders Crown at 3 and 4. The last one was her final U.S. start. She was still voted the Dan Patch winner at 4 despite just the two starts in North America (186-26 in the balloting).

4. She beat an international field in the 1996 Breeders Crown at The Meadowlands. Cocktail Jet from France the favorite. She went 1:52.3, her lifetime mark.

5. She was a 1:52.4 winner in the 1995 World Trotting Derby equaling the stakes mark set by another fabulous lady six years earlier, Peace Corps.

6. She was the biggest betting favorite in Meadowlands' Hambletonian history to not win. She was 10 cents on the dollar in 1995 in her elim when she went on an untimely break nearing the half and wound up sixth.

7. In 1995 she was 13 10-0-1 and won her division (3YOTF) 231-3 over Lookout Victory and the HOY 119.5 to 85.5 for Jennas Beach Boy.

8. Her 1995 highlights were the $276 Yonkers Trot by 7 1/2 lengths, the $371G Beacon Course and the $585G World Trotting Derby.

9. She was a homebred, a first foal from Country Kay Sue.

10. Her sire, Royal Troubadour, competed in the 1990 Hambletonian. She was from his first crop also.

11. Her Bestie in retirement was CR Kinetic.

12. Largest margin of victory 14 3/4 lengths at 2 in the Goldsmith Maid.

13. Her full brother CR Renegade won the 1999 Breeders Crown.

14. She made $1,611,131 lifetime with 20 wins.

15. Where is 31 years on the female longevity chart for female Horses of the Year? Up there, but a ways from Stenographer who lived to 35 (1951-1986).

Dawn Allen: “She was struggling. It was time... She was tougher than the rest. She was loved by so many. We were so lucky. You wouldn't think it would hit so hard... memories.”

Hall of Fame trotter CR Kay Suzie, 31, dies

Hall of Fame female trotter CR Kay Suzie, a multiple Dan Patch Award winner including Horse of the Year in 1995, passed away Tuesday morning (May 23) in Ocala, FL, according to owner Rod Allen. She was 31.

CR Kay Suzie was bred by Carl & Rod Allen Stable Inc. and born at the family's farm in Ocala. The Allens owned both her sire, Royal Troubador and dam, Country Kay Sue. She was the first foal out of Country Kay Sue, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame as a broodmare in 2001.

In 24 lifetime starts in North America racing for the Allens, CR Kay Suzie won 18 times and earned $1.61 million. She set or equaled world records on every size track during her career and was a Dan Patch Award winner at ages 2, 3, and 4. In 1995, she became the fourth 3-year-old filly trotter to be named Horse of the Year in the 49-year history of the award.

"She was just a good family horse," Rod said about CR Kay Suzie, who was named after his daughter, Kaylie Suzanne. "It was fun to enjoy. It was a hundred per cent family – born, raised, raced – everything was done in-house. She was one of many, but there weren't too many like her.

"It was unexpected. We looked at her and you just wondered where the speed came from. There wasn't a lot to her; she was small. She was long, but short-legged. You just never know where it comes from. It's not always that ideal-looking individual, I guess."

CR Kay Suzie won seven of nine races as a 2-year-old, including the Merrie Annabelle Stakes in 1:55.1 at The Meadowlands. Her time was the fastest race mile in history for a 2-year-old trotter. She also set world records at five-eighths-mile Rosecroft Raceway and half-mile Freehold Raceway that season.

She capped her campaign with victory by 14-3/4 lengths in the Goldsmith Maid in a track-record 1:56 at Garden State Park. Back To Victory, who had been following CR Kay Suzie near the rear of the field at the quarter-mile point, finished second.

"All of a sudden she began to move," Back To Victory's driver Ron Waples told the Camden Courier-Post following the race. "I was following her coming out of the first turn and then she just left me. She's just a great filly. I've never seen anything like it."

