CONVOCATION
2019

QUEENS COLLEGE CU
NY

A MESSAGE FROM
Chancellor and President
Félix V. Matos Rodríguez

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL THE TALENTED STUDENTS BEING RECOGNIZED TONIGHT, and a special thanks to their families and friends. To all the students joining us tonight, you have reached this point with impressive distinctions—Latin honors; departmental prizes; awards from Queens College, The City University of New York, or national organizations. By any standard, you are members of an exceptionally accomplished group.

Whether you transferred to Queens College or spent your entire undergraduate career here, I hope you accrued many other rewards from your time on this campus—rewards that are no less important for being less tangible: lasting friendships; intellectual and personal growth; tolerance for people whose opinions differ from yours; greater understanding of the social, economic, and political forces that impact on both inertia and change; satisfaction in the completion of difficult projects; and greater confidence in your ideas and your ability to express them.

All of you are moving forward in new directions, to internships, jobs, graduate or professional school. You may be headed out of town, out of state, or even overseas. Thanks to the education you received at Queens College, and the rich extracurricular experiences you had through the college, I am sure that you're prepared for the next stage of your life, wherever you go and whatever you do. A liberal arts degree is the ultimate portable asset, and the advantages it confers last a lifetime. You will soon be alumni of Queens College.

This is my fifth and final Baccalaureate Convocation at Queens College. I guess I am in a way graduating too, from the college to the university level. Like you, I am moving on to exciting new challenges, in my case, as chancellor of The City University of New York. I have enjoyed being part of your journey, getting to know many of you, and I look forward to hearing from you, and about you, in the future. That's because I'm not leaving Queens College: I'm taking it with me. And so, I hope, are you. Queens College will always be a part of me.

Carol J. Schwartz Hochman '71

An exemplary alumna of Queens College, you have had enormous success as a corporate executive yet have not forgotten your roots. A friend to many causes and organizations, you serve as a leader in every field you enter.

Your career has unfolded on a national and international stage since your work with the International Division of the famed May Department Stores. From 1974 until 1980, you developed and managed its import programs in accessories, which also involved a year in Hong Kong. For the next two decades, from 1980 to 1999, you were group president for accessories at the groundbreaking Liz Claiborne Inc., the first Fortune 500 company founded by a woman and a place where you proved your talent at growing your division. From 1999 until 2009, you were president and CEO of Danskin, a 125-year-old company known for its dance and active wear but in need of fresh strategies for the twenty-first century. You restructured it successfully and oversaw its sale to Iconix, a major aggregator of apparel brands; you then helped a new management team develop innovative business strategies for the renamed Triumph Apparel Corporation. In 2009, you became president of RHH Capital and Consulting, your own consulting business, which specializes in advising retail, apparel, and licensing managements.

In recognition of your exceptional life story, in 2015 we awarded you the Queens College Lifetime Achievement Award. Owing to your remarkable track record and steady hand, you are also a respected voice in your industry. You are past chair of the American Apparel and Footwear Association; a trustee of the Sporting Goods Manufacturers Association; and a founding advisory board member of the Accessory Council. You serve on the board of Blyth Inc. (NYSE), a leader in the home décor industry, and you are on the advisory board of the Westport Corporation, which manufactures leather accessories.

Despite multiple demands on your time, you have devoted many hours to sharing your expertise with the larger community. You established the Carol and Richard Hochman Scholars Fund at your alma mater, and you have helped the college and its students in countless other ways as a trustee and past chair of the Queens College Foundation. You serve on the advisory board to Feed, a socially conscious business that combats world hunger. You are a tireless worker for women's empowerment. You are past chair of W.O.M.E.N. in America, a mentoring program for young businesswomen, and you are managing director of Golden Seeds, an important angel investing group that works with women entrepreneurs. You also are a member of the Paradigm for Parity Coalition, a movement of business leaders who seek to close the gender gap in corporate leadership by 2030.

Every day, you model what is meant by our motto: Discimus ut serviamus.

In recognition of your nimble service to business and trade, sustainable public education, and food and gender parity, we are proud to present you with the Queens College President's Medal.

Graduation Honors

College honors for baccalaureate degrees are conferred on graduating seniors who meet standards approved by the Academic Senate. The academic averages required for honors are 3.9 for summa cum laude, 3.75 for magna cum laude, and 3.5 for cum laude. Honors are figured on the scholastic average of at least 60 credits taken at Queens College. Determination of these honors is final when all work is completed.
