IGNITION CABLE SETS COPPER CORE WIRE

Note regarding ignition cables: Copper cable is made with a tin-plated copper core, EPDM insulation with an EPDM jacket. This is very similar to what was in the car when new.
 Silicone cable is made with a CHT core (Aramid fiber with a conductive latex covering with a conductive silicone cover), EDPM insulation, with a silicone jacket. Silicone cable will not be as easily damaged by exhaust manifold or engine heat and also reduces radio static.

BATTERY MAT

This battery mat offers every car around-the-clock protection from an ever-present threat: its own battery. A battery can leak undetected for months, causing rust on any metal surface the acid encounters. This rust, of course, can cause irreversible damage to body parts resulting in costly repairs or even accidents.

The battery mat (which is slightly larger than a standard size battery) is inserted underneath the battery, which is then clamped down as usual. It can be installed easily at any time, either under an existing battery or when replacing an old one.

Once installed, this battery mat will trap and neutralize battery acid that leaks from the terminals or top side of the battery, thus preventing corrosion and expensive damage.
 Because of the latex sealant, this battery mat can repel water and keep the acid neutralizers sealed in and potent. Because the latex sealant is not impervious to battery acid, however, the acid will seep into the battery mat's highly porous fabric, where it will be absorbed and harmlessly neutralized.

Everyone who owns a car should install one to prevent damage from a leaking battery. It is usable in Brand "X" cars as well as Studebakers, in recreational vehicles such as motor homes and motor boats.