The following year, CR Kay Suzie captured the Yonkers Trot by 7-1/2 lengths in 1:56 to equal Peace Corps' world record for a female trotter on a half-mile oval. She brought a five-race win streak to the Hambletonian, where she would attempt to become the first female to win the classic race since Duenna in 1983, but she went off stride in her elimination while moving for the lead on the backstretch and failed to advance to the final.

"I ran her off her feet," said Rod, who drove CR Kay Suzie in all but her first three lifetime races. "I take the blame for it. I dropped her head and tried to get her in gear when she was already three-quarters out and she just took a bad step."

A month later, CR Kay Suzie bested the boys, including Hambletonian champ Tagliabue, to win the World Trotting Derby in straight heats at the Du Quoin State Fair in Illinois. Her clocking of 1:52.4 in the second heat equaled Peace Corps' world record for a 3-year-old filly on a mile track.

"To bounce back and to win at Du Quoin and my dad and my brother were both in the race, that's what it was all about anyway," Rod said. "My brother [Mike] was driving Super Wally and my dad [Carl] was driving CR Track Master. We were all in the World Trotting Derby together. After going under the wire, to have those two come up and compliment me and congratulate me, that was probably the most fulfilling race."

CR Kay Suzie closed out her season 18 days later with a win over older foes in the Breeders Crown Mare Trot at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in Ohio.

As a 4-year-old, she raced twice and won the Breeders Crown Open Trot over male rivals, including favored European star Cocktail Jet, at The Meadowlands.

"She never ceases to surprise me," Rod was quoted as saying after the Breeders Crown Open.

CR Kay Suzie spent the remainder of her racing days in Italy before beginning her broodmare career in 1998. Among her offspring were stakes-winners CR Excalibur ($463,412 lifetime purses) and Dover Dan ($523,470).

Camluck Classic, Forest City Pace post draws complete

The Raceway at The Western Fair District conducted the post position draws for its two signature events, the $150,000 Camluck Classic presented by Seelster Farms and the $50,000 Forest City Pace, on Monday (May 22) during the track's pre-game show.

Triple millionaire This Is The Plan drew the coveted rail position for the Camluck Classic while red hot pacers Whichwaytothebeach, Covered Bridge and American History, each winners of two straight, drew posts 2, 4 and 5 respectively in the field of eight.

Roll With The Flow (post 3), Nautical Hanover (post 6), Idealsomemagic (post 7) and Funatthebeach (post 8) round out the star-studded field.

The Forest City Pace has drawn an outstanding field of eight including multiple O'Brien Award winner So Much More who has drawn post 2 in her second attempt to win London's premier race for pacing mares. The defending champion Gia's Surreal will leave two doors down from post 4 and local standout So Frisky has drawn the favorable rail post.

Rounding out the field for the Forest City Pace are Raptors Won (post 3), Parisian Blue Chip (post 5), Western Wish (post 6), Shoot The Whiskey (post 7) and Mystifying (post 8).

First post for tonight's program is 6:30 p.m. The powerful undercard will also feature Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots divisions for 3-year-old pacing fillies, a quartet of City of London Series finals, an Ontario Racing preferred pace and the first edition of the London Classic Yearling Sale preferred trot.

The doors open at 5:30 p.m. and the first 500 customers will receive a Camluck Classic swag giveaway with program purchase (while supplies last). The party on the patio has been expanded this year with live entertainment and food and beverage options available, including the specially labelled Bulldog Brew, an easy-drinking summer lager and the 'Bull' Dog, a fully-loaded foot long hot dog, both paying homage to the great Bulldog Hanover.

COSA TV will also be on hand, broadcasting live beginning at 8:30 p.m. with coverage that will include coverage of the stakes laden late Pick-5: one of two that evening with a guaranteed pool of $15,000. Both Pick-4s that night feature a $10,000 guaranteed pool.

PA Sports Hall of Fame to honor Roy Davis, Jeff Mallet

Roy D. Davis and Jeff Mallet, two Hollywood Casino at The Meadows legends, will be honored posthumously by the Washington-Greene County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame at its June 11 annual banquet at the Hilton Garden Inn Southpointe.

