SAFETY / SECURITY

Windstar's Personal Safety System features a sophisticated sensor system that is designed to provide the appropriate level of inflation from the dual-stage driver and passenger front airbags.

Honestly, when was the last time you checked the air in your tires? Now standard is the ABS Tire Warning System, which alerts you when tire pressure is low.

When the road gets a little messy, optional all-speed Traction Control helps maintain traction and steerability on slippery surfaces.

Available new Power Heated Signal Mirrors contain a lighted arrow that alerts traffic behind to your lane change. They also flash when the sliding door is open to alert drivers behind that someone is entering or leaving the vehicle.

The security and convenience of the optional Reverse Sensing System alerts you to certain objects near the rear of the vehicle with a series of beeps and helps you gauge your distance.

Six Technologies Designed For Enhanced Protection

Our standard Personal Safety System includes (clockwise from upper left) dual-stage front airbags, crash severity sensor, safety belt usage sensors, driver seat position sensor, safety belt energy management retractors and safety belt pretensioners.

If we only designed cars for drivers, our job might be a little easier. When developing a new model, we think very carefully about how that car will affect the people who ride in it. A newborn on her way home from the hospital. The elderly neighbor who needs a lift to the grocery store. Or a friend just going along for the ride. We incorporate truly innovative safety features to make sure you're as confident driving with others as you are driving by yourself. Because of this commitment, Taurus, Windstar, and Crown Victoria all share some very important features. For example, in 2000 they achieved a Five-Star Government Front Crash Test Rating for the driver and front passenger—the highest rating bestowed by the federal government. And Ford's own Personal Safety System tailors safety to drivers and front passengers with innovations like dual-stage front airbags. Special sensors can determine just how much energy should be used to deploy the airbags, depending on the severity of the accident. Now, more than ever, you can really take pleasure in driving. Remember, always wear your safety belt and secure children in the rear seat.

Designing, building and servicing cars and trucks that meet our customers' needs is only part of the Ford equation. Making those vehicles and the facilities they are designed and built in as environmentally responsible as possible is a corporate objective that we take very seriously. As our environmental pledge says; "Our actions will demonstrate that we care about preserving the environment for future generations."

REVOLUTIONARY

FOOT PEDALS

THAT ADJUST TO YOU.

Finally a car maker has recognized what tailors have known for years: people come in different sizes and shapes. Ford introduces optional brake and accelerator pedals that move—allowing drivers to position them for an even more comfortable drive.

Nick Jr.'s "Blue's Clues" has teamed up with Ford to help kids and parents "clue in" to safety. In the past three years, Blue and her friends have become household names to preschoolers across America. Now they're helping us make child safety seats, booster seats and safety belts just as popular with your kids. So clue into safety...clue into Blue!