Davis, who died in June 2015, will receive a Special Honoree Award for his remarkable success as a standardbred owner and creator of Team Spur. Harness Hall of Famer Dick Stillings, Team Spur's trainer/driver (sometimes assisted by his brother, trainer Charles "Buddy" Stillings), will accept the award while Kim Hankins, executive director of the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association (MSOA), will offer an appreciation.

Mallet, a Meadows-based trainer/driver, stunned the harness racing world when his locally based Dragon's Lair upset the previously undefeated Nihilator at The Meadows in the inaugural Breeders Crown in 1984. Harness Hall of Fame race caller Roger Huston will accept the Hall of Fame Moment Award for Mallet, who died last November.

Inspired by watching a match of soccer's Tottenham Spurs, Davis began tagging all the horses he bred or purchased with the name Spur. Team Spur ripped off an unbelievable streak of high-level wins including back-to-back editions of the Little Brown Jug (Barberry Spur, 1986 and Jaguar Spur, 1987); two Breeders Crown events (Kentucky Spur, 1988 and Esquire Spur, 1989); the Yonkers Trot (Gunslinger Spur, 1986) and the Delvin Miller Adios Pace for the Orchids (Barberry Spur, 1986).

Davis served as a director of the Hambletonian Society, the Little Brown Jug Society and the United States Trotting Association (USTA). The USTA named Davis the 1998 Horseman of the Year and he was inducted into the Harness Racing Hall of Fame as an Immortal in 2019.

When Nihilator rolled into The Meadows for the Breeders Crown, most of the harness racing world assumed he would jog to victory to cap his unblemished freshman season. Mallet and Dragon's Lair thought otherwise, and their upset not only was a signature moment in the sport, but it also helped establish the fledgling Breeders Crown series as the premier end-of-season stakes.

Tickets for the banquet, at $55 each, are available through the organization's Website, www.wash-greensportshall.org.

Philadelphia's Super Sunday will have a galaxy of stars

On Sunday afternoon (May 28) Harrah's Philadelphia will be proud to present what is arguably the best card so far in 2023 North American harness racing, with three $100,000 Invitationals, action in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes and Stallion Series for the 3-year-old pacing colts and other top-class races offering a total bounty on the day of $636,549.

Here's a look at each Invitational, plus an overview of the 3-year-old stakes and other events for Sunday, where the 15-race card begins at 12:40 p.m.

$100,000 BETSY ROSS INVITATIONAL PACE (RACE 11)

This race matches the 2-year-old filly champion of 2021, Niki Hill, against the 3-year-old divisional leader of 2022, Treacherous Dragon. It was exactly 52 weeks to the day that Niki Hill had an incident on the far turn that resulted in the only finish worse than second in her entire 19-race career and resulted in her missing much of her sophomore campaign, while Treacherous Dragon's win in the other division of that Sire Stakes event launched her championship campaign.

The Niki Hill camp will certainly want a rebound from last year, but to achieve it the Always B Miki mare will have to overcome the outside post 8 for driver Todd McCarthy (regular driver Dexter Dunn will be in Sweden Sunday, driving in the prestigious Elitloppet), trainer Chris Ryder and owner Tom Hill; the Captaintreacherous mare Treacherous Dragon will start from post 5 for driver Scott Zeron, trainer Nancy Takter and Hot Lead Farm.

Amazing Dream N (post 4, driver Yannick Gingras, trainer Linda Toscano), Racine Bell (post 2, Jason Bartlett, David Dewhurst) and Drama Act (post 6, George Brennan, Ron Burke) should also earn respect in this interesting and competitive contest.

$100,000 MAXIE LEE INVITATIONAL TROT (RACE 12)

The Muscle Mass gelding Lovedbythemasses won the 2022 edition of the Maxie Lee in 1:51, just three-fifths of a second off the all-time Philly track trot mark, so what kind of reception does he get as he returns to defend his crown? He gets to start on the outside of the gate, behind the dreaded 8-ball, but his best mile can still put him into the thick of this race for driver Tim Tetrick (who has won seven of the Lee's 15 editions) and trainer Jeff Cullipher, who is also co-owner with Pollack Racing.

Pappardelle (post 6, driver Joe Bongiorno, trainer/sister Jenn Bongiorno) has won his last four starts, but this race will be a real acid test for him as he faces opposition tougher than he is used to. Double millionaire Amigo Volo (post 2, Todd McCarthy, Nifty Norman) has been racing the best of his class his whole career and continues to do so in his 6-year-old campaign.

$100,000 JOSEPH AUGER INVITATIONAL PACE (RACE 13)

Named after the longtime Philly race secretary who passed away last year, the Auger features a matchup between the two hottest pacers in eastern Pennsylvania (Philly and Pocono) this season in Ruthless Hanover and South Beach Star, who will be starting side-by-side in posts 4 and 5, respectively.

The Somebeachsomewhere gelding Ruthless Hanover is 3-for-4 this year for driver George Napolitano Jr. and Team Cancelliere, trainer Tom and owner/brother John. He is the fastest winner of the year at Philly with a 1:48.3 triumph on April 21, and last week edged out South Beach Star by three-quarters of a length in a 1:49.3 mile with a last quarter of :26.4.

That race ended a four-race win skein for South Beach Star, another altered son of Somebeachsomewhere who is trained by Mark Silva for All Star Racing Inc. But South Beach Star has had a fine season already, working his way up through the class ranks, and his 1:48.2 win at Pocono (over a good track, no less) on May 7 still is the co-equal fastest mile of 2023 in North American harness racing on any size track. David Miller is set for his usual perch behind South Beach Star.

Hellabalou posted a $96.00 upset in winning the $511,000 Borgata Series final at Yonkers on April 24, and no horse starting from post 2 for trainer Ron Burke and driver Yannick Gingras should ever be overlooked in any field.

OTHER BIG RACES ON SUNDAY

There are three divisions of the $154,349 third preliminary leg of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes for 3-year-old colt pacers. Ken Hanover was the only sophomore to earn wins in the first two PASS legs, but in a common theme for the day, he's going to be another solid factor who will have to contend with an outside post 8 draw for driver David Miller and trainer Polie Mallar. Other divisional stars such as last year's Breeders Crown winner Ammo will also be on display here, and it's likely that many entrants will feature in the summer and fall's biggest races.

There are also five $20,000 Stallion Series divisions, with Lyons Spirit the only double winner so far. He'll be starting for driver Tim Tetrick and trainer Jim King Jr.

There is also a $40,000 @senditin Invitational Pace, in race 10, that starts a Pick-4 including the three invitationals, a bet which will carry a $10,000 minimum pool guarantee. The horses in this field have collectively made just a shade under $500,000 in less than five months of racing – and remember these are the ones who didn't quite make the Auger Invitational.

Handicappers to go for pot of gold at Big M

There's one surefire way to lure more people to the track: offer a big cash prize for something everybody thinks they're good at. A total of $10,000 will be up for grabs on Saturday (June 10) when The Meadowlands offers a free-to-enter handicapping contest for those 18 years of age and older.

The contest details:

- Limit one entry per person
- On the day of the contest, players must check in and register at the Players Club Desk by 6:30 p.m. and complete the official contest form prior to race 2
- No live money will be wagered into the parimutuel pools
- Each contestant will receive a $10 betting voucher and a free live racing program
- Each participant will make a mythical $2 across-the-board wager on Big M races 2 through 11
- Contestants must make their selections for races 2 through 10 prior to the second race on the official contest entry form and then turn them in to contest officials
- If a horse is scratched, contestant receives the post-time favorite
- If the track cancels the race card, the contest is canceled
- The winner will be determined by the highest total mythical bankroll at the conclusion of the 11th race at The Meadowlands
- In the event of a tie, payouts for the placings will be combined and divided
- The payouts: 1st-$2,500; 2nd-$2,000; 3rd-$1,250; 4th-$1,000; 5th-$750; 6th through 10th-$500

“With The Belmont Stakes taking place that day,” said Big M chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. “We are expecting a big crowd in our simulcast area, so we should be able to create some buzz for the contest since the race at Belmont is slated to go at 6:50 p.m., which is 20 minutes after the deadline for entries for the handicapping contest. Hopefully, for us, that creates customers who spend both day and night with us.”

A MEMORIAL WEEKEND: This Memorial Day Weekend, live racing will be conducted on the normal Friday and Saturday schedule. The first of 13 races both nights will get underway at 6:20 p.m.

Saturday's card sports co-features that have a Garden State flavor, as there will be a pair of $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes finals for 3-year-old pacers.

In the filly split, Two Pistol Annie, victorious in both leg one and leg two of the series, is the one to beat.

Voukefelas, an easy winner of both preliminary legs, will look for the sweep in the division for colts and geldings as he continues his season, which has a handful of Grand Circuit stops on the schedule, including the $700,000 (est.) Meadowlands Pace on July 15.

MORE NATIONAL EXPOSURE: Last weekend, The Big M joined forces with the TV team at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) to present live harness racing to a national television audience on both Friday and Saturday on the networks of Fox Sports.

This week, it was determined that the two TV entities would add a show to the current lineup. On Saturday, June 17, live racing from both Churchill Downs and The Meadowlands will be seen on either Fox Sports 1 (FS1) or Fox Sports 2 (FS2) from 6-9:15 p.m.

Big M TV's Jessica Otten will provide the harness commentary.

The remaining schedule for when Meadowlands' races will be shown on either FS1 or FS2 is as follows (with highlighted races, when applicable):

- Saturday, June 17 (6-9:15 p.m.)
- Saturday, July 1 (9-11 p.m.; Crawford Farms and Six Pack FFA Trots, Dave Brower Memorial and Perfect Sting FFA Paces)
- Saturday, July 8 (9-11 p.m.; Meadowlands Pace eliminations, Graduate finals)
- Saturday, July 15 (10 p.m.-midnight; Meadowlands Pace, William Haughton Memorial, Hambletonian Maturity plus other stakes for total purses of $2.5 million)
- Saturday, Aug. 5 (1-5 p.m. and 6-7 p.m.; Hambletonian, Hambletonian Oaks plus other stakes for total purses of $3.5 million)
- Friday, Sept. 8 (9-11 p.m.; New Jersey Classic Series finals)

“Our partnership with the New York Racing Association continues to be one that all of us at The Meadowlands appreciate,” said Settlemoir. “Bringing the live action from historic Churchill Downs to harness fans and Meadowlands races to those who like thoroughbred racing is the way to create customers who will go on to be fans of both sports. The Fox Sports shows are a great way to accomplish that goal.”

VENERATE VICTORIOUS IN CUTLER: Venerate made his first start of the season a winning one, as the 5-year-old son of Love You—Peaceful Kemp, pulled off a minor surprise in the $155,200 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial for free for all trotters last Saturday (May 20).

The winner's new connections plunked down $410,000 last fall to purchase the Marcus Melander trainee, who became harness racing's newest millionaire after stopping the clock in a lifetime-best 1:50.1. For winning driver Brian Sears, it was his seventh Cutler victory.

As the 7-2 third choice in the betting, Venerate paid $9.60 to win as 7-5 favorite It's Academic was second. 2022 Trotter of the Year Bella Bellini — the 5-2 second choice — was fifth.

THE SENSATIONAL SEVEN: These are the seven wagers The Big M offers nightly to the bettor that offer both a low minimum wager as well as a low 15 percent takeout. In addition, the two Pick-4s offer a guaranteed pool of $50,000.

The list:

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5

- Race 10: Late 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 13: Late 10-cent Hi-5

PICK-4 BOMB DROPS: On Saturday's card, thanks to a 43-1 shot and a 14-1 chance in the middle of the segment, the Early 50-cent Pick-4 returned a robust $40,394.30.

WIENER TAKES ALL: Come on out to the track on Saturday, June 3, and cheer on your favorite pooch in the 5th annual running of The Big M's Wiener Dog Derby.

The event is free to attend but the fun is priceless.

The wiener dog races begin at 6:45 p.m.

Yanaba beats her Oak Grove track record in Kentucky Sire Stakes

Tripton mare Yanaba lowered the track record for aged trotting mares at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming and Hotel in her most recent start, and on Monday (May 22) she knocked it down a tick with a win in her $50,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes division.

Sent off as the 4-5 favorite, driver John MacDonald motored Yanaba three wide through the first quarter in :27.2 to seize the lead past the stands the first time while Adore Me (Dexter Dunn) settled into the pocket and Pioneer As (Tony Hall) raced third. Eternal Lee (Andy McCarthy), the second choice at 6-5, landed in fourth and stayed put as the field gave chase to Yanaba, who clocked by the half in :55.4.

Yanaba kept her competitors in behind as she hit the accelerator to three-quarters in 1:23.1 but had to reach for the reserves on the straightaway. MacDonald cut the corner with the mare and implored her to the finish as Adore Me shook free from the pocket and bolted for the lead late, but came up a nose shy at the finish of the 1:51.4 mile. Pioneer As rallied down the center to finish a neck off the leader in third and Eternal Lee trotted home evenly to take fourth.

Yanaba bagged her seventh victory from 26 starts and has now banked $225,475 for owners Ann-Mari Daley, Jared Daley and Oleg Ivutin. Jack Rice trains the mare who returned $3.74 to win. Yanaba's 1:51.4 victory lowers the track record she set on May 9 of 1:52.

The afternoon began with big payoffs when Jaquen H'ghar (Peter Wrenn) vaulted off cover and snagged a 19-1 upset in the $50,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes division for trotting males. The 4-year-old gelded son of Walner sat fourth to a :27 first quarter set by Golden Wall As (Hall), who then yielded control to Majestic J (Dunn) moving past the stands the first time. Past the half in :55, TNT Blue Chip (Andy McCarthy) began moving overland and carried Jaquen H'ghar on his back to the backside. The outer tier grabbed command to three-quarters in 1:23.2 with Majestic J growing tired to the inside, leaving TNT Blue Chip on the lead to the top of the stretch with Jaquen H'ghar looming. And the Melanie Wrenn trainee capitalized from the covered trip, zipping by TNT Blue Chip and striding clear to a 1 1/2-length win in 1:51.4. Iwon't Backdown As (Todd McCarthy) closed from last to take second with TNT Blue Chip settling for third and Golden Wall As, overcoming a shuffle, took fourth.

Jaquen H'ghar paid $41.90 to win in his surprise. He collected his fourth win from 15 starts and has now earned $71,011 for owners Knutsson Trotting Inc. and Ake Svanstedt Inc.

Favorites fired in the two Kentucky Sire Stakes divisions on the pace. Boudoir Hanover (Todd McCarthy) slid to the lead and carved fractions of :27.1, :55.4 and 1:22.4 to easily dispose of her rivals and win the division for pacing mares. She crossed the beam in 1:50.2 and 1 1/4 lengths in front of late-closing Style For A Mile (Dunn), who sat a pylon trip and came rolling down the center of the track late. Dont Fence Me In (Marvin Luna) gave pursuit off a pocket ride to finish third and Ainthesamewithoutu (Hall) faltered off a first-over push to take fourth. Tony Alagna trains Boudoir Hanover, a daughter of Captaintreacherous, for owners Riverview Racing, Alagna Racing, Caviart Farms, D. Plouffe & S. Head. She paid $2.54 to win in taking her 11th victory from 30 starts and adding to her bankroll now worth $924,338.

The pacing male division saw fast-developing All Or Nothing (Dave Palone) hold off the pocket pounce of I Did It Myway (Andy McCarthy) and post the fastest mile of the season so far at Oak Grove, a 1:48.2 steamer. Palone pushed the Always B Miki stallion from the pylon post to the point and rung the field around the rosie, zipping middle splits of :54.4 and 1:21.4 to stride home 1 1/2 lengths better than I Did It Myway. Taurasi (Dunn) levelled off from a first-over move but held third, another six lengths behind, with American Classic (Todd McCarthy) taking fourth. John Cummins owns All Or Nothing, a six-time winner from nine starts and an earner of $141,789. Robert Bath trains the stallion who paid $4.50 for the victory.

Racing returns to Oak Grove on Sunday (May 28) and features a pair of carryovers. The Super High 5 went unclaimed on Monday and will feature a $1,106.71 carryover in the wager on offer in race 5. The late Pick 5 also went unsolved again, so a triple carryover totaling $3,789.30 will be on offer for the wager that starts in race 6. A reminder for patrons, too, that the race card scheduled for next Tuesday (May 30) has been cancelled and shifted to the tail of the meet on Sunday, July 9.

First-race post time at Oak Grove is 3 p.m. CDT (4 p.m. EDT).

Another for New Zealand – Cantab Hall

Macca Lodge in New Zealand, in a joint statement with Brittany Stallion Management, has announced that a limited supply of frozen semen from the late, great Hanover stallion Cantab Hall will be available to Southern Hemisphere breeders this fall.

This follows last week's exciting announcement from Brittany Stallion Management that Perfect Sting's frozen semen will also be available at Macca Lodge.

In regard to Cantab Hall, Macca Lodge's co-proprietor Brent McIntyre said the farm is nothing short of "honored" to be able to offer the global trotting superstar to Down Under breeders. "He's perhaps the greatest trotting stallion to ever be offered here," he said. "Cantab Hall's credentials as a sire of stallions is well known, but not to be forgotten are his feats as the broodmare sire of the great mares Manchego and Atlanta."

Art Zubrod of Brittany Stallion Management agreed, also saying that he's excited to see how a sire like Cantab Hall can change the trotting breed in New Zealand.

Both parties stressed that the supply of frozen semen is limited, and as Zubrod put it, "When it's gone, it's gone."

A Trotter of the Year and Hall of Fame racehorse, Cantab Hall went on to become a breed-shaping sire who has produced the winners of more than $116-million and 11 millionaires. His famous sons and daughters are led by Father Patrick (sire of highly regarded Greenhoe) and Hambletonian Oaks winners Wild Honey and Lifetime Pursuit.

The go-to for breeding to Cantab Hall and Perfect Sting – Macca Lodge – is a family-operated farm that encompasses 600 highly fertile acres of Southland pasture. The property is the largest breeding base and foaling facility in the South Island and provides every amenity.

The farm's breeding customers are asked to stay tuned for further information and to check the farm's website, maccalodge.com, for updates.

Graduate Series starts at Mohawk June 3

The 2023 Graduate Series will get underway at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday (June 3) as part of a stakes-laden card that will include the Somebeachsomewhere 3-year-old pacing prep for the upcoming North America Cup and leg #2 of the Miss Versatility for trotting mares.

Scheduled slightly later this year to avoid conflict with several other 4-year-old stakes and still reach completion before the Grand Circuit for older pacers gets rolling, the Graduate should round off what has become a substantial transition from age restricted to all age stakes.

Following the June 3 opener, the series moves to The Meadowlands on June 16 and 24 for the second and third legs leading into the finals on Saturday (July 8) as part of the Meadowlands Pace elimination card.

Purses for the Graduate Series remain at $75,000 ($50,000 divided) guaranteed for the three legs and $250,000 estimated final purses.

Entries for the Mohawk leg will be taken by their racing office. Further information on entering may be found on the web. Graduate eligibles may be found here. (Disregard June 1 race date for leg #1 of the trot, that is incorrect).
